greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the first dose is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudice, nor the prejudice of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Getting Them to Fit.

Two ladies, mother and daughter, entered French's dry goods store on Market street the other day. Trade had been brisk, yet Mr. French was glad to see new customers.

"Me and Sarah is jest a looking, mister. It's not likely we'll buy much, nohow, so you needn't mind us till we see what we want."

That was what the mother said when the good natured merchant wished to show them his goods. When they had taken a "good look" they proceeded to business.

"Me and Sarah wants stockings, mister. We don't want none of them cheap kind, like every girl in Barrington wears, but we want 'em sort of open worked and genteel."

"We have a fine assortment of all makes and grades. Perhaps you prefer the Portsmouth ribbed," said he.

"No! I prefer stockings, mister; so does Sarah. I have heard tell about them new-fashioned things,—that a great many folks are wearing glove corsets and busles, and I don't know what; but me and Sarah don't know nothing about such things. The old man is mighty stingy and mean with his money, and never gave us women a chance till now."

"Those are the latest style in stripes; perhaps something like that will please you," said Mr. French, holding up a pair.

"No, they won't; no sir. I've been a member of the church nigh upon forty years, and Sarah's likely to join some day, but we never wore anything like that in the family. I reckon them stockings was made for the poor unfortunates in the State prison."

The merchant was astonished at the singular suspicion of the old lady and hastened to display his entire stock of hosiery. He also endeavored to convince them that "stripes" were all the fashion. The old lady was unwilling to believe this story. He answered her that not only did ladies of the highest standing wear them, but they also had a habit of holding up the dress skirts a little so as to display this fancy hosiery.

"You don't mean to say that they wear everybody to look at their striped stockings?" the old lady inquired eagerly.

"That's just what I mean to say, and almost all of our first ladies wear them."

"Then, Sis, git off your shoes and stockings, quick. I must see how them striped ones is goin' to look."

To the astonishment of the merchant, the young lady proceeded to take off the old and put on the new.

"Now, jest you parade up and down here and hold up your skirts, and let me see how it looks," said the old lady.

By this time the merchant's son and an elderly clerk were trying to swallow spools of cotton to keep from laughing outright. The old lady noticed their depravity and resented it.

"You needn't laugh, you fellows; I've been fooled afore now, buying things that didn't fit. That's what me and Sis is here for—to git 'em to fit."

The trial proved satisfactory. The daughter was made happy in the ownership of two pairs of the most fashionable.

"Now I want to see some of the very stripedest, mister."

"Why, ma, are you going to wear striped stockings? I don't believe they will look nice for you."

"Won't they? You're agoin' to see whether they will or no as soon as he finds his very stripedest. And, young man, you've no call to stand there grinnin' in that way. I'm bound to get things to fit."

Young French disappeared in a moment to have his laugh out. The old lady gravely arrayed herself in the "very stripedest," and then she gathered her skirts up after the approved fashion and marched up and down the store, questioning her daughter and the merchant as to the precise effect. It was all satisfactory till there came a prolonged shout from several of the lady clerks who were peeping and could not restrain themselves any longer.

"I wonder if them simpletons is laughing at us. Let 'em; who cares? Now, mister, you can put up two pairs of them for me. I've been stryin' and stryin' for years to get something that would astonish my old man, so that mebbe he'll open his wallet. If this don't do it I reckon I'll have to quit. Hold up your skirts, Sis! Good bye, mister!"—Biddeford Journal.

—A week conclusion—Saturday night.

—The general health of General Spinner has much improved, but his autograph is no better.

—A photographer gives the following directions to his customers. When a lady is sitting for a picture would compose her mouth to a bland serene character, she should, just before entering the room say, "Broom," and keep the expression into which the mouth subsides until the desired effect in the camera is evident. If, on the other hand, she wishes to assume a distinguished and somewhat noble bearing, not suggestive of sweetness, she should say, "Brush," the result of which is infallible. If she wishes to make her mouth look small, she must say, "Flip," but if the mouth is already too small and needs enlarging, she must say "Cabbage." If she wishes to look mournful she must say, "Kerchunk," if resigned "Ejaculate."

PULMOCINE.

JANUARY 2,

...e Railroad Disaster, ...ing, ...ty-four persons out of 170 or 174 ...wrecked train had been accounted ...cause of the disaster is attributed ...on of frost on the iron work, ... Rollins, Chief Engineer of the ..., leaves the cause of the disaster in doubt, expressing himself utterly unable to explain the mystery. He estimates the loss on the bridge alone at $70,000. It was a Howe truss, built entirely of iron and about eleven years old. It was sixty-nine feet above the water, and had an arch 100 feet long in the clear, the whole length of it being 150 feet; it had been tested with six locomotives, and at the time of the disaster it was considered in perfect condition. The iron of the bridge is twisted in endless confusion with that of the cars, while the locomotive is wrecked in every part.

Charles S. Carter of Brooklyn, N. Y., was sitting in the palace car with three others, engaged in a friendly game of cards. Suddenly he heard the window glass in the forward part of the car breaking, and almost instantly the car began to fall. He was seated with his back toward the front, and as he went down he sat as quietly as he could and held on. When the car struck at the bottom of the ravine he found himself almost unhurt, although one of the gentlemen playing with him, whose name he did not know, was killed instantly, while another, a Mr. Shepherd of New York, had a leg broken. Carter says the front of the car was much lower than the rear, and that the flames in front began to eat their way upward and spread with great rapidity. He turned to the assistance of Mr. Shepherd, and with great difficulty succeeded in getting him out, the broken leg impeding their advance.

A citizen of Ashtabula rushed down to the scene of the disaster, saw a woman struggling for life and went to her assistance. He carried her by main force to the solid ice, and then went back to the rescue of her daughter, a sweet child of three or four years of age. The wood in splintering had caught the child in its grasp and the fire completed the horrible work. The man was compelled to see the child enveloped in flames, to hear her "help me, mother," ringing out in the agony of death. In a moment she was lost, while her mother, in helpless agony, fell to the earth in a swoon.

There was a young girl, of about ten years of age, struggling in vain to release her hips from the weight which was crushing her, and close behind her were the flames which in another moment had enwrapped her. Here was a fine appearing gentleman of middle age sitting upright in his seat and unable to extricate himself, calmly awaiting the flames, which soon claimed their victim. There were bodies floating out from the wreck, and others not yet strangled by the icy flood were attempting to make their way to the shore.

There was on board a family named Bennet, on their way from New York State to Jefferson, Ashtabula County. The father and mother got out of the wreck; the children were only saved by being tossed from the arms of one man to those of another over a pile of burning wood-work. One of the four was seriously injured, and all scratched slightly. On Saturday morning the mother gave birth to a child, the event being hastened by the excitement she had undergone.

The train just about covered the bridge when it fell, as the fragments lie across the ravine, touching the base of the abutments on either end. When one stands at the foot of the ravine and looks up it seems an utter impossibility that any man could take a leap from so great a height and live, yet a number escaped comparatively unharmed, and had it not been for the fire probably not one-third would have been lost. The water in the creek is only about three feet deep, and it is thought by some that when it is dragged a number of bodies may be found.

Disastrous Wreck.

The British ship Circassian went ashore at Bridgehampton, L. I., on the 11th of December, her crew being taken off next day by the crew of the Life Saving Station. Attention was at once directed to saving the cargo, the vessel having gone on her beam ends and no hopes being then entertained of a possibility of saving her. About four hundred tons were safely got off and landed, and there were hopes of floating the vessel off at high tide on Saturday, Dec. 30th. The terrible storm of Friday night, however, proved too great a strain upon her, and she went to pieces at four o'clock in the morning. There were on board the Circassian when she went to pieces thirty-one men, sixteen of whom belonged to the Coast Wrecking Company and fifteen to the crew of the vessel. Of the sixteen men belonging to the Coast Wrecking Company only one is reported saved, while of the fifteen belonging to the ship's crew all but three are missing.

The sea was running very high and it was impossible to launch a boat or send one from the shore. Repeated trials with a mortar failed to throw a line to the ship, owing to the darkness. At 8 P. M., on Friday the mainmast went by the board, carrying three men with it. At 10 the ship broke in two, and at 3 A. M. on Saturday she parted again. The mizzenmast went over at 4.20 A. M., carrying with it all the men on board, who were crowded in the rigging. Out of the thirty-two men who were on the vessel, only four were saved, and they came ashore on a float. Such was the darkness and the violence of the storm that nothing could be ... the slightest help ... among the ... and ... Upon ... and that the ... life ...

The Circassian was an iron vessel, originally a steamer. She registered 1900 tons. She was a blockade runner during the war, and was captured by the blockaders. This is the third time she has been ashore. She was run ashore on Cape Cod some time during the war, and was rescued by Captain John Lewis, one of the men lately drowned in trying to get her off the beach at Bridgehampton. She was driven ashore again at Lyman, N. J., in the winter of 1869, and was at that time rescued by Captain E. C. Perry, the only employe of the Coast Wrecking Company who survives the Bridgehampton disaster. She was a first-class ship. The cargo was insured for $90,000 and the vessel for $170,000.

News and Notes.

George Scammon, a man named Mitchell, and two brothers named Smith, of Saco, Me., did not return Friday from a fishing excursion, and it is feared that they are drowned.

A well-known steamer captain of Portland is reported to have eloped with a young lady who was engaged to be married to a sea captain, who provided her with money to buy her wedding outfit and then got another captain to sail his vessel for the present voyage. The steamer captain leaves a wife behind.

Melvina Cook, aged sixteen years, a domestic at Collector Washburne's in Portland, was fatally burned Sunday morning, by her clothes taking fire from a grate.

At Bangor, Me., Saturday night, James McLoon enticed John B Hoyt from his hotel and attempted to rob him, when Hoyt turned upon McLoon and thrashed him severely, nearly killing him.

In the Province of Quebec, according to the Montreal Witness, the Catholic clergy frequently influence the voter by threatening him with the tortures which are the portion of the wicked, and refusing the sacraments of the church in case he does not vote for the candidates of the clergy. The papers are discussing the question whether or not spiritual intimidation, if proved, should render an election void. The Witness takes the ground that it should. The discussion grows out of a recent election in that province, where the influence of the clergy was most actively enlisted on behalf of one of the candidates, who was successful through that potent instrumentality.

Captain Simonton, of the schooner Solon, who was so seriously assaulted at Beverly last Tuesday night, died at the Salem Hospital. Two doctors made a post mortem examination, and found the man's skull terribly fractured, so bad that it fell to pieces on being exposed.

The City Marshal of Concord has received notification to prosecute all sellers of intoxicating liquors in the city.

Political.

The democratic editors of the State have been licked into better form. They write now more like men and less like demagogues than they did a fortnight ago. They invoke the spirit of common sense more frequently than the god of battles, though they may be equally unfamiliar with it.—Indianapolis News (Ind.)

If the republican rogues in Washington and the republican imbeciles of the press really believed that the democracy intended to fight, as they do intend to fight rather than be cheated out of their fairly won victory, there would be a just settlement of the troubles that now confront us.—Evansville (Ind.) Courier (Dem.)

Rev. Charles Beecher, now a citizen of Florida, who voted the democratic State ticket, has written a letter to his son-in-law in Georgetown, which shows that even a democrat cannot be blind to the fraud and violence carried on under his own eyes in the Presidential election. He says he is as certain that there was a democratic plot to alter the returns as he is of any human event, and that he knows they were altered, for he saw them himself. He says it is also an undoubted fact that the democrats burned a bridge to stop a train to keep a U. S. Marshal from reaching Tallahassee before election, and that it is absolutely certain that a republican majority was wiped out in Jackson county by murders and intimidation.—Newburyport Herald.

Telegraph Charges.

There can be no doubt that the charges for telegraphing have been enormously disproportionate to the actual cost of building and maintaining the wires. The difficulty in the case has been that the principal company is burdened with a stock watered to three or four times its value, and has been trying to earn dividends on the water. Of course the moment it comes in competition with a company which makes no such effort, it is placed at a disadvantage. The public have not failed to notice that the cost of telegraphing between the most important points has been reduced during the past year quite as much as rents, or the cost of living; and that in every reduction the Atlantic and Pacific Company has led the way, and the Western Union has been driven. The Atlantic and Pacific now announces another wholesale reduction of one-third on charges between New York and Chicago, and proportionate reductions between a large number of the other more important Western points. The company which leads the way in this matter is entitled to the public good will, and is sure of more than its natural share of patronage. People are certain to encourage a competition which puts money into their pockets, and Gen. Eckert for the past twelve months has been forcing that competition at every point.—N. Y. Tribune.

...ayette Laighton.

"Doubting Castle."

When once deceived, some refuse to again place confidence in anything. Is this fair? Do you doubt the church and religion, because you chance to know one or two hypocrites? Would you refuse all money because you had taken one or two counterfeits? Or because your catarrh is aggravated by using the base and worthless preparations that are "puffed up" and "run for a season," will you condemn Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy, that has been the standard remedy for catarrh and colds in the head for nearly a quarter of a century?

A Valuable Medical Treatise.

The edition for 1877 of the sterling Medical Annual, known as Hostetter's Almanac, is now ready, and may be obtained, free of cost, of druggists and general country dealers in all parts of the United States and British America, and indeed in every civilized portion of the Western Hemisphere. This Almanac has been issued regularly at the commencement of every year for over one fifth of a century. It combines, with the sound and practical advice for the preservation and restoration of health, a large amount of interesting and amusing light reading, and the calendar, astronomical calculations, chronological items, &c., are prepared with great care, and we I be found entirely accurate. The issue of Hostetter's Almanac for 1877 will probably be the largest edition of a medical work ever published in any country. The proprietors, Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa., on receipt of a two cent stamp will forward a copy by mail to any person who cannot procure one in his neighborhood.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., is noted for its fine location and the unsurpassed elegance of its appointments.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, means "well" on rates. To accommodate the demand for low prices, it has reduced its rates from $4.00 to $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Adamson's Botanic Balsum does not dry up a cough and leave the cause behind, but it loosens and cleanses the lungs and allays irritation, thus removing the cause of the complaint. It is pleasant to take and works to a charm. Price only 35 cents. Sample free.

In the general distribution of medals, if it had been possible for the "International Jury of Award" to have given a medal to the best hotel in Philadelphia, this honor would have been received by the Colonnade, "for all the requisites of a model establishment in every respect."

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtr12'77

OUR RULERS THAT BE.

Editors of Chronicle: Well may our City Councillors confess, it seems to me, that they have officially done those things which they ought not to have done, and have indeed left undone those things which they ought to have done. As I read the newspaper reports of their doings, from week to week, I am reminded of the anecdote of the Chicago pork dealer, who on being requested to increase his church subscription, at the moment of receiving a dispatch of a fall in the price of pork, exclaimed, "Good heavens! what are we coming to? the price of the gospel going up, and pork falling, eh?"

So with our city fathers—they vote to waste more money on the P. & D. (how would it do to call it the pull and be d——) Railroad; and almost in the same breath vote not to sell a portion of our useless and expensive city farm, to be converted into tax-paying instead of tax-eating property. Verily, their course passeth all understanding by common people, in either case.

On the one hand Portsmouth has now but very few paupers; and if she needs any city farm at all, the less the better; so why not sell Mr. Mason the land he wishes to improve? Why not?

On the other hand, if it be possible that more money is needed for that steam-leech, the corkscrew P. & D. R. R., let those who wasted or pocketed the hundreds of thousands already swept into that foolish maelstrom, or those bankers who have not paid the price they agreed for our city bonds, make up the deficiency. Truly,

WHY NOT?

MASONIC.

At the annual meeting of Davenport Council of Royal and Select Masters, held at Masonic Hall on Thursday evening, December 28th, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:

Thomas E. O. Marvin, T. I. G. M.;
John R. Holbrook, R. I. G. M.;
William P. Walker, I. G. M.;
Benjamin F. Webster, Treasurer;
George E. Hanson, Recorder;
Charles W. Norton, C. of G;
Harry G. Tanton, C. of C.

WHO SHALL BE COMMISSIONER?

Eds. Chronicle: I see by an item in the papers, that there are several candidates who are willing to serve as County Commissioner for our County of Rockingham; but it is pretty certain that only one person can be elected to the position,—and a great deal more certain, that if Portsmouth sends two or more candidates to the Convention, none of them will even be nominated. This has been tried several times before.

Mr. J. C. Brown and Mr. H. A. Yeaton dividing the Portsmouth delegation, in a former Convention—Mr. J. W. F. Hobbs was nominated, from North Hampton. Even with the twenty votes of Portsmouth unanimous for a candidate, is not always to secure success, as was shown when Mr. F. W. Miller had all these, and nineteen more on first ballot, and yet was not nominated in that convention; but the next year was elected.

The office of County Commissioner is one very important to Portsmouth, which pays a large portion of the County tax, and the city should always have a representative on the Board, and might have, if only the taxpayers will see to it that the ward caucuses to elect delegates to the County Convention are not run by the wire-pullers in the interest of private parties, rather than that of the public.

Let us have the best Portsmouth man who is available. Of those named by the newspapers alluded to, Mr. Newton Johnston seems to me much the strongest. He is a very capable and worthy man, has served most efficiently on the city board of Overseers of the Poor for several years; and while his former long experience in the grocery business would be of much service in the county—he having several months ago ceased all interest in that line, is free from the objection which is always, and perhaps with justice, made to retail dealers occupying this position.

But whoever Portsmouth may select—it is idle to send more than one candidate. If our delegation attempts to ride double, [illegible] the ground.

R. C.

"ARTAXIMINOUS YE GREAT."

On Thursday evening, Jan. 4th, Messrs. Palfrey and Sanborn will make their debut as authors and burlesque actors. Their burlesque is an outgrowth from a parlor entertainment given by them in Boston last Winter before a company of literary people, by whom it was highly commended. They have spent much time and care in rewriting and adapting it for the present occasion, and the result will pretty certainly be highly entertaining to those who witness their performances, as well as creditable to themselves. They are to be assisted by a large corps of local talent, selected for their fitness for the parts assigned them, and who have been under the instruction of Messrs. Palfrey and Sanborn for several weeks. We have no doubt the Reform Club will be materially benefitted financially by this entertainment, which is to be given in aid of that deserving organization.

JOTTINGS.

Board of Trade meeting this evening, at Common Council room.

We hear there is to be a concert at Miss Morgan's Seminary on Wednesday evening, January 3d, consisting entirely of amateur talent of a high order.

The Portsmouth Philharmonic Society holds regular rehearsals at Mercantile Hall, each Tuesday evening at half-past seven o'clock. Mr. Pearson is director, and Miss Hanscom pianist. The book now in use is the "Chorus Wreath."

Leap year has gone and the harvest is past, and there are lots of old bachelors yet aimlessly drifting about with none to molest or make them afraid.

To-morrow (Wednesday) evening, at Franklin Hall, Buffalo Bill and Capt. Jack (not Capt. Jack the Modoc chieftain, who was hung, nor Texas Jack, who has appeared here several times in company with Buffalo Bill, but Capt. Jack, "the poet scout of the Black Hills,") will appear in a new drama founded on incidents of the late Indian war, entitled "The Red Right Hand, or Buffalo Bill's first scalp for Custer." See advertisement.

The teachers of the Walker School were the recipients of most elegant Christmas presents from their pupils. The master, Mr. Charles E. Buzzell, was presented with a very handsome silver and glass pickle dish, a fine book, and a pretty vase with bouquet; Miss S. F. Drake with a beautiful silver dessert spoon and a shell work-box; Miss Foye with a very nice walnut work-box, a toilet set and gilt book-mark; and Miss Young with a handsome work-box, toilet set, etc.

Besides the public watch-meetings in the churches, there were numerous private assemblages for "watching the old year out and the new year in," Sunday evening. Two was the prevailing number of watchers to a meeting, in this city.

The wrecking gang at work on the "Ceres" are making good progress; the work of slinging the schooner in chains will be completed to-day.

Schooner Abbie S. Oakes, Babbage, from Bangor for Boston, lost both anchors and chains in Pepperell's Cove in the lower harbor, on Saturday morning, and drifted ashore on Pierce's island, but came off at high water without damage. She was supplied with an anchor and chain from the navy yard.

The Boston Post has a despatch from this city, dated Dec. 31, saying: "Dr. Noberto J. Osorio, who has been practising here some three years, left suddenly on Wednesday of last week, ostensibly to see his family safe on the steamer at New York for Cuba. It is now discovered that he also sailed for that country with his household, leaving bills unpaid here which are estimated at about $3000."

Schooner J. D. McCarty, of Philadelphia, wrecked on Salisbury beach three weeks ago, went to pieces on Saturday. The sails and anchors and all else of value had been saved, and all but twenty tons of the cargo of coal had been taken out.

Meat consumers will do well to read Henry M. Clark's advertisement.

Frank W. Miller & Co. will very soon commence the publication of a new weekly paper in this city to be called the "Portsmouth Weekly." If will be edited by Mr. Miller and be devoted to local historical matters, literature, politics, agriculture, temperance and other moral subjects. It will be republican in politics, the agricultural portion in the interest of the Grangers while the temperance part will be radical. It is to be a forty-column quarto paper and the aim of the editor will be to follow somewhat after the Portland Transcript. The prospectus will be issued in a few days.—Times.

Schooner J. B. Ames was got off Cedar Island on Friday, the day of the heavy storm; went ashore again on Smutty-nose point, but was got off again Sunday morning; was towed into the lower harbor Monday afternoon, and will come up to the city to-day.

We find the following item going the rounds of our exchanges: "Four thousand dollars for a light station at the Isles of Shoals is among the items in the estimates by the Lighthouse Board for the next fiscal year." Four thousand dollars would not establish much of a light station—nothing much better than a tallow candle in a glass bottle. There already is a light station at the Shoals, and the estimates of $4000 is probably for the repairs of buildings at that station, and is really not sufficient to complete such repairs as they ought to be done.

The Man Without a Country.—No. 69 of "The Lakeside Library" contains the above splendid story by E. E. Hale; "They Saw a Great Light," by same author; "Familiar Quotations Humorously Illustrated," by F. H. Seymour; "A Dream-Love," by H. S. Clarke; "The Sackful of Sovereigns;" "The Parson's Pupil," by S. J. McKenna; "Our Two Squires," etc., etc. This excellent number is illustrated with over fifty engravings. Price, only 10 cents; by mail, 12 cents. Sold by all Newsdealers, or sent postpaid by Donnelley, Loyd & Co., Publishers, Chicago.

DIED.

PARRY. At Fortress Monroe, Va., Dec. 17, at midnight, of rheumatism of the heart; and was buried the 20th inst. in the Government Cemetery at the Post, Rachel Randolph, second child of Frances D. and the late Major Edward Randolph Parry, U. S. A., and grand-daughter of the late General Justin Dimick, U. S. A.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, R. Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to one postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

As extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Portsmouth 6 Per Cent. Bonds.

PROPOSALS will be received until January 15, 1877, for forty-four thousand dollars of Portsmouth, N. H., six per cent. Bonds or any part thereof payable in 20 years from January 1, 1877, with coupons attached. Interest paid semi-annually. Bonds in denominations of $1000, $500, and $200. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "it is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long ago attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter in an at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

The State Church of New York.

The extent to which the Catholic Church is aided by the city of New York, indicates the paramount influence of that zealous organization in controlling the local affairs of the municipality. The grant of the ground on which St. Patrick's Cathedral is built was made in 1852 for the sum of $82. The site of the Catholic Orphan Asylum is leased to the church authorities forever for a merely nominal rent. The land occupied by both these buildings is now of immense value. The Tweed regime began a new system of subsidies of the Catholic church. He endowed the Catholic Protectory with an annual income of $250,000. He gave a block of land now worth nearly $300,000 to the Catholic Foundling Asylum in addition to a yearly stipend of a quarter of a million. He founded nearly a score of Catholic parochial schools, granting them nearly $200,000 annually. This latter gift has since been withdrawn, but the city is burdened with a large number of Catholic institutions. This year the Protectory made a demand for $255,000 and the Foundling Asylum claims $253,000. The men who are interested in these institutions can control an immense vote, so that it will be difficult for the party in power to refuse to comply with their demands.

—An Oregon boy, who got to school the other day a few minutes before the master and his fellows, declared a vacancy and cast the whole vote of the school in favor of a holiday.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young, on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., etc.; in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series of astronomical papers ever published.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wisdom and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to put a finer or more wholesome production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven-Oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL,"

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Loaf Factory," "The Nine-penny number, and "Fossil Lane, Bedfordshire." In December Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Halfpenny a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports on Flood and Field," by various writers, and each one a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place; while the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn". The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest book-seller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting:

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate to a Probate Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court, to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,

WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of retrenchment and reform, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for the low pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by frauds in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to amuse its readers,—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping which the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid, and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

DR. QUAIN'S

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 18, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving testimony; and so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheuma ic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I used I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room much of the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic C ndition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took. I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative we could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the damp trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP! For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants. We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT F ILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

Thousands of Cases. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives vine and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

SOUTH BERWICK, ME., Nov. 26, 1875.

MR. DENNIS SHEA, Sir: The Water Cement Pipe you laid for us over three years ago has proved perfectly satisfactory to us in every respect, and although a part of it froze up last winter, we can't see any injury done. The Pipe was laid by you in a thorough manner, and we believe it to be the Best Water Pipe known, and if we lay any more shall surely lay the same, and you are to do the job if alive and well. Yours, D. CUMMINGS & CO.

The reliable house of ALEX. FROTHINGHAM & CO., No. 12 Wall St. New York, publish a handsome eight-page weekly paper, called the Weekly Financial Report, which they send free to any address. In addition to a large number of editorials on financial and other topics, it contains very full and accurate reports of the sales and standing of every stock, bond and security dealt in at the Stock Exchange. Messrs. FROTHINGHAM & CO. are extensive brokers of large experience and tried integrity. In addition to their stock brokerage business, they sell what are termed "Privileges," or "Puts and Calls," now one of the favorite methods of legitimate speculation. Their advice is valuable, and by following it many have made fortunes.—[New York Metropolis.]

All NEW Subscribers for 1877, paying in advance after December 1, 1876, will receive the paper weekly, from receipt of remittance to January 1st, 1877, without charge.

COMBINED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TWELVE, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of its readers and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly prese te a column or two of the Household, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

A Reign of Arnica.

A man wearing passably good clothes, and a look of mental anxiety, entered a produce house on Woodbridge street, and finding only a clerk in possession he asked—

"Say, are you putty well posted on big words?"

"I know quite a large number of big words," replied the clerk, as he finished footing up a column of figures.

"Well, then, here's the situation," continued the stranger. "I live out here a piece, and am something of a big gun around home. When anything is going on they call me out for a speech. I made one on election day, another that night, and another next morning; and now I'm laying the sleepers for a speech to eclipse them all."

"What sort of a speech?" inquired the clerk.

"Political, of course. My other speeches were political, but were very plain. This time I want to get in some old sockers—a few regular old twisters. For one thing I thought I would declare this country in a state of—what do you call it?"

"Peace!"

"No, sir; I mean confusion, excitement and so on. There's a word to signify it, but I can't speak it."

"Abject terrorism?" suggested the young clerk.

"No, no. It's arnachy, or something of the kind."

"I guess you mean anarchy, don't you sir?"

"I do, I do! Bless me if I haven't been trying for a whole hour to get that word. That's the very thing. When called out I want to lead off with, Fellow citizens, the tryant has shown his hand and arnica reigns supreme. I guess that will knock them."

"You don't mean arnica; you mean anarchy" protested the clerk.

"That's what I mean, of course, but every time I think of anarchy I get it arnica, and I don't know but I'll have to give up the speech."

"Write it down," said the clerk.

The man took up the pen, scratched his nose reflectively, and wrote, "A-r-k-a-n-y." Holding up the paper he waved his hand and began: "Peace has fled and arkany reigns in the land."

"I told you it was anarchy," called the clerk.

"That's so—that's so. This suspense is telling on my memory like a fit of sickness. Now then, a-n-a-r-k-y, anarky, and don't you forget it. You needn't say anything about my calling in here."

"Oh, that's all right," replied the clerk; "Over seven-eighths of the best speakers in town have come to me for big words."

"Many thanks; and now, fellow citizens, peace has fled far, far away, and arkany reigns—. Hold on! Is that the right word?"

He halted at the door to examine the slip of paper, and after repeating the right word over several times he went on—

"A state of anarky is upon us, and where will it end?"

He seemed satisfied with that until he reached Woodward avenue. At that point he appeared to become inspired again, and said—

"Arnica! arnica! and where will it end?—Detroit Free Press.

Why His Dog Bit Him.

About a week ago we heard one of our leading citizens bragging about his watch-dog. He went on to say that Nero was a splendid watch-dog; that he would never even growl at a child, and at night he would tear anybody to pieces he found about the premises.

"Ain't you afraid," we asked, "that he will bite you some night when you come home late?"

"Not a bit of it; he is too intelligent. He knows my step as soon as I put my foot on the gallery. Why, I wouldn't take $500 for that dog. He is the most reliable biting dog in San Antonio."

About three days after the foregoing conversation took place, one morning early we met a policeman leading this identical dog out into the suburbs.

"What are you doing with Major Jones' dog?" we wanted to know.

"He gave him to me to take him out and shoot him."

"What for?" we asked, in amazement.

"Because he tackled the Major last night on his coming home, and bit him in thirteen places; he will not be down town for a week."

"But I heard the Major say that dog was intelligent; that he knew his step, and wouldn't bite him, no way he could fix it; that he would not take $500 for that animal."

"The dog ain't to blame for it," said the policeman, gazing sadly at poor Nero, "it is the Major's own fault."

"How so?" we inquired.

"Well," responded the policeman, slowly, "the dog did know his step and never ever growled at him before; but last night, for the first time since he has had the dog, the Major came home three hours earlier than usual, and perfectly sober, and somehow his step was very different from what the dog was used to; he didn't tangle up his legs as much as common, and the dog was fooled by it, took him for a perfect stranger and bounced him. The dog ain't to blame; he missed the smell of whiskey; he didn't hear the Major whoop and cuss and fall down into the cellar, as he always does when he comes home, so Nero kept on bitin' the Major in fresh places until the family interfered."

"Come on, Nero!" and the sad funeral cortege resumed the line of march for the brush.—San Antonio Herald.

Republican State Convention.

A republican State Convention for the nomination of candidates for Governor and Railroad Commissioner will be held at White's Opera House, in Concord, on Wednesday, January 10, 1877, at eleven o'clock, A. M.

In the primary meetings for the selection of delegates to this convention we invite the participation of every man who holds the principles of the republican party, and in view of the present somewhat critical condition of public affairs, we especially solicit the co-operation of all men who are in favor of according to every citizen of the Republic equal rights and privileges under the law, unabridged by fraud, intimidation or violence, and of peaceably acquiescing in and abiding by the result of the recent election, whenever the same shall be lawfully ascertained and declared by the constituted authorities.

A meeting of the Republican State Committee will be held at Union Hall, in White's Opera House, on Tuesday evening, January 9th, at 8:30 o'clock, to which all delegates to the Convention are invited.

DANIEL HALL,
Chairman Republican State Committee.

News and Notes.

There have been many remarkable disasters in the past year. Americans will remember most vividly those in Brooklyn and Ashtabula, but in point of the number of lives lost, these were small affairs, compared with what has happened abroad. By the cyclone and tidal wave in Southern India, in October, 215,000 persons were killed. By an inundation in China, in June, 5000 persons were drowned in the province of Fuchow alone. In March, a steamer was wrecked in the Arabian Sea and 500 pilgrims perished. The severe gales off the cost of England and Scotland in December, coast many wrecks and 250 lives in a fortnight. These are samples of the heavier calamities abroad, but after all none of them outrank in horror the December accidents in this country.

Elbert A. Woodward, ex-confiential clerk of Boss Tweed, who was arrested in Chicago some three months ago to answer to indictments for forgery and embezzlement and has since lain in the Tombs, has been discharged from custody on his own recognizance. He had previously handed over to Mr. Peckham a number of important documents to be used as evidence in the forthcoming trial of Tweed, and transferred to the city and county of New York property amounting to $150,000 besides furnishing security for the restitution of $50,000 more. The discharge was ordered by the Attorney General, that Woodward might testify for the people in the civil suits. The Attorney General also directed that he may not be re-arrested upon the civil processes pending against him. No nolle prosequi has been entered in the criminal cases, but it is understood that should Woodward's testimony prove as valuable as expected, he will never be brought to trial. The late prison or has gone to his residence in Norwalk, Ct.

Among the victims of the Ashtabula disaster was Miss Mary Birchard, of Fayetteville, Vt., a cousin of President-elect Hayes.

The snow-storm on Monday extended over a great extent of country. In Mississippi, two feet of snow fell at Holly Springs, and fourteen inches at Jackson and Vicksburg; one foot at Shreveport, La., and Munroe, and four inches at Oyska, delaying trains and breaking down telegraph wires and interrupting communication.

The Chinese have their own way of dealing with murderers. One Chinaman so seriously injured another in Nevada that death was expected. The Chinese company to which both belonged decided that, in case of death, the murderer must give the relatives $1,000 and pay all the cost of doctoring and burial; and in case of recovery he must settle with the physicians and pay the injured man the amount of lost wages. This is a light enough punishment, but still, it is better than pretending to punish a murderer by sending him to an insane asylum because he is crazy, and then letting him loose because he isn't.

The business of the Hazard Powder Company, of Connecticut, has been heavier since the first of August than at any other time since the war. The shipments have been mainly from St. Louis and Baltimore, where are their principal magazines, and where they fill orders from the Southern States.

Mayor Prince, of Boston, was inaugurated on Monday.

A gale of unprecedented violence prevailed on the south coast of England on Monday. Dover pier was partially destroyed. The damage is estimated at £150,000. At East Bourne there was great destruction, and the loss foots up £65,000. Nearly every town on the south coast from Dover to Portsmouth was partially inundated by the high tide. Furniture was washed out of houses. Floods caused by the heavy rains continue to be reported throughout the country, and the damage done is widespread.

The great scandal case of [illegible]ans, Vt., with the help of her brother, a lawyer, bled Romeo Hoyt, a married and wealthy man, of some $10,000 on the ground that he had made improper advances to her, has been settled. Hoyt brought suit to recover on the ground of extortion or black mail, and the Court decides in his favor.

Senator Christiancy has had a very sorry time getting down to Washington. He was robbed on a train between Michigan and Washington of $300, some valuable papers, and his baggage check, which the thieves presented at Baltimore and were given his trunk; the Senator consequently arrived at Washington without money or wardrobe. He immediately drew his mileage and a month's pay, and that night was again robbed, the burglars carrying away what clothes were left him with the $600 he had just drawn reposing in the pockets.

Mrs. President Grant, assisted by Mrs. Sartoris and Mrs. Fred Grant, held a brilliant reception at the White House on Monday.

At Biddeford, Maine, on Sunday, Bessie Livingstone, eight years old, daughter of John Livingstone of Saco, was accidently shot in the head by her brother, aged fourteen years, who was carelessly handling a revolver. She will probably recover.

George Scammon and party, who left Keunebunk on Thursday of last week to go fishing and for whose safety fears were entertained, have returned to that place.

Political.

The democrats of South Carolina managed to cast, in Edgefield County, 2,600 votes in excess of all persons, white and colored, over the age of twenty-one years, in the county, according to the State canvass of 1875. Such enterprise as this entitles the party to take equal rank with those members who reside in Mississippi and Louisiana.

Judge Stanley Matthews (Rep.) has already given Gen. Banning notice that he will contest the seat accorded him in the next House from Cincinnati. Banning was elected by a nominal majority of 65; but there is ample evidence that several hundreds of Banning's votes were fraudulent. A dozen or more of Banning's strongest supporters are on their way to the penitentiary for illegal voting, and others have fled the city.

Mr. Robinson was inaugurated as Governor of New York on Monday, and he and ex-Gov. Tilden worked in some neat electioneering twaddle on the occasion. Tilden, in a speech, said it was a great satisfaction to him to surrender the office to one so able, and one whose career furnishes assurances of his purpose to prosecute the work to which he (Tilden) had consecrated two official and three years of private life. Mr. Robinson responded, saying the administration of Tilden had been not only endorsed by the citizens of his State, but by a large majority of the citizens of the whole Union, who had chosen him as their representative at the head of the nation.

On Monday, in New Orleans, the republicans assembled early at the State House, and the democrats appeared at noon with contestants, and demanded the removal of the police and barricades. The demand was refused, and the democrats protested, and all withdrew to St. Patrick's Hall. The republican body organized and elected Michael Hahn, Speaker. The House has fifty-three members. Warmoth has sixteen adherents, and the Senate has nineteen members, making a full quorum. The democratic House also organized and elected Louis Bush Speaker. The Senate chose Mr. Ogden for President. The two Legislatures are now in good working order, and there is no excitement.

The democratic leaders in Washington express themselves very much dissatisfied with Wade Hampton, and say that he is becoming entirely too garrulous for the good of the democratic party. He is censured for writing to Gov. Hayes and exhibiting a desire to conciliate the President-elect at the expense of the democratic sentiment in the North. A friend of Tilden's has telegraphed to Hampton a warning that another mis-step, such as telegraphing to Mosby and writing a letter to Hayes, will lead to the withdrawal of the support of the northern democracy in his efforts to secure the gubernatorial chair. Tilden is reported incensed at Hampton's course, being indifferent to the result of the gubernatorial fight, now that South Carolina's electoral vote has been definitely settled for Hayes.

A delegation of disgruntled democrats from Louisiana is in Washington They report that the Congressional committee will not finish their labors before the 15th inst., and that meanwhile the democratic Judges and other State officials will be rotated by the republican Legislature. They admit that the Louisiana democrats offered to compromise on Hayes and Nicholls, the democratic candidate for Governor, but Kellogg and Packard insisted on keeping the State Government in their possession.

New Hampshire Items.

The police of Dover on Monday arrested Charlie Hooke, a clerk in the employ of Oliver Wyatt, for the larceny of money and merchandise from various stores. His operations have been in progress about a year. His plan was to go through the various cellars of the block in which Mr. Wyatt's store is situated, and thence enter the stores above. The amount of the thefts cannot at present be estimated. Hooke has confessed, as has his brother, who received the goods. Both boys have enjoyed excellent reputations.

The snow-storm of Monday night and Tuesday seriously interfered with the running of trains in this State and other parts of New England.

A Mr. Whittier, about fifty-two years old, left Munsonville for his home in Stoddard in the great snow storm on Friday last, and has not been seen since.

Regular Secretion Essential to Health.

The regular secretion and flow of the gastric juices, and of the bile which the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promotes, are effects which conduce materially to the restoration of health, when the system is disordered. Food is not digested in the dyspeptic stomach because the gastric fluid is deficient, superabundant or vitiated;—the liver becomes congested and the bowels constipated because the supply of bile is inadequate or misdirected. The Bitters rectifies all this, and removes every ill consequence of non-assimilation and bilious irregularity. Furthermore, it stimulates the action of the kidneys, by which impurities are, so to speak, strained from the blood, and any tendency in the urinary organs to grow sluggish and disordered counteracted. Whether it be used as a means of regulating gastric or bilious secretion, and relieving the overloaded bowels, or to promote complete, and therefore healthful, urination, Hostetter's Bitters may be relied upon with confidence to accomplish the end in view.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., is noted for its fine location and the unsurpassed elegance of its appointments.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, offers its 650 rooms on the "new specie basis," at $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Read the testimonials of eminent citizens to the wonderful curative powers of Adamson's Balsam for the cure of racking coughs, colds and consumption. Price 35 cents.

In the general distribution of medals, if it had been possible for the "International Jury of Award" to have given a medal to the best hotel in Philadelphia, this honor would have been received by the Colonnade, "for all the requisites of a model establishment in every respect."

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

A CARD.

The New Year's Tea Party for Mothers at Faith Home, was a grand success; about forty-five mothers set down to the three heavy laden tables. Many said they never saw so many good things provided (just like the Portsmouth ladies) and of course many hearts were made to rejoice. Thanks are extended to those kind friends who so liberally sent of the best, especially to the gentleman who sent an order for groceries, and the lady who sent eighteen pounds of roast beef and many other other very nice things; also to the noble corps of workers, and to the stable keeper who so generously sent his carriages to carry home the feeble ones. After supper a very pleasant hour was spent in the chapel, with songs, and remarks from gentlemen present who would rather not be known to the public; and many were moved to tears. Our friends will not be surprised to know that we intend to meet again the first Monday in February, when we expect to have even a better time.

W. A. LOYNE.

THE TEMPLE.

"J. F." writes from Raymond as follows, concerning the late Temple:

It has been stated, since its burning, that Eld. Elias Smith used to preach in it. Eld. Smith was a Baptist minister, and settled in Portsmouth in December, 1802. While in town he became identified with the people called Christians. Mr. Smith held meetings first in a school house; next in the Court House, then near the North Church, where Dr. Buckminister preached. There were complaints that the meeting in the Court House disturbed the others, as some of the singing and speaking, there was very loud. In the warm season of 1803 a few persons, as related by Eld. Smith, in his life, written by himself, "purchased a lot on which stood a house twenty-five feet wide and about forty-five feet long. This was turned into a convenient place for meetings by making a plain pulpit, pews and a gallery." Was not this what became the Temple? Brewster in the "Rambles about Portsmouth" does not mention this structure. A history of this edifice would now be interesting. Let some one capable produce it. Let there be an account of its origin, enlargements, if any, the ministry of Eld. Moses Howe and others in it, and when it became a place for public lectures, etc.

JOTTINGS.

Buffalo Bill and Capt. Jack at Franklin Hall to-night, in "The Red Right Hand.' See advertisement.

We hear there is to be a concert at Miss Morgan's Seminary on Wednesday evening, January 3d, consisting entirely of amateur talent of a high order. Tickets twenty-five cents; for sale at Mr. Joseph Foster's bookstore.

The New Year's Ball of Kearsarge Engine Company was entirely successful, the attendance being very large and everything passing off satisfactorily. "The boys" have reason to feel flattered at the recognition of their deserving by the public, as evidenced by the amount and quality of patronage bestowed. It was the biggest ball of the season, and was thoroughly enjoyed by the participants.

A bright light, seen from this city Monday evening, was occasioned by the burning of a large planing mill in Newmarket. Some excitement was occasioned about town by a report that it was from the burning of the County Farm buildings at Brentwood.

The Portsmouth Reform Club have more than nine hundred voters on their roll; so perhaps they may exercise some influence on County and other nominations, if they start for it.

Hon. Frank A. Allen, formerly of this city, was inaugurated Mayor of Cambridge, Mass., on Monday.

The managers of the entertainment at Franklin Hall on Thursday evening, Jan. 4, in the burletta extravaganza of Artaximinous Ye Great, have concluded to reserve no seats, as heretofore announced. Hence 25 cents will admit any one to any part of the house.

Messrs. Michael E. Long, William H. Gardner, James Junkins and Charles E. Boynton have been drawn as jurors from Ward One, for the term of the Supreme Court to be held at Exeter on the 22d inst.

The train from Boston over the Eastern Railroad, due here shortly after ten o'clock, Monday forenoon, did not arrive until about half-past one. The forward engine was pretty well snowed up on arrival.

Schooner J. P. Ames was towed up on Tuesday, and taken to the vicinity of the marine railway at Kittery.

The schooner Alfred Brabrook, Capt. Phillips, which arrived at this port on Monday with over eight hundred tons of coal for the China Manufacturing Company, of Suncook, registers five hundred and sixty-two tons. Twenty years ago a ship of that tonage was not considered a small one.

Thomas Howe was arraigned before Chas. H. Bartlett, United States Commissioner, at Manchester on Monday, for perjury at Crohan the repeater's trial at Exeter last October, before the United States Circuit Court, Hon. Daniel Clark, judge. United States Attorney J. G. Hall appeared for the United States, and George Little for Howe, who was bound over in the sum of $500 to appear at the Circuit Court to be held in this city on the 8th of next May. Bail was furnished.

The first anniversary of the Reform Club takes place on Tuesday evening, the 9th inst., at Franklin Hall, for which extensive arrangements are making. An address will be given on the "Origin and Progress of this Body," followed by remarks by leading reformed men of the club. A promenade concert, picnic, supper and praise service will follow. Prominent representatives of other reform organizations are expected.

The Supreme Court (adjourned term) met in this city Tuesday forenoon, Judge Doe presiding. At the close of the forenoon session a meeting of the Rockingham Bar was held, Hon. Wm. B. Small presiding; and Hon. W. H. Y. Hackett, Albert R. Hatch, and Judge Stickney of Exeter, were appointed a committee to draft resolutions in reference to the late Daniel M. Christie.

Mr. Oliver W. Ham having resigned the Superintendency of the Creek Mission Sunday School, was on Monday evening presented by the teachers and scholars with a silver cake basket and half a dozen silver plated knives and forks.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis B. Marden were on Monday evening surprised by a party of about forty friends, and a pleasant evening was passed with games "appropriate to the occasion," supper, and a social dance.

HAMPTON.

Mr. J. T. Wallace, who has held the position of Station Agent here for the past fifteen years, has been transfered to Rockport Station in Massachusetts. Mr. Wallace is a model officer, and his removal from Hampton is sincerely regretted by a host of friends. We congratulate the people of Rockport on the acquisition of so good an officer and citizen. Mr. Joseph P. Batchelder, who has been in the employment of the E. R. R. for twenty years or more, assumes charge as successor of Mr. Wallace. Mr. Batchelder is too well known for fidelity to his duties to require further praise from us.

Charles P. Akerman, also for some time past an employe of the road, has been appointed Station Agent at Hampton Falls. Mr. Akerman is a son of the late Meshech Akerman, formerly Station Agent at this place, and a native of Hampton Falls; and is well known as a trusty, faithful young man.

Mr. Wilbur contemplates building a steam box-factory, but whether on the spot of the one destroyed by fire or near the depot is as yet undecided. In either event he will give employment to a number of men.

The well known sportsman, Charles Perkins, recently brought in two seals weighing one hundred pounds each, three wild geese, two loons, and quite a string of small sea fowl as the result of one morning's work.

Charles G. Marston has taken charge of Leavitt's Mill, near North Beach, and already has his hands full of business.

David J. Lamprey, of North Hampton, is busily engaged with a large force of men and teams in filling the ice houses connected with the hotels and boarding houses in this vicinity. He also has contracts with the proprietors of the Atlantic House and other parties at Salisbury Beach, as well as at Exeter, for several thousand tons. A contract with Mr. Lamprey is a guarantee that the work will be promptly and faithfully performed.

An Act of Incorporation will be asked for from the next Legislature for a plank road from a point near Perkin's Mill to the Glade, so called, thereby shortening the distance from the Railroad Station to the South beach about one mile. METI.

—A young woman recently answered an advertisement for a dining-room girl, and the lady of the house seemed pleased with her. But before engaging her there were some questions to ask. "Suppose," said the lady—"Now only suppose, understand—that you were carrying a piece of steak from the kitchen and by accident should let it slip from the plate to the floor, what would you do in such a case?" The girl looked the lady squarely in the eye for a moment before asking: "Is it a private family, or are there boarders?" "Boarders," answered the lady. "Pick it up and put it on the plate," firmly replied the girl. She was engaged.

—A theatrical critic who had both arms and legs broken, all of his ribs staved in, and one side of his head demolished by the falling of the floor of the opera house in Sacramento, Cal., recently characteristically remarked, as he was being conveyed to the hospital on a stretcher, "This is the first time I ever knew the Peak family to bring down the house."

—A Paris paper says Baron, the singer, is of unusual height, so tall, indeed, that when he went to consult a doctor about a severe cold in the head, the physician said: "My friend, you must have got your feet wet last year."

MARRIED.

ROGERS—SHEAFE. In this city, Dec. 31, by Rev. J. Noyes, Mr. Jacob G. Rogers, of New York, and Miss Josephine Sheaf of this city.

DIED.

BEACHAM. In this city, Jan. 2, Mrs. Martha Maria Beacham, wife of Mr. Richard H. Beacham, aged 43 years, 10 months and 10 days.

☞ Funeral on Friday afternoon at two o'clock, from her late residence. Relatives and friends are invited to attend without further notice.

GODFREY. In Hampton, Mrs. Sally Godfrey, wife of Joseph Godfrey, aged about 80 years.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

As extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend be periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The love of its long-ago attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Preaching Politics.

A worthy deacon hired a journeyman farmer from a neighboring town for the summer, and induced him—although he was unaccustomed to church going—to accompany the family to church on the first Sabbath of his stay. Upon their return to the deacon's house he asked his hired man how he liked the sermon. He replied:

"I don't like to hear any man preach politics."

"I am very sure you heard no minister preach politics to-day," said the deacon.

"I am sure that I did," said the man.

"Mention the passage," said the deacon.

"I will," he said. "If the republicans scarcely are saved, where will the democrats appear."

"Ah," said the deacon, "you mistake; these were the words; 'if the righteous scarcely are saved, how will the wicked and ungodly appear?'"

"Oh, yes," said the man, "he might have used those words, but I know deuced well what he meant."

—There is much less chance of obtaining money under false pretense than formerly, probably owing to the difficulty of obtaining money under any pretense.

—"Now, Jennie, my child, remember and not say a word to your new nurse about being black, for it might hurt her feelings." On being confronted with that very sable guardian, Jennie exclaimed, with a surprised face; "Oh my! isn't she white!"

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The king of all publications issued for the young on either side of the atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, Jean Ingelow, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series of popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wisdom and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equ l its choice production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The literature and the illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could print out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS with book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $3 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & Co., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntterings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven-Oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. Nicholas Minturn is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world, to drift on the current of life, without a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will be given on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been appreciated by the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL,"

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include "Some Experiences in Ore operation," "A Scottish Loaf Factory," in the November number, and "Toad Lane, Rockdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "How I spent a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Society in Florida," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest products as of American humorists will appear from month to month. A list of shorter articles, biographical sketches, other sketches, etc., is long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting,

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said county, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,

WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by frauds in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers,—a body now not far from one million of people—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. The reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who live by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous price for the WEEKLY SUN can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not fill his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I often do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. They told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me at Jacksboro, Texas Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have helped me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL!

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling in the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are the Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, Rev. A. Penrhyn Stanley, W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the machine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address,

FURNITURE —AND— UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication. It is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not a dry one, of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, at the Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Terms of subscription are reserved for big big and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 145 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

NEW CINCINNAT. SUGAR CURED HAMS AND BACON, FOR SALE BY CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commenda tion of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in the matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in half an hour or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for

"MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP,"

The reliable house of ALEX. FROTHINGHAM & CO., No. 12 Wall St., New York, publish a handsome eight-page weekly paper, called the WEEKLY FINANCIAL REPORT, which they send free to anyandall. In addition to a large number of editorials on financial and other topics, it contains very full and accurate reports of the sales and standing of every stock, bond and security dealt in at the Stock Exchange. Messrs. FROTHINGHAM & CO. are extensive brokers of large experience and tried integrity. In addition to their stock brokerage business, they sell what are termed "Privileges," or "Puts and Calls," now one of the favorite methods of speculation. Their advice is valuable, and by following it many have made fortunes.—[New York Metropolis.]

All NEW subscribers for 1877, paying in advance after November 1, 1876, will receive the paper weekly, from receipt of remittance to January 1st, 1877, without charge.

COMBINED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, which are invariably adhered to in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or a peer in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly press is a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

Old Time Chronicles, No. 143.

BY UNCLE JOSEPH.

In a late number a sketch of Gov. John Taylor Gilman and given. Now some account of his residence in Exeter will be put down.

This is on Water street, a little easterly of the old Baptist church. In that section of the village stores are mostly on the north side of the street and the house is on the south side. It is a little back from the street and a narrow passage way leads to it. The house faces the passage way and to the east. The dwelling is large, being two stories high above a basement at the north end and is quite long, so long that there are two front doors leading to the sets of rooms. A knocker is on one of the front doors at least, such as were somewhat common in old times.

All the appearances of this building are of great age. There is no appearance of any paint having been put on the outside. Of course its appearance is rather dark and dingy. Yet when Governor Gilman was in office sixty years ago and more, it may have made a fair show when compared with many other residences of distinguished persons.

The barn does not look well, and probably never did. But there was great neglect of barns seventy-five and a hundred years ago. It is small, seemingly about square, with four roof sides, and at the west rests on a foundation of round stones, built up like a common stone wall five or six feet high.

Gov. Gilman left his house here some years before his death in 1828, and resided on Front street a little westerly of Gorham Hall, formerly the Swampscott House. In his former dwelling resided Col. Peter Chadwick, Clerk of the Court for some years.

One of the grand old elms for which Exeter is noted, stood near this house in Gov. Gilman's time, also in Col. Chadwick's. It is now gone, but a small one, perhaps of twelve or fifteen years' growth, has come up in its place.

Remarkable Escape.

The schooner Ann E. Carll, of Northport, Capt. Tyler, before reported wrecked on Layo Key, south coast of Cuba, was driven about by a hurricane for four days, and on the fifth, after beating over two coral reefs she was forced hard aground on this key, a small, desolate sand island, the only inhabitants of which were a great number of alligators, which swarmed around during the first night and came near devouring the crew, being only kept off by a fire which they succeeded in kindling. The key is about sixty miles from the mainland, and out of the usual track of vessels.

Soon after the Carll had thus been wrecked, her crew were the fortunate means of saving a Spanish and an English crew, whose vessels had gone to pieces, and Captain Tyler, finding that he had to divide his scanty store of provisions with these brothers in misfortune—there being now thirty-five persons on the island—and that starvation would soon be staring them in the face, sent his mate and one seaman in a boat to Cienfuegos, about 100 miles distant, with instructions to ask assistance from the United States Consul at Havana. On hearing the facts, the Spanish Government as soon as possible sent a gunboat with provisions for the relief of the shipwrecked crews, who were found in an almost famished condition, Captain Tyler having meantime shot with his rifle three alligators, which were skinned and eaten.

The mate chartered in Havana the brig Perces Hinkley in which to ship the cargo and what was saved of the wreck to New York. They had a very rough voyage, occupying thirty-eight days, when they put in at Hatteras Inlet, with all sails blown away and all on board nearly starved, having for eight days been on short allowance of biscuit and water. The schooner had been unfortunate, having twice before been wrecked—once off Norfolk, Va., and once on Block Island. By the final misfortune Jesse Carll, of Northport, who owned about one half the vessel, loses about $7000, on which he had but little insurance.

—The time is out; the sands of the one-hundredth are quite run; but here is material for a Centennial dime novel. It is the romance of a poor young man in Washington who was too proud to ask his relatives for pocket-money, and yet felt that he must go to Philadelphia and see the great show. He joined the police force on the Centennial grounds. One day he saw in the crowd a face which had graced the social circle of his rich relatives in the District. He laid aside his badge, uniform and stick, and called in the evening. His visits became more frequent and culminated in an elopement. When the anxious father found the high-toned policeman and the bride, he was told that they were married. He would not believe it. They swore that it was so—at least the bridegroom did. The father said that a second marriage would do no harm, and, flourishing a revolver over their heads, led them before a minister. 'Tis not every man who can be married twice without changing his sweetheart; but he is living in New York to-day.

—Brown, poor as a church mouse, married a rich widow. Soon, stretched upon his death-bed, he made the following codicil to his will: "I bequeath to my loving wife all her property, provided she forever remains a widow".

Daily Chronicle.

THURSDAY, JANUARY 4, 1877.

The Doomed Man.

Governor Chaney, in accordance with a time-honored custom, paid a visit to Major, the Wilton wife poisoner, at the State Prison, on the 2d inst. The condemned man, aware that but few days remained for him to live, conversed freely with the Governor on matters temporal and spiritual. When asked if he had a confession to make, he declared his innocence. He spoke feelingly of his children, and said he hoped they would mature to a true manhood and womanhood and be useful members of society.

The execution will take place in the prison, between the hours of 10 o'clock A. M. and 2 P. M., on Friday. Only a limited number of cards of admission will be issued.

The Two Governors.

The difference between the two Presidential candidates, which was so plainly shown in their letters of acceptance, and made even more plain to the public by their widely differing conduct in the Presidential canvass, has received another illustration in their recent messages to the Legislatures of their respective States. Tilden was so determined to have a good word spoken for him that he spoke it himself, his message largely glorifying his work of reform, and giving Governor Tilden and his administration a whole-souled endorsement.

Governor Hayes, in his message, congratulates the officers in charge of the State offices and institutions upon the gratifying condition of State affairs, and predicts a short and harmonious session. The State debt has been reduced during the past year almost $1,500,000. He recommends the passage of a registry law, and concludes by advising an amendment to the State Constitution, to provide for holding State election in the year in which a Presidential election occurs, on the day of the Presidential election. Gov. Hayes leaves praise of his own administration to others—where he may safely leave it.

Rochester.

Rochester is now without a representation at the county jail, but the tax collector is of the opinion that he shall have to be filling up the Rochester quota unless the taxes come in better than they have. He had $48,000 to collect and has collected $31,000, leaving $17,000 to be collected, or over $300 per day between now and March meeting. Ten per cent. interest is now being charged on all unpaid taxes, and with money at four and five per cent. it would seem a stroke of policy for the tax-payer to wipe out his tax even if he has to hire the money.

Rev. Ezra Haskell, with his Massachusetts detectives, was in Rochester to-day, and occupied the Police Court with liquor complaints. No "open bars" were found, but one man sold from a bottle and two others sold cider. Two cases were found against each, and they were bound over in the sum of $300 each. The prohibition feeling in this town runs high, and reputable citizens who have not been concerned in the liquor traffic have found their families ostracised in social life and themselves in their business affairs, because they have not been active in the prohibitory movement, or have questioned the policy of carrying it to the extreme; and several heavy tax-payers have disposed (or are attempting to dispose) of their property here, as they say they will not live in a place run entirely on the one idea plan. At present, if you are an extreme prohibitionist you are a good Christian, in Rochester; if you are a "moderate" man you are of no account, socially, morally or physically. The danger is that the whole thing will be run into the ground.

Why the various railroads do not combine and erect one grand union depot here, is a puzzle. At present each road has a small and inconvenient depot for its own business—in fact, railroad depots are stuck around in the sand almost anywhere. No matter what road you come in on, or in what direction you wish to go, you must cross all the tracks of all the other railroads before you can get anywhere. For a place with so many depots we can boast of the worst depot accommodations of any place in the world.

The letter of Hon. Charles S. Whitehouse, declining to again be a candidate for member of Congress from this district, leaves the field clear for somebody,—who, is not yet clear. Hon. John J. Morrill is a strong man, and can undoubtedly be elected if nominated,—just as certainly as Mr. Whitehouse would have been elected two years ago but for the treachery of certain individuals who had long been honored and well cared for by the republican party. Mr. Whitehouse would have been elected this year, and his friends tried hard to get him to run; but his business engagements demand his whole time, and he refused to decede to their desires. NEBO.

News and Notes.

Schooners Walter Irring and Massachusetts went ashore near Cape Cod light in a recent gale, and went to pieces. All hands saved except the cook of the Massachusetts. An unknown schooner, coal laden, was wrecked on Wood End.

Affairs in the East look very threatening. The Turkish government does not seem inclined to agree to the terms submitted by the Conference, and all the Ambassadors will quit Constantinople if the Porte finally refuses compliance.

Schooner May Queen, of Gloucester, went on shore on Coney Island Ledge at three o'clock the morning of the 2d inst., and will probably be a total loss. The life-boat from Marblehead took off the crew about ten o'clock, as soon as the signal usually given by the keeper of the lighthouse in cases of distress was discovered. The May Queen was engaged in bay fishing and went ashore in the blinding snow storm while trying to make a harbor. The crew suffered terribly until rescued by the life-boat.

A tremendous gale has been raging on the Atlantic coast of France. Two villages were threatened with destruction by high water. Several lives have been lost. One of the telegraph cables between France and England has parted.

Ex-President Lerdo and staff of Mexico are now in the state of Jalisco with about one-half of the Mexican army, and expect to make a successful fight against Diaz and regain the city of Mexico. If defeated he will flee to California.

Queen Victoria was formally proclaimed Empress of India at Delhi, India, on New Year's Day, with great display and pomp.

Melvina Cook, the girl who was burned at ex-Governor Washburne's house in Portland on Sunday, died at the Maine Hospital Monday night.

The steamship Emilie sank near Key West on the night of Jan. 1st, in six fathoms of water. Only one man and an infant are known to be lost, but a boat load of passengers are missing. Steamers have gone out in search of the missing passengers. The mails were lost.

Three bodies have been washed ashore from the vicinity of the wreck of the Circassian. Fourteen other bodies were found near Montauk Point, thirteen miles from the scene of the disaster.

An avalanche in Utah buried the Wellington Mine boarding house, and cost four men their lives.

William Harris, a hotel-waiter out of employment, nearly severed his head from his body in Boston on Tuesday night, with a razor. He leaves a wife and child.

James Gordon Bennett's marriage to Miss Ida May, which has been announced as a sure event and then contradicted several times, was finally announced to take place on Thursday, Jan. 4th, sure pop. Now it is said the young lady's father broke off the match on Saturday, Dec. 30th, by refusing his consent.

The engineers' strike on the Grand Trunk Railroad in Canada continues, with no present prospect of a settlement. The mails are delayed and trade seriously interrupted. One engineer has been lodged in jail to protect him from the strikers. Troops have been called for to protect the road.

P. S. A dispatch from Montreal, Wednesday afternoon, announced the strike ended but gave no particulars.

Barne, the "recalcitrant witness" who refuses to give up private telegrams to the House committee, was brought before the House on Wednesday and given till Friday to answer.

Nine laborers were killed and thirty injured by a railroad train running off the track near Copenhagen recently. This is the first fatal railway accident in Denmark.

New Hampshire Items.

The Dover Common Council organized on Wednesday by electing Mr. George F. Mosher, editor of the Morning Star, as President, and Henry A. Redfield, Clerk. The net indebtedness of the city is $207,748.17.

The Trustees of the New Hampshire State Agricultural College held a meeting in Concord on the 3d, when the resignation of President Smith, President of Dartmouth College and also of the Agricultural College, was received.

There is great excitement in Dover over the liquor prosecutions. Rev. Ezra Haskell has for three weeks been gathering evidence against the liquor dealers of Dover and other towns, and upon his complaint they are now coming into court. Michael Conlon, arraigned on four complaints, recognized in $200 on each complaint; John D. Durkin, on four cases, recognized in the same amount. There are three cases against John Meserve, three against James Morgan, four against Michael Killoran, two against John Roberts and three against Bernard Oates. All these are Dover parties. Mr. Haskell has secured evidence against every dealer in the city, and has writs made out ready to be served on dealers in Great Falls, Salmon Falls, Rochester and other places in Strafford County. Eben Capen of Barrington was arraigned on complaint of keeping for sale, pleaded guilty and paid $64, and has two writs more hanging over his head.

Capt. Ferris of Wisconsin cannot wear the laurels as the oldest Mason in this country any longer. Col. Nathan Huntoon of Unity, Sullivan county, N. H., has been a Mason seventy years, and will be ninety-five years of age if he lives till March next.

Julia Cobb, a native of Marion, Mass., dropped dead on the 1st at Woodstock. She was a school-teacher and had been in poor health.

In the will of the late William Andrews of Dover, some forty people have been remembered. The Dover Library received $2000, the Unitarian Church $1000, and the Unitarian Association $2000.

James H. Jepson, now in jail charged with attempting murder at Warner in a drunken row a few weeks ago, proves to have treated a faithful wife with unusual brutality. Tiring of her, he knocked her down with a chair, and dragged her by the hair till he forced her to a false confession of adultery, then locking her without covering in the attic, and afterwards compelling her to tell similar stories to his companions. The woman is found to have been terribly abused, and, if she does not die, can never fully recover.

Political.

The Maine Legislature organized on Wednesday by the choice of the following officers: Thomas W. Hyde, of Bath, President of the Senate; S. W. Lane and C. W. Tilden, Secretaries; E. B. Neally, of Bangor, Speaker of the House; Oramandel Smith and Edwin C. Burleigh, Clerks. The democrats supported Edwin Stone of Biddeford for Speaker of the House.

Vance, the fire-eating ex-rebel who was counted in as Governor of North Carolina, in his inaugural breathes forth fire and slaughter to a moderate extent in case Tilden is not made President. Talk is cheap.

Mr. Drew, the democratic candidate for Governor of Florida, was peacefully inaugurated on the 2d inst., the republicans acquiescing quietly as they were expected to do. The democrats now seem to have gained control of the State government.

David Dudley Field was on Tuesday elected to Congress from the seventh New York district in place of Smith Ely, Jr., resigned. Mr. Field was Boss Tweed's counsel, the adviser of Jim Fisk and the Erie Ring, and is a staunch Tilden reformer.

—Words of a dying cannibal:—"Write me down as one who loved his fellow men."

Regular Secretion Essential to Health.

The regular secretion of all of the gastric juices, and of the bile which the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promotes, are effects which conduce materially to the restoration of health, when the system is disordered. Food is not digested in the dyspeptic stomach because the gastric fluid is deficient, superabundant or vitiated;—the liver becomes congested and the bowels constipated because the supply of bile is inadequate or obstructed. The Bitters rectify all this, and remedies every ill consequence of non-assimilation and bile as irregularity. Furthermore, it stimulates the action of the kidneys, by which impurities are, so to speak, strained from the blood, and any tendency in the urinary organs to grow sluggish and disordered counteracted. Whether it be used as a means of regulating gastric or bilious secretion, and relieving the overloaded bowels, or to promote complete, and therefore healthful, urination, Hostetter's Bitters may be relied upon with confidence to accomplish the end in view.

Read the testimonials of eminent citizens to the wonderful curative powers of Adamson's Balsam for the cure of hooking coughs, colds and consumption. Price 35 cents.

The Colonnade Hotel.

In the general distribution of medals, if it had been possible for the "International Jury of Award" to have given a medal to the best hotel in Philadelphia, this honor would have been received by the Colonnade, "for all the requisites of a model establishment in every respect."

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

PORTSMOUTH SAVINGS BANK.

The following extract from the records of a special meeting of the Trustees of the Portsmouth Savings Bank needs no explanation:

Jan. 1, 1877.

The President of the Portsmouth Savings Bank received the following letter from the Treasurer:

To the President and Trustees of the Portsmouth Savings Bank:

GENTLEMEN: My health is such that it will probably be some time before I can perform the duties of my office. I would therefore ask of you to choose a temporary Treasurer. Respectfully yours,

J. F. SHORES, Treasurer.

The President called a special meeting of the Trustees, Jan. 2d, and submitted to them the letter of the Treasurer, which having been read, on motion of Mr. Hackett, the Trustees voted to act upon the suggestion of the Treasurer and proceeded by ballot to the choice of a Treasurer pro tem.

Whole number of votes	13
For George Tompson	4
For Joseph H. Foster	9

On motion by William H. Rollins,

Voted, That the Committee on Accounts be requested to make the customary thorough examination into the condition of the Bank before the Treasurer pro tem. enters upon his duties, and report to the Trustees at their semi-annual meeting.

Voted, That the compensation of the Treasurer pro tem. be at the rate paid to the permanent Treasurer.

OUR CITY POLICY.

Messrs. Editors of Chronicle: Your correspondent "Why Not" appears to have hit the nail—in fact to have hit two nails, square on the head in his remarks concerning the Dover Railroad and Portsmouth city farm. The farm appears to be kept and run, of late years, mainly as a political machine, for either party, and a retreat for political favorites; and as for the railroad—that will doubtless constitute a perpetual sinking fund for city bonds and taxes; but why any but paid advocates should recommend this—and especially why any republicans should vote to put still more railroad power and patronage into the unscrupulous partisan hands of our B. B. and XX Congressman, to lash themselves still harder with, is really a mystery. DIO.

JOTTINGS.

The Woman's Temperance League will hold its meetings at the headquarters of the Reform Club in Badger's Block on Daniel street, until further notice.

The number of arrivals at the port of Portsmouth from foreign ports for the year ending Dec. 31, 1876, was 32, viz: 4 brigs, 887 tons: 28 schooners, 2729 tons. During the same period 573 vessels arrived from coastwise ports, viz: 1 barque, 338 tons: 10 steamers, 6379 tons: 4 brigs, 674 tons: 558 schooners, 89,033 tons. Total number of arrivals, 604, with an aggregate tonnage of 93,037 tons. This does not include fishing schooners or steamers, government vessels, or vessels putting in here for a harbor.

Mr. James F. Jenness had his left shoulder dislocated on Sunday by being thrown from his sleigh when near the young ladies' seminary. If he was driving on Miller avenue the only wonder is that he didn't break his neck also, so bad was the travelling; and if he had tried to drive through Broad street he would probably have had to add to his list of damages a broken sleigh, two broken legs for himself and four broken legs for his horse.

Sheriff Kent has appointed Charles W. Gardner, Esq., of this city, a deputy sheriff.

Schooner Sarah E. Babson, of Newburyport, which is fishing out of this port for the winter, was out in the heavy gale on Friday night, Dec. 29th, but rode it out, and has since come into port with an excellent fare of fish.

Should an alarm of fire occur while the travelling is in its present objectionable condition, people need not be surprised to see the fire engines come tearing up street behind a yoke or two of oxen, those useful and reliable but not particularly fast animals having been substituted for horses, and being now kept in readiness at the engine houses.

The train which left this city at half-past eight o'clock Tuesday forenoon, and should have arrived in Boston at a quarter before eleven, did not arrive there until after noon, and had increased to twenty heavily loaded passenger cars and seven engines before it got there.

The mammoth Cornucopia of candy, at the store of Messrs. Thompson, in Mechanics' block, was divided beiween Mr. Frank W. Miller and Mr. Payson of Harlow's Band, they each guessing the weight at five pounds, which was just one and a half ounces too little. The guesses,—which were made from sight only, as it could not be handled,—varied from three to fifty-six pounds, though there was but one guess above twenty-eight pounds.

This evening, at Franklin Opera Hall, "Artaximinous ye Great" will be presented by Messrs. Palfrey and Sanborn, assisted by a brilliant array of local talent. The play is a revised, enlarged and improved edition of the burlesque "Bombastes Furioso," and includes in its attractions original music and a ballet, political hits, etc.; and if there is less of the "blood and thunder" element in it and its performance than in a recent "dramatic entertainment" given here, we are sure it will be quite as worthy the patronage of people of taste and humor. The play is given with an excellent object—to aid the Reform Club—and tickets are only 25 cents to any part of the hall.

We have received from Roberts Brothers, publishers, of Boston, "Sappho," a tragedy in five acts, translated from the German of Grillparzer by Ellen Frothingham. Also, "Sunshine in the Soul," (one of the "Wisdom Series,") a collection of short religious poems selected by the editor of "Quiet Hours." These little books are very neatly printed and handsomely bound.

H. O. Houghton & Co., Boston, send us the "Atlantic Monthly Index," which comprises the titles and authorship of all the articles in that magazine from the first number in 1857 down to the present time. Price, $2.50 in cloth; $2.00 in paper. To persons who have the magazine the Index furnishes an uncommon amount of disconnected and entertaining reading-matter. As we have not the magazine the Index is not of particular interest to us.

The Cincinnati Times Company has issued to the subscribers to the Weekly Times, a very neat Hand-book, containing tables rendering it of value for reference, and many features of interest. It is issued to the paper's subscribers only, and is not sold.

We have received the New Hampshire Register and Business Directory for 1877, from the Claremont Manufacturing Co., publishers and proprietors. They say: "If you think it worth a notice, favorable or otherwise, we shall be glad to see a copy of your paper containing such notice. If you have no time or do not wish to examine it, don't copy anything out of the preface, for there isn't any, nor from the editorial, for it may take you a good while to find that." We have examined it, and find it filled with valuable matter. Besides the usual astronomical calculations and liberal room for memoranda, there is a complete business directory for every town and city in the State; lists of town and county officials; State government, legislature, etc.; tabular statement, by towns, of vote for Governor, valuation and apportionment; names of papers; list of savings banks,—and lots of other useful tables. Price 25 cents; for sale at the bookstores.

The New York Herald of Wednesday had a special (and exclusive) despatch from this city, detailing a raid by Michael Joyce of this city, and two other men, on the U. S. S. "Canandaigua" at the navy yard, for the purpose of stealing metal. A full account was given of a fight between the thieves and Watchmen McDonald and Falem, which resulted in Joyce's death from a bullet through the lungs, and the escape of his confederates. Of Joyce it is said "he was a citizen and a property owner of Portsmouth, and during Mayor P. G. Thomas' administration was Chief of Police." There are some trifling errors in this account; this city never had a Mayor named P. G. Thomas, and Michael Joyce was not Chief of Police under him; no such watchmen as those named are employed on the yard, and the "Canandaigua" is not at this naval station. With these exceptions the account of the affair is correct, save that there has been no raid on any vessel and no fight in repelling it.

At a republican caucus in Ward Three, Wednesday evening, delegates to the various conventions were chosen, as follows: State—Daniel H. Spinney, Allen Greenough; Congressional—Charles A. C. Gray, James M. Jarvis; County—Horace Wiggin, George Webber; Councillor—Charles Whidden, Frank E. Marden; Senatorial—Samuel S. Whidden, Andrew M. Gardner.

The Congressional Nomination.

The name of Hon. John J. Morrill, of Gilford, has been mentioned in connection with the republican Congressional nomination in the First District. If our memory is not at fault Mr. Morrill was among the leading candidates at the last Convention, although he had no knowledge that his name was to be presented, and quite a number of his votes came from this section of the District. His reputation for honesty, sound common sense and square dealing is unassailable, and if he is nominated he will carry the strength of the party and be elected, and worthily represent the District in Congress. The following, which we copy from the Lake Village Times, shows that a good man may have honor in his own country:

"We present his name for the consideration of the Convention. It is a good one, a clean one, with no entangling alliances, no record attached which needs excuse or explanation. It always polls more than the full strength of the party, and is a tower of strength to the ticket which bears it. Whatever good man receives the nomination will have the united and earnest support of the Belknap County republicans. It is our duty to nominate a good man, and one whose name will insure victory; and it is as such that we present the name of John J. Morrill."

—About every girl in the country asked her fellow last week what size boots he wore, and he told her a lie of three sizes, though perfectly well aware that the slippers would pinch his feet entirely out of shape. All is vanity.

—School girls have substituted pennants for pendants in earrings; their latest device consists of small bows of gros-grain ribbon in all shades, tied in rings.

—The Baltimore American says that in that place "John Smith fell on the ice and broke the thigh bone of his right leg."

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. While its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness, able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while to those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers offer a still cheaper club rate, viz.: to one, postpaid, The Living Age and any other one of the American magazines, or a weekly, or a newspaper, will be sent for a year, for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American magazines, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in possession, nearly, of the whole situation.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to each of them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Portsmouth 6 Per Cent. Bonds.

PROPOSALS will be received until January 15, 1877, for forty-four thousand dollars of Portsmouth, N. H., six per cent. Bonds or any part thereof payable in 20 years from January 1, 1877, with coupons attached. Interest will semi-annually. Bonds in denominations of $1000, $500, and $200. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The centre of its long-established reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Diphtheria.

A correspondent of the Boston Globe writes that paper as follows: During my stay in Hamburg, Prussia, this year, a book just then published, entitled "Sure Cure of Diphtheritis," created a sensation in all the leading papers there and in North Germany. The author, Dr. Hoeffl, is a physician of high standing and long experience, and as he has success in nearly all his cases, I made a note of his treatment, which I give below. Please give it a space in your paper; if other papers copy it might save many lives:

Treatment—Give nothing whatever inside but eggs and beef tea to strengthen. Clean the throat with a brush (made for that purpose) soaked in a dilution of sixty grammes acidi sannici, 120 grammes hot water and ten grammes kalii chlorici. The full title of the book is: "Hoeffl: Sichere Heilung der Diphteritis. Hamburg, 1876. Hermann Granings, Verlay."

—A man in Chicago started out, armed with a knife and club, with the avowed intention of imitating Cain by killing his brother. The brother, however, did not make a good Abel, but used his revolver with almost a fatal effect.

—Nothing is so soothing as a sister's love and sympathy. Every young man ought to have a sister's smile to encourage him. If you have not got a sister of your own, you may be able to borrow one somewhere in the neighborhood.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., etc., in its elegant binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book of the year and yet is never issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining serial from the French, "The Elephant of the Tuileries," a story adapted in the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively articles, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental scenery, with drawings by Siemeon artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "Ballad-Good in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday-school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Venerable Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, Jonathan G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George Macdonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank Bellew, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series of popular sciences recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will be, as time is delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young which can be said to equal the elegance of publication of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or verse, are throughout with vitality. The illustrations and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of the volume for 1876 has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Sent with the express, now absolutely free, on receipt of money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntenings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

"NICHOLAS MINTURN,"

By Dr. Holland, the Editor, who-e story of "Seven-oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a boat, but without a pilot.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the opening of the "Thou Art Lowvers," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a subtle and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There it to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Burnett's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the Potteries, "Glass Houses," "Iron Houses," "Cotton Houses," "A Scotch Leaf Factory," in the November number, and "Coal Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are "Some British Workingmen's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Holyoke, a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports on Flood and Field," by various writers, each with a different theme. The subject of will be treated in a popular manner, and practical suggestions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welsed.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (new subscribers only), and whose subscription begins with the present or some later number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest book-seller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting,

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication to be one of the at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will as now consist of a sheet of four pages and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the subjection of aforemanism, selfishness, and fraud to honest, economical, and faithful administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraud and bayonets, and in the counting-room as much as elsewhere, by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most complete, accurate, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. In reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of ungodified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post-paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

THE DAILY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post-paid.

THE WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post-paid.

THE WEEKLY SUN is a large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY SUN to be enjoyed by initial and some others with the necessity of making up clubs. In proportion to the number of subscribers choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. In all cases the cash must accompany the subscriptions, and the expenses of paper and printing are largely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where it is merits are known. They strike at once at the root of disease and show their healing power almost immediate. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as I know of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 6th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and twenty-five pounds. I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have little doubt I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done every thing for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Individual him to get some of these Pills. He believed much of them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheumatism for many for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish people to know where to find them. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving there half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twenty years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for twenty years, and have spent much traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they go to Scotland and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when, through the kindness of Mr. H. M. Pulliam, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed is a ten dollar three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Lucy Pulliam at Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I am recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative . . . could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung trying climate of New England,

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

USE

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, F. R. S., W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four editorial Departments—Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and skillful literature.

TERMS.—Single copies, $5 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $7.

FURNITURE —AND— UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York. Branch Office: Cor. F & 7th Sts., Washington, D. C.

NEW CINCINNAT, SUGAR CURED HAMS AND BACON, FOR SALE BY CHARLES E. LAIGHTON & SON.

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP! For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants. We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILLMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered. This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in Thousands of Cases. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Attention is called to the following letter from David Cummings & Co., Shoe Manufacturers of South Berwick, Me.:

SOUTH BERWICK, ME., Nov. 26, 1875.

MR. DENNIS SHEA, Sir: The Water Cement Pipe you laid for us over three years ago has proved perfectly satisfactory to us in every respect, and although a part of it froze up last winter, we can't see any injury done. The Pipe was laid by you in a thorough manner, and we believe it to be the Best Water Pipe known, and if we lay any more shall surely lay the same, and you are to do the job if alive and well. Yours, D. CUMMINGS & CO.

The reliable house of ALEX. FROTHINGHAM & CO., No. 12 Wall St. New York, publish a handsome eight-page weekly paper, called the Weekly Financial Report, which they send free to any address. In addition to a large number of editorials on financial and other topics, it contains very full and accurate reports of the sales and standing of every stock, bond and security dealt in at the Stock Exchange. Messrs. FROTHINGHAM & CO. are extensive brokers of large experience and tried integrity. In addition to their stock brokerage business, they sell what are termed "Privileges," or "Puts and Calls," now one of the favorite methods of legitimate speculation. Their advice is valuable, and by following it many have made fortunes.—[New York Metropolis.]

All NEW Subscribers for 1877, paying in advance after November 1, 1876, will receive the paper weekly, from receipt of remittance to January 1st, 1877, without charge.

COMBINED PAPERS-FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

A New Comment on St. Paul.

Rev. Isaac M. See, pastor of the second Presbyterian church of Newark, has been called before the Presbytery for allowing Mrs. L. F. Robinson and Mrs. C. S. Whitney to preach from his pulpit. The elders advised him, for the sake of peace in the church, to promise not to repeat the offence, but Mr. See replied that Christ came not to bring peace, but a sword, and that in the performance of duty it is not always possible to avoid strife. He defended himself as follows:

Woman's intellect is no longer cramped, as when Paul lived and wrote. Woman need no longer hide her head. Customs have changed with the changing ages, and it is not necessary for women to be always veiled in the streets, as in the days when for them to go out with features exposed was an indication of immodesty. A wider field, a nobler sphere, is opening to women. It is written in the second chapter of Acts, 17th verse, "Your sons and your daughters shall prophesy; your young men shall see visions, and your old men shall dream dreams." "Your daughters shall prophesy!" That's it. The word "prophesy" includes all that is now understood by preaching. St. Paul, the defendant continued, was merely noting errors in the Corinthian church when he wrote the words, "Let your women keep silence in the churches; for it is a shame for women to speak in the church." They had babbling women among them then; and even in this favored land, babbling, gossipping women are not unknown. It was such as these that the Apostle desired to silence. The point he wished to make was that all preaching should be for purposes of edification.

Mr. See then read part of an article, written by Dr. Armitage, describing the immodesty of many of the Corinthian women, who mixed in assemblies with the other sex, talking loud among themselves, interrupting the speakers with questions, and creating disturbance in the congregation. This class of women it was to whom St. Paul referred.

The whole amount of this matter, continued the defendant, is that you want me to promise not to do it any more. With nothing against it on your statute books, with no injunction forbidding it in your Confession of Faith, without a word condemning it in the Holy Scriptures, unless it be that which I am sure does not condemn it, you still ask me not to do it any more. Brethren, you see where I stand.

Practical Christianity.

In last October, a farmer with his wife and three children left the Scotch Presbyterian settlement in Western Pennsylvania to which he belonged, and set out to the Black Hills in the hope of mending his fortunes. Ill-luck steadily followed him. On reaching the Hills, he was struck down with fever and lay helpless for weeks, nursed by the miners. In November his wife gave birth to a baby, and died the next day. The camp had now the father, who was sinking day by day, and four hapless children on its hands. A widow, Mrs. R. A. Kilbury, heard of the trouble and came to see what was to be done. The baby was weak and sickly, and after a few days she declared it impossible to keep it alive through the terrors of a winter in camp with the thermometer 30 degrees below zero. The only safety for any of the children was to go back to their home in Pennsylvania. A wagon train was to pass the camp in a few days on its way to Fort Laramie. The miners prepared a wagon, furnished it with a feather bed, and contributed money for the journey, and the brave little woman gathered together a spirit lamp, provisions, and such poor comforts as could be had for the children. The train arrived; every miner was busy making them ready; one brought his bedding, another clothes; there was not a dry eye in the camp when the poor babies were taken in to say good-by to their dying father. After he had kissed them for the last time, he turned his face to the wall, and they were hastily carried out and started upon their long and perilous journey. Their kind friend was the only woman in a train of thirteen wagons; one of her helpless charges, be it remembered, was a baby two weeks old. The cold was extreme; several times the wagons were blocked by snow; twice attacked by scouting parties of Indians; but this woman and her children were made a sacred charge. At night her wagon was placed in the center of the corral, the others forming a line of defense about it. They reached a railroad station at last, and she was put safely aboard the cars. The Pittsburg Dispatch states that she arrived with the children at their old home, delivered them to their grandparents and immediately started on her return to the Black Hills.

—One of the Boston women's clubs has been discussing Cleopatra, and there seems to be a good deal of feeling against her there. No special reason is given for it, but it probably arises from the fact that there is no record of her wearing a green veil and goloshes when travelling, nor that it was her custom to read Locke on the Mind and eat ham sandwiches out of a brown paper in the cars, and the natural presumption is that she was a frivolous person and probably visited in New York.—Norwich Bulletin.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 30.

The war against the gamblers who reap rich harvests here every winter, grows decidedly interesting; and in the absence of anything startling from Capitol hill, absorbs a good deal of attention. When the National Republican left Fernando Wood hors du combat, a few days ago, it immediately trained its guns on the score of gambling dens of this city, which, with their companions in vice, the gruggeries of high and low degree, diffuse the moral poison emanating from them throughout this community, filling our jail and the Insane Asylum with their dupes, and occasionally driving the more reckless among their victims to terminate their ruined lives by the suicide's method. The Republican has received the active co-operation of nearly every church in the city and that of a large majority of the intelligent residents of this District, in its crusade against the gambling hells; and the result is that the old resorts have been closed, and what gambling is now done is conducted very secretly in out of the way places, but which will not remain long undiscovered. Although the testimony thus far adduced before the Board of Police Commissioners does not directly prove collusion between the police department and the gamblers, it does prove that there has been an open violation of the law for many years, with the full knowledge and tacit approval, apparently, of the police force of this city, and yesterday at the close of the investigation for the day, a lead was struck which promised startling revelations, and created much consternation in police circles. The investigation is still in progress, and there is evinced a determined purpose to drive the iniquitous combination from the District, and to thoroughly expose the means by which they have been able to defy the law and secure exemption from punishment for years.

A few months ago a marriage was announced to soon take place between a young couple, members of two of the most exclusive, thoroughly aristocratic families of Georgetown. The young gentleman in question was known about town as rather "fast," and also in a limited way by his reckless operations as a real estate broker. The denouement came just in season to save the young lady. In short, the candidate for matrimonial honors was detected in ornamenting some of the checks upon which he drew money, and some of the notes he gave for a like purpose, with the name of his father, without parental authority. Of course "genteel society" was appropriately shocked, and the marriage contract was not fulfilled. The grand jury found an indictment and this week his trial commenced. His father labored hard to save him. The crime was admitted but an attempt at defense was made on the plea of insanity. While the jury were deliberating as to their verdict, the defendent was suddenly prostrated by an alarming hemorrhage. After being out twenty-three hours the jury were discharged, unable to agree. In the meantime the prisoner was removed to his father's house, where he now lies, slowly bleeding to death.

The resignation of Mr. Durell, Commissioner of Patents, excites very little comment in political circles. He has been a very popular official and he still retains the confidence of his personal friends, among them many democrats, notwithstanding the irregularities which have recently come to light in the Pension Bureau.

The prospect for a brilliant society campaign this winter is not promising, although it may brighten up after the close of the holidays. Whether it is the result of the business depression or the uncertainties hanging about the Presidential succession, certain it is that there is little disposition manifested to indulge in the extravagant expenditures usual at this season, by the leaders of society at the National Capital. The theatres too, have had a very unprofitable season up to date. Taken all in all, the policy of retrenchment will have many new advocates here this winter. MAXWELL.

Reform!

Cronin, the bogus Tilden Elector from Oregon, testified under oath on Wednesday that he received $3000 for taking the course he did, and that he was promised an office under the Tilden administration into the bargain. Cronin's testimony was sent on in the regular Associated Press dispatches, but the democratic Boston Post and the "independent" Boston Herald suppressed it, and other Tilden and reform organs have done the same—probably under orders from "the Bureau."

News and Notes.

The store of B. Farnsworth of Wells, Me., was entered by burglars Tuesday night. The safe was blown open, fifty dollars in money and a quantity of fancy articles, cigars, etc. were taken.

Hon. E. H. Banks of Biddeford, Me., has tendered his resignation as Treasurer of York county, to accept the position of Treasurer of State.

The list of the killed, wounded, missing, and rescued persons of the Ashtabula disaster now stands as follows: Number of passengers on train 128; employes on train 19; total 147. Rescued: passengers 63, employes 9; total 72. Died since, passengers 3, employes 1; total 4. Names of known rescued 72, lost 70, unaccounted for 5; total 147.

The Presbytery of Newark, by a vote of 36 to 12, found Rev. Mr. See guilty of violating the Scriptures by allowing women to preach.

The unknown vessel reported ashore at Wood End was the three-masted schooner Charles E. Gibson, Capt. Emery, from Boston for Martinique, and she was not on shore, but anchored close in, with her head gear gone, she having been in collision off Race Point Wednesday morning with schooner Howard Macomber, the latter vessel having both masts broken short off and her hull cut down, causing her to sink at once. The Macomber's crew got on board the other vessel, saving only what they stood in. She was coal laden.

It is reported that the mail steamer Nuevo Cubano, plying between the Island of Pines and Batabano south shore, Cuba, has been captured in a similar fashion to the Montezuma. The run between these points is generally made in twelve hours, and at the last accounts the Nuevo Cubano had been out over five days. She had on board a large number of political prisoners, who were being sent to the Island of Pines to work. An uprising is expected in Vuelto Abajo, on the western end of Island. The Military Governor of Remedios has offered five dollars in gold to all Cuban deserters, and twenty dollars each if they bring a good horse. The Governor of Moron has ordered that all the able-bodied men in the city shall enlist as Spanish soldiers within eight days.

The Portland Press has been defendant in a libel suit brought by a Mr. Stacy, and the jury returned a verdict for the plaintiff. Damages $1. Under the law in Maine only one quarter of the amount of damages is added for costs. It is understood that Stacy will appeal.

The suit of Henry W. Boody vs Samuel J. Tilden and others was before Judge Speir, in the Special Term of the Superior Court at New York, on Wednesday. The complaint was that Tilden belonged to the pool in the Chicago & Galena Union Railroad Company to consolidate it with the Chicago & Northwestern, and that Tilden overdrew his supposed profits by $22,000. The answer was that Tilden never took shares in the pool, and that the shares he owned were bought from Wm. B. Ogden. No appearance for the plaintiff being made when the case was called, the complaint was dismissed.

The New York Commercial Advertiser of the 3d inst. says "a very unpleasant affair took place this afternoon between Mr. May and James G. Bennett. It is known that for some reason the marriage engagement between Mr. Bennett and Miss May was broken off a few days since. This afternoon one of Miss May's brothers encountered Mr. Bennett in front of the Union Club Building, on Fifth avenue, and assaulted him with a club, striking him on the head, which so stunned Mr. Bennett that he fell. He instantly recovered himself and wrested the club from May, when a tussle took place between them, Mr. Bennett dealing Mr. May, who is a larger man than he is, some very heavy blows. Finally Mr. Heckster interfered and separated the parties. Neither was very much injured. Many rumors are afloat with reference to the true cause which prompted the breaking of the engagement. The generally accepted belief is that Miss May's friends were dissatisfied with Mr. Bennett's habits of life, and told him so, and in consequence the engagement was broken by mutual consent."

For the first time in the memory of the oldest inhabitant they have sleighing in Shreveport, La.

Commodore Vanderbilt died at 11 o'clock A. M., Thursday.

Steamship Olympia, at New York, brought into port the officers, crew and two passengers of British brig Louisa, of St. Kitts. When first sighted, the brig was lying with foremast and half of her mainmast gone. The crew became so tortured by thirst that they were once tempted to aggravate the agony by drinking sea water; others endured the torture, although their tongues became so swollen they protruded from their mouths.

The New York Graphic says: "There is a rumor in town that Charles A. Dana, of the New York Sun, has been compelled to fly the country in consequence of the criminal libel suit instituted against him by ex-Gov. Shepherd, of Washington, whose name he coupled infamously with a respectable lady. At last accounts he was in Canada." So, the "pirate of the press" has had to clear out once more, to save himself from the just punishment due his crimes (for they fully merit that name) against truth and decency. For five years he has not dared to set his foot on the soil of Pennsylvania except in disguise or in a clandestine manner. For four years he has not ventured to show his person within the limits of the District of Columbia except under the protection of Congress. For ten years he has been hiding from justice and shrinking from the presence of the law, and now once more he has been compelled to forsake his home in New York, frightened and quaking at the baying of the dogs of justice which are scenting his track. A man of very unusual ability, he has prostituted his talents and his influence to the basest purposes, until the name of his paper has become a synonym for persistent falsehood and reckless slander.

The schooner T. A. Frost, Capt. R. Bell, from Demerara with a cargo of sugar and molasses, bound to Boston, struck on the Hedge Fence in Vineyard Sound on Sunday night and filled with water. The vessel and cargo are a total loss. The officers and crew were saved.

The Italians are determined to lead the van in naval monsters. They are about to build a vessel—the Italia—of 13,000 or 14,000 tons, with novel engines and great boiler power. The engines are to be so arranged that they can steam easily on a small consumption of coal, and, as the bunkers have an enormous capacity, the vessel will thus be able to keep the sea for months together, with full engine power and a very high speed for use in emergencies. The armor talked about varies from thirty-two inches to thirty-six inches in thickness.

Regular Secretion Essential to Health.

The regular secretion and flow of the gastric juices, and of the bile which the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promotes, are effects which conduce materially to the restoration of health, when the system is disordered. Food is not digested in the dyspeptic stomach because the gastric fluid is deficient, superabundant or vitiated;—the liver becomes congested and the bowels constipated because the supply of bile is inadequate or misdirected. The Bitters rectifies all this, and removes every ill consequence of non-assimilation and bilious irregularity. Furthermore, it stimulates the action of the kidneys, by which impurities are, so to speak, strained from the blood, and any tendency in the urinary organs to grow sluggish and disordered counteracted. Whether it be used as a means of regulating gastric or bilious secretion, and relieving the overtaxed bowels, or to promote complete, and therefore healthful, urinary secretion, the Bitters may be relied upon with confidence to accomplish the end in view.

The Colonnade Hotel.

In the general distribution of medals, if it had been possible for the "International Jury of Award" to have given a medal to the best hotel in Philadelphia, this honor would have been received by the Colonnade, "for all the requisites of a model establishment in every respect."

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

"ARTAXIMINOUS YE GREAT"

Was given on Thursday evening as per announcement, in Franklin Hall, and although the excessively cold and disagreeable weather no doubt prevented the attendance of many who would otherwise have been there, the audience was quite as large as that which greeted the Buffalo Bill combination. There is a lot of fun in the play—capital political hits at both parties, amusing and not offensive local allusions, a choice "olio," singing and dancing, and other attractive features; and the audience evidently entered into the spirit of the thing and heartily enjoyed it. The entertainment will be repeated this evening, Mr. Stavers generously giving the use of the hall, so that nearly the entire receipts will go to the Reform Club; and all who enjoy a hearty laugh should attend. Admission 25 cents; reserved seats 35 cents; tickets at Preston's; curtain rises at a quarter to eight.

MASONIC.

At the stated communication of St. John's Lodge, No. 1, A. F. & A. M., holden on the 3d inst., the following named brethren were duly installed by M. W. John R. Holbrook, as officers for the ensuing year:

W. Thomas J. Mitchell, Master;
Bro. M. Thornton Belton, Senior Warden;
Bro. John S. Whidden, Junior Warden;
Bro. Isaac Dow, Treasurer;
W. John H. Cheever, Secretary;
Bro. Thomas R. Martin, Senior Deacon;
Bro. William H. Parks, Junior Deacon;
Bro. Robert King, Chaplain;
Bro. Alfred J. Hill, Marshal;
Bro. Leslie Whitehouse, Senior Steward;
Bro. William E. Cooke, Junior Steward;
Bro. William B. Randall, Tyler;
W. John W. Dame, Rep. to Grand Lodge;
W. Samuel Fletcher and W. Olion G. Fernald, Standing Committee.

JOTTINGS.

Republican caucuses this evening—in Ward One at the Elm street ward room, at half-past seven o'clock; in Ward Four at the South ward room, at seven o'clock,—to choose delegates to the various conventions.

At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Aqueduct Company, (incorporated in 1797,) Wednesday, the following officers were elected: Directors, Ichabod Goodwin, John J. Pickering, William L. Dwight, William A. Peirce and Oliver Ayres; Treasurer and Proprietors' Clerk, Oliver Ayres. It is estimated that 750,000 gallons of water are used here daily from the company's supplies.

As handsome a merchant schooner as ever entered this port is now lying at Concord Railroad wharf—the three masted schooner Alfred Brabrook, Phillips master. The perfect symmetry of the hull takes away much of her apparent size, for though she carries over eight hundred tons of coal one would hardly guess her capacity to exceed six hundred. No expense has been spared in securing the best of gear for her, and her cabin is fitted up in a style to do no discredit to a Sound steamer.

At the annual meeting of the Portsmouth Athenæum, Wednesday, the following officers were chosen: President, William H. Rollins; Directors, Albert R. Hatch, Rev. James DeNormandie, John S. H. Frink, John S. Pray and Joseph H. Foster; Secretary and Treasurer, George Annable. The Athenæum library now numbers about 12,000 volumes and is the most valuable in the State.

Mr. Thomas S. Gay and the wrecking gang had hard work to save the schooner J. P. Ames. After great exertion they had succeeded on Friday, the 29th ult, in lifting her sufficiently with hydraulic jacks to enable them to clear away some large boulders from under her bottom and lay rude launching ways; and as the tide rose the heavy gale took the schooner off into deep water. Two anchors held her at first, one on Cedar island and one in the stream; but the heavy sea soon snapped the Cedar island cable, and when the tide turned the vessel swung in shore again and bumped heavily until about half tide, when she became stationary. Owing to the sea nothing more could be done until Sunday, when the schooner was got alongside of Poor's wharf at Star island, her bowsprit having been washed away and the barrels in her hold all shaken loose by the pounding she had received. On Monday steamer Clara Batemen went to the Shoals, and the schooner's owners, fearing from the looks of the weather that another storm was coming on, in which case the vessel would probably damage the wharf a great deal, determined to try to get her in, which was done by the Clara Batemen in three hours. During the storm of Friday night fourteen barrels (a part of the wrecking gear) were washed off of Cedar island and lost.

"The Red Right Hand, or Buffalo Bill's First Scalp for Custer," drew a big audience at Franklin Hall on Wednesday evening. The play is a good one of its kind, and people who have a capacity for appreciating that kind of a play would enjoy it. As an extra advertisement, the arms, accoutrements and scalp of the Indian warrior "Yellow Hand," who was killed by Buffalo Bill last July, were exhibited in a store window on Market Square during the day,—an exhibition which should have resulted in keeping visitors from the play, though the actual result was no doubt just the opposite. Pandering to a depraved taste for the horrible is not very ennobling, but no doubt it often "pays" well in a pecuniary sense. An immense audience could no doubt be gathered to witness a public execution by the gallows or the guillotine,—admission fifty cents, Sunday School children half price.

The shooting of a thief on board the U. S. S. "Canandaigua," which was credited to watchmen at this naval station, occurred at Portsmouth, Virginia.

Thursday was a wretchedly uncomfortable day for travellers, cold and windy, the dry snow blowing about in a most annoying manner. The thermometer stood at six below zero at sunrise,—so we are informed, for we did not get up to see.

Extra care should be taken with fires during the continuance of the present spell of cold, blustering weather and bad travelling. The necessity of keeping hot fires in stoves greatly increases the liability to accidental conflagrations, and a red-hot funnel, or a bucket of hot ashes in the corner of the wood-shed, might easily result in a serious disaster to the city. Be careful of your fires.

Schooner T. J. Trafton, Capt. Hoyt, of this port, was out in the great gale and snow-storm of Dec. 29th. She was from Wiscasset, Me., and was in a position to have made this harbor when the storm came on, but there being no fog-signal to guide vessels in Capt. Hoyt preferred keeping to sea rather than run the risk of trying to make the harbor in such a storm; so sail was carried on until the mainsail, main-boom and fore-gaff were carried away, when the schooner was brought to an anchor somewhere near Cape Cod, and fortunately rode out the gale. After the blow was over a steamer spoke the schooner, offering to tow her in for a thousand dollars; but Captain Hoyt refused the offer, bent a jib for a mainsail and worked his vessel into Vineyard Haven, whence she was towed to New Bedford for repairs.

RYE.

On Christmas evening, the Rye Christian Sabbath school gave an entertainment in the Town Hall, consisting of vocal music and recitations by the children, and vocal music by the church choir. There were two large and beautiful trees, richly laden with a choice variety of valuable Christmas fruit, for all the members of the school, and many adults of the society. Among the recipients were the pastor and family, and the superintendent, who received valuable presents. One prominent feature was the personification of the veritable Santa Claus, who consented to dispense the presents to the anxiously waiting crowd. The music was very entertaining, one pleasing item being a flute solo by Mrs. Cornelius Philbrick. The Rye Cornet Band were present and discoursed some of their finest pieces, adding much to the interest of the occasion. Their part being a gift to aid the enterprise, the school express their appreciation of the same by unanimously adopting the following:

Resolved, That we, the Rye Christian Sabbath School, extend a vote of thanks to the Rye Cornet Band for the very acceptable music furnished by them at our late Christmas Festival. By ORDER COM.

RYE, Jan. 2, 1877.

Political.

In the Senate, on the 3d, Mr. Morton reported a resolution from the Committee on Privileges and Elections, that William Turner, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company, at Jacksonville, Oregon, be required to answer questions, propounded by the committee, regarding the transfer of eight thousand dollars from New York to Oregon, by telegraphic order, a few days after the Presidential election.

Hon. T. W. Ferry has been re-nominated by acclamation for United States Senator by the Michigan Legislature.

The House judiciary committee has presented two reports on the question of seating the legally elected Representative from Colorado. The majority report gives a lengthy review of the facts in the case, from which the committee conclude that every condition upon which Colorado was to be admitted into the Union has been complied with, and recommend the adoption of the following resolution: "Resolved, That Colorado is a State in the Union, and that James B. Belford, Representative-elect from the said State, be sworn and admitted to his seat as such." The minority report calls for an examination of the Constitution of Colorado, to see if it is a republican form of government. That is, the minority report is so worded; the real object of course is to see if the Electoral vote of the State cannot in some way be thrown out, so that reformer Tilden can steal the Presidency.

The Massachusetts legislature organized on Wednesday by the choice of Mr. Cogswell as President of the Senate, Mr. Long as Speaker of the House and Mr. Marden as Clerk.

We say there is no fraud about it—that the Louisiana Returning board obeyed the law, and that the law was a good one constructed to interfere with assassination as a political agency. The Louisiana law was drawn to prevent murderers from realizing political power by shedding the blood of the innocent. That law has been executed. The intimidated parishes were thrown out. The law required and justice demanded that they should be thrown out.—Cincinnati Commercial (Ind)

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness adaptable essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Ambach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make it still cheaper, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz., to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the subscription to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Portsmouth 6 Per Cent. Bonds.

PROPOSALS will be received until January 15, 1877, for forty-four thousand dollars of Portsmouth, N. Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a paper, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated than any other is published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading characteristic of Harper's Weekly on political topics is the models of fair, high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative art. —Examiner and Chronicle, New York.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is of no less vigorous, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

—A motto for young lovers—So-fa and no father.

—A Christian has obtained divorce from his wife on account of infidelity.

—A diffident man is in a tight place when he does not know what to say, and is afraid to say it.

—An Indianian went into a Chicago saloon, and asked for "a gin cocktail with some strength into it." The barkeeper made a mixture of alcohol, pepper-sauce, absinthe, limes, and painkiller. "The Indianian drank it," says the Chicago Tribune, "and about a quart of tears came to his eyes, his mouth contracted to about the size of a key hole, and when he had sufficiently mastered his emotion to speak, he said, 'How much's that?' 'Fifteen cents,' responded the barkeeper. The man put down a quarter and said, 'Keep the change—have something yourself;' then, wringing the barkeeper's hand, he added, 'That's the first good gin I've tasted since I left home—something like liquor; it's sort of quick in taking hold and slow in letting go. Come and see me, and I'll give you some corn whiskey that's better still—whiskey that's like swallowing a circular saw whole and pulling it up again.' The barkeeper, an hour later, asked the patrolman if he had heard of an old man being found dead on the sidewalk, and when the officer said no, he danced a few jig steps, and cried, 'Hurrah! he's gone somewhere else to die!'"

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—San Francisco (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight, handsome royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of boarding school interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Chinese artists, The Christmas and Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant.

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Chinese Boy at Home and on Sunday school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Prose of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 35 cents.

During the year there will be his resting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, Rev. G. Whitefield, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series of astronomical papers ever given to the public.

Arrangements are made for papers by Prof. Proctor, Dr. Eggleston, Dr. Holland, and others, to appear in the Magazine, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of the SCRIBNERS. Its articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $4 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $16 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more and better material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $3 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & Co., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Lanman; "Out of My Window in Venice," by Mary Warner; "Out of My Window in Turkistan," by Eugene Schuyler; "An America— in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

"NICHOLAS MINTURN,"

Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seventy-six" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world, to drift on the current of life—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will open on the metropolitan stage of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Soap, Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Loaf Factory," in the November number, and "Tend Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Sixpence a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place whilst the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, illustrations and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We vow to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i. e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting:

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may there have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,

WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will as usual be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns, while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the solid, substantial, old-fashioned, wisdom, and integrity for a New presence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraudulent politicians and in the counting of votes as opposed to military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers—a body now not far from one million—with a newspaper with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a number and variety of selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by using what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers or by persons who form clubs for clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could not Sleep Without Anodyne. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., FEB. 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years constipation of the Bowels and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of anodyne. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. Are proud of what they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the long trying climate of New England

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later—Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, and I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will ever be your advertiser them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly relieve aches and pains of a soldier from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., DEC. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; as I said, you can recommend them. For years I have been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no purpose. Finally I was so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, and I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheuma ic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. Who helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am selling a big story. But I remember, I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, NOV. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I have tried all I can get hold of, many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I had suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had been anything to do with. One told me I never could get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was not able to go to Texas last fall, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative, could prescribe, after, dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The 2 lb of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in each number of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address,

FURNITURE

—AND—

UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members,

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS, In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for

"MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP,"

Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

SOUTH BERWICK, ME., Nov. 26, 1875.

MR. DENNIS SHEA, Sir: The Water Cement Pipe you laid for us over three years ago has proved perfectly satisfactory to us in every respect, and although a part of it froze up last winter, we can't see any injury done. The Pipe was laid by you in a thorough manner, and we believe it to be the Best Water Pipe known, and if we lay any more shall surely lay the same, and you are to do the job if alive and well. Yours, D. CUMMINGS & CO

The reliable house of ALEX. FROTHINGHAM & CO., No. 12 Wall St., New York, publish in their eight-page weekly paper, called the Weekly Financial Report, which they send free to any address. In addition to a large number of editorials on financial and other topics, it contains very full and accurate reports of the sales and standing of every stock, bond and security dealt in at the Stock Exchange. Messrs. FROTHINGHAM & CO. are extensive brokers of large experience and tried integrity. In addition to their stock brokerage business, they sell what are termed "Privileges," or "Puts and Calls," now one of the favorite methods of legitimate speculation. Their advice is valuable, and by following it many have made fortunes.—[New York Metropolis.]

All NEW Subscribers for 1877, paying in advance after November 1, 1876, will receive the paper weekly, from receipt of remittance to January 1st, 1877, without charge.

COMBINED PAPERS-FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year, free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a great degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

REFORM.

Reform! A change!—so every bummer cried
As he gulped down his ration of bad whiskey.
Reform! A change!—the slums at once replied,
And all the slummites, animate and frisky,
Sent on the cry, for everything was wrong.
The nation's vaults were holding too much treasure.
A surplus in the treasury is not,
And never was, a democratic measure;
For when they last had access to the store
They robbed the vaults of every luckless ducat,
And while a democrat could find a cent,
Why then that democrat, of course, he took it.

Does Alcohol Give Warmth?

Among other results of the Arctic expedition some curious statistics have been obtained with reference to the question of total abstinence. The abstainers who went out with the expedition were six—viz.: William Mallay, Adam Ayles, William Gore, Joiner and Self, of the Alert, and Henry Petty, of the Discovery. There were two or three other seamen who joined the temperance cause during the commission, and it is only fair to state that the novices suffered from scurvy like the rest of the crew.

Mallay was not employed on any long journeys, but was repeatedly out with supporting parties. He states that the sledging parties of the Alert suffered greater privations than those from the sister ship. They had pushed beyond the limit of animal life, and their supplies of reindeer and musk-ox were soon exhausted. They were consequently obliged to subsist entirely upon ship's stores, and this enforced abstinence from animal food made them in a special degree susceptible to scurvy. On the termination of the sledging duties at the end of July the abstainers found that they had surpassed the remainder of the Alert's crew in the number of days' sledging performed. On this occasion Ayles had been out 110 days, and Mallay 98, "and it is a remarkable fact," the latter remarks, "that neither of us was attacked by scurvy, but enjoyed good health, and were only weakened by our arduous duties in sledging work."

Adam Ayles is a teetotaller of many years' standing. He was not only out for 110 days sledging, but on one occasion he was out no less than 84 days from the ship at a time. On this occasion scurvy had attacked the party, and had gained on them so suddenly that with the exception of Lieutenant Aldrich and Ayles, the whole of the men (seven in number) were in a helpless condition. Dodge and Mitchell still managed to struggle by the side of the sledge, but the other four invalids, who had held out until the last moment, were obliged to be carried. We have already stated that of the two who were free from scurvy, Adam Ayles was one. The other was Lieutenant Aldrich, who, although not an abstainer, was next door to one, diluting his rum more than any other member of the expedition. During the whole of his sledge journeys Ayles ate and slept well, and bore the cold even better than those who were accustomed to take stimulants. The rest of the party had a double allowance of grog, 45 above proof, before turning in. They also smoked a great deal, but for his part Ayles says he neither drank nor smoked, and he took care that his allowance of grog was stopped on joining the ship. Twice a week there was beer served out, which was considered a great luxury, as it occupied much room in the travelling, and was dealt out very sparingly. He was never in better health in his life than at the present time.

Henry Petty, a teetotaller of sixteen years standing, was the only total abstainer in the Discovery. He accompanied Captain Stephenson in all his sledging excursions, and as it fell to his lot to act as cook while they were away from the ship, and he was thus obliged to get out into the cold for an hour and a half in the morning and for the same period in the evening, he was most exposed to the frost of any man in the ship. He was sledging sixty days in all. On one occasion he accompanied the captain to the Alert, a distance of some ninety miles, doing the journey in four days and eight hours, and returning in three days and a half. He had been medically examined on Tuesday by the doctor of the ship, with the rest of the crew, and he learnt that he had never been treated for scurvy. He had only suffered from a cut in the hand. He believed that his immunity from disease was entirely owing to his teetotalism. He had slept well throughout the campaign and had relished his food. He had also escaped frost-bite.

Gore, it seems, had been an abstainer until he was twenty-one years old, but in an unguarded moment while on the sledge journeys, he succumbed to the temptation and persuasion of his companions, and took to grog. Previous to breaking his pledge, Gore states that he could eat as well as any one. In fact, after devouring his portion he was in the habit of looking about for more; but no sooner had he taken to grog-drinking, than he found his appetite to fail, and he was deprived of the refreshing sleep which he had formerly enjoyed. He was the only Good Templar who joined the expedition that was attacked with scurvy, and for this he was no doubt indebted to his unfaithfulness. He gave stimulants, he remarks, a fair trial, and he is now convinced that it was the grog which did the mischief. It may be noticed that the testimony of the whole ships' companies—doctors and officers included—is unanimous and conclusive against the serving out of stimulants during the day. They emphatically state that no work can be done upon grog, but many of them seem to cling to the belief that a glass at night was a sovereign recuperative agent and fitted them for the fatigues of the morning.

Dr. Colan, the senior medical officer on board the Alert, speaks very favorably of total abstinence as exhibited during the expedition, and his forthcoming report will possess much interest.—London Times.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 6, 1877.

Senator Blaine.

The Convention of the republicans of the Maine Legislature for the nomination of United States Senator, Thursday evening, at Augusta, was presided over by Hon. J. S. Wheelwright of Bangor. Hon. T. W. Hyde, President of the Senate, presented the name of Hon. James G. Blaine. Hon. E. B. Neally, Speaker of the House, seconded the nomination, followed by Hon. Frederick Robie of Gorham, Roscoe L. Powers of Saco, Hon. Warren H. Vinton of Gray, and Gen. J. Manchester Haynes of Augusta. The remarks of all the gentlemen were eloquent, and great enthusiasm was manifested. The nomination was carried by acclamation. With cheer upon cheer Mr. Blaine was declared the nominee of the Convention for the full term commencing March 4, 1877. Proctor Knott, the "Mulligan Guards" and the Boston Globe seem to have utterly failed in the attempt to injure the noble Maine Senator in the estimation of those who know him most intimately.

Let the Eagle Scream.

Hon. George F. Drew, who was inaugurated at Tallahassee, Florida, as the democratic Governor-elect of the State, requested the retiring Governor (Stearns) to have a portion of the United States troops placed on duty in the capitol grounds, for the purpose of preserving the peace. Will the democrats please rise and explain why this is thus? Here we have the most appalling of all spectacles to democratic eyes, that of United States troops, carrying muskets with bristling bayonets attached, surrounding the capitol of a sovereign State, to intimidate the republicans from preventing a democratic Governor being inaugurated. Why don't you shriek, proud bird of freedom? O, tempore! O, mores! But, jesting aside, this action of Governor Drew only shows too plainly the wisdom and sagacity of President Grant in sending troops South, thereby assuring a fair and impartial exercise of suffrage and the fullest enjoyment of the rights thereby acquired. We most anxiously await an expression of opinion by our democratic friends upon Governor Drew's action.—Washington Republican.

News and Notes.

Eph. Horn, the noted negro minstrel and "end man," died in New York on Wednesday, aged fifty-nine years.

Schooner T. A. Frost, before reported wrecked on the Hedge Fence in Vineyard Sound, did not sink in deep water, as reported, but drifted on shore on the Vineyard, near the West Chop, with both masts cut away and the bottom stove in, and the cargo of molasses badly damaged. Wreckers are trying to save her.

A duel between James Gordon Bennett and Frederick May, brother of the lady Mr. Bennett was to marry but did not, is talked of, as a result of the street fracas between the two men. It is said that Mr. Bennett and Miss May are still on friendly terms, and that the difficulty arose from the fact that he had promised her father to abstain from the use of intoxicating liquors, but had broken his promise.

A pleasure party of three ladies and three gentlemen drove to the Hunter's Point (New York) ferry, Thursday night, to take the boat, and the boat being gone drove overboard. One lady had an arm broken, and the horses and driver were drowned.

Three more men (one of them the Brazilian Commissioner to the Centennial) have been saved from the wreck of the steamer Emilie, which foundered near Key West. Two of the men were found wading in shoal water near Harbor Key, one of them having become insane; the Brazilian Commissioner was found floating on a skylight, and was thoroughly exhausted, but is recovering.

Commodore Vanderbilt left $45,000,000 in negotiable securities.

Treasury detectives have captured a gang of six counterfeiters in Johnstown, Penn., with their machinery and a lot of bogus quarter and half dollars.

In New York, Thursday, Patrick Mulroy attempted to dry some giant powder at a kitchen fire, and succeeded in blowing out one end of the house, killing a child, severely wounding a man and another child, and badly bruising and burning himself.

Of the great hotels of this country, there are none better known or more liberally patronized than the American House of Boston. Although a very large hotel, this house is elegantly and completely furnished throughout, is kept in best of style and is altogether one of the very best of American first-class hotels.

Luther A Tucker, agent of the American Tract Society, was killed on the Ogdensburg road at Bartlett, Me., Thursday afternoon. He was walking on the track and was horribly crushed.

There are rumors of trouble in the Biddeford, Me., Post Office. A special officer has been making investigations, but no facts are yet developed.

In the Maine Legislature, Thursday, the committee on Gubernatorial votes reported the whole number 136,823; Connor had 75,867; Talbot, 60,423; Gage, 520. In joint Convention the following State officers were elected: Secretary of State, Sumner J. Chadbourne; Attorney-General, L. A. Emery; Adjutant-General, J. P. Cilley; Treasurer, E. H. Banks; Executive Councillors—First District, E. C. Farrington; Second, Charles E. Jose; Third, George A. Preble; Fourth, Charles H. Wing; Fifth, Andrew Lacy; Sixth, Charles Buffum; Seventh, L. R. King.

Two young men of Gloucester, Mass., Geo. Allen and Andrew Johnson, propose to row across the Atlantic in a dory. They advertise for parties to interest themselves in the project.

The police of Biddeford on Thursday searched the house of Ingalls Andrews and John Smith, and found a large quantity of stolen goods. Andrews is now awaiting trial for burglary. "Wild Bill," an accomplice of Andrews, arrested in Newmarket on Wednesday and bound over, is implicated in a large number of burglaries, thefts and other crimes. This brace of rascals have done a good many "jobs" in Biddeford, Saco and Newmarket, N. H.

The Directors of the railroad from Greenfield to Keene have made contracts with Kenrick & Kiernan of Boston for the completion of the road. The contract stipulates that it shall be ready for the public on the 1st of December next. Bonds have been given and work will be resumed as soon as the weather permits.

On December 16th the wind blew two hundred miles an hour on Mount Washington, with the thermometer forty seven degrees below zero!

The excitement in Dover over the liquor prosecutions is intense. From the number of cases reported thus far in the papers we judge that exactly half the inhabitants of the city have been engaged in the liquor business.

A very neat device for preventing burglary has been brought out. All the doors in a bank are so arranged that they can only be opened when two knobs or handles are turned simultaneously. Now these knobs are in connection with powerful galvanic batteries. A thief seizes one knob, and no effect follows. He then uses both his hands, taking a knob in each. Immediately his howls follows; he is unable to let the knobs go because of the violent muscular contractions set up. The torture is fearful, and the would-be robber constitutes in consequence—if he be a man of strong lungs—a most admirable alarm.

New Hampshire Items.

Elwin E. Major was hung in the State Prison at Concord, at twenty-four and a half minutes past eleven o'clock, Friday forenoon. His neck was broken by the fall, and he died with scarcely a struggle. After hanging twenty minutes the body was taken down and delivered to Major's brother-in-law. Major displayed great firmness, and made no confession of guilt.

George W. Sleeper, of Farmington, a man forty-five years old, is in Dover jail for crushing in the head of Daniel Gilbert, a boy of fifteen, with a club, while the people of Farmington were breaking out the roads with ox teams on New Year's day. Gilbert had been assaulted previously by another young man named Frank V. Young, and the latter is to be arrested for his share of the assault. Young Gilbert cannot live.

George G. Dort, druggist of Keene, while making pills, had both his hands caught in the rollers at P. B. Haywood's bakery, seriously injuring both his hands. Dr. Twitchell thinks he can save them.

Keene's expenses last year were $108,389, including $10,000 for the extension of the water works and $2000 for additional cemetery grounds.

The thermometer marked 22 degrees below zero at Littleton, and 29 below at Franconia, Thursday morning.

The Franklin Falls House, owned by P. L. Kennedy, was burned Thursday night about 12 o'clock. Loss $4000; partly insured.

Wonderful Escape.

The crew of the schooner Daniel A. Burnham of Gloucester, before reported abandoned, had a singular and wonderful experience in the gale of the 9th and 10th ult. While lying off Sable Island on the evening of the 10th, the schooner was struck by a heavy sea, which turned her completely over, the masts giving way while she was under water. Of her crew of thirteen men, all but one were below when the vessel capsized, and the rapidity of the entire transaction, which did not allow the vessel to fill proved their salvation. They were thrown from the floor to the ceiling when the schooner was bottom up, and immediately to the floor again as she righted. On coming on deck the man who had been on the lookout was found hanging over the side, by a portion of the gear, and was hauled on board. The crew remained on the wreck, on which they got some small canvas, and were heading for the land as best they could, when fortunately on Monday they encountered the mail steamer Austrian, which took them off and landed them at St. John's, N. F., the following Friday.—Cape Ann Advertiser.

Death of Esquimaux Joe's Wife.

Hannah Eiberling, who was known in her native land as Tookoalito—"Butterfly"—the wife of Joseph Eiberling (Esquimaux Joe,) died on Sunday, the 31st ult., at her residence in Groton, Conn. She was an Innuit, a native of Frobisher's Straits territory. Esquimaux Joe and Hannah, with one child (Pussy,) came to America with Captain C. F. Hall on his return from his first expedition toward the North Pole. The adult couple accompanied Captain Hall on his second journey to King William's Land, where Sir John Franklin perished, and were again out with Hall in the Polaris. During the vicissitudes of the expedition Hannah and Joe were with seventeen others left on an ice floe. They were picked up off the coast of Labrador after a drift of six months' duration. Joe went again north on board the Tigress, and again, two years since, in the Pandora. During the past summer he was out in Cumberland Sound, serving on board a vessel which was employed in collecting minerals. The wet and changeable climate of America caused Hannah and Joe much more physical trouble than did the intense cold of their native place, and eventually produced disease of the lungs in the woman. This was fatal to her. Hannah spoke English fluently. She was greatly respected by her American neighbors for her many amiable and lovable traits of character, and her loss is universally regretted by those among whom she lived and died. When Joe and Hannah visited England they were received by Queen Victoria and entertained in one of the palaces by order of Her Majesty.

Come Now and Let Us Reason Together.

Why do people so frequently say to Dr. Pierce, "I suppose your Golden Medical Discovery cures everything?" Because it has been the practice of knavish charlatans to manufacture worthless nostrums and attempt to dupe the ignorant and credulous by recommending them to cure every form of disease. To such an extent has this been practiced that it is no wonder that many entertain prejudices against all advertised remedies. But Dr. Pierce does not advertise his standard preparations as "cure-alls," does not claim that they will perform miracles, but simply publishes the fact that they have been developed as specifics for certain forms of disease for which he recommends them, after having tested their efficacy in many hundred cases with the most gratifying success. It is a fact known to every well-informed physician that many single remedies possess several different properties. Quinine, for instance, has a tonic quality, which suggests its use in cases of debility; an anti-periodic, by which it is efficacious in ague; and a febrifuge property, which renders it efficacious in cases of fever. The result of its administration will also vary with the quantity given and the circumstances under which it is employed. So, likewise, the Golden Medical Discovery possesses both pectoral and alterative, or blood-cleansing properties of the highest order. By reason of these two prominent properties it cures two classes of diseases. First, those of the respiratory organs, as throat, bronchial, and lung affections, chronic coughs and asthma, and second, diseases of the blood and glandular system, in which affections all skillful physicians employ alteratives, as in cases of blotches, eruptions, ulcers, swellings, tumors, abscesses, and in torpor of the liver or "biliousness." While its use is, by its combination of properties, suggested in cases of pulmonary consumption, yet you need not take it expecting it will cure you if your lungs are half consumed, nor because it is recommended as a blood medicine would its proprietor advise you to take it expecting it to cure cancer. It will not perform miracles, but it will cure many grave forms of disease.

Regular Secretion Essential to Health.

The regular secretion and flow of the gastric juices, and of the bile which the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promotes, are effects which conduce materially to the restoration of health, when the system is disordered. Food is not digested in the dyspeptic stomach because the gastric fluid is deficient, superabundant or vitiated;—the liver becomes congested and the bowels constipated because the supply of bile is inadequate or misdirected. The Bitters rectifies all this, and removes every ill consequence of non-assimilation and bilious irregularity. Furthermore, it stimulates the action of the kidneys, by which impurities are, so to speak, strained from the blood, and any tendency in the urinary organs to grow sluggish and disordered counteracted. Whether it be used as a means of regulating gastric or bilious secretion, and relieving the overloaded bowels, or to promote complete, and therefore healthful, urination, Hostetter's Bitters may be relied upon with confidence to accomplish the end in view.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater, with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, offers its 650 rooms on the "new specie basis," at $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Read the testimonials of eminent citizens to the wonderful curative powers of Adamson's Balsam for the cure of racking coughs, colds and consumption. Price 25 cents.

THE N. Y. & N. E. RAILROAD is now running through cars from Boston to Richmond, Washington, and Danville, Va., with through connection to all leading points South.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

—The Piute Indians, although not especially enlightened, have an idea of justice which puts civilized races to shame. When twins occur among them, it becomes necessary, by Indian law, for the dignified, pompous papa himself to take care of the superfluous baby. When it is remembered that an Indian never deigns to notice, much less to touch, a papoose, it may be imagined what a mortification this must be to him.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of diseases, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Sciatica, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeneled, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. P case send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses.

RILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame mare of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared without regard to cost by the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

CITY AFFAIRS.

At the meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen Thursday evening, a communication from the chief engineer recommending the purchase of two thousand feet of new hose and a four-wheeled hose carriage, also that the hand engines be sold, was referred to committee on fire department with chief engineer added.

Claim of Melvin P. Welch, for damage to sleigh, etc., was referred to the committee on claims.

Petition of Moses H. Goodrich Steam Fire Engine Co., No. 4, for an advance of $50 on their semi-annual pay, was granted.

The resignation of Samuel M. Joy as supernumerary police officer was accepted.

The request for the appointment of John H. Lewis to be supernumerary police officer was laid on the table.

John F. Leavitt was appointed special police without pay.

Request of the street commissioner that a horse be purchased for the use of the street department, was referred to committee on streets and mayor added, with power.

REPUBLICAN CAUCUSES.

At the republican caucus in Ward Four, Friday evening, delegates to the various conventions were chosen as follows: State—John E. Ham, Oliver Ayers, William B. Randall and Joshua Stickpole; Congressional—William H. Rollins, William A. Vaughan, Jr., John O. Ayers, Alonzo Wise; Councillor—Charles W. Gardner, William J. Doyle, Richard D. Randall, Joseph B. White; County—J. Sullivan Rand, Charles E. James, George M. Ayers, Michael J. Vaughan; Senatorial—William P. Israel, Eben N. Odiorne, Chandler M. Hayford, Charles W. Drown.

The republicans of Ward One chose delegates as follows:

State—George W. Pendexter, John H. Locke, William F. Batten, James H. Thompson, Joseph W. Hildreth, Frank B. Johnson, Nathan F. Mathes, Edward B. Prime; Congressional—Elbridge G. Peirce, Jr., John Pender, William F. Noyes, George E. Hanson, James M. Knapp, Leonidas F. Rand, Charles A. Wendell, Richard H. Waldron; Senatorial—Robert B. Adams, George W. Green, Ira W. Brock, Rufus B. Emery, Samuel A. Spinney, John Newton, Orville D. Bryant, Charles L. Simpson; Councillor—James A. Waterhouse, Charles E. Young, William Critchley, Jr., John Moore, William D. Downing.

THE TEN CENTS SAVINGS BANK.

The Supreme Court has been engaged on the following questions which have arisen in the case of the Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank:

1st. What rate of interest shall be allowed to the special or check depositors?

2d. What are the rights of those persons who made deposits after the Bank had failed, and before its failure was promulgated?

3. What shall be done with three hundred and nineteen small depositors whose deposits aggregate less than two dollars apiece, which have never been on interest, and amount altogether to $240. Shall they be paid in full, or is interest to be added and dividend cast on the full amount, or cast on the deposit without interest?

4th. Whether costs shall be allowed to the special depositors for their legal proceedings in their petition for priority.

5th. The number of depositors is about 3000, some 500 of whom have made no claim. The question submitted to the Court was, whether the auditor should take the Ledger accounts as prima facie evidence of the claims of these 500 depositors not appearing, and enter them upon the dividend sheet and report the same to the Court, or whether the time allowed be extended and the depositors return their dividends when they proved them.

The depositors of the defunct Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank will be paid a first dividend of twenty-five per cent. about the 25th inst. The Supreme Court has extended the time in which claims may be proved against the bank until the first of May, and ordered that all proven claims share alike, whether regular, special or check deposits, or protested cashier's checks. Also, that in case of special deposits no more interest shall be allowed than the bank agreed to pay, and that no interest be allowed after June 1, 1876.

JOTTINGS.

Rev. Ansel Bourn, of New York, will relate his wonderful and thrilling religious experience, at the Christian chapel, Sunday afternoon at quarter of three o'clock. All are welcome.

Workmen have for several days been trying to find a leak in the gas-pipes near the Custom House, and have dug a number of holes in Pleasant and State streets with that object in view. They find the ground frozen very hard, but to the depth of about two feet only. The gas has collected among the stones which form the road-bed, and several little explosions, enough to make the workmen jump but not enough to do any harm, were caused on Friday by the igniting of gas by sparks from the laborers' drills. One of the explosions made a noise as loud (or louder than) a musket.

"Josh Billings'" Lecture is to be given on Wednesday evening, Jan. 10, in Franklin Opera Hall.

The smelt fishermen on Great Bay have had rather poor luck so far this winter, the smelts not appearing on the old fishing grounds in anything like the numbers of seasons past. The fishermen account for this on the theory that the excessive cold has kept the fish in deep water.

While New York harbor, and almost every other harbor on the Atlantic coast as far south as Chesapeake Bay is more or less blocked with ice, and many of them frozen up solid, to the great hindrance of navigation, Portsmouth harbor has not ice enough to impede a wherry's progress. Yet certain wise men in Congress used to talk about the propriety of abolishing the naval station at this port, on account of its inaccessibility in winter.

In a case before the Supreme Court, Thursday, a witness on the stand was questioned concerning the sanity of a party in the case, and the learned counsel asked him, "Do you regard the asking of a question twice as indicating unsoundness of mind?" Witness—"Well, I don't know but that I do." Learned counsel—"Did you ever hear a lawyer ask the same question twice? and did you construe it as indicating unsoundness of mind?" Witness—"Well, yes; I think I have; I don't wish to be personal, though."

If you want to feel good, go and hear "Josh Billings."

The republicans of Ward Two hold their caucus for choice of delegates to the conventions at the Court House this evening at half-past seven o'clock.

Mr. Samuel Harden, of Hampton, whose death is recorded in the usual place, was a pensioner, having been the first man in Hampton to volunteer in the war of 1812.

At a meeting of the creditors of Benjamin Cheever, bankrupt, held at the National House Thursday, Alfred F. Howard, Esq., was appointed assignee.

The will of the late Williams N. Andrews of Dover, just admitted to probate, makes among others the following bequests: Thomas Neil of this city, $4000; each of the three daughters of Thomas Neil, $1500.

Considerable excitement has been created in social circles in Hampton recently, owing to criminal charges being preferred against a young married man by a young woman. The man in question was brought before Justice Nathan Robie of Hampton Falls. Charles C. Lamprey appeared for the prosecution, and Wm. Lamprey for the respondent. After one or two adjournments the evidence was put in, much of it being unfit for publication. The examination resulted in the respondent being held to answer to the Supreme Court, bonds being given in the sum of $500.

Political.

Chief Justice Ludeling, of the Supreme Court of Louisiana, testified before the Senate Committee on Thursday, as to the general intimidation of colored republicans in Ouhchita, by means of armed bodies of democrats, and said that his nephew, Dr. Dinkgrave, Tax Collector, was killed, he believed, by members of the democratic party, for organizing a republican club. Dinkgrave had told him he had been warned by a friend, who was a member of a rifle club, that he would be killed if he attempted to organize a republican club at Lagtown. Judge Ludeling submitted his statement in writing. He contradicted several statements of Samuel McEnery, that Judge Ray and other prominent republicans had said that they believed Wemberly killed Dinkgrave. The witness also believed that Judge Crawford and District-Attorney Harris were assassinated on account of their politics.

The democratic papers have had much to say about Gen. Sheridan denouncing Ex-Gov. Wells of Louisiana (a member of the Returning Board,) as a trickster and scoundrel. Well, Gen. Sheridan did denounce him,—for the reason that he removed Union men from office and put in their places men whose guns, heated in the rebel army, had not yet cooled, and who still wore the rebel grey. In General Sheridan's report to Secretary Stanton, of June 3, 1867,—the one which democrats so love to quote, he speaks as follows: "I say now unequivocally that Governor Wells is a political trickster and a dishonest man. I have seen him myself, when I first come to this command, turn out all the Union men who had supported the Government, and put in their stead rebel soldiers, some of whom had not yet doffed their gray uniform." This, certainly, ought not to render him objectionable to democratic authorities.

—The new English clergyman at the Brick Church, New York, Rev. M. Bevan, doesn't like interruptions. Last Sunday a lady occupying a conspicuous seat in the gallery was forced to cough several times. Mr. Bevan finally turned and requested her to leave the church, saying her cough annoyed him. She left as quietly as possible, but not without being the centre of universal attention.

Lippincott's Magazine
AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF
POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.
Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,
"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"
by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.
To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.
2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of
SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,
by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from personal observation.
3. A series of popular papers on
ART AND ART ENTERPRISES,
by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.
4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled
PICTURES FROM SPAIN,
by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.
5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant
PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,
will be continued through the year.
6.
THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,
will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.
7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend be periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

"A Complete Pictorial History of the Times."—"The best, cheapest, and most successful Family Paper in the Union."

Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and the pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

Immense Umbrellas.

Our readers are probably aware that umbrellas, or rather parasols, are the badges of royalty in Africa. King Coffee's umbrella was one of the most noted trophies taken by the English in Abyssinian war. This, however, was a shabby affair in comparison with the handsome and gigantic sunshades just manufactured to the number of forty by a Glasgow firm. They have been ordered by a mercantile house in the same city, and are intended to be given as presents to African chiefs with whom the merchants in question do business. Three of these parasols, or palanquins as they are also called, are about thirty feet in circumference, and the remainder about eighteen feet. They are covered with a rich variegated damask silk, fringed round the edges, ornamented with a gilt ball at the top, and lined with finished cloth. The handle, which is of lancewood, is armed with a spike for tenting purposes, and a bayonet joint on the end of the stick renders the whole more portable.—Exchange.

—A Boston merchant seeking to badger a one-legged son of Erin, said to him, "I say, Patrick, with all your talk about the Virgin Mother, I do not believe she was any better than my mother!" "That may be," was the prompt reply, "but I tell ye there is a mighty difference in the character of their sons." Patrick remained master of the situation.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight beautiful royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving Season. Another serial, of boarding interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Comet in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday-school," by Dr. Sophie Bryant; "Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be into resting papers by boys, by William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series of popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own English literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper St. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $4 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $12), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $3 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (many illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Saunterings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Bordighera," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven-oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world, to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the same day with the "Tout Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Loaf Factory," in the November number, and "Coal Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Hy-yenny a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, while the productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of intelligence and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "Tout Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting.

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administration of said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge.

WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will as heretofore be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the honesty, intelligence, statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for honest public servants, and true to the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by frauds in the instituting and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers,—a body near not far from one million of souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers who may be desirous of making up clubs, at the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 21, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50. Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 20th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I hope to gain. I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come. Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package. JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My health has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Jadivised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am puffing a big story. But I remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have. Yours with respect, ED. P. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have tried everything I could, and at all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been travelling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was too poor to go to Europe. I tried, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find five dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL!

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative as could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the long trying climate of New England

AND

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," no does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four pages of original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving (usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to your selves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. dfeb15

The reliable house of ALEX. FROTHINGHAM & CO., No. 12 Wall St., New York, publish a handsome eight-page weekly paper, called the Weekly Financial Report, which they send free to any address. In addition to a large number of editorials on financial and other topics, it contains very full and accurate reports of the sales and standing of every stock, bond and security dealt in at the Stock Exchange. MESSRS. FROTHINGHAM & CO. are extensive brokers of large experience and tried integrity. In addition to their stock brokerage business, they sell what are termed "Privileges," or "Puts and Calls," now one of the favorite methods of legitimate speculation. Their advice is valuable, and by following it many have made fortunes.—[New York Metropolis.]

All NEW Subscribers for 1877, paying in advance after November 1, 1876, will receive the paper weekly, from receipt of remittance to January 1st, 1877, without charge.

COMBINED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly owes to a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

My Friend Moses.

His watchful eye took in all details of camp and road, while his sleepless heels commanded the respect of his comrades. So skilled was he in the use of these natural weapons that when a contraband gravely suggested that Moses' early education had been conducted by a mule, the troop unhesitatingly accepted the theory. So gleefully and neatly were his kicks delivered, so regardless was Moses of the object which they might strike, that my comrades, excepting only those who had been kicked, regarded Moses' efforts with that admiration which Englishmen are wont to accord to skillful boxers. On our first battalion drill, as we wheeled from column of platoons into line, the successful completion of the movement was hailed by Moses with a joyous kick which broke the leg of the sergeant upon the flank of the platoon at my right; the sergeant, who was an old soldier, remained in hospital a year and a half with his fracture and its sequences, but upon his return to duty he never spoke reproachfully to or of Moses. It mattered not whose horse happened to be tied near him when the column halted temporarily; he injured a general's horse, once, because of a trifling disagreement about some oats belonging rightfully to the latter, and when, one lovely evening, the chaplain tied his horse near mine and retired to the forest and his devotions, the holy man's charger was so effectually lamed that his owner completed the expedition on the caisson of a mountain howitzer. During short halts, general and staff officers, looking around a well-occupied rail fence for a tying place, were often attracted by the vacant space which members of my own troop had learned to leave on each side of Moses; then it was that the weariest patriot in the regiment would cheerfully raise his head in anticipation of the excitement which was sure to follow, and men who lived not for themselves alone would steal silently among the unwary, rousing every one who slept, knowing well that the smothered curse would be mentally retracted the instant the sleeper learned why he had been awakened. Scribner's.

"The Claimant" to the Front Again.

I very much fear that you are likely to be called upon to read more yet about the Tichborne case, which was almost as much discussed in New York as in London. "Would you be surprised to hear," as the Solicitor-General used to say in asking his questions, that the fat claimant's story seems not unlikely to be confirmed in a vital point? They say that one of the survivors of the Bella has been discovered; that he recognizes the portrait of the claimant as that of his fellow survivor, whom he knew only as an "English or French Count," and that a letter from him published at the time of the wreck in the Diario will be produced—that is, the complete newspaper containing it will be produced. The claimant said that he and some others were taken on board an American ship called the Osprey, after the Bella sunk, and that in this vessel they went to Australia. But everybody laughed at this story, and the Solicitor-General said that the Osprey was a "phantom ship." The new comer, however—he is a Spaniard named Ramon Ortezegui—wrote in his letter to the Diario (under date Melbourne, August 17, 1854) that "after two days, thanks to Our Lady, we fell in with the ship Osprey, in which we arrived in Melbourne on the 29th of last month." I should not have troubled you with any ordinary gossip about the well-worn Tichborne case, but the evidence now promised seems to me of very great moment. Was the letter described actually printed in the Bilboa Diario of February 22d, 1855? If so, the claimant's story of his escape from the Bella and his arrival in Australia is confirmed. His account of the escape was confused, which he accounted for by saying that at the time he was suffering much from the effect of drink. The alleged letter in the Diario says: "We five got into the launch, after having fetched a passenger (some English or French count, I am not certain which) who was ill in his berth." If the letter proves genuine, there is quite enough in it to bring up the celebrated Tichborne case all over again, and with results little anticipated a few months ago.—London Letter.

To Destroy Warts.

A medical exchange states that a drachm of nitrate of silver dissolved in an ounce of nitro-muriatic acid makes a solution which, applied to warts with a fine brush, will permanently cure them in four days.

We may add that we know of nothing better to remove warts than the leaves of the common bean. Crush the leaves between the fingers, and squeeze out the juice upon the warts two or three times a day, until they dry up and disappear. The cure will generally be complete in less than a week.—Journal of Chemistry.

—A story told in the American colony at Dresden is of an encounter between one of the young lieutenants of the army and a stalwart American. They jostled on the sidewalk and the officer drew his sword. Thereupon the American knocked him down violently enough to stun him, and having broken the sword over his knee, laid his card between the pieces and proceeded calmly on his way.

News and Notes.

The China Mail of the 15th of November publishes a report of the indignation meeting, held in Hong Kong on that day, with reference of the case of the captain and mates of the American bark C. O. Whitmore. The facts are stated to be that Capt. Thomas Peabody and John Henry Snow, both of Maine, and Charles Stafford of Engelhorn, Sweden, were guilty of atrocious cruelty to the second mate, James H. Elwood of Bath, Me., on the passage to Hong Kong. It was said, at the meeting, that Elwood was tortured in various ways, and when his wounds began to heal they were washed with salt water applied with a corn broom. Elwood lost his reason under this torture and died and was buried at sea. Peabody and his equally brutal mates were also charged with most inhuman treatment of the seamen under their command. Many American papers seem very much horrified at this case, but such proceedings are nothing uncommon in American ships; scores—aye, hundreds of men are murdered every year just as Elwood was murdered, by torture; but being only sailors nothing is ever heard of it. The mistake of Peabody and his accomplices was that they murdered an officer instead of an old sailor, and thereby made talk.

The postmaster at Georgetown, Me., reports an unknown schooner stove to pieces and washed on shore there, answering in every particular to the James Carvelon of Camden, Me., which has been missing since the great gale of the 29th ult., when she left Camden for Boston with a cargo of hay and potatoes. Her crew numbered three men.

A rupture has occurred in the diplomatic relations between Spain and China. The Spanish fleet has been ordered to Chinese waters. Unsettled claims connected with the Cuban Coolie difficulty caused the rupture. An extradition treaty has been concluded between Spain and the United States, covering twenty-six offences.

Donna Baldoinera De Larra, the founder of the Madrid "Casas de imposiciones," a financial institution which promised its depositors thirty per centum interest per month, has taken "French leave" of the Spanish capital, with about $700,000 belonging to her dupes. It is estimated that 19,000,000 reals were deposited in her bank, of which she returned 5,000,000 as interest, and then vanished.

Minnie Lonsdale, a young actress, died from burns caused by her dress catching fire on the stage at Newark, N. J., on the night of the 3d inst.

It is stated that the British government intends to hand over to the United States the journals of Captain Hall, the chronometer, and the Stars and Stripes banner, composing the relics of the Polaris expedition, which were dug from the ice last winter by the party under the command of Dr. Coppinger, of the Discovery.

The Travellers Insurance Company of Hartford loses $20,000 on four victims of the Ashtabula disaster. One $5000 policy had only two days to run.

Perhaps investigation would show a state of things in other cities not unlike that which has just been discovered in Hartford, where the hard times and severe weather are causing a great amount of suffering among the poor. Many families of respectable mechanics have been actually starving in silence. The agent for the union for home work has just found a number of families who have had no fire in their houses this winter. One old couple's only furniture was a bundle of straw and two tin pails, picked up in the street; in another an industrious war veteran, his wife and child had positively nothing; while in a third a babe was born, on Christmas Day, the poor mother's only covering being a single blanket. The room had no stove, and the father, who earned good wages until the stopping of the Rockville mill, had wrapped the child in his only shirt.

Cronin's Confession.

The testimony of Cronin before the Senate committee renders still more disgraceful the Oregon intrigue to confuse the Electoral count. By his own confession he is a bummer in politics, who has accepted infamy at the price of $3000 in cash and the "best thing Tilden can give." His confession is public evidence of the nature of the conspiracy, for it merits no milder name, in which Tilden is engaged. Whatever might have been suspected about Cronin and the means taken to induce him to assume the trouble and disgrace of attempting to misrepresent the voice of Oregon in the Electoral College, the charges would not have assumed such tangible shape, and would have needed the stamp and seal of absolute publicity for full effect in the present condition of the public mind, disturbed by constant assertion and counter-assertion, which is now made by his own confession. Bare assertion passes for little with the general public, but facts carry their own weight, whether as dead negroes in Louisiana or the open confession of the Oregon bogus elector. The defence of the constitution, which is carried on by the bribe of a political bummer with cash and promises, and the vindication of the honesty of election by misrepresentation of the actual decision of a State, will hereafter be regarded in a sarcastic sense, rather than otherwise. The confession of Cronin takes away the whole vantage ground by which the democratic leaders imposed, not upon the country, but upon the mass of their party, that they were being cheated out of the election. The party that shows itself so ready to cheat is not in a position to cry "thief" with effect, but on the contrary, is placed under the burden of suspicion itself. It destroys at once all the wind-blown structure of "honesty" and "right" so painfully constructed by democratic orators, and takes every shred of "character" from the democratic contestant. Cronin's fatal want of astuteness in confessing the damning evidence shows that it was a blunder as well as a crime.—Providence Journal.

Political.

Thomas A. Hendricks, democratic candidate for Vice President in the late campaign, in his message to the Indiana Legislature denounces the use of troops in South Carolina as an "outrage," a "usurpation" and a "crime." He was even more savage in denouncing the "crime" of using troops in the South sixteen years ago.

A St. Louis bull-dozer has written Gov. Hayes a letter threatening him with assassination.

The democrats of the Massachusetts Legislature canvassed on Friday, to discuss the proper policy to pursue on the United States Senator question. Hon. Frank W. Bird was the heavy gun of the occasion. The general sentiment appeared to be in favor of "anything to beat Boutwell"—which should be sufficient to satisfy the republicans that Mr. Boutwell is a proper man for United States Senator from Massachusetts.

To-day is the time appointed by the Tilden Bureau for the people of the country to enthuse and indignate over Tilden's election and defeat. It is quite probable the sun will set this evening as usual.

Gov. Hendricks, in his tirade against "federal troops in the South," omitted to denounce Drew, the present democratic Governor of Florida, who asked that government troops might be present at his inauguration.

It was easy in 1861 to rouse the war spirit and fill the tanks of the regiments with the flower of the South. The man who should attempt to repeat the experiment in 1877 would be hooted out of every community. Experience is a practical teacher.—Memphis Avalanche (Ind.)

Senator John A. Logan has been renominated by the republicans of the Illinois Legislature.

The cause of good government languishes in Boston and the Commonwealth Club has wound up its affairs and gone out of business. The Commonwealth was formed two or three years ago in the interest of an honest administration, and it had on its list of membership many of the prominent young men in both parties. But the swallow-tail element, and the young swallow tail element in particular, was in the ascendant, and the increase of swallows brought a winter of discontent, and as most of the business of politics is done by the ulters and pea-jackets, the Commonwealth proved stronger in its own cosy rooms than at the polls. It was for Bristow, but Bristow was beaten and the club died a natural death. It is a pity, but it could not be helped.—Philadelphia Times.

The following is said to be the course that will be taken by President of the Senate Ferry in counting the Electoral vote: "First, he will either count all the votes, opening only those from the four contested States which he considers to be the rightful ones, and announce the result to the joint convention, with the statement that it is his judgment as to the proper count. But if the two houses concurrently arrive at a different conclusion he will revise his own judgment in accordance with such concurrent decision. Or, second, he will count only the votes from the States as to which there is no dispute, and will present the returns from the four other States to the joint convention, with the statement that as to them he awaits instruction from the joint convention and by that instruction, provided it is the concurrent action of both houses, he will abide."

The Senate on Friday considered the resolution declaring that the Oregon telegraph operator shall give up the messages relating to the transfer of seventeen thousand dollars from the Tilden managers at New York to their agents in Oregon. Senator Kelley availed himself of the opportunity to defend Gov. Grover, and the Oregon question generally was discussed. Governor Grover, in his testimony before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections, took the high ground that he had the right to set aside the laws of Oregon if he thought that they were in opposition to the laws of the United States. He admitted that he had received telegraphic advice from Abe Hewitt, Manton Marble, "Duke" Gwin and other Tilden wire-pullers.

The democratic order for private dispatches will be apt to cool now that the search has found a trail leading directly to the Tilden barrel of money. The Oregon operator will have the support of every reformer in the land in his refusal to divulge the secrets of his office.

President Ferry, of the Senate, has received by mail and messenger duplicate returns from electoral colleges of all the States.

There has been a good deal of talk because the republican vote in Louisiana has come through the hands of office-holders who were interested in making a majority for their party; yet what is the situation on the democratic side? The vote which the democrats claim elects their State and National tickets was canvassed by "Gov." McEnery and his imaginary Secretary of State, both of whom are on the Tilden electoral ticket, and both of whom sign their own report as witnesses of its correctness. The force of the old illustration of the mote and the beam is undiminished by centuries of application.

The Republic is no longer in danger to any intelligent mind from the democratic party or the republican party, from Tilden or from Hayes. While new anxieties have been developed, old ones have certainly been allayed, by this post-election doubt and struggle.—Springfield Republican.

Gov. Tilden was confronted with a startling demonstration of public opinion the other day. As he walked by an admiring policeman, the latter nudged a neighboring small boy and remarked with fervor, "There's yer President!" Small boy looked at the Governor for a moment, and inquired, "Is that Hayes?"—Tribune.

Rodney C. Dutton, now lying in Lowell jail awaiting trial for burglary, has been identified as the man who recently collected considerable sums in Concord, fraudulently representing himself to be the agent of Boston firms.

President Smith of Dartmouth College died on Friday. He was born at Amherst, Sept. 21, 1804. He graduated from Dartmouth College in 1830; was Principal of Limerick Academy, Maine, from 1830 to 1831, and studied divinity at Andover Theological Seminary, graduating in 1834. He was ordained pastor of the Fourteenth Street Presbyterian Church in New York city, Nov. 2, 1834; lectured as Professor of Pastoral Theology at the Union Theological Seminary from 1843 to 1844, and was dismissed from the Fourteenth Street Church, October 15, 1863, and inaugurated as the seventh President of Dartmouth College, October 18, of the same year, which position he filled to the time of his death. President Smith has published many works of interest and value, and by his well-known integrity and sterling qualities has endeared himself to the many students and friends of the college. [Later advices state that President Smith is not dead, but on the contrary is improving in health.]

Regular Secretion Essential to Health.

The regular secretion and flow of the gastric juices, and of the bile which the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promotes, are effects which conduce materially to the restoration of health, when the system is disordered. Food is not digested in the dyspeptic stomach because the gastric fluid is deficient, superabundant or vitiated;—the liver becomes congested and the bowels constipated because the supply of bile is inadequate or misdirected. The Bitters rectify all this, and remove every ill consequence of non-assimilation and bile in irregularity. Furthermore, it stimulates the action of the kidneys, by which impurities are, so to speak, strained from the blood, and any tendency in the urinary organs to grow sluggish and disordered counteracted. Whether it be used as a means of regulating gastric or bilious secretion, and relieving the overloaded bowels, or to promote complete, and therefore healthful, urination, Hostetter's Bitters may be relied upon with confidence to accomplish the end in view.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, offers its 650 rooms on the "new specie basis," at $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

Read the testimonials of eminent citizens to the wonderful curative powers of Adamson's Balsam for the cure of racking coughs, colds and consumption. Price 25 cents.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Scalds, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Spasmed Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Mad Dog Bite, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says: "Centaur Liniment is it better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a felock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it."

REV. GEO. W. FARRIS,
Mineralville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses.

RILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Foll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame neck of any kind, the effects are the same. Liveryemen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted — like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents inveterate coughs, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Boston, Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

SOFTINGS.

Somebody utters this timely and happy thought: "This is the time to go out wolf-hunting. Nothing will give you higher percentage on your time and money than chasing the wolf from your poorer neighbor's door."

Portsmouth boys are well spoken of wherever they go. Mr. Charles Adams, son of the late Hon. Joseph B. Adams of this city, having been appointed agent in Chicago of the new Chicago & Erie Railroad, the Inter-Ocean thus refers to him; "Mr. Adams is a man of fine business capacity, is thoroughly acquainted with and esteemed by the business men of the city, and is in many ways peculiarly qualified to do efficient service in the interest of the road. The selection of such a representative will be regarded by everybody here as an evidence of good judgment on the part of the managers."

Oliver Ditson & Co. send us three fine vocal pieces: "Clouds at Eventide," one of four German gems by Franz Lachner, "Sun of my Soul," quartet, which has new music to a favorite hymn, and "Summer Friends," by Pinsuti, a composer who has a charming talent for composing neat English songs with Italian melodies. There are also three excellent piano pieces: the "Irresistible Schottische," by Sudds, a nice "Fairy Legend," for violin (first position) and piano, by Eichberg, and a beautiful romance, "Angels' Wings," by V. B. Aubert.

The attempt to raise the schooner "Ceres" is suspended for the present.

It has been suggested by a social economist that the high collars worn by young gentlemen of elegant leisure be utilized for advertising purposes. This would add greatly to the picturesqueness of public gatherings, and would furnish an endless fund of conversation for playgoers.

Every person professing a love for temperance, should feel it a duty and privilege to attend the first anniversary of the Reform Club to-morrow evening, and encourage and strengthen the hearts of the reformed men who are doing so much for the good name of our city. A very brief historical sketch will be given, by which our citizens will learn the great amount of labor performed during the past year; all the exercises will be lively, as it will be a season of jollity and thanksgiving.

The Supreme Court now in session in this city has been engaged for the past three or four days in trying the case of Bennett vs. Clough, an action brought by plaintiff to recover of Mrs. Clough two bank books and other certain valuables to the amount of some five hundred dollars or more. The jury got the case about two o'clock on Saturday afternoon and after being out an hour or so brought in a sealed verdict, which will be made known at eleven o'clock this (Monday) morning.

Mr. Charles W. Gardner has tendered his resignation of the position of second lieutenant in the Portsmouth Light Artillery.

It is rumored around town that two detectives from Massachusetts were prospecting in this city the past week, hunting for evidence against liquor sellers, and that evidence enough to convict several was procured. Whether we are to have an anti-saloon crusade on the Strafford County plan, or the rumor is a rumor only, we shall be able to tell by-and-bye.

The republicans of Ward Two held their caucus Saturday evening, and elected the following delegates to the several conventions: State—William A. Hodgdon, Thomas E. Call, Joseph P. Morse, Benjamin W. Curtis, Aaron Young, J. Horace Kent, John Knowlton, Joseph H. Gardiner; Congressional—John H. Broughton, John H. Bailey, Charles H. Sides, Daniel L. Randall, Daniel W. Barnabee, Adolph Nelson, John H. Flagg, William H. Sise; Senatorial—William H. Hackett, Samuel Adams, Stephen J. Marston, William O. Sides, Elbridge Pryor, James C. Brown, George L. Stackpole, Warren Webster; Councillor—Alfred F. Howard, Robert C. Sides, John E. Colcord, Albert C. Anderson, J. Warren Pryor, Robert C. Peirce, Alfred H. Hanscom, William H. Deverson; County—Henry A. Yeaton, Daniel J. Vaughan, Samuel H. Kingsbury, William A. Ashe, Plumer D. Norton, Marcellus Bufford, John E. Johnston, Eben F. Brackett.

Secure your tickets for "Josh Billings'" lecture early, and avoid the rush. Nobody should miss the opportunity to hear "Josh."

The first of Mr. Albee's historical and critical lectures on English Literature will be given this evening, in the South Parish Chapel on Court Street, commencing at eight o'clock. Tickets for the course of ten lectures, $2.50, are for sale at J. H. Foster's bookstore.

An alarm of fire was occasioned at about half-past one o'clock Monday morning, by what was probably an incendiary attempt to burn the old Asa Ham house at the Creek. The house, which is unoccupied, was discovered to be on fire at one corner and on the outside, but a few buckets of water put out the flames. The building is of little value, and is owned by the Eastern Railroad.

TOO MUCH WATER.

Sunday was a sloppy day, rain falling briskly in the forenoon, and the walking became quite as bad as need be. At an early hour men were at work on the roofs of many buildings, cleaning them of snow and ice, as the water was backing up under the eaves from the gutters and doing much damage. Oren Bragdon had to move much of his shoe stock and George Hill to clear his goods in his drug store, and Dr. Potter's office was partially swamped; but no serious damage was done at either of these places.

At Mechanics' Block, men employed to clear the roof of snow and ice cut holes through the tin, and through these holes the water worked in large quantities, flooding the reading room and Tilton's music room, and doing considerable damage to the stocks of George Hanson and Isaiah Wilson.

The Times office was flooded, and the water ran down into Oxford's grocery store, doing much harm; several men were employed in Oxford's all the forenoon, bailing out water and moving goods.

How much the loss at these places will amount to we cannot say, but unless the reports are much exaggerated it is very considerable.

Take down those useless things, the gutters.

YORK.

YORK, ME., Jan. 5, '77.

The bill of mortality of York is unusually large the past year. The number of deaths annually for many years past have not exceeded forty, and have often footed up a much smaller number, one year reaching only twenty-two. By the following list it will be seen that there were twenty deaths during the first quarter of 1876, being more than one-half the usual number of deaths for a year.

DEATHS IN YORK, 1876.

January. Males two, aged 83, 75; females five, aged 61, 80, 5, 94, 47. Total number eight.

February. Males three, aged 75, 35, 4 weeks; females five, aged 76, 24, 17, 84, 14. Total deaths, eight.

March. Males four, aged 60, 58, 2, 5; females one, aged 65. Total deaths, five.

May. Males none; females one, aged 9 years.

June. Males two, aged 20 months, 50 years; females three, aged 22, 26, 81. Total deaths five.

July. Males none; females three, aged 33, 92, 50. Total deaths, three.

August. Males one, aged 77; females one, aged 58. Total deaths, two.

September. Males three, aged 19, 79, 86; females three, aged 14, 76, 26. Total deaths, six.

October. Males three, aged 48, 46, 76; females one, aged 84. Total deaths, four.

November. Males four, aged 10, 77, 79, 25; females five, aged 8, 15, 80, 3, 9. Total deaths, nine.

December. Males two, aged 50, 56; females eight, aged 31-2, 35, 40, 31, 11, 8, 95, 70. Total deaths, ten.

Total number of deaths for the year, sixty; of males, twenty-four; of females, thirty-six. Average age—males, fifty-one years; females, forty-three.

J. S. PUTNAM.

—The tin weddings pan out best.——It is agonizing to see a young man escort your girl to the cars, carrying an umbrella which he borrowed from you the day before.——If a man is in the stationhouse, and not very full, no can be bailed out without much trouble.——A physician having ordered a patient to take one pill three times a day, was asked how long a pill would last at that rate of rapid consumption.——Never turn a cold, hungry man away from your house. Do as the good do, and let him sit on the door steps.——The "Sword of Bunker Hill" should not be confounded with the sabre of Ben Hill, feared by the fiery Fernando.——Cronin will meet himself in Washington and divide his mileage from Oregon with himself. He is the most unanimous man in the world. In discussion with himself as to filling vacancies his talk is something like that of Dick Swiveller with the imaginary James at the fictitious banquet. Cronin is three of a kind and bound to be tray. N. O. Republican.

—"Married next week, I hear, eh?" remarked a friend, slapping a good young man of Burlington in a congratulatory way on the shoulder; "rich girl up Davenport way, I hear?" "Well, no," said the young man, stifling a little sigh, "things was all arranged, but I've kind o' had to put the wedding off a little while, like it might be." "What's wrong?" asked the friend, in sympathetic tones; "cold folks down on the match?" "Well, not exactly; ye see she has no parents, and she's her own boss like, but——" "Girl didn't throw you, did she? Didn't go back on you?" "Well," said the young man, hesitatingly, "n'—not exactly; ye see, two of her husbands kind of happened to find her and come in on her together, sort of unexpected like, and I've just sort of thought we'd kind of put it off like it might be." And the subject of conversation was delicately changed like.

—A minister in Lexington, Ky., lately said in the pulpit that he had seen a pack of cards and a backgammon board in the parlor of a member of his church, and after services seventeen pious men scolded their wives for carelessness.

DIED.

BROOKS. In York, Me., Dec. 17, Miss Ellen M. Brooks, youngest daughter of Col. Jeremiah Brooks, aged 31 years.

DAME. In Newington, Jan. 4th, Mrs. Sallie Dame, aged 88 years.

—Romantic young people and cruel parents still live outside of the popular novel. A youthful pedagogue at Woodsburg, L. I., lately had the temerity to fall in love with Miss Johnson of that place. The parents of the young lady appear to have been opposed to the suit, so the young people eloped; that is to say, they quietly went off and got married, but they came back armed with a certificate wherewith to mollify the stern parents. It had the contrary effect. The mother gave the young lady a severe castigation, while the father pitched the aspiring youth over the garden fence. Love and law are, however, strong, and the parents have relented, and again family discipline has been defeated.

—A man with a stolen umbrella cannot keep dry in a rain storm and have a clear conscience at the same time.

Lippincott's Magazine

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractiveness and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to preserve a large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. To excel, or render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature, and to combine more or less of the popular, specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive Serial Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by the latest and well known authors. A

Daily Chronicle.

A Scene in a Railroad Car.

The following queer incident is told by a well-known government office holder who has nothing else to do but ride on the cars, and as he rides free has numerous tales to tell of his observations and experiences:

"There were two seats in the car turned so as to face each other. One was occupied by a lady and the other by a Chinaman. She explained to him that she wanted to take the cushions and their frames and place them lengthwise across from seat to seat. John said 'all righte,' and got into the aisle while she proceeded to lie down on the bed thus improvised, with her head resting on her valise. She supposed that the Chinaman would take the hint that the lady wanted to rest in the space usually occupied by four persons. But John at once proceeded to crawl in and stretch himself by her side, with his head on a little bundle of his own. The Chinese are an imitative race, and like to do as others do, you know. The lady, as soon as she discovered that she had a bed fellow, got up a little wildly and started for the next car, to the infinite amusement of the passengers, who had been watching the little scene with some interest. John took no notice of the fun he had created, but went to sleep with the whole bed to himself."

—Careful farmers cradle their wheat and babies and have good crops.

—Doubt the piety of a man who prays for rain and then steals your umbrella.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young in either side of the Atlantic."—Sou. Kensington (Eng.) Art Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. It ends its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its special articles, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all its aspects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of boarding school life among boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively articles, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Thomas Nast, the Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant,

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home and Sunday-school," by Mrs. Dodge; "Santa Claus's Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Music of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be his resting papers by Dr. Holland, by William Cullen Bryant, Jos. G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Cullen Bryant, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Orne Jewett, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer, with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be liked, to whoever reads them, as stories of popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of SCRIBNER's press. All the articles, whether in prose or poetry, are charming with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of Vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the current literature of the day.

Subscription price, $4 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest rank. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sunstrokes about Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc.; Three serial stories—

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven Oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid in the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a guardian.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Traill, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Oliphant (Margaret Maitland). Mrs. Oliphant's story, begun in August, has a robust and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the reading public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers on "Popular Science," by Mr. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions on how to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Bernard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scotch Land Factory," and the November number, and "Toad Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Month of Shoddy," "Hesperus a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place whilst the latest productions of American industry will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is long one.

The editorial department will be fully equipped, the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more useful and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the closing chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (when requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, testate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting,

YOU are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, has presented his account of administering said estate at a Probate to be holden at Portsmouth, within and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

YOU are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon and to make such objections as you may there have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication whereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,

WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year 1876 has just passed. The daily edition will be as heretofore a sheet of four pages, and will contain all of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and economy, and of the honest, intelligent statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity by which alone prosperity, industry, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraud and bulldozing and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most care ul, complete, and trustworthy account of current events. It will spend no pains for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who are by plundering the Treasury or by usurping which the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers who club together and form up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to do so, in ordinary circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled, in addition to the money for the subscriber's own charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lurking crime of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

For Coughs, Croup, Diphtheria, Asthma, etc.

USE

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. His offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I slept well last night and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1 50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and forty-five pounds. I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of DR. QUAIN'S PILLS. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are' spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; and I wish you success in selling them. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or no any work of any account, and all cold weather A friend of his at Andover advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had—for you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. We think nothing will cure him but taking him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a story, but I remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, NOV. 15, 73.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I cannot describe how intense and severe my sufferings are. I have tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten years, and have been travelling and visiting the world, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. My father thinks here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure any body. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sicrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and adviser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A. Proc. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular contents of the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it endeavors itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address,

MENDUM, WHIDDEN & CO.,

FURNITURE —AND— UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication in actual circulation. It is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest &, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS, American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP! For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is Sure to Regulate the Bowels. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to your selves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants. We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance to dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and speak in terms of highest commenda ion of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered. This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in Thousands of Cases. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. Be sure and call for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," Having the fac simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. dfeb15

MR. TREAT'S SPEECH.

Delivered before the Portsmouth Reform Club, in Franklin Hall, on Sunday evening, Jan. 7th, 1877:

Ladies and Gentlemen—Brothers and Sisters of the Portsmouth Reform Club:

Next Tuesday, Jan 9th, will be the anniversary of the formation of this club, at which time we propose to celebrate the joyful occasion by a general jollification, and hope you all, with many more, will be there to assist in carrying out the programme. On that occasion Bro. Thorndike, who is appointed our historian, will enlighten you as to the particulars of the origin and formation of the club, and the success which has attended our efforts thus far.

As for myself, I will say that one year ago I had no more idea of leaving off drinking than I now have of ever taking it up again,—and I now thank God that he has given me strength thus far to throw off the degrading habit and to be able to stand here to-night a reformed man.

At the time this club was organized nearly all (as most of you know) who expressed an opinion as to its success predicted for it a short-lived existence,—some saying it would not last a month; others, that election day would surely fetch us,—more that warm weather would serve us as it did the converts made for the church in cold weather; and most of the rest that Rechabite Hall would certainly finish us as it did every organization that ever occupied it,—in short, that our club would very soon collapse and go the way of most every other temperance movement; but we have not only survived one election but three of them, and one an unusually exciting Presidential one,—and thanks to this reform club, drunkenness, instead of being the rule as formerly, has been the exception,—during all the excitement attending the campaign, very little drunkenness was seen on our streets. Through the not weather we did lose some of our members, who being weak were easily captured by the enemy; but now that cold weather has come I hope they will gather sufficient strength to throw off the yoke which has bound them, re-sign our pledge, and strive not only to keep it themselves but labor with us to reclaim others.

We have now 2435 names on our Pledge Book, and still there is room for more. Our object is to get all who are addicted to the use of alcoholic beverages to abandon the habit; and by thus cutting off the demand, the supply must inevitably cease. In short, instead of trying to reform the rum-seller, as the Woman's Crusade did, we are striving with the men and women who are using intoxicating drinks, to induce them to sign our pledge and stick to it,—and if they should find at the expiration of a year that they are less happy for doing so, why then they can again go back to their cups, with the misery, want, head-aches and heart-aches attending those who indulge in strong drinks. I for one have no fear of your doing so, even if there are 107 bar-rooms in full blast amongst us; they have no temptations for me, although I well know that as a general thing good social company can be found there, and I have had many a good time in such company over a glass of whiskey or ale, but after the drinking was over have had as all that drink do, an awful time getting sober, rising in the morning with head all swelled up, hat not big enough for you, hardly able to open your eyes for having such a head ache, mouth glued up and in a fearful condition, tongue swelled and parched and certainly not in a condition to do much talking,—not fit to tell the truth if your wife or mother should ask you where you were the night before,—not able to lock at food, let alone eating it,—having to take (as all drinkers know) a rum breakfast instead of anything else after (as they and I used to call it) a night's good time! Surely the good book hits the nail on the head in rum drinking, when it says he that doeth wrong shall receive for the wrong he has done; and unless you have strength enough to quit the habit, ere long you are bound to become the poor, miserable drunkard that even the rum-seller despises and wishes to keep as far from his saloon as possible; and then

"Sad is the drunkard's life,
Wasting in crime,
Far from the path of right,
Reckless of time.
Tears of repentant grief
Chill as they start;
Hardly a tender thought
Wakes in his heart.

Often a single spark
Kindles a flame;
Kindness may win him back,
Prayers may reclaim;
Go where he sit alone,
Burdened with care,
Tell him his sinful course,
Plead with him there—

Picture a happy past
Gone from his sight;
Bring back his early youth,
Cloudless and bright;
Tell how a mother's eye
Watched while he slept,
Tell how she prayed for him,
Borrowed and wept—

Point to the better land,
Home of the blest,
Where she has passed away,
Gone to her rest.
Over that reported one
Memory will years;
God, in his mercy, grant
He may return."

Let us keep up the banner of total abstinance and still bid all to come under its folds, lift up the fallen, throw the cords of sympathy around the weak and tempted. Let manhood be written on the brow of the most degraded; give all a kind word and show it at you are interested in them; this will be the means of saving thousands of men to society and usefulness who are now looked upon as walking rum-barrels. If possible these men should be reclaimed, and the best course to pursue is to take them by the hand and show them that you have faith in their ability to be me of use to themselves and the community. The diamond is only covered up by rubbish; it may require some little labor and time to bring it forth, but nevertheless it is there, and only needs to be brought to the surface that it may shine all the brighter for having been obscured.

In accepting the Presidency of this club it was (and ever has been) my desire not only to keep clear of politics, and sectarianism in religion, but also from personal abuse. Believing the fact that personal reformation was the prime necessity, I have endeavored to get all I could to sign the pledge and stick to it. The hardest work has been to convince drinking men that they were drinking too much; there are some that think and probably act as the good old deacon did, who when approached by one of the brethren and asked if he didn't think he was indulging too often, replied, sometimes he did and then again he didn't. "What is man? A weak worm of the dust What the Lord sayeth, that shall he done. So I left it to the Lord to say whether I was goin' too far in sperits. I put the whole 'sponsibility on Him! I prayed to him if I were drinking too much, to take away my appetite for sperits. I've prayed that prayer three times, and he hasn't done it! So I am clear of the 'sponsibility, any how." Most all have some way or other to get around their feelings; some are not well, and have to take a little grog; others get mad with their wives and drink to spite them; and more because they have nothing else to do and drink to drive away the blues—excuses are as numerous as drinkers.

I did not believe any one could be induced to join us by abusing the rum-sellers. I have not only refrained from doing so myself but have endeavored to restrain the few intemperate temperance men we have amongst us—those who would almost dictate what you should eat, what you should wear, where you should attend church, and what hour you should go to bed.

Then again we have a few men who left off drinking expecting to get a premium for so doing. I have had men, after they have signed the pledge, ask me for ten cents (I don't know what they wanted it for unless it was to treat resolution); another wanted one dollar; still another a pair of boots; and yet another a whole suit of clothes—but to his credit be it said he did not want a very expensive one. Then we have those who left off expecting to get a good easy position, with just enough work to do to keep the rust off; this is the class that expect to be petted and pampered,—the ones who find most of the fault, and in fact make most of the trouble; nothing is done right unless they are consulted and have the engineering of it.

I am aware that a good many think I have altogether too much respect for the rum-sellers. It is true I do not think they are all murderers, thieves and everything else that is bad and dishonest, for I have known and still know men in the rum-traffic who are as quick to do a man a good turn as man out of it,—but as a general thing these are the men who are disgusted with the business and would get out of it could they get into something else as remunerative. There is certainly nothing ennobling or elevating in peddling out rum. I have often laughed to see some big, hearty fellow, who is able to do a good day's work, but being a little lazy and imagining that he has ability enough to get along without work takes a place, puts in one half-barrel ale, one quart whiskey, as much more rum, a few pipes and half a dozen pieces of tobacco, and then stands 'round with his hands in his pockets and tells you how business is. I think this is about the only business however, that requires no apprenticeship in order to be conversant with it,—although some think it requires a good deal of judgment to mix a hot whiskey or a rum punch,—in truth some can do it better than others, but these soon get above their business, go into politics and manage to get along by still preying on the community.

The greatest annoyance I have had to encounter during the twelve months I have been a teetotaler has come from travelling temperance orators,—these puffed up, conceited fellows who imagine that they have a mission to perform, and that that mission is to reclaim the inebriate. They will tell what a work they have done, and what mistakes others make in talking temperance; they will insist on giving you a lecture (for a consideration) that will be just a little the best you ever heard, and don't see how you could tolerate the speakers you have had heretofore; in fact it is amusing to hear them blow their own horns, and run down other lecturers. One old fellow, who claimed to be a young man himself, insisted and would hardly take no for an answer, that he could give us an A 1 lecture, and would fill our old Temple at ten cents a head if we would just let him have the doing of the advertising, etc.; besides, he had a thousand tickets; for a time I had considerable sport with this same old fellow, but it soon got to be an old story, and he bored me half to death before I got through with him. Most of these lecturers think that by telling some largely overdrawn story of the want and misery the drinking of rum has brought upon themselves or some of their friends, that they will get up steam, or as the revivalists call it, "a saving interest," and get some to sign the pledge. One man, for lack of something else to illustrate the depths of degradation to which a man could fall, went so far as to say "you all know how low and degraded it had made your President," (meaning me.) Most of them are after the dollar a little harder than any set of men I ever saw. One old fellow with a panorama couldn't even wait until his show was over before he wanted to be paid. They will tell you how hard they work and how poorly they are remunerated for the energy and talent they have to put in it; but should this class of men ever give up lecturing and go to peddling rum, God pity the poor inebriate, for I think they would double discount the man now in the rum traffic, and the old Spring Hill style of three drinks for a quarter would then certainly be one of the customs of the past.

Now for Arkansas.

The democrats have had a good deal to say about "the letter of the law" as a justification of the conduct of Gov. Grover, of Oregon, in giving a certificate of election to Electoral College Cronin, a man he knew had not been elected; so they will hardly allow the vote of Arkansas to be counted for Tilden, the "letter of the law" having been knocked into "pi" by the Electoral College of that State. The law of March 1, 1792, provides that "the electors in each State shall make and sign three certificates of all the votes by them given, and shall seal the same, certifying on each that a list of the votes of such State, for President and Vice President is contained therein, and shall by writing under their hands, or under the hands of a majority of them, appoint a person to take charge of and deliver to the President of the Senate at the seat of the government, before the first Wednesday in January then next ensuing, one of the said certificates." But when the messenger bearing the electoral votes of Arkansas presented himself to Mr. Ferry, and tendered a package which he said contained the votes cast by the Electoral College, upon Mr. Ferry's examining the wrapper of this sealed package, it was discovered that the necessary certificate of the Electors that the package contained the votes of the State, was wanting. The messenger could produce no certificate of his appointment as such, and he had nothing to show that he was what he claimed to be, a duly appointed messenger of the Electoral College of Arkansas. Mr. Ferry declined to receive the sealed package unless the messenger could prove his identity, and even then, was in some doubt whether to accept it. The messenger withdrew and shortly reappeared with some democratic members of Congress who vouched for his identity as a duly appointed messenger. Mr. Ferry again directed attention to the law above cited, and the failure of the Electors to enter the necessary certificate on the package, but concluded to receive it, and let the question of its irregularity go until the second Wednesday in February. Several days afterwards the messenger again made his appearance, and asked that he might be allowed to withdraw the package previously filed, and to substitute another one which, he said, met all the requirements of the statute. This request was of course refused, and the irregular certificate must stand until action can be taken by the constitutional authorities to determine its validity. The questions are, how did the messenger get the second sealed package? and if the Electors failed, on the day absolutely prescribed by existing law, to draw up the certificate in proper form as to their action, had they any legal right to meet on a subsequent day and rectify their mistake at the telegraphic request of democratic leaders in Washington.

General Leslie Coombs of Kentucky, one of the most prominent public men of that State, has just married a wife who is eighty-five years old. He is himself almost as old as his bride.

In France, the official guillotine is at work, twelve prefects having been just transferred or dismissed by the new Premier. This politic measure will increase M. Simon's popularity with the republicans. The average politician has the highest opinion of the chief who removes an opponent.—Tribune.

Five negroes, who killed Hansman and Portman, near Aiken, S. C., last November, have been found guilty of murder in the first degree. The murdered men were respectable German citizens. Now let us hear that some of the white men who have murdered so many negroes in South Carolina have also been convicted of murder in the first degree.

Capt. H. T. H. Pierce, of Keene, hanged himself in his barn Sunday afternoon. He was about sixty years old and leaves a family. The cause was ill health and low spirits.

It is a question whether any pedestrian ever attained so much popularity in Boston as did Miss Bertha Von Hillern, by her pluck and modest demeanor. It is a pleasure to anticipate the coming trial at Music Hall on the 19th and 20th inst., when the lady will attempt the extraordinary feat of walking eighty-eight miles in twenty-six consecutive hours. Those who witnessed the extraordinary task which she recently accomplished, feel sure she will succeed this time.

Regular Secretion Essential to Health.

The regular secretion and flow of the gastric juices, and of the bile which the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promotes, are effects which conduce materially to the restoration of health, when the system is disordered. Food is not digested in the dyspeptic stomach because the gastric fluid is deficient, superabundant or vitiated;—the Liver becomes congested and the bowels constipated because the supply of bile is inadequate or misdirected. The Bitters rectify all this evil, and remove every ill consequence of non-assimilation and bad assimilation. Further, more, it stimulates the action of the kidneys, by which impurities are, so to speak, strained from the blood, and any tendency in the urinary organs to grow sluggish and disordered counteracted. Women find it a most useful means of regulating gastric or bilious secretions, and relieving the overloaded bowels, or to promote complete, and therefore healthful, urination. Hostetter's Bitters may be relied upon with confidence to accomplish the end in view.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, offers its 650 rooms on the "new scale basis," at $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

By the through lines of cars over the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad to Philadelphia, Washington, Richmond, and Danville, all trouble or transfer is obviated, while the equipments of the road are unsurpassed in elegance.

Read the testimonials of eminent citizens to the wonderful curative powers of Adamson's Balsam for the cure of crack ng coughs, colds and consumption. Price 25 cents.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

Tickets to the whole entertainment 25 cents.

Doors open at 6:45. Commence at 7:30.

The Cronin Electoral College seems to have gone in "for the old flag and—an appropriation." The suspicion seems now to be pretty well defined that Cronin was not the only man who had his "expenses" paid. This idea of paying electors and messengers out of the funds of campaign committees is the latest sweet thing in electoral colleges, but we should prefer ourselves to see the fashion rage as far off as possible.—Tribune.

The New-York

TRIBUNE.

The Leading American Newspaper.

Largest Circulation

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The sewing of no man, the favor of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND IN EARNEST. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AND ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It has quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMERS' PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article sold, and of all the markets of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the growth of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respecting course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of current workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniments will do. They will not mend broken bones or new legs, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years standing, Sciatica, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the Irruptions Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Wife's Arm has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says: "Centaur Liniment is a better seller; it gives the best satisfaction of any thing we have handled."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

The Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeney, Ring-bone and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies failed. The Centaur and I consulted him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. F. RHIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. I consider the two dollar's worth, cured me and my two horses. RILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Toter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. It regulates the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and is fast having a world-wide increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

JOTTINGS.

Davis Brothers' photograph gallery was visited by "backed in" water on Sunday, and the floor of the New Hampshire Bank premises was ornamented by a good sized piece of plastering which was soaked off the ceiling.

On the outside of to-day's paper will be found a part of Mr. John S. Treat's Sunday evening talk to the Reform Club. It is worth reading.

On petition of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, Judges Foster and Stanley have appointed Edward A. Abbott of Concord receiver of said road. Mr. Abbott appeared before the Court Saturday and furnished the required bonds, which were approved. He acts under written instructions with regard to the temporary management of the road.

Misses Minnie C. and Grace E. Marden on Saturday presented to an aged inmate of Fair Home an album quilt containing one thousand and ten pieces.

St. Mary's Benevolent Association, at a meeting on the 7th, passed resolutions of regret at the decease of Mr. James Norton, one of the founders of the Association, and of sympathy with his family.

At a meeting of the School Committee, Saturday evening, it was voted to rescind the vote previously passed giving masters of Grammar Schools $900 per year, and it was also voted to pay them at the rate of $24 per week while in the actual employ of the city. The compensation to the writing master remains for the present at $600, as decided upon at the previous meeting.

At a meeting of the democrats of Ward Four, holden on Saturday evening, the following delegates were chosen to the different conventions: State—Henry F. Wendell, William F. Russell, Joseph R. Holmes, Charles W. Norton; Congressional—James W. Lefavour, Alonzo K. W. Green, Richard D. Smart, Benjamin Russell; Councillor—Same delegates as chosen to the Congressional; Senatorial—James W. Nutter, Benjamin M. Bailey, George S. Leach, Thomas R. Moore; County—Albert B. Trefethen, William P. Bennett, Charles W. Brackett, William H. Smart.

See notice of "oil paintings at auction" in another column.

Don't forget the grand jollification of the Reform Club at Franklin Hall this evening. Jan. 9th, the first anniversary of the formation of the Club. Music (by Harlow's Quadrille Band), songs, speeches, refreshments, and a promenade concert. Tickets to the whole, 25 cents; doors open at 6:45; commence at 7:30.

The signal service observer at Barnegat, N. J., reports that the ship Simla of this port, 1100 tons, commanded by Capt. Albert Salter of this city, and owned by the estate of Jonathan M. Tredick, bound from Marseilles to New York, in ballast, ran ashore seven miles south of Barnegat Inlet at 11:30 o'clock Sunday night; weather foggy and blowing a gale from the east. The crew were brought ashore by life-saving crews. No lives lost. The vessel will probably prove a total loss. The Simla was built here in 1863 by Tobey & Littlefield. A later report says she lies on the beach with her hull entirely out of water, all her masts having been cut away. She was valued at $54,000, and is fully insured in Boston offices.

Ship Kate Prince, Hamilton, from Liverpool, arrived in Hampton Roads on the 6th inst., all well, but had experienced very severe weather on the passage.

The regular social assembly of the Light Artillery will be given on Thursday evening, as usual, in Mechanics' Hall.

Monday was the day set apart by the Tilden managers for the democrats to indignate in. No vibration of the earth was apparent in these parts.

Franklin Hall was well filled on Sunday evening, the attraction being an address by the President of the Portsmouth Temperance Reform Club, John S. Treat, Esq. Mr. Treat retires from the presidency of the club at the expiration of the year (Jan. 9, 1877,) and the address above referred to was his valedictory. We publish it entire as it contains much that will interest all friends of the temperance reform.

DON'T LIKE THE GUTTERS.

Much damage is done every winter by the "backing in" of water under the eaves of buildings, owing to the freezing-up of eaves-troughs or gutters. Unable to go anywhere else, the water works inside and runs down between outer and inner walls, through ceilings and among goods, discoloring wall paper and plastering and causing ceilings to fall, and inflicting great annoyance as well as serious pecuniary loss. There are but two ways to prevent this, that we can see; one is, to clear the roofs of buildings after every snow fall—nearly an impossibility, by the way, when the snow falls at night and is solidly frozen before morning; the other is, to put no gutters on buildings. Gutters will ice up in spite of all that can be done; and then when a thaw comes, if there is any snow on the roof, the water is bound to back in and do mischief. And what good do gutters do? What are they for? They conduct the water from the roofs to the ground, certainly, but it would get there just as easily and surely—a great deal more easily sometimes, as was shown in this city last Sunday—without them. In places where water is scarce and the saving of rain water is a necessity or convenience, gutters are of use; but in a city like Portsmouth we fail to see that they are of any service whatever except to "back in" water into buildings during the winter thaws, and spoil plastering and goods and people's tempers. In the absence of gutters the rain on a roof might increase the rain-fall on the side-walk travellers; but most people in heavy rains carry umbrellas, and they have to stand the increased rain-fall anyway in the winter, when the gutters are full of ice, and they do not seem to mind it much. The water from the roofs would fall mostly quite near the buildings, and the only real inconvenience from it would be to those who had to pass through it to enter doors; and that annoyance could be easily remedied by some trifling local shelter. We fancy that gutters are put on buildings for the same reason that doors are made with panels, not because there is any use in it but because it has been done from time immemorial; and we believe if the experiment of leaving gutters off buildings was once generally tried, the owners and occupiers of such buildings would not be in haste to go back to the old way again. EPINSRETTUG.

News and Notes.

The steamer Colombia of the Wilson line from Hull, England, for New York, is supposed to have foundered at sea.

James Gordon Bennett and Frederick May have disappeared from New York, each with a friend. Bennett made his will before leaving. The supposition is that a duel in earnest—not one of the ridiculous affairs in which one party fires in the air any the other does not fire at all, but a genuine fight in which each one tries to kill the other—is to take place, and from the known movements of the two men named it is believed it will come off at the little town of Stanstead in Canada, just across the border line.

The French steamer "L'Amerique," Captain Panzolz, from Havre for New York, went ashore at Seabright, N. J., at an early hour Sunday morning. At eleven o'clock the passengers were being landed on the beach by the men of the life-saving station, and the steamer was well up on the beach. At the time of the disaster the wind was blowing furiously, the sea was heavy and thick fog prevailed. None of the passengers were lost, and only three of the sailors. All the passengers and crew, with the exception of three sailors, were safely landed at Seabright. The mails were also saved. It is thought the steamer will be got off the beach in good condition. It will be remembered that this vessel was abandoned in the Bay of Biscay a year or two ago, and was picked up by two British vessels and taken into the Thames, when it was found that "L'Amerique's" engineers had been industriously pumping water into the vessel under the impression that they were pumping it out, which was all there was the matter!

There is hardly a possibility left of a peaceful termination of the Russian-Turkish difficulty.

Coles Morris, of New York, is a $500,000 defaulter.

Schooner Lacon, Capt. Dixon, of Newburyport, from Prince Edward's Island for New York with potatoes, has foundered at sea. All hands saved.

The $11,000 recently stolen from the Treasury has been returned, but the search for the thief is continued.

A duel between Bennett and May, in which the former was wounded, was reported on Monday.

Commodore Vanderbilt was buried on Sunday, the services being marked by the almost total absence of display.

The British schooner T. A. Frost, with a cargo of molasses and sugar from Demarara for Boston, before reported wrecked on the Hedge Fence in Vineyard Sound, has been towed into Vineyard Haven by revenue cutter Samuel Dexter. She had been abandoned by her captain and crew, and also by wreckers who had stripped her. Her valuable cargo was taken in charge by Captain Carson, who turned it over to the Custom House authorities at Vineyard Haven. The saving of the cargo will return quite a large amount in duties to the Government. Ever since she was taken in charge no one on board the cutter has seen either the captain or any one to represent the underwriters, which is a very singular occurrence. Upon the arrival of wreckers, they were told by the captain of the abandoned vessel to go ahead and make all they could.

Five of the six masked ruffians who robbed the house of Mr. Hillier and gagged and bound his family on the night of Dec. 23d, at Astoria, L. I., have been captured and jailed. There is not much doubt that they comprise the gang which has, during the past year, robbed several eastern vessels while they were anchored in Flushing bay and vicinity.

Washington advices say there has been a very decided change of sentiment among the democrats during the past few days, and their talk now all tends to securing a new Presidential election, they having apparently little hope of being able to deprive Hayes of his majority of electoral votes. A Traveller correspondent on Monday said: "Fernando Wood will to-morrow propose in the House that the only way to settle the Presidential election is by having a new election in the States of Florida, Louisiana, and South Carolina. Mr. Wood says he doesn't take any account of that Oregon matter, and would be sorry to see Tilden President on testimony such as that brought from Cronin.

Lippincott's Magazine

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the eighteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Popular Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive literal Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by historical and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Daily Chronicle.

Sneezing.

Rev. Dr. E. Wentworth writes thus to the editor of the Troy Times: Your correspondent, Thomas J. Bowditch, had in a recent issue a whole column on superstitious connected with sneezing. He ends without giving us the physiological uses of the phenomenon. As a rule, a sneeze is the warning which nature gives that some part of the body is exposed to a cooler temperature than the other parts, and that the sneezer is "catching cold." Next to the warning, what is the use of the sneeze? It throws open the pores of the whole body, and induces a gentle perspiration; in a word, it throws off the cold. A child rarely sneezes more than twice. Perspiration is readily induced in a youth; an old man, on the contrary, sneezes half a dozen to a dozen times, with a loudly explosive "catchegue." It is harder to set him to perspiring. When one is sitting in an open window, and finds himself sneezing, nature tells him he is taking cold. He should get up instantly, walk about, and take a full tumbler of cold water to keep up the gentle perspiration that the sneeze has set in motion. If he does this, he will not be telling an hour after that he has a "cold in his head," or chest, or lungs.

—A Cincinnati physician sued another man simply for calling him, on a postal card, "A liar, a quack, a thief, a murderer, a rascal, a ruffian, a villain, a forger, a perjurer, an ignoramus, a pretender, and a general beat."

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The king of all publications issued for the young is undoubtedly the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed, with eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its special articles, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., in its text, and its four colored and gold, is the most splendid gift-book for children and the ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have seen no other eight hundred pages so uniformly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining serial from the French, "The Magic Water, or the Travels of a Diamond" for the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard" stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems, and prose for the holidays, and some admirably illustrations of Oriental sports, with articles by Bonnemère, the Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hospital," a lively article by Charles A. Dunard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Hall," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday-school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Petersikas' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Sports and Pastimes of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be introduced papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, Dr. G. Weir Mitchell, Thomas Hughes, William Dean Howells, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer, with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which it will be likely to surpass in interest and usefulness all popular science recently given to the public.

"The Boy Scientists," by Prof. Tyndall, "Pen and Pencil, and Wild Land Wisdom, will be mingled in beauty in ST. NICHOLAS with the thoughts of the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal it in excellence of production or variety of the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throughout with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic adornments are both admirable."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS,

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vols. 1 and 2 has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), or I at any give their gift a complete set. These volumes contain more and better reading than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription, $13. Subscribe at any price-list with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under new series of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Countrings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "Life in Turkistan," Turkistan, etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, he Editor, whose story of "Seven-Oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of Our Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to his mother's apron-strings," who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, is laid on the southern coast of "That Land of Lorne," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a novel and dramatic interest which have been a surprise to her readers.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Bernard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Session of Factory in the November number, and "Food Lane, Sociable," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Hearing a Week for the Blind," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sporting Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest practical ideas of American housekeepers will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, is very long.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters from Dr. Holland, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more social and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn," the three serials of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Land of Lorne," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe at the nearest book-seller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth, in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting.

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given to all persons interested in the published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, and by posting up a copy of this notice at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will be eight pages by 56 inches of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the extinction of statesmanship, wisdom, and patriotism by the pretense, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will continue to be the champion of the people by the people, and for the people, as opposed to government by or for an intelligent and in the coming or recent century by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers,—a body now not far from one million of readers—with the most concise, accurate, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping which the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 50 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, printed in the Sunday edition, $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous price of the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At these prices, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. PULMONICE.

PULMONICE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMONICE CORDIAL.

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Cordial it could prescribe, after a dozen years spent in experimenting with it before it was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, greatly stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is antiotic and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious climate of New England.

PULMONICE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMONICE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedy at the wrong time, or be too slow in delay to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMONICE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmonice Cordial.

The Pulmonice Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as are well known to all educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Billiousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pains I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please forward me another package of my neighbors wish to try them. Inclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 20th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty-two, but I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall again regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk on every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all on which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in informing you of it, so I send you another $5 stamp-bill. My father has been troubled with rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had, for you, as I did not need them, and he has not been a free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, you, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to be benefited by a good thing. What I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twenty Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for more years with Neuralgia in the face and neck. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I have tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for the last two years, and have tried traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case incurable, and I thought of this; they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; I advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the persuasion of Mr. M. Mills, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sacred Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as these pills. I am recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind, and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. Macdonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A. Proc. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four other valuable departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel Engraving—usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address,

MENDUM, WHIDDEN & CO.,

FURNITURE — AND — UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a love for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in such it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Store, Office and Counting Room: in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO are solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a 70 page book bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething, greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT PROVED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRŒA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief; it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for "MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP," Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world. dtfeb15

MR. DENNIS SHEA, Sir: The Water Cement Pipe you laid for us over three years ago has proved perfectly satisfactory to us in every respect, and although a part of it froze up last winter, we can't see any injury done. The Pipe was laid by you in a thorough manner, and we believe it to be the best Water Pipe known, and if we lay any more shall surely lay the same, and you can rely on it, if alive and well. Yours, D. CUMMINGS & CO

COMBINED PAPERS-FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, which must be paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and one additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full, and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly spares a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

MR. TREAT'S SPEECH.

Concluded from last issue.

Now, my friends, brothers and sisters of the Portsmouth Reform Club, in ceasing to become your President do not imagine I do so because I am tired of being a temperance man, or that my connection with you has been unpleasant, for such is not the case; I have received nothing but kindness from each and every individual member, and while I may at times have seemed harsh and unkind, I trust you will all believe that I have ever had the interest of this club at heart; and I still propose, with the help of God, not only never to take a drink myself, but will in future (as I have in the past) endeavor to persuade all over whom I may have any influence to give up the fearful habit of drink, to sign the pledge and try to be the men their Creator intended they should be. In doing this I know that while I am benefitting them I am strengthening myself; and when I look about and see the number of men who have forsaken their cups and who to-day are good citizens—respected by all with whom they come in contact, I think it is almost impossible for any of us to feel sufficiently thankful for the work we have accomplished; and I for one feel more than recompensed for whatever trouble and labor I may have been put to. I can look back with pleasure and pride, knowing that during the Centennial year I not only drank no intoxicating drinks myself but helped to keep the temperance cause at a white heat the whole year through. We have had fairs, festivals, and picnics, no end to temperance talks—sometimes going so far as to have three meetings at different places in our city in one night, all going on at the same time; we have visited Reform Clubs in other places, and have actually participated in a Temperance Torch-light Procession?

When I review the work of the past year I wonder we have not all got tired and sick of even hearing the word temperance mentioned; and I was not much surprised to find that the old "Temple," which had witnessed so many successful meetings and where nearly one-half the names we have enrolled on our Pledge-book were signed, could stand the pressure no longer, but had to burn down before the year was out. It will not be out of place at this time for me to allude to a recent article published in the Boston Journal, written at Concord, claiming that the first movement looking to temperance reform in this State was started in Newport in 1873, by Mr. Osgood of Maine. In justice to our own city and to a brother member of this club, and in order that history may be set right, it is necessary for me to state that as early as September, 1872, Brother J. Horace Kent, who had reformed the June previous and was full of the desire to save those who were walking down the same road that he had just left,—with brothers Craig and Thorndike, under the auspices of the old Washingtonians, held their first meeting at the Temple, (Sept. 24, 1872,) at which time Bro. Kent made his first public remarks on temperance in this State; and I claim and no doubt he does that that meeting was the beginning of the real temperance reform movement, and from that spark has kindled the flame which has spread all over the State, and it is a matter of record that the first mutterings of the great temperance reform movement were the echoes of the earnest efforts of Bro. Kent in endeavoring to stir up the people to the terrible nature of the rum traffic in our city and vicinity.

No one need be told that intemperance is an evil; all admit the fact, even the man or woman (and some of our women, I am sorry to say, are addicted to the vice of rum drinking,) all that are slaves to the appetite for strong drink will acknowledge that no good has or ever can result from the use of intoxicating drink as a beverage. No class has been exempt from the injurious effects of its abuse. It has taken the judge from the bench and the lawyer from the bar, the preacher from the pulpit, and the physician from his practice, the statesman from the halls of legislation, the ruler from his high position, the clerk from his desk, and the merchant from his counting room; it has led the young man from high hopes and bright prospects, to the poor house, the prison and the grave; it costs more than the bread that feeds earth's teeming millions, and has produced more woe than war, pestilence, and famine. The counsels of God, and the advice of the wise and good of all times, have been against the excessive use of wine and strong drink, to prevent drunkenness and its concomitants, crime, poverty and misery. The point aimed at and the question to be solved is how can this object be attained. I do not believe it can be accomplished by legislation. You cannot legislate a drunkard into a sober man; you cannot make him a sober man by turning the rum out of his jug or taking the money out of his pocket. As long as the appetite and the desire to gratify it remains, he is not and will not be a temperance man; but convince this man that he is not only ruining himself but all who are in any way connected with him, and that if he keeps on there is no help for him, and at the same time get his confidence and make him believe that there is still hope, and if he will he can have the friends who have deserted him, and my word for it nine times out of ten you will be successful in reclaiming him.

Now a good many of my friends have said to me, "John, I do not blame you for leaving off drinking, but why did you join the temperance folks after doing so? I don't see how you can fellowship with them; they are altogether a different breed of cats from you; I should not think you could tolerate them and their doings; in short, I should not think you would be at home with them at all." Now, friends, that is just where you (and I used to) make a mistake. I once thought as you do, but on nearer acquaintance I find that they are just about the same as any of us, and I have enjoyed myself as much if not more the past year than in any previous year of my life; and I tell you, boys, just as it is, that the old-time idea that you can't have a good time without filling up with rum, is all moonshine, although we all know,—and it is of no use for our temperance friends who have never been there themselves to gainsay it,—that there is good fellowship, good feeling, good stories told, good singing, and a good time generally, over a social drink; but, my friends, as a general thing don't all hands get more or less full? and then the next morning with its headaches and heart-aches will more than balance the short-lived pleasure of the night before. Besides, my friends, you know as well as I do that you are contracting a habit which it is almost impossible to break yourself from. How many times after such a spree have you made up your minds it should be the last! but, my friends, so long as you indulge in just one drink you are liable to again get intoxicated, and the probabilities are that the very time you most desire to keep sober will be the time you will get the drunkest. How annoying and disgusting it must have been to our families and friends, to see us in such a condition, for how hateful it is to us to be compelled to listen to some friend or other (half drunk) who has buttonholed us and endeavors to tell us some great exploit of his, and we knowing that if it is not altogether a clear piece of imagination it is to say the least greatly exaggerated,—hav'n't we at the same time thought if we could only have had his picture taken that it would be the very best temperance lecture we could give him? Yet at the same time should you undertake to tell him of his condition he would hoot at the idea, and almost make you believe that it was yourself and not him that was intoxicated. Indeed, it is a hard matter to convince any one that he is drinking too much; most every one thinks he is only a moderate drinker until he finds himself without money, or credit, and commences to look round for his friends.

A few days after I signed the pledge one of the worst old drunkards in our city met me on High street and said, "Hallo, John; I see you have signed the pledge. I am mighty glad of it, for you was going to the devil fast." I said, "That's so, old fellow; hadn't you better follow suit and sign too?" He answered, "There's no use my signing, for I don't drink hardly anything; indeed, I don't think I was ever drunk in my life!" And at the same time he was two-thirds full. Is it any wonder the good book says wine is a mocker?

There are some who say that so-and-so have signed the pledge and joined the Reform Club, but will in a short time be drinking again just the same as ever. To such I would say that when they do you will all know it, for it would be just as impossible for one who has been an habitual drinker to leave off for any length of time and then to commence again, without getting drunk, as it would to blow up a powder magazine or fire off (as John B. Gough says) a cannon a little at a time; and when he does, instead of concealing the fact from his friends and the public, the probabilities are that he will get in the most conspicuous place possible and show himself to the worst advantage. Was ever drunkenness a concealed sin? Hav'n't all of us after a spree, no matter of how short duration, wondered how we could possibly get in such conspicuous places and so thoroughly advertise our shortcomings? However carefully we might conceal and cover up whatever else we might be guilty of, let us but just get drunk and all our friends, acquintances, and more especially our enemies, know all about it. In an old town like ours there are a great many old groceries,—you may call them with truth Centennial ones,—that are run to-day by men whose fathers and grandfathers carried on the same business in the same places, and always sold rum. Now you will find it just as hard a matter to convince these men that the selling of rum, the way they sell it and their fathers before them sold it, is wrong, as it would be to convince me that it was wrong for my father, grandfather and myself to sell gravestones for the drinkers of the aforesaid rum; and they will keep right on selling it just so long as the business is considered by a majority of the community half-way respectable.

At the commencement of these remarks I alluded to the coming anniversary of the formation of this club. It is particularly fitting that we should make this a jubilee occasion, and by song and dance rejoice, that we have lived one year free from the shackles of rum. It seems to me that out of a membership of nearly 2500 that we ought to have at least 1000 to participate with us in celebrating the anniversary of the 9th of January, 1876. I might speak at length here if I had time, and had not already sufficiently wearied your patience, of the unseen results of our temperance reform in the many homes made happy, of the many hearts made glad, of the children of drunken fathers made joyous and light-hearted; but I will leave all that for our historian's eloquence on Tuesday evening. It should not require any eloquent appeal to our friends and the public to come to our anniversary and join with us in our good time, and congratulate us and wish us another equally successful. All, whether on our side or not, are forced to acknowledge the advantage gained to public weal by a temperance reformation, and as this is the cause of our coming together next Tuesday night, it will be seen that every man, woman, and child, in this good old town of ours is alike interested, and therefore entitled to admission to our gathering—for 25 cents.

And if there are any here that have not signed our pledge we would be pleased to have them do so; it certainly can do you no harm; in fact I believe it is your only safeguard. In times past, often have I left off drinking and had a nice little temperance society of my own; but sooner or later some good jovial fellow would come along and I would forget the pledge I had made to myself, take a drink and think of my nice little society afterwards. I believe had I not signed the pledge in public, no matter how many resolutions I might have made without doing so, that long ere this I should have been drinking again just the same as ever; and when every day I see the want and suffering caused by the use of strong drink I feel I cannot be sufficiently thankful that I have escaped the snares of the demon of intemperance; and I repeat again, if there are any here that are drinking,—as you value your own happiness, waste not your life any longer. Take the advice of one who has been there and knows how it is himself; resolve to give up the habit, and that to-night. Do not fear the ridicule of your companions, for none can be friends to you who would not rejoice to see you assert your manhood, sign the pledge and live up to it. Wey will you hesitate? You see what the drinking of rum has brought and is still bringing others to; can you expect to keep drinking and not in the end become one of those drunkards which you now so thoroughly despise? Come, and join this temperance army; enrol your name on the roll of honor;—and let us all so live that when our summons comes to join the innumerable host that moves to the pale realms of shade, we may go not like a quarry slave at night scourged to his dungeon, but, sustained and soothed by an unfaltering trust, like one who wraps the drapery of his couch about him and lies down to pleasant dreams.

The Telegraph War.

The democratic House of Representatives, which was so red-hot with indignation over the refusal of a telegraph manager to obey an order to hand over to a democratic committee all the dispatches sent by certain persons as to instantly order the "recalcitrant" manager, Barnes, to be presented before the bar of the House for contempt, had a severe attack of caution when Barnes' defense was submitted, and referred the whole matter to the committee of which that great judicial mind, Proctor Knott, is chairman. One reason for this radical change of base may be found in the fifth clause of Barnes' defence, which is as follows:

"Fifth, that by a statute of Louisiana, in which State the witness resides, and where the production of the dispatches was and could be alone demanded, there is a statute imposing a penalty upon any telegraph operator for disclosing the contents of dispatches, and an imprisonment for second offence. This law of a State is it not competent for Congress, by a law signed by the President, to overcome, much less it is competent for a single house to nullify it. The House has no power to guarantee the witness immunity for violating a penal statute of the State where he resides, or to set aside a law of the State. If this could be done as to telegrams, it would be competent for Congress, even for one branch of it, to destroy all the attributes of State sovereignty."

This, it will be seen, put the question in such a form that unless the ex-confederate House was willing to rule that a State has no laws which Congress cannot set aside, Barnes must be allowed to go clear. So the whole matter was referred to the judiciary committee.

On the other hand, the Senate wanted certain telegrams from an Oregon operator; he refused to produce them; and the Senate, by a vote almost unanimous, (only Eaton and Barnum, of Connecticut, democrats, and Burnside of Rhode Island, republican, voting in the negative,) decides that he must do as required or be in contempt.

But there is a vast difference in the two cases. The demand of the House committee was for all dispatches sent for a period of four months, no particular dispatches being specified, and no offence it was expected to prove by them being mentioned; in short, it was a "drag-net" attempt to seize a lot of private papers, in hope to find in them something to in some way incriminate somebody. The Senate committee, on the contrary, only demanded certain specified telegrams, which they claimed would prove certain specified charges.

The general sentiment seems to be that the telegraph should be as sacred as the mail, and that a man's private papers are his own; but the courts can enforce the production of private papers which bear upon any case before them, and there is no reason why telegraphic communications should be any more sacred than written letters. The Senate demand for the Oregon telegrams was simply a call for specified papers bearing on a case then on trial; the House demand for the Louisiana telegrams was an attempt to seize all a man's papers, in the indefinite hope that something might be found in them on which to found a case for trial.

Reform.

The "cox of reform" suffers from the disclosures before the Senate investigating committee on the Oregon election, which point strongly to the direct use of money by Tilden's nephew and secretary, Pelton, to influence the action of Oregon officials. Cronin's $3000 is bad enough, but Col. Pelton's connection with the transfer of $8000 to Oregon at the time of the meeting of the Electoral College is worse. And the acknowledged fact that the ex-secretary of Jeff Davis, Col. Burton N. Harrison, an intimate friend of Pelton, Tilden and reform, has been "coaching" the Oregon bankers through whom the money was transmitted as to what evidence they should give before the committee, does not mend matters any. That Tilden's barrel of money was drawn upon to directly purchase the "one vote" needed to elect him is almost a certainty.

Florida.

The republican members of the Florida committee are very indignant at the statements of democratic correspondents that the committee will unanimously report that Tilden carried the State. They say, on the contrary, that they have overwhelming evidence that Hayes carried it, and that the democratic frauds were appalling.

Louisiana.

Packard and Nicholls were inaugurated Governors of Louisiana on Monday. There was no more serious disturbance than an attack by a reform mob on Lieut. Governor Antoine, with oyster shells and other missiles, and an assault by the same parties on Gov. Kellogg's coach. The National government will not at present recognize either State government, but will keep the peace between them until the courts decide whether shot-guns or ballots are the legal election agencies in Louisiana.

The Louisiana "White League" was mustered in as State militia by "Gov." Nicholls on Tuesday, to install Nicholls' new Supreme Court. The police stations and Court House were captured by them. No blood was spilled, but it is expected plenty will be.

New Hampshire Items.

Eugene Sweeney was drowned at Dover Saturday night, in attempting to cross the Cocheco river near the Weirs.

The New Hampshire Prohibitory State Convention will be held in Whitney's Hall, Elm street, Manchester, on Wednesday, Jan. 31st, at ten o'clock A. M. "All who favor the enforcement of the law for the suppression of intemperance, are invited to be present and participate."

Parties in search of Jonathan H. Whittier, of Stoddard, who is supposed to have perished in the storm while making his way home from Munsonville Friday night, Dec. 29, have found about forty rods from the house of his son-in-law, and nearly a mile from his own home, a tin pail which he carried when he left Munsonville.

Prof. Parker of Dartmouth and family sailed from New York for the Bermudas on Thursday.

Twenty-five New Hampshire men are enrolled in the State government of Massachusetts, viz.: 1 Councillor, 4 Senators, 19 Represenatives, and the Clerk of the House.

Regular Secretion Essential to Health.

The regular secretion and flow of the gastric juices, and of the bile which the use of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters promotes, are effects which conduce materially to the restoration of health, when the system is disordered. Food is not digested in the dyspeptic stomach because the gastric fluid is deficient, superabundant or vitiated;—the liver becomes congested and the bowels constipated because the supply of bile is inadequate or misdirected. The Bitters relieve all the evils and removes every ill consequence of non-assimilation and bilious irregularity. Furthermore, it stimulates the action of the kidneys, by which impurities are, so to speak, strained from the blood, and any tendency in the urinary organs to grow sluggish and disordered counteracted. Whether it be used as a means of regulating gastric or bilious secretion, and relieving the overloaded bowels, or to promote complete, and therefore healthful, urination, Hostetter's Bitters may be relied upon with confidence to accomplish the end in view.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater, with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, offers its 650 rooms on the "new specie basis," at $2.50 and $3.00 per day.

THE FAME OF GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP as a remedy for eruptions, sores, burns, pimples, blotches and rheumatic and gouty pains has spread far and wide. Physicians recommend it, and the demand for it constantly increases.

By the through lines of cars over the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad to Philadelphia, Washington, Richmond, and Danville, all trouble of transfer is obviated, while the equipments of the road are unsurpassed in elegance.

Read the testimonials of eminent citizens to the wonderful curative powers of Adamson's Balsam for the cure of racking coughs, colds and consumption. Price 25 cents.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weepiag-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Spasmed Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeniled, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless. I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollars worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.
E. FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But-children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and induces healthful sleep, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

"FEELING" FOR A NOMINATION.

Eds. Chronicle: The last Portsmouth Journal says: "In this county there appears to be a feeling that General Marston should receive the nomination, and many claim that in the present exigency, he is the strongest man that the republicans can nominate." If this be true, then are the republicans weak indeed; for as against Gen. Marston, Frank Jones would be quite likely to win again. We have seen no indications of any great "feeling" that Gen. Marston should receive a fourth nomination for Congress, except the report that he himself has been feeling about it that direction for some time. S. O. R.

From the 27th of December to the 9th of January not an offender was brought before the Police Court of this city. On the latter date a married woman was brought up, charged with a "'discussion" with another woman in which the latter had her nose scratched by the end of a stick.

WHAT'S IN A NAME?

A will was presented for probate in Court, Tuesday, witnessed by Moses H. Call. The directory was consulted and no such name could be found. The witness' signature so closely resembled the handwriting in the body of the will that an astute counsellor suggested that it must have been drawn by the late Moses H. Call; and thereupon his successor, Howe Call, Esq., came into Court and admitted that in 1873 he wrote his name that way, and the proof of the will became established.

THE LATE MR. C. H. DAVIS.

We have already mentioned the death, in Colorado, of Mr. Charles H. Davis, son of Rev. Franklin Davis, recently pastor at Newington, and now at Tamworth. The young man was formerly employed in this office, and was an industrious and pleasant companion. He has since found work in Boston and elsewhere, and about a year ago went to Colorado in hope of benefiting his health—he having weak lungs. Here he purchased the Mount Lincoln News, at Alma, Col., and was winning health and friends, when he was stricken down with typhoid fever. His paper, the News, bearing the name of "C. H. Davis, publisher and proprietor, comes to us this week in deep mourning, "that is, with the column rules and head rules inverted. Verily, the neatest tribute that can be paid to a departed type, whose own mortal form is at last imposed, is to turn upside down the very column rules he has always been so particular to keep right side up. Mr. Davis' age was 32 years.

RESOLUTIONS—S. M. B. A.

At a meeting of St. Mary's Benevolent Association, held on Jan. 7th, the following resolutions were unanimously adopted:

Whereas, It has pleased Almighty God, in His infinite wisdom, to call from our midst our late friend and brother member James Norton, and

Whereas, While humbly submitting to His divine will, we sincerely express our heartfelt sorrow for the loss of our esteemed friend and brother member, whose generosity and good qualities were well worthy of our highest respect and esteem: Therefore be it

Resolved, That in the death of JAMES NORTON, this Association has been deprived of one of its founders and best members, his family of a devoted husband and loving father, and his brother and sister of an affectionate brother.

Resolved, That we sincerely tender our heartfelt sympathy to the family, and relatives of the deceased in this the time of their bereavement.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be presented to the family of the deceased, and also be published in the Portsmouth daily papers and the Pilot.

SUPREME COURT.

The special verdict returned by the jury in the case of Bennett vs. Clough, was favorable to the plaintiff.

Case Picketing vs. Hatch, an action to recover money, was on trial Monday afternoon and Tuesday, and was given to the jury Tuesday afternoon, they returning a sealed verdict after being out about an hour.

JOTTINGS.

The sale of oil paintings at Wendell's auction store commences to-day.

Josh Billings' lecture will be the event of the season. At Franklin Hall, Wednesday evening.

Mr. John S. Treat, Ex-President of the Portsmouth Reform Club, does not set up for a finished scholar or an eloquent orator, but he knows what he is talking about when he speaks of the effects of intemperance, and we mistake much if his Sunday evening address before the Reform Club (of which he has been the efficient President for a year) is not appreciated by every one who may read it.

The first lecture in Mr. John Albee's course on English Literature was delivered Monday evening. In it Mr. Albee strongly protested against the pernicious character of what is termed modern literature, as seen in books and magazines written solely for selling; and he also severely denounced the publication of criticisms prepared in advance by authors and publishers. The lecture was interesting as well as instructive.

The Journal of the Telegraph says that there seems to be little doubt now of the speedy conclusion of a working arrangement of some nature between the Anglo-American and the Direct Cable companies, which will likely culminate in complete amalgamation as soon after as the necessary forms of law can be observed. There may be some "form of law" on this side of the Atlantic which will interfere with this arrangement, as the Direct Cable Company had to pledge themselves not to amalgamate with any other company before the right to land their cable on our coast was conceded.

Ship Simla, Salter, before reported wrecked at Barnegat, was sixty-two days out from Marseilles for New York, consigned to Salter & Livermore of the latter city, in ballast. She is double-decked, built of white oak, iron and copper fastened, and sheathed with yellow metal; is 169 feet long, 36 feet beam and 23 feet depth of hold, and of 1100 tons burden. She was classed at Liverpool in October, 1875.

Twelve persons died in Newington last year,—three men and nine women,—the oldest being nearly 86 years and the youngest 18 years. There were ten births and twelve marriages.

Fire Extinguisher Co. No. Six had an anniversary supper on Monday evening, and were not at all chary of inviting in their friends. A very pleasant evening was spent in quiet social enjoyment, clam chowder, coffee, fruit, etc., lending their soothing influence to the occasion. The officers of the company are—Richard Waldron, foreman; George Stringer, steward; Oliver Ham, clerk.

Total number of deaths, nineteen; number of males, seven; number of females, twelve.

Average age, 48 years, 2 months. Average age of males, 49 years, 5 months; average age of females, 47 years, 3 months.

Political.

The war meetings ordered by the Tilden bureau for the 8th of January, to frighten the republicans into allowing Tilden to usurpfruct the Presidency, seem to have aroused no "enthusiasm" at all—in fact, to have been terribly flat affairs, in spite of the efforts of the Tilden managers to make them imposing demonstrations. At the Indianapolis mass meeting, Dan. Voorhees presented a resolution, which was adopted, appointing a committe "to consider and devise the best method by which the people may exercise the right of petition to the Congress of the United States, whether in person or in writing." The mass meetings of Monday were only a preliminary to the proposed grand mass meeting of democrats at Washington on the day the Electoral vote is to be counted, to "exercise the right of petition in person" in such numbers as to overawe Congress. The scheme will not work, and we do not believe it will be attempted.

Henry Watterson, the ex-rebel colonel who runs the Louisville Courier-Journal and is a member of Congress, told the Washington mass meeting of democrats, Monday, that 100,000 men would be in Washington on the 14th of February "to see a fair count." Henry had better take care; he may get his neck stretched next time, instead of getting sent to Congress as a reward for his treason.

The democrats are very indignant over the insult put upon the democratic party by the Administration, in removing military stores from the Rock Island and Baton Rouge arsenals. What are they growling about? If they do not intend to inaugurate another civil war, what need they care where the munitions of war are stored? If they do intend to make another war, isn't it asking a little too much to demand that the Nation shall a second time furnish the arms, with which the attempt to destroy it is to be made?

Impromptu Tarbox, of Massachusetts, made a speech to the democratic mass meeting in Washington on Monday. The little fellow is determined to have Tilden or "wah."

News and Notes.

James G. Bennett and Frederick May on Monday fought three duels at Rouse's Point, in which Bennett was mortally wounded, slightly wounded and not injured at all; another one at St. Armands, just over the Canada line, in which Bennett was slightly wounded; a third in Vermont, result not stated; a fourth near Slaughter Station, (ominous name,) Delaware, in which nobody was hurt. Several States are yet to be heard from.

Steamer Seminole, from Savannah for Boston, ran into and sunk steamer Montgomery, from Havana for New York, on Sunday morning at half-past one o'clock, about thirty miles off Cape May. The night was very dark, with a dense fog. The Seminole struck the Montgomery on the starboard bow, cutting her down so that she sunk in about seven minutes. Nineteen of the Montgomery's company were saved, but nine seamen and four unknown Spanish passengers were drowned.

OIL PAINTINGS AT AUCTION.

Our citizens are invited to view the elegant collection of Oil Paintings from the Brooklyn Art Gallery, now on free exhibition at the rooms of H. F. Wendell, No. 55 State street. It is seldom if ever that our citizens have had the opportunity to view such a rare collection. Auction sale on Wednesday, Jan. 10th, at 11 o'clock A. M., and 2:30 and 7:30 P. M.

Bennett and May fought their little duel in Delaware, Monday. Bennett was unhurt, but May was slightly wounded. [Other accounts say neither was hurt.] "A reconciliation was effected." They are two fools.

Lippincott's Magazine
AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF
POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.
Announcement for 1877.
The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the Purest and Best Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present, in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, are of a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well-known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature.
In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless due in the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed on the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three-and-a-quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, architecture and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one of other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will consider himself the man in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend a period of its reading that shall enable a knowledge of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Notices of the Press.
The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence a point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "it is time to blame and needless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright as not brightest an at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.
Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

Daily Chronicle.

Cornelius Casey, a Western Union Telegraph messenger, only twelve years old, deserves a personal mention of the most cordial sort. He was employed in the office of the company at Brunswick, Ga., and during the yellow fever epidemic there in the Autumn, while all the local operators and those from abroad were struggling with the disease, he took charge of the office and kept up the communication, without which the town would have been entirely shut away from outer relief. He sent and received dispatches correctly, although he had had no instruction and nobody in the office was conscious that he had picked up a knowledge of the art. He has been formally thanked by resolution of the Relief Association of the town.

John McCall, Wild Bill's murderer, has been sentenced to be hanged on March 1. He will ask the Supreme Court of Nevada to reverse the decision on the ground that he was drunk.

John Quimby and Eustus Miller, indicted for grand larceny by the grand jury of the Supreme Judicial Court now in session at Biddeford, are railroad thieves, and carried on a systematic business of stealing from the Eastern railroad. They stole thousands of dollars worth of goods in original packages, and had several teams running through the country selling them.

It is announced that Sir Edw. Thornton, the present British Minister of the United States, is to replace Sir Henry G. Elliot at Constantinople.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (Eng.) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. It is its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for children ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard" stories, begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Natural History, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "Over the Clouds in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Petrykins' Christmas Tree," by Emeline F. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be introductory papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sandford B. Dole, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series on popular science recently given to the public.

"Across the Continent," by Thos. W. Knox; "Fairy Folk, and Wizard Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, from the Scribner's Monthly, to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choicest production of Scribner's press. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. * * * Their literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out his equal in our own country."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper St. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The handsome volumes, as a general literary case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive reading than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year. Two elegantly bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of Windsor," by Dean Stanley; by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven-oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. There is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—he drifts on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a profession.

Another serial, "His Excellentcame," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in March, is one of the most dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to Down and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Leaf Factory," in the November number, and "Tool Land, Zechdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Twenty Years Ago in Paris," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of stories, serials, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, that it may become a visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—25 cents a number.

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of ENELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting,

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make such objections as you may there have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication to be one of to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character as has already been familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for the low pretensions, imbecility, and knavery of the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraud in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will expose, clearly and boldly now and for ever, the conspiracy of scoundrels with the most official, complete, and trustworthy information at their disposal, which has cost for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.30 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers with the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to take the trouble to do the work of getting up clubs, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy for himself or herself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider the WEEKLY SUN the cheapest of newspapers published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

PULMECONE.

PULMECONE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL,

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative he could prescribe, after, dozens years spent in experimenting with it before he was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay, no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

—USE—!

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 23, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all that are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to be out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardships on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 16, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried every thing that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, you have claimed for them. I recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all my case with the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they had tried me on Sound and spined the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through his advertisement for it, M. Bishop, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sacrel Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Frederic Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address,

FURNITURE —AND— UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; is not a mere dry Weekly Recipe, Receipt, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Store, Office and Counting Room: in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS, In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York.

For Children Teething

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to your selves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT PROVED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it is the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

COMBINED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequalled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of all Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Departments continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate improved stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly gives in a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

No Intimidation--All Quiet in the Parishes.

A friend has handed us the following sketch to illustrate some of the testimony which has been introduced before the congressional committees to prove there was no intimidation practiced in the bulldozed parishes. He informs us the questions and answers which follow actually occurred before one of the sub-committees:

Now, Uncle Bob, tell me all you know that occured in your parish during the late canvass.

Bob—Yes, sir.

Well, what occurred in your parish of your own knowledge, or what occurred to you personally?"

Yes, sir. Well, you see, about two weeks before the election, three white men called at my house, just as I was taking supper. I knew them. One said to me, "Bob, where is your money," I said, "I ain't go no money? the year is been very hard; I had to live on chickens and eggs I raised." Then one says to me, "Look here, nigger, give up your money, or you are a dead nigger at once." Well, I went to my chest, where I had stored away $15 in silver half dollars; "brought them to them; they counted it, and told me that one of the half dollars was counterfeit, and if it would not pass for me to look out. I told them I would try and make it good. Then, when they left, I slept in the woods all night, fearing that another crowd might come and demand money.

What else occurred?

Yes, sir. About a week afore the election as I was driving a four-mule team with seed cotton to the ginhouse to be ginned, Mr. —— stopped me on the road and says, "Bob, how are you going to vote?" I said, "Boss, I really don't know. How are you going to vote?" He said, "I'm going to vote the democratic ticket—for General Nicholls and Mr. Tilden." I said, "Well, boss, I've been studying over the matter, and I think I'll vote that way myself." He said, "That's right, Bob, but I believe you are lying, you si—d rascal," and with that he knocked me off my mule and tried to drive the wagon over me. He remarked, "I give you this in advance."

What else happened?

Well, as I was coming home about seven o'clock from the ginhouse three white men stopped me and asked, "Bob, where have you been?" I said: "Gentlemen, I have been hauling cotton to Mr. ——'s ginhouse." One of them said to me: "You damn nigger, you can't fool us, you've been to a radical club." I said: "Gentlemen, how could I go to a club wid a four-mule team?" Then they told me to get down, which I did, and I tell you, sir, they whipped me from the word go.

Well, old man, what else occurred?

Well, sir, a few days after this some white men called on me to sign a paper that I would vote the democratic ticket. I told them that it was no use for me to sign, that I would vote without that. They told me that the reason they wanted me sign was that if any disturbance would happen I would be left out if my name was on their paper. I told them I would be glad, as it would be the first time I had been left out, if they did. Well, I signed the paper, then one of these men says to me, "Look here, nigger, who do you think you are bluffing? You damn rascal—you can't fool us. Come out here; we will give you a little to start on." Well, sir, I thought judgment had come, time them men got done with me—just look at my back?

They treated you rough, old man; now, tell me if any intimidation occurred in your parish?

Oh, no, sir; I didn't see anything of that kind since I been there.

Did you not just tell me that you ha been robbed, beaten several times, and forced to sign your name to vote the democratic ticket? What do you mean by saying there was no intimidation in your parish!

Boss, is that what you call intimidation? If so, I've been intimidated ever since the war, and expect to be intimidated when I go home. Yes, sir; I've been treated that way so often I thought slavery was not over. If you calls that intimidation, there's been a good deal of it going on ever since the war!—N. O. Republican.

A Substitute for Coal.

The proposition to supercede coal by the use of carbonic gas extracted from chalk has been subjected to a practical test, and with very satisfactory results. Extracted and applied to anthracite, it produces a strong flame and heat, and at so slow a rate of combustion that a good fire was maintained for twenty-nine hours in a furnace which heats a church, with only fifty-six pounds of anthracite, and an equal quantity of chalk mixed with it during that time. Through the aid of this remarkable property of chalk the lignite known as shale may be used for the production of an illuminating gas to an extent which will appear incredible. Even the coarsest clay of this similar formation is full of gas, and the experiments made in England, though imperfect, show that one ton of this substance, together with a due proportion of chalk, will yield as large an amount of gas as eight tons of ordinary coal. From these tests the inventor argues that London will be warmed and lighted at half the present cost; that smoke, dust and other nuisances might be avoided, the entire city be lighted with gas, and the kitchen fire, with some slight alteration in the grate might supply the house with light. Finally, lignite and anthracite beds would become valuable property, and chalk would be exported as coal is now.

Republican Conventions.

The Republican State Convention met at White's Opera Hall in Concord, on Wednesday, and organized by the choice of Hon. Austin F. Pike of Franklin as President, and one Vice President from each county; Secretaries, J. Horace Kent of Portsmouth, E. W. Fox of Milton, O. D. Hatch of Lancaster.

The candidates most prominently mentioned for the Gubernatorial nomination, previous to the meeting of the Convention, were Hon. B. F. Prescott of Epping, Hon. J. W. Johnson of Enfield, Major Evarts W. Farr of Littleton and Gen. Natt Head of Hooksett. The first ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes cast	674
Necessary for a choice	338
Charles Holman of Nashua had	1
Nathaniel White of Concord	10
Edward Spalding of Nashua	21
James W. Johnson of Enfield	68
Evarts W. Farr of Littleton	77
Zimri S. Wallingford of Dover	80
Natt Head of Hooksett	131
Benjamin F. Prescott of Epping	285

And there was no choice. A second ballot was taken with the following result:

Whole number of votes cast	646
Necessary for a choice	324
Nathaniel White	2
Edward Spalding	2
James W. Johnson	26
Evarts W. Farr	48
Zimri S. Wallingford	51
Natt Head	166
Benjamin F. Prescott	351

And BENJAMIN F. PRESCOTT was declared nominated, amid the cheers of the convention. On motion of John A. Carter, of Keene, the nomination was made unanimous. The convention then proceeded to vote for Railroad Commissioner, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	475
Necessary for a choice	237
Samuel J Tilden	1
George O. Locke	1
Frank G. Clark	91
Granville P. Conn of Concord	380

And GRANVILLE P. CONN was declared the nominee of the convention, the nomination being made unanimous. The utmost harmony prevailed, and the delegates were evidently animated only by a desire to select the best men.

The Third District Congressional Convention was held in Concord at half past two o'clock in the afternoon, and Hon. H. W. Blair of Plymouth, the present Representative from that District, was renominated by acclamation.

Louisiana.

The White League mustered in as State militia at New Orleans by "Governor" Nicholls numbers fully 5000 men, well drilled and armed, and largely officered by men who won distinction by fighting against the Union during the rebellion; in short, the White League is virtually a detachment of the late Confederate army.

The Nicholls party, having captured the police stations and Court House, beseiged the Packard party in the State House, refusing to allow provisions to be taken in. At 11 o'clock Tuesday night Gen. Auger, commanding the U. S. troops, ordered the Nicholls guard removed from around the State House, which was done.

Packard during the day telegraphed the President asking aid from the Government, and United States Marshal Pitkin also telegraphed concerning the state of affairs. The telegrams were read in a Cabinet meeting and the following telegram sent to Gen. Auger by the Secretary of War:

"Despatch just received from United States Marshal at New Orleans indicates that unauthorized armed bodies of men are organized and assembling in a manner calculated to threaten the peace and safety of the city. If this be so, notify the leaders of such organizations that they must desist on pain of coming into conflict with United States authority, sustained by the military power of the Government. Report at once the situation and your action, keeping in mind the fact that this order has no reference to the recognition of either of the claimants for the Governorship or either Legislature."

During the day Nicholls issued a proclamation urging the White Leaguers not to proceed to violence. The Nicholls legislature was in session and elected a man named Eustis to the United States Senate for the short term.

During the day the telegraph lines were cut off from the State House, and the inmates kept up communication with the outside world by means of army signals from the roof.

Several companies of United States troops arrived in New Orleans from Mobile late Tuesday night. On Wednesday, further details having been received at Washington, the Secretary of War telegraphed Gen. Auger as follows:

"It is reported that the State House in New Orleans is surrounded by a mob. If this is so, notify all persons to disperse and compel compliance with your order. It is the determination of the President to see that the legislature is not molested." When he has full knowledge of all the facts in the premises he will decide which should be recognized."

Gen. Auger accordingly ordered the Nicholls police and "militia" surrounding the State House to disperse.

News and Notes.

Gold was down to 105 3-4 in New York on Tuesday—lower than it has been before since 1862.

Fifty thousand dollars in bogus checks on the First National Bank of Lowell are on the market, and how much more is not known. The checks were passed in Alabama by "Massachusetts cotton buyers," and the persons who sold the cotton will probably be the losers.

Weston the walkist has again successfully failed in attempting to do something beyond his powers. His last exploit was to walk a less distance in six days than three opponents, each walking two days, could cover. He intended to beat them, but didn't.

Dr. Joseph G. Chinn, aged eighty, and Mrs. Catharine Lawson, aged nearly ninety, were recently married in Lexington, Ky. Five generations of the bride's descendants were present at the wedding.

In the Bennett-May prize-fight with pistols, May was hit in the right arm, near the shoulder, at the first fire. The duel was fought in Maryland, and there was no "reconciliation" at its close. Dr. Charles Phelps, Bennett's surgeon, was put in the Tombs in New York on Wednesday for refusing to testify before the grand jury.

Gravlin, who has been on trial for the murder of White at Woodstock, Vt., has been found guilty of murder in the first degree. He killed White with an axe, to prevent his testifying in a case against him, and hid his body in an old well.

A Belfast firm has received an order from the Sultan for 2500 tons of gun-barrels.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 8, 1877.

Cronin, to-day, bears an infinitesimal relation to the pompous fellow who a few weeks ago constituted himself the Electoral College of Oregon, holding the destinies of the Republic in his hand. He showed signs of distress and embarassment when he was interviewed by Mr. Morton's committee, and reluctantly confessed to the reception of a $3000 bribe for his part in the attempted cheat. This liberal provision, he said, was for paying his bills to and from Washington; but for a strictly temperate man, as the color and size of his nose proclaims him to be, confirmed by the testimony of truthful democrats, the allowance appears princely. He proved his right to the title of democrat by his assurances to his interlocutors that he paid no attention whatever to the right or propriety of his accepting the appointment as elector, but only its expediency. On the whole, democrats here feel that he has proved a very poor investment. Grover made his first appearance before the committee on the 6th, and is to be further interrogated. From the whole tenor of his testimony, it cannot be doubted that the fraud was concerted in New York and that Judge Hoadly was the party selected to work up the precedents; and unless he is able to bring forward something that will partially relieve his performance of its worst features, his party friends will have no occasion to tender him a reception, as it was generally understood they contemplated doing.

Senator Wright's speech in the Senate on Thursday upon his bill to establish a court for the trial of contested elections in the offices of President and Vice President, has attracted considerable attention; and while there is a great diversity of view as to just the best way of proceeding in the present crisis, the rebuke administered to Grover, Cronin and all the other actors, known or unknown in the attempted Oregon swindle, must have cut Grover, who listened to it, to the quick. It excited the displeasure of Senator Kelly, who felt called upon to alter his protest. It is amusing and significant to note how very careful some secrets are to preface any remarks they may make, relative to the Oregon business, by a statement to the effect that they must not be understood as endorsing Gov. Grover's views.

Mr. Morton appears to have struck a lead in his investigation of the Cronin-Grover case, which promises some very interesting data relative to the remittance of several thousand dollars from New York to Oregon in connection with Grover's action. The telegraph operator knowing to the circumstances refused to testify relative to it, and his case has been reported to the Senate. Mr. Barnes' case is still pending, and if it is decided against him the Oregon operator will be forced to answer.

Democrats here are feeling very sore towards Wade Hampton because of his letter to Governor Hayes. He is said to have been warned that a repetition of the offence will cost him all democratic support.

MAXWELL.

New Hampshire Items.

The residence of Conductor C. W. Sleeper at Rochester was entered Monday evening by more than 100 friends, who celebrated the crystal wedding of Mr. and Mrs. Sleeper in a fine style. The presents were numerous and costly.

Sixty-seven of the Dartmouth students are teaching schools in New Hampshire, Maine, Massachusetts, Connecticut, Vermont, Illinois and New York. Of Seniors there are 17, Juniors 23, Sophomores 18, Freshmen 3, and of other departments six.

Daniel R. Smith, Esq., whose funeral took place on Wednesday at South Newmarket, was a man greatly esteemed in that neighborhood. In February of 1827 he was married to Miss Deborah B. Wiggin, and they had prepared to celebrate their golden wedding next month. Mr. Smith, in the war of 1812, was in the military service, stationed at Portsmouth.

Hon. Thomas J. Melvin, formerly President of the New Hampshire Senate and a prominent business man of Chester, is now lying in a very critical condition from rupture of the blood vessels of the nose, causing severe attacks of nose-bleed.

An adjourned term of the Circuit Court of the United States will be held at Exeter on Friday.

Snow is four feet deep on a level in the vicinity of Manchester.

Daniel B. Donovan, of Concord, has been appointed by the Court junior counsel for LaPage, the murderer of Josie Langmaid at Pembroke, who is to have his second trial the 20th of February.

There is said to be a probability of three tickets being put in the field in Manchester this year. The "citizens' ticket" will be supported by the temperance men.

"Capt. McNally's rangers have, in the last few months, captured or killed about seventy-five of the worst desperadoes in Western Texas." Yet Texas has been under democratic rule for three or four years past, and we are assured by the northern democratic press that in Southern States where the democracy rules as good order prevails and life and property are as safe as in any Northern State. How orderly a State is in which "about seventy-five of the worst desperadoes" in one section of it can be killed in a few months and make no especial stir, may be imagined.

Disease Grows Apace,

Like an ill wind, and cannot be mastered too early. What is a trifling attack of sickness to-day may, if unattended to, become a serious case in a week. Small ailments should be nipped in the bud before they blossom into full blown maladies. If this advice were attended to, many a heavy bill for medical attendance might be saved. When the liver is disordered, the stomach out, the bowels obstructed, or the nerves disturbed, resort should at once be had to that supreme remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a few doses of which will restore healthy action and put the system in perfect order. It is a wise precaution to have this unexceptionable preventive in the house, since it checks, with unrivalled promptitude, disorders which breed others far more dangerous, and in its latest developments are themselves often fatal.

The Nashua Gazette (democratic) says the republicans of New Hampshire are selling their nominations to the highest bidder. Taut means that the republicans of this State have got to fight the democratic barrel of money next March, for the New Hampshire democracy always preface a campaign of bribery by charging the republicans with intending to do likewise.

A careful canvass of the opinions of the republican Senators respecting the Presidential election discloses the fact that there is not one of them but what is solid in the opinion that Hayes was fairly and honestly elected, and that he will be peaceably inaugurated.—Washington Republican.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure rheumatism and lameness, restore flesh, sinew and muscle, ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weak Spines, Contracted Cords, Scaled Breasts, Distorted Joints and Strained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. Too first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

"Without Doubt the Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

THE Liniment has cured more sprained, Sweeney, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fellock wench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS.—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it a valuable great value. Please send me $100 dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses.

MILES SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Lumbermen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have no more use for Castoria than children for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Fever, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never pipes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces healthy sleep, of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

JOTTINGS.

The ice now being harvested by the Portsmouth Ice Company, from the pond near Peverley Hill, is fifteen inches in thickness, unusually solid and hard, and so beautifully clear that the bottom of the pond is easily discernable through it and the underlying water. The quality of this ice is considered superior to any ever housed by the company.

The Ward One democrats have chosen delegates as follows to the various conventions: State — Winthrop Hoyt, Henry R. Stoddard, Charles W. Stimson, Samuel Rowe, Benjamin Canney, William Ward; Congressional and Councillor — John S. Trout, Marcellus Eldredge, Daniel J. Ayers, George Lane, Franklin Ayers, Justin V. Hanscom; County—Samuel P. Treadwell, Solomon Seymour, Charles H. Garrett, Isaac Furber, Frank H. Sewey, John Moulton; Senatorial—James F. Jenness, Samuel Spinney, John W. Young, John Mooney, Ozro J. Hobbs, Edmund Clark, Jr.

The Annual Meeting of the Woman's Temperance League will be held this (Thursday) afternoon at three o'clock. All are invited.

There was a very large attendance at the anniversary celebration of the Portsmouth Reform Club, in Franklin Hall, Tuesday evening. The record of the Club's work and progress was read by Mr. Thorndike, and dancing wound up the evening. Clam chowder and other refreshments were served during the evening.

Don't fail to attend the sale of elegant oil paintings this day at 11 o'clock, at 58 State street.

The banking institutions held their annual meetings on Tuesday and elected officers for the ensuing year as follow: New Hampshire Bank—James P. Bartlett, President; Lafayette S. Butler, Cashier. Mechanics and Traders Bank—John Sise, President; George W. Butler, Cashier. First National Bank—William H. Y. Hackett, President; Edward P. Kimball, Cashier, Rockingham Bank—John J. Pickering, President; John P. Hart, Cashier. Portsmouth Trust and Guarantee Company—Ezra H. Winchester, President; Jeremiah F. Hall, Vice President; George L. Treadwell, Treasurer.

From the report of Mr. B. F. Thorndike, Secretary of the Reform Club, read at the anniversary on Tuesday evening, we learn that the number of meetings held by the Club during the year was about 120. The amount paid for the use of public halls during the year was $400 dollars; paid to speakers from abroad, $210; collected at the meetings, $1507.66; amount of donations received toward establishing headquarters and a reading-room for the club, about $300, very little of this latter amount being available, as it was deposited in the unfortunate Rockingham Ten Cents Savings Bank. The number of persons who have signed the pledge is 2448. The largest number signing on one evening was on the evening of February 10, when 155 names were added to the pledge. The secretary reported that "of the total number of signers not more than 200 have fallen back, but the most remarkable thing is that those who were the 'hardest cases' have kept the pledge inviolate."

Rev. Charles A. Holbrook will be instituted rector of St. John's church at 11 o'clock this forenoon. Bishop Niles of New Hampshire and Bishop Neadey of Maine will officiate.

The Times of Wednesday says: "It was from the 21st of December (not the 27th as the CHRONICLE stated this morning) to the 9th of January that Justice Batchelder's court remained in statu quo." No; our item was correct.* The city police had no case before the court from the 21st of December to the 9th of January, but Sheriff Kent had a prisoner there on Dec. 27th, which case of course does not appear on the police station records.

The Light Artillery have one of their enjoyable assemblies at Mechanics' Hall this evening.

PENCILLINGS.

In the organ loft of St. John's church, written in pencil on the paint, is the following: "Charles Sherburne, James G. Salter, Abel Harris, Rogers Thorn, Tunis D. Wendell, Charles Sweetser, Thomas Bishop; Ringing bell one to time 4th July 1840 12 o'clock and Farmer Wiggin." Mr. Wiggin was then the sexton of the church, and the young men whose names are inscribed with his were a volunteer band of assistants at the noon ringing of the bell on the day specified. On the following Thanksgiving Day, in November, 1840, all these young men went to sea in the ship "Goodwin," owned by Cones & Goodwin and commanded by Capt. John S. Davis. It was her first voyage, and she sailed from Pray's wharf, the day being cold and the first night at sea a terribly severe one, with a heavy fall of snow. Mr. Samuel Young, of York, Me., was mate, and Mr. Charles Abbott second mate. It is believed that they are all now dead. Mr. Henry S. Hartshorn sailed in the "Goodwin" on the same voyage, and is believed to be the only one of all those named now living. X.

Political.

It was telegraphed from New York over the country on Thursday last that the suit of Boody vs. Tilden (in the matter of the Chicago and Northwestern "pool") was dropped from the calendar on the failure of the plaintiff to appear. The fact was that an ice-gorge in the East river prevented Boody's counsel from getting to New York till afternoon, and the defendant's counsel took advantage of the opportunity to take a snap-judgment by default. The case will be immediately put on the calendar again; and the judgment will do the defendant no good, except that it gave Tilden a chance to get a paragraph favorable to himself into the newspapers, which was, probably, the object of the procedure. Tilden's chief defence in this suit, it will be remembered, was the plea of the statute of limitations. Nevertheless, he has, since putting in his answer, made a proposition for settlement, which was rejected as unsatisfactory. The country may well congratulate itself that such a man is not likely to be its President.

The "sage of Springfield," whose political ideas are a shade more remote than can be found elsewhere in New England markets, defends the "nepotism" of the new democratic Governors of Connecticut and New York in appointing their respective sons to the place of Executive Secretary. What was an unpardonable sin in Grant, becomes pure politics in Hubbard and Robinson.—Hartford Post.

In the matter of the Electoral count they are slowly reaching a conclusion, in Washington, that the Times printed to them six weeks ago, to-wit: that the two Houses have a right to regulate the count by previous legislation; but that, if they are unable to agree upon any method, the power and duties of the count rest solely with the President of the Senate. That was the final outcome of the long controversy in 1800-1801, and it will, we think, be the final outcome of this.—Cincinnati Times.

A report from Charleston, S. C., says, that unfortunately for the success of the Hampton government, the so-called taxpayers who make loud proffers of taxes in advance, are not taxpayers at all, and out of a meeting of some 600 people there, Saturday, $150 were collected.

How a Fine Was Paid.

The escape of schooner Baracoa, Capt. McClintock, of Boothbay, Me., from the port of Ponce, Porto Rico, where she was detained and guarded by a Spanish gunboat to secure the payment of a fine imposed on her by the Spanish authorities for an alleged error in her manifest, has been already reported. The error was merely technical, but the fine imposed was $4300 in gold, and the schooner was to be sold in default of payment. Mr. Preston, United States Consular Agent at Ponce, in a private letter to the Consul at Porto Rico, says that the schooner must have slipped her chains, and at 11.30 o'clock A. M. went off like a bird, and before the astonished and dumb-struck officials on the gunboat could collect their senses. She got all sail set and was three miles away in the briefest possible time. As she went off she sprung her luff and saluted the port with her colors, three times three. The gunboat was sent in chase as soon as she could get up steam, but the schooner was out of sight in a very short time. The Consul states that the case of the Baracoa is a particularly hard one, the cargo having been delivered in strict accordance with the bills of lading, the mistake in the manifest having been made by the broker or the shippers, and the vessel should not have been fined. The captain being a part owner of the schooner, which was a new vessel, and not being able to stand the loss, probably determined to take the responsibility and clear off with her to save her from being seized. She has now no papers, of course, and her owners may have serious trouble in getting new ones.

A New Year's Present Declined.

At about eight o'clock on the evening of the 9th, Mr. C. C. Chase, of Manchester, heard steps at his back door, and on opening the door discovered a bundle on the doorstep, and a woman closely veiled rapidly disappearing out of the yard. He immediately gave chase and caught the woman. Returning, and examining the bundle, he found it to be a basket containing a male child, alive and thirteen weeks old, which the woman intended to desert. Mr. Chase took her and the child to the City Marshal's office, when Assistant Marshal Lanza investigated the case, which is shrouded in mystery. The facts, as given by the woman who attempted to desert the child, are as follows: She said its parents are school children, the father being seventeen years of age, and the mother sixteen, and that they belong to most respectable families of high standing in a city in southern New Hampshire, which place she refused to state. A long conversation, however, led to the inference that it is Dover or Portsmouth, probably the former place. The woman refused to state the names of the parents. She also said it was understood that Mr. Chase would adopt a child, so she took the opportunity to leave him one. In the basket was a note, the substance of which was that if the child was not wanted the parties who left it would take it away next morning, and requesting that it should be taken good care of. The woman's name is withheld. It is said that she reached Manchester on the Portsmouth evening train, was accompanied by a young lady, secured rooms in Prout's Block. Who the parents are, or who are the grandparents of the illegitimate child was not learned; it was stated, however, that they are connected with families of high standing, the heads of which are said to be interested in manufacturing in Dover. The child is quite pretty and very nicely dressed.

"Made New Again."

ST. CATHERINE'S, Ont., July 31, 1876.
R. V. PIERCE, M. D.:

I have used your Favorite Prescription, Golden Medical Discovery and Pleasant Purgative Pellets, for the last three months and find myself — (what shall I say) — "made new again," are the only words that express it. I was reduced to a skeleton, could not walk across the floor without fainting, could keep nothing in the shape of food on my stomach. Myself and friends had given up all hope, my immediate death seemed certain. I can never be too thankful to those who recommended your medicines, for I now live (to the surprise of everybody) and am able to do my own work. I desire to make this statement in order that those suffering may not despair until they have given your remedies a trial.

Yours respectfully,
MRS. WM. D. RYCKMAN.

Lippincott's Magazine
AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF
POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.
Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no effort will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increasing supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Elevated Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and sound views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well-known writers. A large portion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the usual attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,
"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"
by George MacDonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this news is only needed to prepare for a kindred writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which is free, with the December part, will be included gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of
SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,
by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on
ART AND ART MATTERS,
by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The Five Hyacinths," etc., and

4. Illustrated sketches of Travel, entitled
PICTURES FROM SPAIN,
by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's interesting and Parisian
PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,
will be continued through the year.

6. THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,
will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

During the year will appear a number of hitherto unpublished short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, Mexico, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this period-l (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading, matter is given it is natural to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness the choicest essays and reviews, a due serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its page are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Moloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Aubrey de Vere, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the gem of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make still cheaper offer, viz.: to one postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10; or, With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American journals, a subscriber will at least cost be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, who send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend a period of a subscription to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best authors can be secured so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Portsmouth 6 Per Cent. Bonds.

PROPOSALS will be received until January 15, 1877, for forty-one (41) one thousand dollars of Portsmouth, N. H., six per cent. bonds, or any part thereof payable in 20 years from January 1, 1877, with coupons attached. Interest will semi-annually. Bonds in denominations of $1000, $500, and $200. The right is reserved to reject any bids.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained to its quarter century, and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is value to living and useless to perish." The lustre of its long-acquired reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the gold-n hue of young fity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never admitted. —Chicago Journal.

Harper's Weekly.
ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, instructive, and better illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its general characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of dispassionate discussion, and the pictorial illustrations are often a corps d'armee of argument no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is no less learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are triumphant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

—What is gossip? Putting two and two together and making five of them.

—Why is a chicken like a farmer? Because both delight in a full crop.

—Is a resident of Texas a Texan or a Texian? That is the little question which the Texas papers are now wrangling over. The pronunciation of the name of the hero of San Jacinto is regarded as settled forever, Out of Texas it may be House-ton, but in Texas it is always Hewston. The most troublesome letter in American nomenclature is the "a." If mass meetings could be held in St. Louis and Louisville, or a special election be held, and the question be determined whether the "a" in those names shall be sounded or not, it would be in the language of the stump, a previous boon to the whole commonwealth.

—In San Francisco recently, two men engaged in an angry dispute on the street, during which one shook his fist beneath the other's nose, and appeared to have worked himself into a fever heat of passion. Just then a little girl, almost an infant, who had been going by, but stopped, apparently paralyzed by the man's fury, moved quite close to him, and looking up into his face, inquired, "What make you so cross, mister?" It was so unexpected that the man experienced a complete revolution of feeling. Gradually his countenance cleared, and finally was lit up with a smile as he patted the little peacemaker's head, and remarked as he moved away, ignoring the other man altogether, "I guess you're right, little pet."

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young in either one of the Atlantic."—Southampton (Eng.) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its special serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., in its bewildering variety of real and good, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a book which is just the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of boarding interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Numbe .

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively articles, poems and pictures for the holidays, and those astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Garnard, splendidly illustrated; "Jack the Giant-Killer," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Little or Big Folks," by Lucy Larcom; "Santa Claus's Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, Jo . G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDo ald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Orne Jewett, Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "the Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series on popular science recently given to the public.

Jan. 1 to Jan. 31 Lightning, Wind and Frost, and Winter Weather, will be amongst the Seventeen, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be compared to it. It is chosen production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or verse, are furnished with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper Sr. NICHOLAS (Its Rival) the price of the next volume will be reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive matter than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $3 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Sent free with the number of subscribers, postpaid, money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (nearly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Dean M-Cellan; "Adventures About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Monaco," by Eugene Schuyler; "A Month in Asiatic Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, his Editor, whose story of "Seven-Oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of fate,—with a fortune, but without a profession.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will be on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson. Mr. Aldrich's Binnet's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mr. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, vintage improvements, and well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scotch Loaf Factory," in the November number, and "Wool Long Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "The Poor Sailor-keeper," "Hayfaring a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by famous writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of Aldrichs humorists will appear from month to month. The list of short stories, of biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from Boston, by Mr. Welford.

I mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, and nobler, more practical, more helpful to the home and influences, and a more welcome visitor never before in homes of refinement and

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting,

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in said County, the last Wednesday in December next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication to be one week at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,

WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for low politics, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by fraud in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to help the workers,—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy account of current events, and will make it for their purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who live by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the people by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed in individual subscriptions without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to add to our subscription list, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of publishing are barely repaid, and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England!

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMONCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE

Buchman's Pulmonicine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Three Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 23, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all my friends recommend to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $2.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and my two February 22d or third wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I came home three years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shall continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 15, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done a friend of mine, I take pleasure in giving testimony, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his head, or do a day's work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been an hour from the Rheumatism for twenty years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, you claim they are, and I can recommend to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I have tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for the last two winters, but have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case incurable, and I was at times so that they could hardly do anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they had suffered me so long and spread the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the agency of Rev. M. M. Mallin, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic C ndition Pills. I immediately sent by you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that I am a cured man, and will make my cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrill Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Brown, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving (usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address,

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Shop, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

Portsmouth Chronicle.

A Modern Pirate.

It is usual to speak and think of pirates as we do of the ichthyosaurus and the dodo, as though they belonged to a past age, and have no living prototype. Yet the San Francisco Chronicle tells a story of a fearless sea-dog, who, although he may not carry the skull and cross bones at his peak, is yet as bold a buccaneer as ever scuttled a vessel or made its crew walk a plank. He is a Captain Hayes, and he has during the last few years been cruising about in the South Seas, seeking whom he might devour. He left San Francisco about six weeks ago on the schooner Lotus with about $5,000 in cargo and money. He came there from Manila in April or May last, where he had been imprisoned for nine months in consequence of various marine robbing adventures in which he had engaged, having been shipped as a disabled seaman by the American Consul. It is thought he has gone to Samoa, where it is predicted he will soon make himself felt in some way.

Captain Hayes is a veritable pirate, having carried on his nefarious business in Chinese waters as well as in the South Seas, and he is spoken of as a very desperate and daring man, who may again be at some of his old tricks. One of his favorite "games" was to run among the different islands in the South Seas, and get the natives to come on board his vessel under the pretence of wanting to trade with them. He would then set sail and carry his kidnapped passengers to some remote island where so-called labor trade was still carried on, collecting the usual passage money, and a very unusual bonus. Another of his pastimes was to come to some island and order the natives to supply him with whatever he wanted, under threats that he would shell their villages if not promptly obeyed. There is hardly a crime which the fellow has not committed, and certainly none which he is not capable of committing. Captain Hayes is described as rather prepossessing in appearance, tall, stout and gentlemanly looking, a little over fifty years of age, with white hair and beard, and a frank and open countenance, the very opposite of the sea-rover as generally portrayed in a marine melodrama on the stage.

An Odd Blunder.

Recently a Massachusetts police officer had occasion to take a prisoner to the Ipswich House of Correction. Arriving in Ipswich, and on his way to the jail, he was accosted in the street by a woman who asked to be directed to the County House, as the institution is locally denominated. He politely told her he was going directly there and that she might follow along with him, an offer that was accepted. Arriving at the jailer's office, the officer directed attention to the prisoner under his charge, and did not notice that the woman was called into another room. Here she was delivered into the charge of the matron, who supposed her to be also a prisoner, and not a person desiring to see a friend in confinement, as was actually the case. She was coolly informed that the rules of the prison required all persons to take a bath, and much to her amazement she was conducted without ceremony to the bath-room. In vain did she protest; a bath she was commanded to take and a bath she took. A curious custom, she thought, to insist on with visitors, but objecting did no good, and as her mission was not explained she was put through the prescribed course and a prison suit handed her to replace her own. At this point the real truth became known, and with mingled feelings of regret at the occurrence and amusement at the absurdity of the blunder, explanations followed with apologies.

New Use for Kerosene.

Persons afflicted with baldness will be glad to hear that a luxuriant growth of hair may be produced by a very simple process, described by Consul Stevens in his commercial report on Nicolaef for the past year, which has just been issued. In the summer of 1875 Consul Stevens' attention was drawn to several cases of baldness among bullocks, cows and oxen, and the loss of manes and tails among horses. A former servant of the Consul's, prematurely bald, whose duty it was to trim lamps, had a habit of wiping his petroleum-besmeared hands in the scanty locks which remained to him; and after three months of lamp-trimming experience, his dirty habit procured for him a much finer head of glossy, black hair than he ever possessed before in his recollection. Struck by this remarkable occurrence, Consul Stevens tried the remedy on two retriever spaniels that had become suddenly bald, with wonderful success. His experience, therefore, induced him to suggest it to the owner of several black cattle and horses affected as above stated, and, while it stayed the spread of the disease among animals in the same sheds and stables, it effected a quick and radical cure on the animals attacked. The petroleum should be of the most refined American qualitie, rubbed in vigorously and quickly with the palm of the hand, and applied at intervals of three days, six or seven times in all, except in the case of horses' tails and manes, when more applications may be requisite. This news will create a profound sensation in hairdressing circles, particularly among wig and chignon makers.—Pall Mall Gazette.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Congressional—District No. 1—At City Hall, Dover, Wednesday, January 17th, at 11 o'clock A. M.

Councillor—District No. 1—At Court House, Portsmouth, Friday, Jan. 19, at 11 A. M.

Senatorial—District No. 1—At Court House, Portsmouth, Tuesday, Jan 30, at 11 A. M.

County—At Town Hall, Exeter, Tuesday, Jan. 16, at 10 A. M.

The Candidate.

The State Convention, Wednesday, did its work well, and selected a candidate for Governor who will honorably fill the place now occupied by Gov. Cheney. Mr. Prescott, now Secretary of State, is thoroughly conversant with the affairs of the commonwealth, is an able man, and an upright and honorable as well as popular and honored citizen. He has a very large circle of warm personal friends, and will poll the full strength of the party. If the minor nominations throughout the State are made with the same wisdom, the "barrel of money" the republicans are threatened with will have to be increased to two barrels, and even then the democrats will stand no chance.

"Governor" Nicholls' Position.

Most people are aware that there are two "State governments" now in full blast in Louisiana, but some of our readers may not be aware on what grounds "Gov." Nicholls claims to be Governor and to have legal authority to appoint a Supreme Court and police, seize State arms and call out the White League as State militia. Well, his sole authority is "Governor" McEnery. Two years ago there was a somewhat similar squabble in Louisiana, between the Kellogg and McEnery factions; both factions agreed to submit the controversy to the arbitrament of a committee of the National House of Representatives, and both parties agreed to stand by the decision of that committee—known as the Wheeler compromise—by which Kellogg was confirmed as Governor and democrats who had been kept out of the Legislature were admitted. Nothing more was heard of McEnery as "Governor" until the Returning Board declared the Hayes electors and the republican State ticket elected; whereupon "Governor" McEnery immediately appointed himself a Returning Board—thereby distancing Electoral College Cronin—canvassed the vote of the State from unofficial returns, and on that canvass certified the Tilden electors and declared Nicholls elected Governor. Then "Gov." McEnery administered the oath of office to "Gov." Nicholls; and under these circumstances "Gov." Nicholls proceeded to set up a Supreme Court, call out a division of the Confederate army and overthrow the legitimate government of the State. There is no exaggeration in this; it is a simple statement of facts. Ex-Gov. Kellogg and those under him acted in conformity to the law (whether justly or otherwise, or whether the law itself is just or otherwise, we cannot say) in declaring Packard elected and inducting him into office; McEnery acted entirely outside the law, having no more legal authority to canvass the vote of the State (even had he possessed the official returns, which he did not) and declare whom he pleased elected, than Tilden or Abe Hewitt; and "Gov." Nicholls' action is simply that of a revolutionist who seeks to Mexicanize one of the United States by proving the bullet mightier than the ballot as a Governor maker.

Plain Speaking.

On taking the chair at the republican State convention, Hon. Austin F. Pike made a calm and patriotic speech, in which, while announcing the absolute confidence of the republicans in Hayes' election, he said the party will submit to whatever decision may be reached by the proper authorities. We quote as follows:

"The Presidential election has passed. The electoral colleges of all the States have voted, and yet we do not know who is to be the President-elect. We believe that our worthy candidate is duly elected, but we do not know that he is so to be declared. The right to determine this all-important question is now vested, not in the party, the conventions or the people, but in the President of the Senate, the Senate and the House of Representatives. All the usages of the Government are in that direction. Its correct determination is of more importance than that Governor Hayes should be President. Its decision is, or should be, beyond party. No trick, no fraud, no illegal procedure should be a stepping-stone to the Presidency of this Republic. Righteousness alone should be the pathway to this high office. If we want the right to prevail our duty is plain. Bluster, threats of violence and all denunciation should cease. If we want those who have the right to decide to be calm, we must be calm ourselves. If we want our Senators and Representatives to raise themselves above party into the pure light of impartial, just determination we must make no partisan appeals to them. Deeply as all republicans would regret to see a graduate of Tammany inaugurated as President; sorrowful as it would be to see the Presidential chair occupied by one who had reached it through the influence of the most dangerous political elements and by the aid of the most anti-republican religious power in the nation, it had better a thousand times be than that right and law should be disregarded. The one could be but temporary; the other all time could not efface. No true lover of his country could think of following the example of those, who sixteen years ago, tried to destroy it because an unsatisfactory President had been elected."

Hon. Henry W. Blair, in addressing the Third District convention after his renomination for Congress, said:

"The democratic party through the State Committee tender to us in substance Tilden or revolution. We tender to them as we propose to ourselves, submission to the Constitution and the laws, or to the severest penalties of their violation. When the crisis comes upon that issue, it must be and it will be sternly met. And it is a source of unfading confidence and hope that God has placed at the head of our affairs a chief magistrate, firm, sagacious, resolute, incorruptible and patriotic, who has done as much for his country and mankind as any man in the land who ever drew the sword or controlled the helm of the ship of State. Patriotic men of all parties,—and the masses of all parties are patriotic,—must be cool because there is danger. But this is no case for compromise. There is nothing to compromise. Either Hayes or Tilden is elected—and one of them should be inaugurated, and will be inaugurated, while the other must not be inaugurated because, as his opponent has been, so he has not been, and cannot be, elected, either by the people or by the House. I firmly believe that justice and the unimpeached and unimpeachable forms of law now demonstrate the election of Mr. Hayes; and I see nothing but successful treason, which is revolution, that can prevent his triumphant succession to the Presidency of the United States. To elect a President, and then to compromise away his inauguration under threats of revolution or of violence, or for plunder or from any cause whatever, is the destruction of constitutional government. It is the establishment of a precedent which will abolish elections—because, in all future time, fraud and violence before, coupled with noise and threatening after, the decision of the ballot-box, will have only to follow that precedent in order to reverse the decrees of the people at the polls whenever it is more pleasant to threaten rebellion than to acquiesce in the result of the laws of the land."

Didn't Say So.

The democratic papers—doubtless in pursuance of orders from "the Bureau" to keep on trying to bull-dose the public—are daily announcing, with a great flourish of trumpets, that some prominent republican is "satisfied Tilden has been honestly elected and will be inaugurated." Hon. John Lynch, of Maine, has been thus "honored" by the Tilden press, and though he has written two letters indignantly denying the allegation, the democratic papers still keep up the lie—at least, none of them publish his letter or retract the slander.

And now Mr. Justice Field, of the United States Supreme Court, indignantly denies that he expressed the opinion recently that Gov. Tilden had been fairly elected President, as the Tilden papers have claimed he did; but they will never tell their readers of his denial.

Then the republican members of the Florida committee of Congressmen were quoted as having "come to the conclusion that Tilden had clearly carried the vote of Florida;" whereas they not only declare in the strongest terms that both Hayes and Stearns, (the republican candidate for Governor) carried Florida, but they cite new instances of fraud and intimidation on the part of the democrats.

Also it has been reported that Representative Purnam of Florida (republican) has prepared a speech attacking the Returning Board for declaring Hayes elected. This, too, is a Tilden invention. Purnam's speech will attack the Returning Board, but it will attack it for having permitted the Court to interfere and dictate the return of the election of Drew (dem.) for Governor instead of Stearns, who was rightfully chosen.

News and Notes.

The revenue cutter Gallatin, before reported ashore on Cape Cod, came off unharmed on the 10th.

Steamer City of Fitchburg ran into schooner Martha A., Wednesday morning, between Point Judith and Block Island, and cut her bow off. The schooner was towed into Newport, R. I., full of water. No one hurt.

The funeral of the ten Shinnecock Indians lost in the Circassian took place in the Indian Village on Long Island, Wednesday afternoon. The attendance was very large, not only of Indians but of whites from the surrounding country. This finishes up nearly all the able-bodied men of a once powerful Long Island tribe.

At New London, Conn., on Wednesday, four men attempted to rob the Savings-Bank, at noon. One of them was chased by a watchman, but was getting away, when a boy threw himself down in front of him, tripped him, and he was caught. He had burglars' tools on him, and gives the name of Charles Brown. The other thieves escaped.

Now is the time to swear off your bad habits! If you smoke too much, resolve to do with a great deal less tobacco than you now use; if you smoke merely a little, stop it altogether. And so with your drinking habits, the only difference being that you had better drop them entirely, whether you be a single glass or a daily bottle man. If you swear, resolve to abandon the bad practice. If you sleep late in the morning, resolve to get up earlier. If you stay out all hours of the night, get in earlier. If you are dishonest, resolve to reform; if you are merely "sharp," don't do it any more. If you don't pay your debts, surprise everybody by paying them. If your wife worries you, try to put up with it. Make all the good resolutions you can think of, and keep as many of them as you can.—St. John Globe.

Disease Grows Apace,

Like an ill wind, and cannot be mastered too early. What is a trifling attack of sickness to-day may, if unattended to, become a serious case in a week. Small ailments should be nipped in the bud before they blossom into full blown maladies. If this advice were attended to, many a heavy bill for medical attendance might be avoided. When the liver is disordered, the stomach foul, the bowels obstructed, or the nerves disturbed, resort should at once be had to that supreme remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a few doses of which will restore healthy action and put the system in perfect order. It is a wise precaution to keep this incomparable preventive in the house, since it checks, with unrivalled promptitude, disorders which breed others far more dangerous, and in their latest developments are themselves often fatal.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes and all the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Sketches, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. TALLMAN, HURST and CHASE, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and Republican course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Spasmed Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. Little more Liniment will pay a reward."

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

THE Liniment has cured many Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates far strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it."

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses.

RILEY SICKLES,
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame neck of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It cures gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the receipt of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

E. G. PIERCE, Jr., P. M.

SUPREME COURT.

Upon the coming in of the Court Wednesday afternoon, Hon. Wm. H. Y. Hackett addressed the Court, announcing the death of the late Hon. Daniel M. Christie, and paying a high tribute to his ability, learning and fidelity as the recognized head of the New Hampshire Bar. Mr. Hackett concluded by offering the following resolution of the Rockingham Bar:

Resolved, That in the death of Daniel M. Christie the Bar loses a member who ranked among the ablest and most successful of those lawyers who have conferred distinction upon the New Hampshire Bar; one whose fame and fortune were earned by a life of most exemplary industry and unstained honor.

Albert R. Hatch followed in an address eulogistic of the learning, character and integrity of the deceased.

Chief Justice Doe, who studied his profession with Mr. Christie, responded in a feeling manner, and ordered the resolution of the Bar to be entered on the records of the Court.

The case of Nellie M. Locke vs. Wm. P. Blake (both of Raymond) was commenced on Wednesday evening and concluded Thursday at noon. This was a suit brought for the purpose of recovering money on two promissory notes to the value of nearly $2000, which the defendant claimed were given without any consideration and therefore null and void in law. The claim of the plaintiff (Miss Locke) was to the effect that the said notes were given in good faith in exchange for other notes of defendant formerly held by other parties, which plaintiff had brought up at the solicitation of Blake to save him from being "turned out of house and home," as he expressed it. The case was given to the jury at quarter to twelve o'clock, and after being out about twenty minutes they returned a verdict for the plaintiff.

Case of Theo. H. Deverson vs. the Eastern Railroad Company was next commenced, is now on trial and will probably continue this week. The jurors not drawn on this case were discharged.

REFORM CLUB MEETING.

At the annual meeting of the Temperance Reform Club at Mechanics' Hall on Wednesday evening, the following officers were elected for the ensuing three months:

President—James Janvrin; Vice Presidents—John S. Treat, John Pierce, Richard Lehey, Frank Thurston, Geo. W. Randall, Reuben Rand; Chaplain—Charles T. Wiggin; Secretary—Eugene A. Sanborn; Treasurer—John W. Wilson; Finance Committee—Alfred W. Haven, Sewall W. Webber, Charles Hatch; Ticket Seller—John W. Wilson; Ticket Takers—James Buckley, Robert Brewer; Standard Bearer—James Eaton; Hall Janitor—Morris Tobey; Missionary—Wm. A. Loyne; Corresponding Secretary—B. F. Thorndike.

Mr. James Janvrin, the newly-elected President, in accepting the chair made a very creditable speech, in which he thanked the Club for its confidence in him, and expressed the hope that harmony and prosperity might attend the interests of the organization during his administration.

Mr. Janvrin is a man of considerable experience in life, having passed its meridian, and will therefore bring to his new office the benefits resulting from such a fact. Moreover, he has been a very hard drinker, and having drank deeply of the bitterness arising from a free indulgence in alcoholic stimulants, he is (like his predecessor) prepared to sympathize with many of his brethren of the Club, and extend the hand of fellowship to the weak and fallen. He has been a successful mechanic (being a joiner by trade) and is well and favorably known in Portsmouth as a contractor and master builder. Mr. Janvrin is also a gentleman of more than ordinary intellectual ability, and will without doubt prove to be a worthy successor of Mr. Treat.

The following resolution was introduced and unanimously adopted:

Resolved—That a vote of thanks be extended to the retiring President, John S. Treat, for the able and impartial manner in which he has performed the delicate and difficult duties of a presiding officer for the year just closed.

The next meeting of the Club, Sunday evening, Jan. 14, will be addressed by a distinguished female temperance orator, Miss Ellen Mulloy, who has been successfully laboring in the West. This is her first appearance in New England, and consequently she is a stranger among us; but, as we have hinted, she comes strongly endorsed by those among whom she has recently mingled. Believing that she will draw a large crowd, the Reform Club have decided to hold the meeting at Franklin Hall, at five cents admission.

JOTTINGS.

At the annual meeting of the St. Mary's Benevolent Association, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, W. H. Palmer; Vice President, P. O. Keefe; Secretary, D. J. Lynch; Treasurer, Wm. Morrissey; Book Keeper, D. J. Hurley.

At the regular quarterly meeting of the Portsmouth Firemen's Relief Association, held Wednesday evening, Jan. 10th, at the Common Council room, the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: Willard Sears, President; George Jackson, Vice President; William S. Hazel, Secretary; Samuel S. Fletcher, Treasurer.

Gospel meetings will be held every evening next week in the chapel of Faith Home, at 7:30 P. M.; object, the outpouring of the Holy Spirit and a preparation for Christian labor in our city. Friends are invited. "Come, for all things are now ready."

The Rochester correspondent of the Dover Democrat says; "Hon. Thos. E. O. Marvin, of the Portsmouth Society P. C. A., has visited Rochester to make arrangements for the formation of a society. He has the cooperation of the leading men of the town. With shame we confess it, we never saw or heard of such cruelty practiced toward animals as has been allowed here."

The Rockingham County members of the new Republican State Committee are as follows: James M. Lovering, Winthrop N. Dow, of Exeter; Elbridge G. Pierce, Jr., John Pender, of Portsmouth; John D. Ordway of Hampstead, B. W. Hoyt of Epping. Daniel Hall and Andrew H. Young are the Dover members of the Strafford County representation on the committee.

The Eastern Railroad Corporation seems to be followed by ill luck, first in one form and then in another. The latest story in this regard is a report, said to be on good authority, that the corporation is out $6000 or more by the loss or theft of a package containing that amount of money entrusted to a certain party to be delivered to the Treasurer of the road. It has not turned up, neither has the messenger, as report has it, and the probability is that a handsome sum will have to be charged to the "top" side of the ledger.

Ship Simla, of this port, ashore five miles south of Barnegat, was whole and dry when heard from early Tuesday afternoon. An agent of the Boston Underwriters has gone to the wreck to superintend getting her off.

The closing auction sale of Oil Paintings at No. 58 State street (H. F. Wendell's) takes place at 11 o'clock to-day.

The democrats of Ward Two on Wednesday evening chose delegates as follows to the several conventions: State—Albert R. Hatch, Frank W. Hilton, George E. Hodgdon, Daniel J. Leavitt, Calvin Page, Geo. B. French, Howe Call, Samuel Barrett; Congressional and Councillor—Benjamin J. Parker, Charles H. Downs, Daniel P. Pendexter, William D. Varrell, Andrew P. Wendell, John Dixon, Richard T. Call, J. Albert Sanborn; County—Michael R. Perkins, Charles H. Gould, Thomas E. Call, Jr., John Conlon, Albert Hayes, Albert W. Emery, George W. Rundlett, William J. Fraser; Senatorial—George E. Marden, Frank W. Rand, James McClure, Thomas J. Sheldon, William L. Stackpole, Elbridge C. Marden, Ebenezer G. Adams, Robert H. Hall.

The "code of honor" is a wonderful thing, entirely beyond the comprehension of people who can boast the possession only of the sense wrongfully called "common," and are not "chivalry" or "first families." A man may be a notorious drunkard and debauchee without harming his precious "honor," and may pay court to a respectable woman without insulting her or calling down vengeance from her relatives; but when his drunkenness results in the match being broken off—that is an insult, and the brother who does not consider his sister insulted by the attentions of a drunkard resents the insult offered through his withdrawal, and the "honor" which drunkenness could not harm is so wounded by a blow that blood only can poultice out the bruise.

The South Millpond has presented a lively scene for several days past, numerous teams having utilized it as a trotting park. On Thursday afternoon there was raving there, the "track" being in excellent condition. There were no less than thirty two teams on the pond at one time, and there were many spirited trials of speed. Mr. Marcellus Eldredge's bay mare "Lady Franklin" was the fastest one on the pond.

James Pettigrew, a man arrested in this city on Thursday, acknowledged having escaped from the Massachusetts State Prison on the 8th of November last, and that he has seven years yet to serve.

Rev. Charles A. Holbrook was instituted rector of St. John's church on Thursday, the exercises commencing at eleven o'clock A. M. and closing at two in the afternoon. Bishop Niles of New Hampshire and Bishop Neadey of Maine officiated, seven Episcopal clergymen from other cities being present. There was singing by the choir, and communion at the close of the ceremonies. The church was crowded.

Political.

If the republican candidate for Governor in New Hampshire is all our enthusiastic correspondent paints him, his is a happy selection. And from what we hear of him from other sources we should say that our correspondent has not used the brush too lavishly.—Boston Globe.

The Brooklyn Argus (democrat) says the immense democratic gathering in the Western States resulted in no danger to the peace of the country, but the whiskey bulb indicates an area of drought throughout the entire region.

J. M. D. Frost, the ineligible Tilden elector of Missouri, has been summoned before the Senate committee on the election.

The democratic Nashua Gazette, in its report of a late meeting of the republican State committee announced positively that the republican nomination for Governor was sold to the highest bidder, and that Mr. James W. Johnson of Enfield, recently a partner of Frank Jones, of this city, in the beer brewing business, was the purchaser. The voting in the State convention proved (what was well known before) that the Gazette man lied, after the manner of democratic papers in general and the Nashua Gazette in particular when speaking of republicans or their doings.

OIL PAINTINGS AT AUCTION.

The closing sale of the elegant collection of OIL PAINTINGS at the store of H. F. Wendell, 58 State street, takes place this day at 11 o'clock. It is but simple justice to the Brooklyn Art Gallery to say that the pictures (and the gilded frames that surround them) would adorn and beautify the homes of our most refined citizens, and we trust they will all rally to the sale and secure at least one of the beautiful examples.

—Charleston—social gathering—unloaded pistol—went off and killed a young lady—deep gloom—no one to blame.

Lippincott's Magazine

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF
POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while it may record with, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and accurate views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talent, tried and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated; the pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a steadily interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDEN BY AN AND LIFE,

by Prof. William Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Miss Lucy H. Hooper's investigations at Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6. THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

BOSTON, October 16, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it still gives a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Huxley, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Ruskin, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other lesser in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The only Reliable Picture (as a year), is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to one postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthly, a subscriber will at small cost be put in new library, of the choicest reading.

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George Macdonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend a period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Portsmouth 6 Per Cent. Bonds.

PROPOSALS will be received until January 15, 1877, for forty-four thousand dollars of Portsmouth, N. H., six per cent. Bonds, or any part thereof payable in 20 years from January 1, 1877, with coupons attached. Interest paid semi-annually. Bonds in denominations of $1000, $500, and $200. The right is reserved to reject any or all bids.

Notices of the Press.

"The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that position where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is one to which men and women resort." The centre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

"Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

The True Code of Honor.

A man cannot afford to be unfaithful under any circumstances; a man cannot afford to be mean at any time; a man cannot afford to do less than his best at all times, and under all circumstances. No matter how unjustly you are treated, you cannot, for your own sake, afford to see anything but your better self, nor render anything but your better services. You cannot afford to lie to a liar; you cannot afford to be mean to a mean man; you cannot afford to do other than uprightly with any man, no matter what exigencies may exist between him and you. No man can afford to be any but a true man, living in his higher nature and acting with his highest consideration.

—No man is too poor to keep the golden rule.

—A curious little scientific toy has made its appearance. It consists of a tiny windmill enclosed in a glass bulb of about three inches diameter, which revolves without any apparent motive power. The secret of the mystery is that the four vanes of the mill are blackened on one side and coated with bright foil on the other. The bright side reflects the radiant heat of the surrounding objects and the dark side absorbs it. The enclosing bulb being partially exhausted of air, the difference of temperature creates a sufficient current to cause the vanes to move. The contrivance is called Crooke's radiometer, from an erroneous idea which its inventor had that its motion was due to the force of rays of light.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a story for Christmas, and a Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations in Oriental Life, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of St. Nicholas, with its superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "Two Friends in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Petersham Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be contributed to Harper's Monthly, by William Cullen Bryant, Jean G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sandford Fleming, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also,

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series on popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can pretend to equal this choice production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The illustrations are artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out this as equal in our country periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $4 each. The three volumes, in fine sets and library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. Those volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year—25 cents a number. Bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, to the head of the undersigned:

SCRIBNER & Co., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit, to appear in the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "A Month in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," and who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will turn on the complicated affairs of a case in Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have come as a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Leaf Factory," in the November number, and "Tom Lane, Roodside," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "He'penny a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated article will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American industry will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches is very attractive.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters from Illinois, from London, by Mr. Weldon.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn," the opening numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—25 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting,

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon, and to make any objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be served upon this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, the last publication thereof to be at least one week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WOODBURY M. DURGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will one week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people, and for the people, as opposed to government by frauds in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers,—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most earnest, lively, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless. It will continue to endeavor to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.90 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during the year at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous price for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. Every subscriber will be given to "friends chosen to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At such rates (five cents, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid), and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident that people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. BUCHMAN'S PULMONCIE CORDIAL

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

USE —

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the luxurious trying climate of New England!

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS on February 8th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was quite sick some years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the people, they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I induced him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, you claim for them. Yours respectfully, D. B. Gove.

Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them a dose myself, but recommend them to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for nights on end, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; that I must go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. A. M. Mullins, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately wrote to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are Critical Editorials on Contemporaneous Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and beautiful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

FURNITURE AND UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world. Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries, of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, St. Ay, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. To assess of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS, To communication with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full direction for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to your selves and health to your infants.

We have put up and sold MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP for children teething for many years, and can say in all sincerity and truth of it what we have never been able to say of any other article, that we never have seen a single instance, TO EFFECT A CURE, when properly used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

Be sure and call for

"MRS. WINSLOW'S SOOTHING SYRUP,"

Having the fac-simile of "CURTIS & PERKINS" on the outside wrapper.

COMBINED PAPERS-FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the order of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, practical and scientific, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and continues to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly prints in a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

Washing Oil-Cloths.

There is much complaint of the very poor quality of the oil-cloths of the present time. "Why, my mother's oil-cloths never lost color or wore out, but mine are so bad that I am quite discouraged."

Let us ask a simple question or two. Who washed your mother's oil-cloths, and how? Who takes care of yours, and do you know how it is done?

We imagine we see where the trouble lies in part, for we confess we do not think oil-cloths are as durable as those made fifteen or twenty years ago. In "olden times," whoever did the hard work, the mistress took good care that no soap, no hot water or scrub brush was ever used on her oil-cloths, and she also saw to it that when washed they were wiped perfectly dry. If soap or hot water is used, or if left wet, they soon crack and the paint peels off.

An Irish servant girl cannot imagine that she can clean an oil-cloth without a pail of strong, hot suds and a good, stiff scrub-brush. Then she puts to her work with all the strength of a good, strong, healthy arm, and smiles with great satisfaction at the result of her labors. No doubt for a few moments, till the cloth is dry, the colors stand out clearly and the floor looks fresh and brilliant; but it takes but a few of such scrubbings to destroy the best oil-cloth ever made.

But take a pail of clean, soft, lukewarm water, a nice soft piece of flannel, and wash your oil-cloths, wipe them very dry, so that not a drop of water is left to soak in and rot the fabric, and you will have little cause to complain that your oil-cloth does not last as long as your mother's did. Also, in your selection of oil-cloth, make a careful selection of good quality. After washing and drying, if cloth is wiping out with a dish of skim milk and water, and then the cloth is rubbed over with this, and then again well dried, the freshness and lustre of the cloth will well repay the extra labor.

Meteorological.

This meteorological observation business for the benefit of Old Probabilities (that was what he used to be called, before his name was changed by the Supreme Court to "Indications,") is getting to be a stupendous thing. The navy has been drawn into the work now, and all the commanding officers of naval stations and war vessels are hereafter to take daily observations at a specified hour, agreed on by the late meteorological congress in Vienna. They will be for simultaneous by observations all the nations engaged in the international exchange. The hour fixed is 7:35 A. M. Washington mean time. The United States has now 100 land stations, and the nations with which it exchanges [illegible] The number of stations in each, are as follows: [illegible] 10; Austria, 13; Belgium, 1; Great Britain, 58; Denmark, 6; France, 48; Germany, 28; Greece, 1; Italy, 30; Japan, 1; the Netherlands, 4; Norway, 4; Portugal, 4; Russia, 27; Spain, 2; Sweden, 6; Switzerland, 2; Turkey, 5; Canada, 28.

—One night last week Mrs. Doda Emens, M. D., physician and surgeon, lectured at Syracuse, "to women only," and when she was about half through, the shrill alarm was given, "Man in the room!" and Mrs. Mary Walker, M. D., was clutched by the indignant females and bounced out of the room, and down stairs, with her hat jammed down over her eyes, and her claw-hammer coat ripped from collar to bustle. The Doctor picked herself up and called a hack, and as she climbed in she was heard to remark, "Another victim of circumstantial evidence."

—Forbearance is the key note of married life. There can be no great discord so long as the husband forgears and the wife forbears. Now this cannot be attained without some labor. Results are approached gradually in character, as they are in making a sand hill. It is grain upon grain, bo veiful upon shovelful, and load upon load that makes the mound to rise. So results of character come gradually. An act at this time, a deed yesterday, a word this morning, a word to-morrow morning, a cross answer to-day, repeated a month hence, and so on, until at last we find there is a ridge between you and your wife's or husband's affection.—Murray.

—A few days after the election an employe on the Lake Shore & Michigan Southern Railroad told a lady with whom he was boarding, on Vinegar Hill, that he could get twenty-eight roosters for five cents. The landlady was at first disposed to disbelieve her boarder, but finally was persuaded that the thing could be done. Twenty-eight roosters for five cents ain't to be sneezed at, especially with a woman that boards railroaders. The landlady gave the boarder five cents to buy the roosters with, and ordered her boy, aged eighteen, to immediately repair the chicken-coop. The railroader went to Wilson's news depot, purchased a Pittsburgh Post containing twenty-eight roosters crowing for Tilden, and unbeknown to the landlady, nailed the paper in the chicken-coop. He then went into the house and informed the inhabitants there that he had fulfilled his contract. Rumor says that the railroader is hunting a new boarding place, and that his most intimate friends wouldn't know him. He has the appearance of a man who had been run over by a very long freight train.—Youngstown (O.) Vindicator.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Congressional—District No. 1—At City Hall, Dover, Wednesday, January 17th, at 11 o'clock A. M.

Councilor—District No. 1—At Court House, Portsmouth, Friday, Jan. 19, at 11 A. M.

Senatorial—District No. 1—At Court House, Portsmouth, Tuesday, Jan 30, at 11 A. M.

County—At Town Hall, Exeter, Tuesday, Jan. 16, at 10 A. M.

Our Candidates.

BENJAMIN F. PRESCOTT, the next Governor of New Hampshire, was born in Epping, February 26, 1833. He fitted for Dartmouth College at Phillips Academy in Exeter. He studied law, and was admitted to the Bar in Concord in 1859. He practiced law until 1861, when he became associate editor of the Independent Democrat, which position he filled until 1866. He was afterwards special agent of the Treasury department, and was given the general superintendence of various branches of customs. He has several times been elected to the office of Secretary of State, which position he now fills. MR. PRESCOTT has had long and varied connection with public affairs, which renders him admirably qualified for the office to which he has been nominated, while his fine presence, his ripe scholarship, his high executive ability and spotless character will render him an honor to the State and a tower of strength to the party which has nominated him.

GRANVILLE P. CONN, the candidate for Railroad Commissioner, was born in Hillsborough, Jan. 24, 1832. He was educated at the Norwich, Vt., Military University for a civil engineer, but on account of ill health relinquished his profession, studied medicine, and graduated at the Dartmouth Medical College in 1855. Afterward he located at Randolph, Vt., and was Surgeon to the Twelfth Vermont Volunteers, in the late war. Dr. Conn has resided for [illegible] years in Concord, where he [illegible] his profession [illegible] and has [illegible] and the [illegible] has [illegible] his time to [illegible]

The Platform

Adopted by the republican State convention is as follows:

The republicans of New Hampshire in Convention assembled declare:

First—The first and paramount allegiance of the citizen is to the Constitution and Government of the United States.

Second—That the United States Government is in turn bound to maintain and protect each and every citizen in the full, free and open exercise of every right and privilege appertaining to citizenship.

Third—That we view with alarm and indignation the attempt by the democratic party South, upheld and countenanced by its Northern wings, to rob the freedom of the [illegible] intimidation, violence and [illegible]

Fourth—We [illegible] democrats as disloyal and [illegible] and we [illegible] the utmost [illegible] of indignation, the conduct of the late Presidential canvass by the democrats of the South, in that they undertook by processes that shame our civilization to nullify indirectly the constitutional amendments adopted to conserve the fruits of the victory over rebellion, and to overturn the late majority against them in several of the Southern States.

Fifth—We also condemn the attitude of the democratic leaders, especially of the North, since the Presidential election in striving to secure by illegal and violent means an advantage which does not belong to them, and by such methods to "count in" Samuel J. Tilden as President of the United States. The incendiary appeals and rebellious threats of Northern democratic orators and newspapers are such as to put to shame any declarations that have thus far emanated from Southern sources, and are deserving of the severest censure and condemnation.

Sixth—We tender our earnest sympathy and pledge our undivided support to the republican members of Congress and to the national authorities in their endeavors to conserve the peace, maintain the laws, and preserve the precedents so essential to the safety and perpetuity of republican government.

Seventh—It is a matter of special congratulation that in this trying hour of our Nation's experience we have in the Presidential chair the great christian and distinguished civilian, Ulysses S. Grant. Invincible upon the field of battle, he has proved himself equally courageous and wise in administering the affairs of Government, and upon his patriotism, honesty and courage the hearts of the land rely now, as ever, with unchanging faith and confidence.

Eighth—In Rutherford B. Hayes we have a man who is not only fully identified with the great principles of the republican party and imbued with a proud appreciation of its past services, and who is fitted by ability and experience to point affairs for the succeeding years. (The high office of President of the United States, but one, also, where [illegible] administration of the Government in the interests of all the people, upon principles of honesty, economy, intelligence and fidelity [illegible] needs.

Ninth—We welcome all evidences of a disposition on the part of those lately in arms against the Government to accept in good faith and entirely the reconstruction [illegible] of the nation, and we pledge to all such [illegible] in their efforts [illegible] of their [illegible] the hands of [illegible] and fellow-citizens.

Tenth—[illegible] currency is an essential factor in the prosperity of any government, we reiterate our conviction that the nation's promise to resume specie payments in 1879 ought to be fulfilled to the end that the varied industries and interests of the land may regain their normal condition, and be freed from the uncertainties and dangers that inevitably attend a fluctuating medium of exchange.

Eleventh—The while we hail with pleasure and God speed to every instrumentality intended to promote the cause of temperance, such as State Alliances, Temperance Unions, Reform Clubs, etc., we believe that our duty does not end here, but that the cause demands the faithful execution of the laws, and that the time has fully come when temperance should be pressed all along the line, to the end that the last victim to the debasing habit of strong drink should be rescued.

Twelvth—That in our nominee for Governor and our candidate for Railroad Commissioner, we have a ticket that can confidently be recommended to the voters of the State as worthy of their support, and we hereby pledge them a triumphant election.

New Hampshire Items.

At a meeting of the Manchester city government Nathan P. Kolder was elected City Clerk; H. R. Chamberlain, City Treasurer; David Perkins, Captain of the Night Watch; A. S. Wallace, Fourth Assistant Engineer of the Fire Department; and John Barker, City Messenger.

Gilbert Small's blacksmith shop in Amherst was burned Thursday; loss $1000; no insurance.

Hildreth's building in Suncook was burned Thursday; loss $2500; insurance $1800.

Hamblet, Simpson & Co.'s woolen mill in North Salem was partially burned on Wednesday; loss about $13,000; insurance $63,000.

Miss Helen Locke, of Bristol, a beautiful and accomplished girl of eighteen, daughter of R. B. Locke of the Bristol Flour Mills, died Thursday night from the effects of inhaling gas from red fire, burned during a tableau at a public meeting given about six weeks since by the Lodies' Literary Society connected with the New Hampshire Conference Seminary at Tilton.

News and Notes.

Schooners Joseph F. Allen and Ellen Frances, both of Gloucester, have been given up by their owners as lost. Their crews numbered fourteen men.

Two sleeping cars on the Virginia Midland Railroad were thrown from the track Thursday morning while passing Kettle Run bridge, forty miles from Washington. One of the cars went fifty feet down an embankment and the other down forty-five feet into the creek. Both cars were destroyed, but no persons were killed, though many were severely and one fatally injured.

In addition to the disasters already reported to the Gloucester fishing fleet, there are a number of vessels missing and now given up for lost. The Gettysburg and David A. Burnham have been previously reported as abandoned, with part of their crews saved, and the Ellen Frances as missing, and probably lost with her crew of four men. Schooners Franklin D. Pinkham, with a crew of ten men; D. E. Woodbury, ten men; John S. Tyler, ten men; W. T. Marchant, twelve men; and J. F. Huntress, ten men,—are all entirely given up by their owners, and are no doubt lost with all on board. Besides these the Robert Emmett, Howard Siegle and Modura B. Jerrold are long overdue, and though there is still a slight hope that they may yet return, the hope is but a slight one. Should they not return there will be some eighty or ninety names to add to the long list of Gloucester fishermen who have lost their lives during the present season, and at the best the loss of life in the vessels named will amount to fifty.

The first book printed in Palestine has just made its appearance. It has been well known that one of the Rothschilds and Sir Moses Montefiore have had a number of schools, a hospital, and other philanthropic institutions for the Jews of Palestine, built on Mount Sion at Jerusalem. They have recently added a printing [illegible] from the presses of which a work treating of the Holy Land has been issued.

Marshall P. Fessenden, of Brewster, Mass., first officer of the bark New Light of Baltimore, Md., was fatally stabbed by a seaman on board the vessel on the night of November 4th, 1876. On that night it was Fessenden's watch on deck, and they were tacking ship. He had some words with one of the sailors, which led to blows, and immediately the seaman, Collins by name, drew his knife and dealt him six rapid blows, inflicting mortal wounds, two of which, on the body, were sufficient to have killed him. Fessenden lived three days, dying November 7th, at midnight.

The Spanish ladies use the following preparation to give polished whiteness to the neck and arms: Infuse wheat bran, well sifted, for four hours in white wine vinegar; add to it five yolks of eggs and two grains of ambergris, and distil the whole. It should be carefully corked for twelve or fifteen years, when it will be fit for use. It is an excellent preparation to give a lustre to the skin.

Travellers bound for Boston will do well to stop at the old "American House" of that city, where all the comforts of a quiet first class hotel, and all the luxuries of the season at table, may be enjoyed at popular prices.

Why does not the Senatorial Committee summon Mr. John R. McLean, the proprietor of the Cincinnati Enquirer, and investigate him as to the disposition of money from the Third National Bank of New York? There was a very interesting check received here on the day before the October election. The amount was $7,000. This sum was payable to the order of and paid to Mr. John R. McLean, and secured the election of two democratic Congressmen, one of them the heroic reformer and economist, Banning. Why seek information beyond the Rocky Mountains, where rolls the Oregon, when there are such fat pastures smiling at home? —Cincinnati Commercial.

Disease Grows Apace,

Like an ill wind, and cause be mastered too early. What is a trifling attack of sickness to-day may, if unattended to, become a serious one in a week. Small ailments should be nipped in the bud before they blossom into full blown maladies. If the advice were attended to, many a heavy bill for medical attendance might be avoided. When the liver is disordered, the stomach foul, the bowels obstructed, or the nerves disturbed, resort should at once be had to that unequaled remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a few doses of which will restore healthy action and put the system in perfect order. It is a wise precaution to keep this incomparable preventive in the house, since it checks, with unrivalled promptitude, disorders which breed others far more dangerous, and in its latest developments are themselves ok a fatal.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, the largest in the city, gives its guests the choice of rooms, and offers a reduction of rates on all its floors.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned more so, with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

THE FAME OF GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP as a remedy for eruptions, sores, burns, pimples, blotches and rheumatic and gouty pains has spread far and wide. Physicians recommend it, and the demand for it constantly increases.

FLORIDA, SOUTH CAROLINA, AND LOUISIANA are easiest reached from Boston via the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad, or via rail and steamer through Norfolk to Richmond and Danville, there connecting with trains direct to Wilmington, Charleston, Savannah, Mobile, New Orleans, etc.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 300 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Coaches and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtf177

CITY NOTICE.

PARTIES having rights they wish signed on the Common will do well to notify their wishes to the City Clerk.

W. H. SHANNON, Supt. City Farm.

In the U. S. Senate, on the 14th, the credentials of Hon. E. H. Rollins, Senator from New Hampshire for six years from March 4, '77, were presented and laid on the table. Mr. Edmunds of Vermont said that of course no one would question the election of Mr. Rollins, but the certificate of his election probably was not as full as it should be. It merely said he was duly elected, and did not so forth when the legislature met, the time of the election, etc. At some time a question might be raised about the credentials not setting forth all the facts, and he merely made these observations now to call attention to the subject.

Rural democratic papers are still repeating the thoroughly exploded story that the expenses of the republicans who went to South Carolina, Florida and Louisiana to watch the democrats sent South by Tilden, Hewitt & Co., to steal the electoral votes of those States, had their expenses paid out of the National treasury. Wonder if the "Bureau of nincompoops" has ordered them to fight it out on that line?

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We know know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a longer range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Wen, Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Scalds, Cancer Brooks, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the fearful Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westase, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutch, I am mending rapidly. Within four Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bonnet, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Miss., says: "Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock sprain. All remedies simply failed to cure, and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it."

REV. GEO. W. FRIRIS,
Mansfield, Tioga Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS.—I have used yr Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES,
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Bolt-Evil, Mosquito, Scratches or Lame knees of any kind, the effect is the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—the Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains a vehicle which is pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and promotes overflowing quiet to the sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care by the people of Dr Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

TRIBUNE.

The Leading American Newspaper.

Largest Circulation

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in free ballot, suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsible duties.

III.—THIS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes and the South, which formed the corner stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including correspondence, Poems, Stories, and reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMERS' PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Questions are given daily and weekly and almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, is quoted, giving and almost infallible advance. Live Stock, Butter and Cheese, and other Marketing are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best intelligence and influence [illegible] of the country. [illegible] a record in pure politics, the advance of science, and the power of public opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PRO-PERITY have rewarded its impartial and independent course in THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of correspondents and writers than its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

DELEGATE CAUCUS.

A meeting of the delegates from this city to the County Convention will be held at the Common Council room on Saturday evening, Jan. 13th, to see if the delegation will unite upon candidates to be supported in the Convention, so that our city's interest may be best served.

AN EAGLE ASSASSINATED.

For many years a pair of bald-headed eagles have made their winter home on Peirce's island, in this harbor, and have come to be regarded with great interest—almost affection—by the residents along the water side of the city, and the fishermen. The latter have been accustomed to save fish heads and other offal on board their vessels to throw to the eagles on the outward trip, and the birds, from being so many years unmolested, had become so tame,—or at least so accustomed to the presence of men—that they would come up to the docks at the South end and light upon the ice in the vicinity of the fishing vessels, ready to pick up whatever might be thrown to them. We are informed, also, that Mr. Charles Gray, who resides on Three-tree island, has been accustomed to expose food for them, and that they often visited his island for their meals. But, on Thursday, we are told, one of these noble birds was shot on Gray's island, by some one who visited the place in a boat, and left for the other side of the river as soon as he had secured his prize. Who he is our informant did not know, nor whether he shot the bird merely to gratify a wanton propensity to destroy life, or from a desire to get an eagle to have stuffed and mounted. Whatever the motive, the act was utterly selfish, and if one-half the petitions put up by the fishermen on behalf of the future welfare of the man who murdered the eagle are answered, cremation will appear but a joke to him before he gets through. No honorable man would be guilty of the treacherous cruelty of killing one of these birds, which, naturally wild and shy to the very last degree, had become so trusting as to be almost tame.

The traffic over the Direct Cable is very heavy, the receipts rarely falling below $5000 or $6000 a day in gold. The Atlantic and Pacific Co., which connects with the cable, has now three land wires to Boston and two to New York.

Democratic conventions: State, at Concord, Jan. 17; Congressional, First District, at Dover City Hall, Jan. 24, at 11 o'clock A. M.; Councilor, District No. 1, at New Hampshire House, Dover, January 24, at 1 o'clock P. M.; Senatorial, District No. 1, at Rockingham House, Portsmouth, January 31, at 11 o'clock A. M.; County, Rockingham, at Hoit's Hotel, Newton Centre, Jan. 18, at 1 o'clock P. M.

Emmons B. Philbrick, of Rye, seems to be generally regarded as the probable republican candidate in this Senatorial district.

The prominently named candidates for the republican nomination in this Congressional district are Gen. Gilman Marston of Exeter, Hon. John J. Morrill of Gilford, Hon. Samuel M. Wheeler and Hon. Daniel Hall of Dover, and Hon. Alonzo Nute of Farmington. From this list the republican convention can select a candidate (of several named) who will certainly carry the district against Frank Jones or any other man the democrats can put up, and it is the duty of the convention to select such a man, regardless of personal or sectional "claims." The candidate must be a man of unimpeachable record, sound common sense, and free from any suspicion of any connection with "rings." Such a man will carry the full party strength and be elected, and (without in any way disparaging any of the other candidates named) we consider that JOHN J. MORRILL fills the bill. The republicans of this section of the district will work and vote for the nominee of the convention; and we are satisfied that Mr. Morrill's nomination would be as gratifying to the majority of them as that of any other man. His personal popularity is an element worthy of consideration in selecting a candidate to support in a close district.

Mr. James Eaton, recently elected standard-bearer of the Temperance Reform Club, formerly served as color bearer in the 31 Maine Regiment, was severely wounded at the battle of Cold Harbor, and received special mention for gallantry on that occasion. Mr. Eaton also afterward received a complimentary testimonial by vote of the Maine legislature. So that it will be confidently expected that such a man will hardly sustain the standard of the Temperance cause.

Mr. Thomas Quinn, driver of Charles Rounseville's coal and flour team, met with a serious accident on Friday. He was driving on Vaughan street, sitting as usual on the edge of the pung with his feet resting on the runner outside, when Stott's grocery team in passing was swung against him, probably by inequalities in the street, and he was thrown from his seat. His foot catching in the runner he was dragged along until his boot came off, when it was found that his ankle was very badly fractured, so badly that it is feared amputation will have to be resorted to. Mr. Quinn was slightly cut and bruised otherwise. He is a poor man, we are informed, with quite a large family depending upon him for support.

The Boston Globe gives the following particulars of the loss of $6000 by the Eastern Railroad, already reported in this paper: The package was made up at the office in Boston, to be sent to the paymaster at Portsmouth, to replenish his funds for paying off the men. The messenger, Horace N. Smith, was given the package to hand to Conductor Leavitt, to be by him transmitted to the paymaster. On the arrival of the train at Portsmouth the paymaster met Leavitt with the question as to where the money was. Mr. Leavitt professed inability to answer the conundrum. The paymaster telegraphed to the treasurer in Boston: "Where's the money?" The treasurer replied by wire: "Leavitt's got it." Paymaster telegraphed again: "Leavitt says he hasn't seen it." Treasurer replies: "He has got it; we have his receipt for it in the book." Each conductor, when entrusted with a package of money for the road is obliged to sign a receipt for "one package, said to contain money," and to the one in question Mr. Leavitt's name was appended. He looked up the matter on his return to Boston, and at once declared that it was not his signature. It then occurred to the officers of the road that Smith was the guilty party, and he was arrested on the charge, but he was not to be found. Smith is a young man, belonging in Pittsfield, Mass., where he has a wife, two children and a widowed mother. He has been in the employ of the company several years and has on several occasions handled much larger sums of money. Smith was arrested at Springfield, Mass., Thursday evening, as he was taking the train for Albany. He was in company with a very beautiful young woman, named Mary E. Hammond, of Lyon, who had $5400 of the stolen money in her travelling bag. Miss Hammond declared she did not know Smith was a married man, and said they were bound for Omaha. They were travelling as man and wife under the name of Sargeant.

A call for a meeting of the delegates to the republican County Convention, to see if an agreement upon candidates to be presented to the Convention can be settled upon, is printed in another place. It is useless for Portsmouth to go to the Convention with a divided delegation, and there are three candidates for County Commissioner, viz.: Josiah T. Brown, Newton Johnston and George W. Pendexter. If all three of these candidates are to be supported the Portsmouth delegation may as well stay at home as to attend the Convention; with the delegation solid for either one of the candidates named, there is a chance—and only a chance—of Portsmouth securing the nomination.

Pettigrew, the escaped prisoner from the Massachusetts State Prison who was arrested in this city on Wednesday, was taken back to Massachusetts Friday morning by an officer of the prison who came here for that purpose on Thursday evening.

The South Millpond was again utilized as a trotting park, Friday, there being lots of teams there, and lots of racing. Some of the teams were driven so hard, Friday afternoon, as to take away all pleasure in the scene from humane people. Speeding horses eight or ten lengths of the pond may attract public attention to the drivers, but it is a needless cruelty to the animals.

James Goodman, a marine, fell on the ice on State street, Thursday evening, and broke his left ankle.

The alarm of fire—it wasn't much of an alarm—late Friday afternoon was occasioned by the boiling over of a preparation of naphta, or the leaking of the vessel in which it was being heated, in the upper room of Nowell's Block, opposite the Custom House. The mixture is used to stiffen "box toes" for boots. A few buckets of water put out the flames, but little harm being done; and a different style of heater,—a hot-water vessel on the outside, similar to a glue-pot,—will be used in the future. Mr. Eugene A. Sanborn had one of his hands somewhat burned in putting out the fire, he and Mr. Robert Annable being in the room when the fire occurred.

Mr. Oscar J. Pfeiffer, of this city, is "stroke" of the Dartmouth crew selected to pull in the University regatta at New London, Conn.

SUPREME COURT.

Case Deverson vs. Eastern Railroad, on trial from Thursday afternoon, was a claim for damages (set at $20,000) for injuries received on the road near Kennebunk, December 19, 1873, by a collision of freight trains, Deverson being engineer on one of the engines in collision. The case was given to the jury at six o'clock Friday evening, and at seven o'clock they returned a verdict for the plaintiff of $3000.

The Prodigal.

Inheritors of vast wealth are proverbially spendthrifts. The golden ore is dug from the mine, refined, and coined, by the labor of other hands and the sweat of other brows. Like children playing with an expensive toy, they can form no just estimate of its value. When the donor weighed it, he cast into the balance so many days of unremitting and fatiguing toil, so many anxious and sleepless nights, so much self-denial, and so much care. But the inheritor into his balance throws only—pleasure. The one, values it by what it cost him; the other, for what it will purchase. Like the prodigal in the Scripture parable, he thoughtlessly expends it to gratify the caprice and cravings of his nature. Then comes the last scene—the misery, the remorse, and the long and wearisome journey back to the home of frugal industry. But there are other prodigals. On her favorites our bounteous parent, Nature, has lavished her richest treasure—health. But the prodigal values it lightly, for it costs him nought, and recklessly squanders it in riotous living. Present pleasure obscures future want. Soon the curtain rises on the last scene. We see him helpless, impoverished,—the rich treasures of body and mind all lost,—in misery and despair. Remorseful Conscience holds up to him the mirror of memory. In his own reckless folly he perceives the cause of his present pain. He resolves to return. The journey is long and tedious, but if he perseveringly follows the right road, he will at length see the haven of his hopes in the distance, and Nature, seeing her invalid child afar off, will come out to meet him, and receive him back with love and tender sympathy. To find the right road homeward, the suffering prodigal should read "The People's Common Sense Medical Advisor." Therein it is completely mapped out, its landmarks all indicated and its milestones all numbered. Read it. Price $1.50 (postage prepaid.) Address the author and publisher, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

—Mrs. Carter of Brooklyn, enjoys the distinction of having been through the Rebellion without being robbed by the Southern chivalry. She had her money safely pinned in her bosom when she left home, and when she reached the lines she had $400 in greenbacks and a little more than $100 in Confederate money. The latter she gave to a Yankee officer to be exchanged for greenbacks, and he returned the whole $400 in greenbacks.

Lippincott's Magazine

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF

POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of unique excellence, no effort will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increase supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Empirical Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment, Instructive and Varied Character, as well as a Present in a graphic and striking form, the current news of fashion and society, the results of scientific research and inquiry, in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly delightful in the home circle, and most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, ensure a highly attractive Series of Long Serials, Short Stories, Sketches, Narratives, Papers on science and Art, Poems, Popular Science, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large portion of the papers, specially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. Pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its most attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

This story will be welcomed by all who are familiar with "Malcolm," "Sir Gibbie" and "Alec Forbes." The author of the last mentioned writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Professor William Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its people from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Stanton (Earl Shaun), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "Great South," etc.

5. Miss Lucy H. Hooper's interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6. THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

[illegible] series of [illegible]

During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in Remote Localities, Explored South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it still retains the distinctive characteristic of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness the choicest essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented the most eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Jean Ingelow, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished, while no those desiring the cream of both Home and Foreign literature, the publishers make it still cheaper, viz.: to new subscribers. The Living Age and any one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one or two of our leading American monthlies, or weeklies, for 1877, will be sent, free, the unfinished numbers of the whole situation.

To those who, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, to send forth gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides much valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volumes begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend subscribers to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which for so much or the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Portsmouth 6 Per Cent. Bonds.

PROPOSALS will be received until January 15, 1877, for the purchase of the bonds of the City of Portsmouth, N. H., six per cent. bonds or any part thereof payable in twenty years from January 1st, 1877, with coupons attached. Interest will be paid on the Bonds in denominations of $100, $500, and $1000. Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is what it ought and aspires to be." The lustre of its long-acquired reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright as it not brighter than, and as secure as, the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years.—Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted.—Chicago Journal.

—A Chinaman in San Francisco was shot on the 16th of December, and one of three balls went completely through his body. He lived for several days, walking about without difficulty, but died the day after removal from the hospital, and the doctors were amazed at the autopsy by finding that the ball which went through him had cut the spinal cord in twain. According to medical theories, paralysis should have ensued at once, but it didn't.

—The Rochester Union says: Those who have visited the City Hall cannot have failed to notice the little house placed on the limb of one of the trees that stand in the grass plot in front of the building. This house has been occupied by a colony of sparrows, and yesterday one of them died. Ascertaining this fact by some reason of bird logic, the others undertook to remove the dead bird by dragging it out through the little hole by which they are accustomed to enter. Some of the family superintended the job outside while the others essayed to push the body from the interior. They succeeded in getting half of the body out, when the bird stuck fast, preventing those within from coming out and those outside from entering. The united efforts of the colony were unsuccessful in removing the obstruction, and they set up such a chattering as attracted the attention of some of the workmen of the City Hall. A ladder was procured, placed against the tree, and one of them mounting it pulled the dead bird out and so relieved the anxiety of the disturbed family.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit, in the line of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Ramblings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Karl Ritter; "In Asiatic Turkey," by Turkistan, etc.. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven-oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied by a woman's apron-string," and who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Traut, will be on the other side of Mason and Dixon's line," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a sailor and dry-goods merchant which have strong interest to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Bunsell's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Leaf Factory," in the No center-number, and "Tool Lane, Eccleshill," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Twenty a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated article on Fish-Culture, "American Sports in Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subjects of will have a prominent place within the latest practicalities of American housekeeping, from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, is very full.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters in London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

ROCKINGHAM, SS.

BY THE JUDGE OF PROBATE FOR SAID COUNTY.

TO the heirs at law and creditors to the estate of EMELINE KNOX, late of Portsmouth in said County, deceased, intestate, and all persons interested in said estate, greeting,

You are hereby notified that SAMUEL ADAMS, administrator of the estate of said deceased, will present his account of administering said estate at a Court of Probate to be holden at Portsmouth in and for said County, on the second Tuesday of January next, at 10 o'clock A. M. for examination and allowance.

You are therefore hereby cited to appear at said Court to be heard thereon and to make such objections as you may then have. And notice is hereby required to be given by causing this citation to be published three weeks successively in the Portsmouth Daily Chronicle, a newspaper printed at Portsmouth in said County, that a public publication will not be at least one week week prior to said Court.

By order of the Judge,
WOODBURY M. DUNGIN, Register of Probate.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will as usual be issued in a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be issued in two sheets of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the subordination of governmental authority to the sovereignty of the people, as exemplified in the Jeffersonian maxim, "Let the people reign, and the people will govern."

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL!

In the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases of the lungs and bronchial tubes of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the cause of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agent. There is no safety in delay no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

DR. QUAIN'S

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done the work good then all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no more any of my old complaints. Recommend to be. Please send me three packages, as one is for my neighbor. Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Five in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and write you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I commenced I took down twenty-five pounds, one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I look for a little more flesh. I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

[WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all on account of the Pills you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldier, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship in the field. Send some send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS I am bound they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism twenty years and more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad he could not lift his hand to his head, or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been as free from the Rheumatism for twenty-four years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried to do not know how many physicians, and spent only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for years past, and have been to Galveston and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians told me in my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One bold man I could never get well; they all attempted to do so and I spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the have been from Mr. H. M. Mallory, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if you will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed in one find three dollars; send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only reasonable means for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A. Proctor, Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are Critical Notices of Recent Literature, Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to the great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and a skilful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copy, 45 cents; one copy, one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers

VI.—AT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallibility correspond with the markets of Liverpool, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by more people than any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best centers of New England and Middle States. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respecting course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and distinct means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, it gives the first and quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness also essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific, and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at a small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the issues of the year of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend he periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, that we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we witness an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will consist of from a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of honesty, capacity, and patriotism, for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people, for the people, as opposed to government by frauds in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers,—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the news, political, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate, and fearless; and it will disdain to conform to, or serve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs, for the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are largely repaid, and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

"WAH."

A democrat bold tossed his cap in the air,
And with many a noisy "hurrah,"
He lifted his voice right then and just there,
And lustily shouted for "wah!"

"Now fling to the breezes our banner!" he cried,
"For Tilding and order, and law,
And from mountain peak to the blue ocean's tide Proclaim, 'Give us Tilding, or wah!'"

"Now make us a Cæsar, good editor man,
A Cæsar of paper and straw;
Set it up where its features we plainly can scan,
It will nerve us to shriek out for wah!"

So they made him a Cæsar, a terrible ghost,
All gory, and ghastly, and raw;
And when it was shown to the democrat host,
They shrieked out and bellowed for "wah!"

So loud, and resonant, and shrill was the howl,
That it rolled through the land near and fah,
And the echo came back in an ominous growl,
That gruffly and grunly said "wah!"

Then the democrat girt up his loins in haste,
And he fled as though spectres he saw;
And there came back from Canada's ice-belted waste
His timorous echo of "wah!"

—Burlington Hawkeye.

A Monopoly in Light.

The present price of kerosene oil, which, as everybody who uses the article is fully aware, is more than double the price of a few months ago, is due wholly to the operations of the Standard Oil Company. That corporation, by buying up numerous refineries, and by persuading or coercing all the rest which could compete with it, has gained control of the oil trade of the country and the world. The only limit to the price consumers must pay, is the price they will pay. The article is one of necessity to millions of people, and it is even now cheaper than any known substitute for the use of other millions. The company which bears rule over the price has but one problem to solve, namely, at what rate of profit the consumption can be maintained so as to give the largest actual profit. The combination is one against which hard words alone are available, for there is no legal remedy. The Standard Oil Company has done what it has a perfect legal right to do, though the cost of producing crude oil, the cost of refining, the expense of transportation, the supply and the demand, furnish no justification of its acts. For that reason it will certainly fail. No combination of the kind ever had a long existence. The remedy always finds itself. Those who are in the ring are now making enormous profits. It is said, though we do not vouch for the figures, that every freight train of cars loaded with refined oil that leaves the oil regions brings to the refiner nearly or quite $5000 profit. It may safely be said that when the monopoly breaks up, as it is sure to do, some trains will net the refiner quite as heavy a loss. At present the consumers are altogether at the mercy of the combination, without the power to take concerted action in their own defence. Those who can diminish their consumption of oil will do so, but if no relief comes in this way the greed of the managers, or treachery on the part of some refiners will sooner or later break up the monopoly.—Boston Advertiser.

—"Do you reside in this city?" asked a masked man of a masked lady at a masquerade party the other evening. He felt sick when she said to him in a low voice, "Don't be a fool, John, I know you by that wart on your thumb." It was his wife.

—"Great Washington," exclaimed a Burlington burglar, as a vigilant policeman caught him by the legs and hauled him out of the window, "armed policemen, mailed minions of the law, display revolvers and flourish truncheons in the faces of American citizens under the very shadow of the court house, within sound of the church bells, and under the trembling scales of justice, and the outspread arm of personal liberty! And this is free America! Oh, Grant, Grant, Grant, tyrant and usurper, what crimes hang heavy on your lawless head!" And they led the martyr reformer away and cast him into the deepest dungeon beneath the castle moat.—Hawkeye.

—Edward Everett Hale has a stout, clannish liking for the traits of his brother New Englanders. Speaking of "resource" he says: "I was talking only yesterday to a healthy, sober laboring man who was really starving for want of work, as are thousands of others. He said forcibly to me, 'I had a chance to go and chop wood in New Hampshire, but what do I know of chopping wood?' Now I knew in that moment that this man was not a New Englander, for a man of New England blood never owns willingly that there is anything he could not do if he ought to. And any genuine New Englander would rather do something that he never did before than the thing which he has done for the last year."

—The vicar of a popular parish in the north of London has compromised his conscience on the burial question rather ingeniously. Recently he informed the parents of a young lady, who were members of a Baptist church, that he regretted not being able to read the burial service over the remains of their daughter; but as a female pauper was to be buried in an adjoining grave, and the interments were both to take place at the same time, his conscience would allow him to stand between the two and read the service over the body of the pauper, adding that no one would notice his use of the words "sister" and "body" instead of "sisters" and "bodies," or that he made any departure from the usual practice on such occasions. The compromise was accepted.

Editorial Pencillings.

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.

The present crisis in political affairs may after all lead to most satisfactory and enduring results. The election of Gov. Hayes to the Presidency by a large majority of the electoral votes might have had the effect to convince the Southern democratic leaders that they must depend for recognition only on the democratic organization. The election of Gov. Tilden by a large majority would have equally deterred them from breaking ranks, unless a quarrel resulted over the distribution of the spoils. The closeness of the election may after all be "a blessing in disguise." It has developed one heretofore generally unknown fact, that the best men in the North and South do not desire a return to civil strife. Anomalous as may have been the apparent suggestion, it is no longer disputed that there is a disposition already developing in the democratic party at the South and among the republicans of the North for a union of the best interests of both. The bulk of the soldier element which was called into action on the memorable fields where a common bravery led each to respect the other, was drawn from members of the republican party of the North and of the democratic Southerners. With great unanimity, unprejudiced observers who have travelled through the South unite in recognition of the fact that those who saw bloodshed and smelled powder in the rebellion want no more of it. To-day, the Southern whites have a greater interest in obtaining control of their States, for protection against imbecility and mismanagement, than in having Mr. Tilden elected. Notwithstanding the gallantry of such men as Governors Chamberlain and Kellogg, it is patent to every observer that the Southern States may be better governed by white men than by the freedmen, who are naturally improvident and lack the proper education to render them capable of governing themselves or their neighbors. It is not in the nature of things to suppose that citizens of any State will quietly submit to be ruled by an incompetent class, and in order to secure their most vital interests there are tens of thousands of Southern democrats who are willing to unite for a beneficent government. Necessity may yet bring the most radical opponents in close conjunction, and when that occurs there will be peace for the South and the Nation. It is not the best class of Southern men who uphold and practice bull-dozing. This class needs encouragement to divorce itself from lawlessness, but so long as it can attain proper government only by means of a "solid South," so long will it remain in the democratic organization. With Governor Hayes in the Presidential chair, there will be a golden opportunity for securing a support from the South which will forever abolish the "color line." With the republicans of the North there is danger for eight years yet in a "solid South." Their necessities stare them in the face and demand conciliation that shall ensure continued success. The next apportionment of Congressmen under the coming census of 1880 will increase the power of the North and West, and correspondingly diminish that of the South. A temporary triumph of but four or eight years will not satisfy any far-seeing Southern statesman; and there are numbers of leading Southerners who must see that the future will most assuredly reward those who first lead the way to an enduring peace. The discussions in the newspapers regarding a possible coalition between Northern republicans and Southern democrats has some foundation, there being considerable fire where there is so much smoke. The contempt that these Southerners have for Northern "copperheads" is sufficient cause for a permanent divorce.

A Southern View of Gov. Chamberlain.

Since the Hampton-Tilden party in South Carolina inaugurated the rifle-club campaign, the democratic papers of the North have not wearied of denouncing Gov. Chamberlain as the epitome of everything corrupt in the way of a political scoundrel, and he and his officials have been alluded to as "the infamous Chamberlain gang" more frequently than by any other term. But in fact Gov. Chamberlain is a man of scrupulous honor and integrity, a man who as Governor drove away from the State treasury the thieving "Moses and Whipper gang" through whose aid the Hamptonites now seek to gain control of the State, and whom the Northern democratic papers now so affectionately refer to. His integrity, honor, courage and fidelity as a chief magistrate, have been fully admitted by the democratic press of South Carolina. A majority of the South Carolina democrats would have supported him for re-election, if the politics of that State had not been interfered with by Wade Hampton and the rifle clubs, no doubt at the dictation of the Tilden managers, who knew that Tilden's only chance of carrying the State lay in a straight democratic nomination and a campaign conducted on the "Mississippi plan." That Gov. Chamberlain's administration has been honest and honorable, and that the South Carolina democrats themselves acknowledge it, the following extracts—all from straight-out democratic papers except one, and that one is a resolution passed by a democratic convention—sufficiently prove:

Mr. Chamberlain has earned the gratitude and deserves the confidence of the whole people. By supporting Mr. Chamberlain the whole country will secure, without revolution, a Government in every way satisfactory. The democrats in South Carolina are in the minority or else they could, and would, as a party, obtain control of the State by their own efforts.—Charleston News and Courier, July, 1876.

We can't say hard things against Chamberlain, who is manifestly striving to give our impoverished people an honest government. This is what they want. Give it to them, and everything else, low taxes and prosperity, will follow.—Marion Star, March, 1876.

He (Chamberlain) has accomplished such a herculean task in breaking down the barriers of corruption and fraud, and gives such promise of being able, ultimately, to storm and carry the very citadel itself, that we take pleasure in writing him down a model Governor.—Charlotte Observer, 1875.

No mortal man, with all the surroundings that environed Governor Chamberlain when he took the Executive chair, could have done more for the State than he has done. His history as Governor has been pure, unspotted and unstained.—Horry News, September, 1875.

There is nothing but defeat ahead of us on any [party] ticket that can be put forth. The name of General Hampton is electric, and will thrill through the nerves of every white man in South Carolina; but what of that? If every one of them voted for him, and ten thousand more besides, he would still be in a hopeless minority.—Marlborough Planter, August, 1876.

Governor Chamberlain, we feel constrained to say, has planted his foot firmly on the highest round of virtuous fame. His brave and superb conduct in the very pinch of the emergency has won for him a historic fame outside of all party lines, and above cavil or dispute. He stands now in the calm attitude of a man in a higher atmosphere than those miserable men who would hawk at and hound him down.—Greenville News, Dec., 1875.

Mr. Chamberlain will accept a nomination for re-election, not because of the emoluments of the office, which are pitiful, nor for the love of politics, which are not to his taste—but because, in two years more with a sound, intelligent and upright Legislature, he can, with the knowledge he has of our conditions and wants, complete the work now begun, and make South Carolina as contented and progressively prosperous as any State in the South.—Charleston News and Courier, August, 1876.

We would like to be convinced that we are wrong, but until that is done, until some one shows us how 30,000 republican majority, with a leader like Governor Chamberlain in command can be wiped out at the polls, we shall not draw our support from him who, by his many official acts, has satisfied us that he is doing the best he possibly can do with the material he has—and much better than any democrat in the State could do with the same material!—to give us what we want for ourselves and our families.—Marion Star, June, 1876.

In the eyes of the State and of the Nation, Governor Chamberlain, an avowed and thorough republican, arises before us as a champion around whom from centre to circumference, clusters our hope. * * * No man now living in the State embodies in his individual person so much influence on the side of good government. If the incentive be to reform our State government, then Governor Chamberlain is certainly the man who seems to have been providentially brought forward to our help.—Sumter Watchman, February, 1876.

Governor D. H. Chamberlain has illustrated by his conduct the noble ends which may be achieved by a stranger who differs with many of us in matters of political faith, but who unites with good men of all views in measures of earnest reform; and this people will sustain him to the end.—Resolution at Sumter meeting, January, 1876.

News and Notes.

There is a dangerous "ice gorge" in the Ohio river at Cincinnati and Pittsburg. Steamer Calumet has been sunk at Cincinnati, and damaged $40,000.

The house of William Henry Brown, in Middletown, Rhode Island, was destroyed by fire early Thursday morning, and Mr. Brown's body was almost entirely consumed. A partial investigation of the circumstances leads to a suspicion that Mr. Brown was murdered, and that the house was set on fire to destroy the evidence of the greater crime. The earliest alarm was given when the building was well-nigh destroyed, by Mr. Brown's son Charles, to whom the estate had been deeded, and who, although usually staying there nights, seemed on this occasion to be staying over night at the house of a married sister, some distance away. There are other suspicious circumstances. A coroner's jury on Saturday brought in a verdict which resulted in the arrest of Charles S. Brown, the deceased's son.

Steamer Moctezuma, captured by the Cuban patriots some time ago, has been chased ashore by a Spanish war steamer on the coast of Venezuela, and burned by the Cubans to prevent her recapture.

Lucille Western, the well-known actress, and a native of Boston, died in New York on Thursday night.

The schooner F. W. Hulse, of Thomaston, Me., Captain William Pearse, being overtaken in a storm off Bowery Bay, L. I., dropped anchor early Thursday morning. The captain awoke to find the cabin invaded by river thieves, who were holding revolvers at the heads of the crew. Captain Pearse at first offered resistance, but a blow from the butt of a pistol felled him to the floor, making him quite passive. The crew dared not give the alarm and the pirates ransacked the cabin, securing about $4000 worth of property. They placed it in two boats, which they had pulled to the schooner, and left, going in the direction of the Long Island shore.

Steamer Old Dominion arrived at New York on Friday, bringing the crew of the shipwrecked barque America, totally lost on Cape Henry some weeks ago. The Old Dominion also brought a crew of Irish fishermen from Galway, one of the men being aged eighty-six and another ninety years. They were picked up ninety miles at sea, their vessel unmanageable, and the captain's hands frozen.

A serious riot took place at the Westboro (Mass.) State Reform School on Friday evening. About 100 boys engaged in the uprising, and the signal was given by shutting off the gas in the school-rooms. The fight was a desperate one for a few minutes, every article of furniture in two of the rooms being completely demolished. The officers succeeded in keeping the rioters in the rooms until help was summoned, and then subdued them by the free use of water from the hydrant. None of the officers or men were seriously hurt, and none of the boys escaped.

A petition for placing the Portland & Rochester Railroad in the hands of a receiver is before the Maine courts.

It is as hard to get at the true inwardness of the Bennett-May duel as it was to find out the truth about a battle between the Turks and Servians, or to understand the Schleswig-Holstein question. Frederick May is said by some to be dangerously wounded, while others insist that only blank cartridges were used. The most absurd (and therefore most likely to be true) story of the lot is that Bennett and Miss May were married and left for Europe soon after the duel.

The passengers who embarked in the Britannic in New York harbor on the morning of Saturday, Dec. 16, although doubtless aware of her speed, hardly reckoned upon being landed in Liverpool on Sunday evening, the eighth day out; but such was the case. Averaging 382 nautical miles a day, the Britannic steamed along the Maury track, which, swerving to the southward, occupies a much longer time, and touched at Queenstown shortly after midnight, on Saturday last. After a brief delay off the harbor, the Britannic continued her course up Channel, crossing the bay at the entrance to the Mersey at 5:55 P. M. Sunday, and landed her passengers, thus enabling them to catch the Sunday evening trains and spend Christmas with their families. The Britannic's passage to Queenstown was seven days, twelve hours and forty-two minutes, and to Liverpool, including all detentions, eight days, five hours and fifteen minutes, performances, we need scarcely add, never before equalled.—Liverpool Journal of Commerce, Dec. 27.

Political.

Casbier Jordan of the Third National Bank of New York was examined before the Senate Committee on Privileges and Elections Saturday morning about his employment of broker Runyan to purchase a draft of eight thousand dollars on Oregon. He testified that it was a transaction of honor between himself and Col. Pelton, Gov. Tilden's nephew and secretary and chief of the "Literary Bureau;" and that he supposed the money was used for electoral purposes, but did not know. He states also that Tilden owns $68,000 worth of stock in the bank of which he is cashier, and is also a director.

It was rumored in Washington on Saturday that James F. Casey, brother-in-law of President Grant and Collector at New Orleans, had been elected United States Senator by the Nicholls Legislature of Louisiana. Gammon.

The democrats of the Illinois legislature on Friday nominated John M. Palmer for U. S. Senator. The independents nominated William B. Anderson.

The Boston Globe's Washington dispatch of Friday says: The rumor to-night is that the Senate Committee on the Electoral Count has agreed upon two propositions; first, that the vote of any State not having dual returns shall not be thrown out unless by the concurrent vote of both houses; second, that in the States where there are contests and dual returns, the matter shall be referred to a tribunal outside of both Senate and House and the presiding officer of the Senate. It is not believed that the outside tribunal is the Supreme Court, but that it is a joint committee of the two houses with powers which were suggested by the Senate during the Jefferson-Burr controversy in 1800. Mr. Hewitt left for New York tonight, it is believed to convey the proposition to Gov. Tilden, and also to consult with him about calling a National Democratic Convention in this city on the 12th of February. Mr. Hewitt said to-day, that rather than one drop of blood should be shed, he was in favor of Hayes and peace.

The democratic party is so strong in Georgia that it is top-heavy and has already begun to topple over. Even the venerable Robert Toombs has become so much of a bolter that he says he will not be bound by any "nasty convention," and the faithful are denouncing him as a radical in disguise. A split in the party is inevitable, and when it comes it will be a happy day for the colored voter, for his favor then will be of great importance to both sides, each of which will see to it that his ballot is cast. Tribune.

Congressman Holman, democrat, of Indiana, has been one of the most earnest opponents of "republican corruption and extravagance," and a determined advocate for retrenchment in everything except the expenditures for National buildings in Indiana. Recently he has urged the payment of the Superintendent of the House folding department during the recess of Congress, and is disgusted to have it shown that his anxiety therefor is owing to the fact that the said Superintendent spent the whole of the recess in Indiana, working for Holman's re-election. Democratic reform is a queer thing.

Disease Grows Apace,

Like an ill wind, and cannot be mastered too early. What is a trifling attack of sickness to-day may, if unattended to, become a serious case in a week. Small ailments should be nipped in the bud before they blossom into full blown maladies. If this advice were attended to, many a heavy bill for medical attendance might be avoided. When the liver is disordered, the stomach foul, the bowels obstructed, or the nerves disturbed, resort should at once be had to that supreme remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a few doses of which will restore healthy action and put the system in perfect order. It is a wise precaution to keep this incomparable preventive in the house, since it checks, with unrivalled promptitude, disorders which breed others far more dangerous, and in their latest developments are themselves often fatal.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, the largest in the city, gives its guests the choice of rooms, and offers a reduction of rates on all its floors.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater, with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

NO CHANGE OF CARS, no delay and vexation of transfer in New York, but a continuous ride, in the same car, from Boston to Richmond and Danville, are advantages which commend the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad to the hard-worked man of business as well as to the invalid or tourist seeking the summer skies of Florida and the South.

THE FAME OF GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP as a remedy for eruptions, sores, burns, pimples, blotches and rheumatic and gouty pains has spread far and wide. Physicians recommend it, and the demand for it constantly increases.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot. dawtu12'77

The regular January term commences at Exeter on Tuesday.

CITY AFFAIRS.

In Board of Mayor and Aldermen, Thursday evening, the claim of O. M. Coleman for damages to sleigh, etc., on Vaughan street, was referred to committee on claims.

The annual reports of the City Solicitor. City Marshal and Chief Engineer were read and accepted.

The quarterly report of the City Marshal was received and referred to the committee on police.

The report of the committee on accounts was presented and E. D. Coffin's bill of $12.50 was ordered to be paid. The committee reported without recommendation bills of John Dame and William H. Hackett. The bill of the former for cash paid for carrying 74 persons to the county house of correction, amounting to $89, was referred to the committee on police, and the bill of Wm. H. Hackett, for salary as City Solicitor, and fees, $141.50, was ordered to be paid.

Voted, that the annual reports of city officers be printed with the city accounts.

The subject of insurance of city property was referred to the committee on city lands, to report.

The committee to whom was referred the request of the street commissioner for a horse, reported recommending that the old white horse be sold, and two horses purchased for the street department. The report was adopted and the subject referred to the same committee, with power.

Voted, that Stephen W. Weeks, be allowed a hearing before the Board in reference to his claim for damages to his horse.

The request of Mrs. Robert Gray for leave to cut down a tree on Congress street, was referred to the committee on streets with power to trim the tree, Voted, that the committee on fire department be requested to examine Franklin Hall with reference to its safety, and report on the same.

Voted, that the Mayor be added to the committee to whom was referred the Chief Engineer's recommendation for the purchase of hose, etc.

Adjourned for two weeks.

"AN EAGLE ASSASSINATED."

Editors Chronicle: An article in your paper headed "An Eagle Assassinated," as I think does considerable injustice to the gentleman who killed that so-called "noble bird." In the first place, this bird was not one of the two that have made their home on Peirce's island for years past, as the eagle in question is not bald-headed, and according to such eminent authority as Audubon, Wilson and Dr. Coues, the bald-headed eagle does not become bald-headed until after he is three years of age. Then this eagle, being less than three years old, cannot be one of the two mentioned. It is very doubtful that the same two eagles have for years past made their home on that island; no proof of it whatever. This island is merely a natural roosting place for these birds during the day, and if two should be shot to-day, the chances are that two others would occupy the same tree to-morrow, as (contrary to the general supposition) the birds are very plenty, four having been seen on the same island Friday,—and I have no doubt that several can be seen any day. This is the case in every harbor on the coast. Why they should be called noble, or why they should be taken as emblematic of anything concerning this country, is past understanding, and can only be explained by the very general ignorance of the habits, etc., of this bird. There is nothing noble about him except his size; in everything else he is far from noble, being a thief and pirate, never getting his own food, but stealing it from the gull, crow and other birds, preferring to eat carrion rather than earn an honest living. He is not averse to a lamb, or to an occasional child. [The fact of his having carried off children being well authenticated.] And this is the Emblematic Bird of America!—better fitted, perhaps, to be an emblem of the country in its present condition than any other. Every Natural History collection of any magnitude has several specimens of this bird, and why it should be considered selfish or dishonorable to shoot this bird for a private collection I cannot understand. The law does not protect the eagle, nor does it protect any bird at any time of the year, that is destined for a natural history collection or for use by a taxidermist. If this were not the case the history of birds would be unwritten. By publishing this, Messrs. Editors, you will be giving the public a few generally unknown facts in regard to this pirate of birds, and will also be doing an act of justice to the gentlemen who killed the bird—not wantonly, but in the interest of science. A

JOTTINGS.

Somebody late last fall, one night, drove up alongside the fence of Elwyn's field, corner of Miller avenue and South street, and catching a couple of Mr. Jim Sheldon's best lambs from his flock, threw them into their wagon and drove off. Last week, on Thursday night, they (or some other persons) repeated the operation, and carried off two more,—though this time the thieves had to break into the slaughter-house shed to get them. Mr. Sheldon thinks this is "returning" to his mutton once too often.

There was a change in the weather, Friday night; snow fell. On Saturday several snow ploughs were at work on the South Millpond, clearing the driving track.

Schooner General Taylor, Capt. Thurlow, owned in Newburyport and bound to that port from Eastport, Me., with a cargo of fish, frozen herring, potatoes, etc., went ashore on Odiorne's Point at about two o'clock, Saturday morning, during a thick snow storm. The crew took to their boat and succeeded in landing in safety, though the sea was heavy enough to smash the schooner to pieces in a few hours, not a vestige of her remaining at noon on Saturday.

A rumor was current on the streets, Friday evening, that the rolling stock and locomotives of the Eastern Railroad had been attached. There was an attachment (said to be in the interest of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire) put on the coal and other property of the Eastern Railroad in Massachusetts, Friday, but it did not interfere with the running of the road.

The contract steamer "Enterprise," having been taken from the hands of the contractor, is to be fitted for sea immediately under the supervision of the naval authorities.

The annual report of the City Marshal shows the following arrests for the year ending December 31, 1876: Drunks, 334; tramps, 84; assault, 57; brawl and tumult, 23; larceny, 24; vagrancy, 24; deserters, 12; truants, 5; disorderly conduct, 13; disorderly houses, 7; insult, 3; fighting, 3; disturbing religious meeting, 2; begging, 2; suspicion, 3; playing ball, 3; threatening life, 2; cruelty to animals, 3; Sabbath breaking, 12; breaking the peace, 4; malicious mischief, 4; selling liquor, 2; open bar after 11 o'clock, 2; breaking glass 2; arson, 1; assault with knife, 1; assault and battery, 1; bastardy, 1; practising medicine without authority, 1; highway robbery, 1; obstructing sidewalk, 1; fast driving, 1; peddling without license, 1; horse thief, 1; debt, 1; gambling, 1. Total, 642. There have been 668 persons lodged during the year, and $598 in fines and costs collected.

The ship Simla, wrecked near Barnegat Inlet, will be a total loss. She lies high on the beach, the tide ebbing and flowing through her. The Coast Wrecking Company have given her up, and although the agent of the Boston Insurance companies and her captain still remain on the ground, they have no hopes of saving her.

Eds. Chronicle: Why were a majority of the School Committee so earnest to increase the slightly reduced salaries of the teachers? Do they not know that the earnings of the tax-payers generally are reduced far more than that? aye, in very many cases to nothing? EQUALITY.

New Hampshire Items.

Mr. H. C. Reynolds, who for the last twenty years has been the agent of the Amoskeag Axe Manufacturing Company, died in Manchester on Friday morning, of consumption. He was fifty-six years old.

The Unitarians of Peterboro' have voted to allow Mrs. A. W. Tucker, their pastor's wife, to preach for them, when she desires e relieve her husband.

On Tuesday, Jan. 9, Dennis Sheridan, a resident of Groveton, was killed at J. R. Brown's mills in Maidstone, Vt., while engaged in rolling logs from a sled to the slip of the mill. A skid extending from the sled to the slip flew up as a log was being rolled by him, and struck him on the head. Death occurred in about four hours. He was 30 years old and leaves a wife and one child.

Gov. Stearns' administration in Florida was not so bad as his enemies have tried to make out, if the following comparison by the Jacksonville Union is trustworthy: "Gov. David S. Walker turned over to Gov. Reed, in 1868, the sum of $1.50 in the State Treasury. Gov. Stearns turns over to Gov. Drew about $145,000 in cash in the Treasury. Gov. Walker turned over to Gov. Reed a public credit on State bonds equal to 15 or 20 cents on a dollar. Gov. Stearns turns over to Gov. Drew a State credit on bonds at 95. In 1868 scrip could be bought for 30 cents. Now it is rarely less than 80. In 1868 there was not enough money in the State Treasury to buy candles for schoolhouses. Now there are common schools established in nearly every county and $30,000 in cash on deposit in the State Treasury to the credit of the School Fund. The J., P. & M. Railroad has never changed hands but to show that its proceeds were consumed by lawyers's fees or eaten up in expenses. The State has run the road since June 1, and without paying expenses until November, and reports a net balance of profits on hand of $11,000. This is the record of 'thieving carpet-baggers' and 'desperate adventurers.'" —Scene in the grand jury—Foreman:—Gentlemen, it is not necessary to administer the oath of secrecy to this witness, as he is a member of the press, and nobody would believe anything he might divulge, anyhow.

—One of the sights in Des Moines, Ia., the other day, was a member of the chaingang working on a culvert, with his hands encased in lavender kids.

Centaur Liniments.
The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.
Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.
It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Bad-ache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.
Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:
"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.
C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:
"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."
What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.
The Yellow Centaur Liniment
is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.
This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweeney, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.
We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:
"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.
REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."
DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. MILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.
It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.
It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.
Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.
Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

—As poor, insane George III. was one day breakfasting at Kew, the great scarcity of beef which was then prevailing in England became the subject of conversation. "Why do not people plant more beef?" asked the King. Upon being told that beef could not be raised from seed, he seemed incredulous, and took some bits of beefsteak and went into the garden and planted them. The next morning he went out to see if they had sprouted, and found some snails. Thinking they were oxen, he was heard crying out, "Here they are! Here they are, Charlotte, horns and all!"

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. It has 824 large quarto pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively sketch by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Homes or Sunday-schools," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer, with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to engage in interest any series on popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equ I this choice production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the prose, whether in prose or verse, is pure, wholesome, with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper edition, St. NICHOLAS Gift-Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $12), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $3 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Take one at hand:

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

We have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sunnings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven Oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero has young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—do drift on the current of life,—with a force, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers on "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Loaf Factory," in the November number, and "Toad Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Haymow's Work for the Child," etc.

A really illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American artists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all dietary are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 22d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and twenty pounds. My weight now one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take the liberty to inclose you a card, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that promised relief of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Iadvised him to get some of these Pills. He believed could do him no good, but I put the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has not been so free from the Rheumatic Complaint for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. When helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, thinking that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages to me and oblige, Yours truly, Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Yours truly, Ex-Sheriff Laconia, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

CONDITION PILLS!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL!

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after, dozen years spent in experimenting with it before was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is audorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

Is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or Inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordail.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. It is offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE OF FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and other equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $6.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address,

FURNITURE

AND UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions, and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS, In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 140 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

PULMOCINE.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The clear sight and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well-known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART WORKERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Land Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

The Leading American Newspaper.

Largest Circulation

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and most fair information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all citizens at home and abroad, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unerring and almost fabulous accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper at the price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of able writers than any other journal in the country, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness a site essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages it represents such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Aubrey de. Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend he periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT PROVED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction in regard to its operation, on the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms the highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND TO MAINTAIN OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, it will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the painful diseases incident to this season of the year prejudice, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief it at will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will consist of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by frauds in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers,—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we respectfully think the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department the continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions—When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly devotes a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

The Cocoanut.

The importation of the cocoanut is rapidly assuming the proportions of an important branch of business. San Francisco is the centre of the trade, being the port most accessible from the Pacific islands where the cocoanut is produced. Several factories in the vicinity are engaged in grating and putting up the meat in cans for household and confectionery purposes. What is a luxury here is a prime necessity to the natives of the islands where it is grown, supplying well nigh their every want. The meat and milk of the nuts supply them with food and drink, fresh water being almost unattainable during a large portion of the year. The wood and leaves of the the tree—the latter often being twenty feet in length—are utilized in housebuilding and the construction of furniture, and the fibre of the husk gives strong material for twine and rope. Cocoanut oil, produced from the nut, is an important article of commerce, being used in the manufacture of fine toilet soaps. The sap which flows from the bud before the nut is pulled, when fresh, forms a sweet and nutritious beverage. If allowed to ferment it becomes as dangerous an intoxicant as forty rod whisky, and is the cause of endless broils and murders among the islanders. The price paid by the traders for cocoanuts is about $1 for 300 or 400 and at San Francisco they bring $6 to $7 per 100, one vessel bringing over a million or more. The origin of the milk in the cocoanut, though the subject of much controversy among scientists, has never been satisfactorily accounted for.

Curious Hotel Customs in Sweden.

On arriving at the inn, which is good and clean, and makes up forty beds, one is struck with a peculiarity of all similar places in Sweden, the apparent indifference to visitors exhibited by the proprietor. No head waiter, with attendant circle of porters and chambermaids, awaits the arrival of the guest. The luggage is put down at the entrance, and the traveller must seek for himself his rooms and the information he requires, while the landlord with his hands in his pockets, regards his efforts from a window with languid curiosity. There is no intentional incivility, but it appears not to be the custom to welcome the coming guest although to speed the parting guest there is abundance of hand-shaking and hearty good wishes. The curious custom of the Smorgos prevails at these inns, and indeed everywhere throughout Sweden; it consists in a standing refreshment provided at a side-table free of charge, and comprising bread and butter, cheese, caviare, dried fish and reindeer flesh, sausages, and other similar delicacies, to be taken immediately before each regular meal, and washed down with branvin and other neat spirits. In connection with this performance the Swedes have an objectionable habit which may be called the community of forks, as the same implement passes rapidly from mouth to mouth and from dish to dish; the rights of private property are flagrantly disregarded—Fortnightly Review.

—The handsomest thing you can do just now is to hand some money to the poor.

—At Clapham Junction, near London, no less than 952 trains pass daily, their rate of succession, during the busiest part of the day, being seventy-five trains per hour, or one every forty-eight seconds. At this point there are thirteen lines of railway, and one alone has thirty-five "points" or switches, with thirty interlocking signals, all controlled from a single "box."

—The Japanese toilet mirror is an entirely new invention for seeing all sides of the head at once. It hangs flat against the wall by a gilt chain when shut; when open —with the two mirror leaves on either side of the head, and the third mirror in front— it forms the best looking-glass that can be had, and quite supersedes the hand glass so long in use. As yet they have not been largely imported to this country, but will be shortly.

—Matthews and Young, the actors, had some grudge to pay off on a surly toll-bar keeper. It should be premised that just beyond the bar there was a road which led back into the town. Dressed precisely alike, driving gigs almost exactly similar, with horses of the same color, making up their faces to the same expression and putting to him the same grotesque questions they drove through his gate in an apparently endless succession of precisely similar individuals.

—It was New Year's night at Cole Camp, sixteen miles from Sedalia, Mo., and there was a bar in the ballroom. A young man, while dancing near the counter, staggered, fell to the floor, and broke his nose. It was so common an incident that no attention was paid to it. The man lay on the floor for half an hour, and the dance went on. A physician came in, felt the man's pulse, and gravely remarked that he would die in a short time. The dance went on. In twenty minutes the man was dead. As the waltzers whirled by the corpse, they chatted pleasantly about the cause of death. Some thought that it was the bad quality of the whisky; others attributed it to undue indulgence in Kimmel; others said it was the shock caused by the fall; others mentioned heart disease. But the dance went on at Camp Cole until daybreak, although the man under the bar had increased his distance from Sedalia.

Correspondence.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 12.

The opinion of a large majority of people here relative to the Bennett-May duel is to the effect that it was a most ridiculous burlesque, devoid of every feature of true manhood; and every additional detail received concerning it brings that verdict nearer unanimity. The whole affair has been purposely invested with such an air of deadly purposes and sanguinary results by its participants, to conceal its (as is believed) farcical realities, that were the two principals to suddenly lose the importance they have and which is inseparable from the possession of wealth, they would only be spoken of in terms of ridicule and derision. This sentiment is heightened by the impression fast obtaining that the fighting was all done with blank cartridges, notwithstanding the dismal dispatches of last evening intimating that Mr. May's wound is likely to prove fatal. Whether true or false, it is not generally believed that there was a scratch received by either of the combatants.

Everything connected with the deliberations of the House and Senate committees, appointed for the purpose of devising a satisfactory plan for counting and declaring the electoral vote, has been jealously guarded from public sight and hearing; and newspaper men have found it exceedingly difficult to obtain any information that would serve to indicate the progress made or the character of the method that would be finally adopted; but there is reason to believe that the majority of the Senate committee have agreed as to the proper line of procedure to be observed on the 14th of February, and have so far matured the plan as to send it to the House committee for its concurrence and to request a conference. There is also a rumor current that one of the democrats of the House committee has shown a very marked unwillingness to assent to the plan proposed by the balance of his political associates on that committee, and that it is to be enlarged by the addition of three more members (two democrats and one republican) which will make it stand six to four.

The investigation ordered by the House of the relations of our police to the gamblers and other disreputable characters, and also of Mr. Murtagh's alleged attempt to blacken the character of Mr. Whitthorne by enticing him into some place of ill repute and arresting him there, with a view to modify his report upon Secretary Robeson's administration of the Navy Department, began yesterday at the Capitol; and the committee manifested a very commendable disposition to make it thorough without regard to politics. There is a general desire that all the facts may be brought out, that the innocent may be relieved of unjust suspicion, and the guilty punished, and that the good work already accomplished in closing up the gambling hells may be strengthened and accelerated, till the Nation's Capitol City shall have been thoroughly purged of every violator of legislative enactments and moral obligations.

The "hard times" have had a very noticeable effect in restricting the wasteful extravagance of a class of people who suddenly leaped from the obscurity of comparative poverty to the leadership of society in many cases, in the flush times of fat contracts, making the most vulgar and ostentatious display of their suddenly acquired wealth. But the aristocratic "first family" leaders of days anterior to the Board of Public Works, who had a monopoly in that particular line and who were crowded aside by their parvenu rivals, are enjoying the revenge that the business prostration has brought.

The hotels (and Washington can boast of several excellent ones) are preparing for the invading army that always comes with every inauguration of a President. Thus far visitors have been few and hotel receipts correspondingly disheartening; but it is expected that by next month there will be a change for the better. KNOX.

An "Ice Gorge."

By the moving of the ice in the Alleghany river at Pittsburg, Pa., Sunday, immense damage was done. Three hundred coal boats and barges, many tog boats and several passenger steamers, were smashed up and sunk. Several lives are reported lost, and the damage to property is estimated at $2,000,000. A Sunday dispatch from Pittsburg says:

"At 6:15 o'clock this morning word was received in the city that the advance guard of the expected gorge was over the dam and would be on the flats in the river and the wharfed steamboats in a few minutes. Such activity as was immediately thereafter manifested on board the boats was never before seen on such short notice. Whistles screamed, engines puffed, commands were given in sharp, decisive tones, boats rushed here and there, and the river seemed really alive. The vanguard soon appeared above, booming along with a roar and a crash, carrying everything before it, embracing in its grasp huge barges, millions of pieces of broken timbers, beams, planks, etc., the remains of many costly barges and flats, which were rent to pieces in dashing over the dams above. On came the roaring, irresistible monster with a wild shriek as of pain. Now and then a barge would strike a bridge pier, or the great fleet anchored below the Suspension Bridge, and rearing up would stop and after trembling a moment break into fragments and be scattered in pieces over the seething mass of wave, ice and wood. During the next half hour, up to 7 o'clock, barges, flats and boat houses passed by, some sinking as they struck the pier, others going into the Ohio at a rapid rate, 130 having gone by up to that hour. Among them was noticed Fawcett's pumping-boat, with a light burning brightly within, but with no appearance of having any one on board. It is supposed that the men escaped. A two-story frame house, unoccupied, struck a barge below the Suspension Bridge, and was shattered to pieces. A fleet of eight loaded and five empty barges, and ten loaded flats, with the towboat keeper wedged in the middle, came gliding down and taking the south pier of the railroad bridge, divided in two parts, one part veering off to the north side, and the other to the south. It is believed that seven towboats have been totally lost, and others are badly damaged. The number of coal barges and boats that came down can only be estimated; the best estimate places the number at about 300. About one-third of these boats were laden with coal."

At Cincinnati the steamer Calumet, about forty loaded barges and many empty ones, were carried off by the ice.

News and Notes.

C. A. Richardson of Fall River, Mass., successfully terminated a long walk in Exeter, at ten o'clock Saturday night. The conditions were fifty hours of continuous walking without rest. In the last hour he walked eight miles.

During a trotting carnival at Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Saturday afternoon, two trotting horses collided, and the shafts penetrated each horse's breast, killing both instantly. Loss $2500.

S. Morris and his child, eleven years of age, were burned to ashes with his cottage on Thursday night at Cranberry Park, N. J. His wife and another child were saved.

The greatest revival of religion ever known in Newpuryport is now in progress. Three weeks ago, Rev. Mr. Hammond, the Evangelist, commenced his labors there at the invitation of the Evangelical ministers. At first the effects were not apparent, nor the chief operator popular, but now no meeting house or hall is large enough to contain the audiences. The City Hall, which will accommodate 1500 people, and the Baptist Church, which will seat 600 people, are used simultaneously. Meetings are held morning, afternoon and evening, and the revival has extended to Newbury, Rawley and Amesbury. Mr. Hammond will continue there another week, laboring a portion of the time at Amesbury; thence he will probably leave for Washington, where he did a similar work last winter. All concede him to be a most wonderful man, and his power over the human mind seems greater than any man has ever displayed in Newburyport since the days of Whitefield.

Not long since an American Protestant chapel at Yen Ping Fu, China, was burned by fanatical Chinese. Complaint was made by the American consul, and the chapel was rebuilt, the incendiaries were punished, and the books and furniture destroyed were paid for. About the same time the Chinese quarter of Antioch, California, was burned by American fanatics. Complaint was made by the Chinese, but nothing has been done to punish the incendiaries, to rebuild the houses or to pay the losses incurred. There seems to be a wide difference between American and Chinese justice.

Steamer George Cromwell sailed from Halifax for St. Johns, N. F., on the 3d inst., and has not yet arrived. It is feared she is lost.

The trial of the suit of the owners of the American ship Harvest Queen against the White Star steamship Adriatic was commenced Friday, in the United States District Court in New York, before Judge Blatchford. The ship was run down and sunk off the Irish coast by the steamer on the night of Dec. 30, 1875. The ship, cargo, captain, officers and crew were lost. The amount claimed is $225,000. The trial will probably occupy two weeks.

Schooner "Annie B.," (well known as the vessel on board which the mate and a seaman were murdered off Deer Isle, Me., two years ago, by one of the crew, who was acquitted of the charge of murder because he was insane, and discharged from the Insane Asylum because he was sane,) left Boston Dec. 8th for Halifax, N. S., has not since been heard of, and is supposed to be lost with all hands.

Important testimony was given on Thursday before the coroner's jury now investigating the Ashtabula disaster. Joseph Tomlinson, in the employ of the Canadian Government as Superintendent of Lighthouses, testified that that he drew the plans for the Ashtabula bridge; he did not approve of a wrought iron Howe truss bridge over a long span; all the strain accumulates on the end braces. These braces in the Ashtabula bridge he considered weak and warned Mr. Stone of that fact. This warning, he says, made Mr. Stone angry and led to Tomlinson's resignation. He thinks if the braces had been made according to his pattern, of good material and placed in their proper positions, the bridge would have been perfectly safe.

The schooner Empress, of Rockland, Me., arrived there Saturday, having been blown off and lost a portion of her cargo. On the 9th inst. she took off the crew of the schooner Laura, of Searsport, and the Laura was abandoned.

The horse-distemper, or cerebro-spinal meningitis, has broken out in the horse-railway stables in Boston.

James Gordon Bennett, who has been concealed on board the Herald yacht for the past few days, boarded the City of Richmond, of the Inman line, bound for Liverpool, off Sandy Hook Saturday afternoon. The World says that Howland Robbins and Miss Jeanette Bennett accompanied Mr. Bennett to Europe.

In Boston, Sunday, a horse driven by Benjamin Hawes ran away, killed Mr. Augustus G. Hill, a man 73 years old, and then killed himself by running into a horse-car. Hawes and a companion named Fessenden were arrested.

Schooner Champion, from Prince Edward Island for Boston, has been abandoned at sea. Crew saved and carried to New York.

Maria Augier, 65 years of age, was burned to death by her clothes taking fire while she was lying drunk on a lounge in a house of indifferent reputation in Boston, Saturday forenoon.

The suit of Henry J. Boody vs. Samuel J. Tilden has been reopened, and set down for trial in February.

A rumor was current in New York on Monday that Bennett's antagonist, May, had died from a wound received in the duel.

Mr. J. H. Caxton, a resident agent of a New York and Boston house in Italy, has been compelled to fight a duel, in which he came off victorious. It seems, according to the report, that while a party of gentlemen of whom Messrs. Caxton and one Bernard Suscipi, a portrait painter of Rome, were two, sat dining in a fashionable cafe in Turin, Suscipi indulged in bitter sarcasms upon American politics. Caxton retorted in gentlemanly language and without losing his temper. At last Suscipi made certain comments upon the average virtue of American women, which instantly enraged Caxton, who sprang upon Suscipi, pulled him by the collar to the floor and felled him with a violent blow, at the same time bidding him crave the pardon of his (Caxton's) female relatives. Suscipi attempted to resist, but was again knocked down. Next day a challenge was sent. Tivoli was selected as the locality, and Suscipi received a painful but not serious wound in the right side.

Louisiana.

The following dispatch was sent to Gen. Auger, commanding U. S. forces at New Orleans, on Sunday night, by President Grant:

"It has been the policy of the Administration to take no part in the settlement of the question of the rightful government in the State of Louisiana, at least not until the Congressional Committees now there have made their report. But it is not proper to sit quietly by and see the State Government gradually taken possession of by one of the claimants for Gubernatorial honors by illegal means. The Supreme Court set up by Mr. Nicholls can receive no more recognition than any other equal number of lawyers convened on the call of any other citizen of the State. A Returning Board, existing in accordance with the law and having judicial as well as ministerial powers over the count of the votes and in declaring the result of the late election, have given certificates of election to the Legislature of the State, a legal quorum of which House, holding such certificates, met and declared Mr. Packard Governor. Should there be a necessity for the recognition of either, it must be Mr. Packard. You may furnish a copy of this to Mr. Packard and to Mr. Nicholls."

Political.

The Senate sub-committee of the Committee on Elections, sent to investigate the Presidential election in Florida, with Senator Sargent as Chairman, has returned. They have examined over 450 witnesses in Florida, and by holding sessions in Tallahassee, Jacksonville and Gainesville the witness fees paid have been less than $2000. The evidence taken shows that not only the republican national ticket, but also the republican State ticket was fairly elected, although in some districts the intimidation of the negroes reduced the republican votes. The returns cannot be so distorted by the democrats as to deprive Hayes and Wheeler of the vote of the State.

Pinchback, of Louisiana, having failed to secure his election as United States senator from the Packard Legislature, has turned "reformer" and joined the Nicholls party. Warmoth ditto.

The democratic leaders are not yet decided to call for the presence in Washington of "one hundred thousand democrats" on the 14th of February, "to see a fair count." They are not clear that it will have just the effect on the public mind—particularly in the way of terrifying the republican party—that it is designed and desired to have.

Frost, the ineligible Elector from Missouri, testified before the Senate committee on Saturday that he did not appear at the meeting of the College, but his place was filled by another. He produced a pardon signed by President Johnson removing his disabilities.

New Hampshire Items.

A fire in Plymouth, Sunday morning, damaged a building, owned by Mrs. J. F. Morton and occupied by Lyman C. Payne, tinsmith, and Wm. L. Horner, restaurant, to the amount of $300; fully insured.

The petition to Gov. Cheney for the pardon of Thomas Weir, who shot Caleb Dyer, the head of the Enfield Shakers, has been withdrawn, the Shakers themselves following the petition with a remonstrance.

Mrs. Salomi P. Sanborn, of Hill, an invalid lady 73 years old, entered a closet the door of which fastened with a spring lock, on Saturday morning, when all other members of the family were absent for the day. The door closed and held her a prisoner for nine hours, at the end of which time she was discovered by a man who heard groans while passing the house, and sought for the cause. She was insensible when found, and her limbs were frost-bitten, yet it is thought she will recover.

Disease Grows Apace,

Like an ill wind, and cannot be mastered too early. When is a trifling attack of sickness to-day may, if unattended to, become a serious case in a week. Small ailments should be nipped in the bud before they blossom into full blown maladies. If this advice were attended to, many a heavy bill for medical attendance might be avoided. When the liver is disordered, the stomach foul, the bowels obstructed, or the nerves disturbed, resort should at once be had to that supreme remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a few doses of which will restore healthy action and put the system in perfect order. It is a wise precaution to keep this incomparable preventive in the house, since it checks, with unrivalled promptitude, disorders which breed others far more dangerous, and in their latest developments are themselves often fatal.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, the largest in the city, gives its guests the choice of rooms, and offers a reduction of rates on all its floors.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater, with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

NO CHANGE OF CARS, no delay and vexation of transfer in New York, but a continuous ride, in the same car, from Boston to Richmond and Danville, are advantages which commend the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad to the hard-worked man of business as well as to the invalid or tourist seeking the summer skies of Florida and the South.

THE FAME OF GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP as a remedy for eruptions, sores, burns, pimples, blotches and rheumatic and gouty pains has spread far and wide. Physicians recommend it, and the demand for it constantly increases.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

JOTTINGS.

The selectmen of Ward Two have drawn the following persons as jurors, for the Supreme Judical Court which commences at Exeter to-day: Frank W Miller, Frank E. Dearborn, Albert W. Parsons, Nathan Tarlton.

In the usual place for such announcements will be found a notice of the death of the oldest lady in the city, Mrs. Elizabeth Pritchard, who died on Sunday at the age of ninety-six years and four months. She was present at the dedication of Langdon Park in May last, and planted a tree with her own hands. She has two children, nine grandchildren and twenty great-grandchildren living. She was greatly beloved by all who knew her.

The following is the number of persons now at the almshouse: Paupers 22, convicts 2, boarders 8, male help 1, female help 2, superintendent's family 3; total 38.

Miss Emma Molloy, of Indiana, gave a most interesting address before the Reform Club on Sunday evening, in Franklin Hall, which was filled with an attentive audience. President Janvrin of the Reform Club presided.

Mr. Winslow A. Noweli, a Portsmouth boy, was unanimously nominated by the republicans of the State Assembly of Wisconsin for the position of Chief Clerk of that body, and was elected by a vote of sixty-one to thirty-nine. Mr. Nowell evidently has the confidence of the people among whom he has cast his lot in life. Though a strong republican, he has been more than once chosen to the position of Secretary of the Board of Public Works of Milwaukee, (where he resides,) when the Board was strongly democratic; and the press of his adopted city and State spoke in most flattering terms of his services and worth, in urging the Assembly to elect him as its Chief Clerk.

At a regular meeting of Fraternity Lodge, I. O. O. F., of South Newmarket, the following officers were installed by D. D. Grand Master Henry E. Perry, for the current term: N. G., H. Jenness Paul; V. G., Joseph Huse; Sec., Henry E. Perry; Treas., Samuel P. Badger; Con., Samuel P. Chase; War., D. F. Davis; O. G., G. S. Littlefield; I. G., J. S. Clark; R. S. N. G., W. H. Ruodlett; L. S. N. G., E. A. Locke; R. S. V. G., N. G. Howard; L. S. V. G., G. W. Pease; R. S. S., H. B. Andrews; L. S. S., J. W. Robinson; Chap., E. G. Hill.

THE RAILROAD WAR.

We have already chronicled the fact that Edward A. Abbott of Concord has been appointed receiver of the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire, on petition of the road. The Times explains this by saying:

"The Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire has brought a bill in equity against the Eastern Railroad Company, seeking to set aside the lease of the New Hampshire road on the ground that the Eastern Railroad had no legal right to lease a road outside of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts; that the insolvency of the Massachusetts corporation prevents the terms of the lease being complied with; that the capital and debt of the Eastern Railroad have been immensely increased since the lease was made, by the expenditure of large sums in speculations by the Eastern Railroad, building unprofitable branches, purchasing real estate at extravagant prices, etc. It is claimed that as the Eastern Railroad is insolvent a receiver may be appointed by the company to take possession of the road, with power to make contracts, etc., for its use. The bill will open the question as to the validity of the Eastern Railroad lease of the New Hampshire road, and from the former decisions of the Supreme Court of this State in a case where similar questions were decided, it is expected that the Eastern Railroad will be decreed to pay for the use of the New Hampshire road or set apart some of its income for its rental, as the directors of the latter contend that it is by no fault of the New Hampshire road that the earnings of the line have been perverted in unwarrantable outlays, over which they had no control, and in the expenditures of which they had no voice. Ex-Chief Justice Sargent and Samuel C. Eastman, Esq., of Concord are counsel for the New Hampshire road. The suit is before the Supreme Court in Rockingham county, and possibly may be removed by the defendants to the United States Circuit Court. A writ of foreign attachment has been served upon the Portsmouth & Dover Railroad and other corporations."

The Dover Democrat sees the iniquitous Boston & Maine Railroad at the bottom of it all, with a scheme to again get absolute control of the Dover carrying business. It says:

"And now there is considerable talk because the Eastern Railroad in New Hampshire is reported to have gone into the hands of a receiver. If the report be true, there is nothing to frighten anybody who may feel interested in the securities, in the form of stock, held by the city of Dover in the Portsmouth & Dover road. It is safe to say that no receiver eor court or any other authority can vitiate the deliberately made and carefully written contract between the Portsmouth & Dover road and the Eastern in New Hampshire. We do not understand that any such thing is proposed or contemplated by anybody connected with the Eastern. It is said, however, that the stockholders of the Eastern in New Hampshire would like to have the lease of their road to the Eastern in Massachusetts set aside, because they get no dividends under the present lease, and they allege that the lease has been repeatedly violated by the Massachusetts Company, and is or should be declared void on that account. They hope, probably, to get better terms under a new contract. But however this may be, the lease with the Portsmouth & Dover cannot be affected. The Eastern in New Hampshire and Massachusetts both, are bound to make the stipulations of that lease good, no matter whose hands they may fall into. These miserable attempts to get up frequent scares have their purpose, and generally originate with a rival corporation. Probably the Boston & Maine would like to lease, or contract for the running of the Portsmouth & Dover and the Eastern in New Hampshire both, and thus break up the competition which has been so beneficial to Dover. This is possibly the bottom plan of this movement for a receiver. But it will be a long day before this competing line of transportation will be swallowed up in that way. Every interest worth consulting or weighing is opposed to it and will oppose it to the bitter end."

Autographical Collections.

Governor Cheney has received at the State house from Mrs. C. F. Deihm of New York, the centennial autograph and photograph albums, some account of which may be familiar to our readers. Accompanying the volumes was a letter soliciting the autographs of the State officials and distinguished and prominent men of the State, and they are to be sent to other States for a like purpose. Photograph albums, two in number, one of which is to be locked in a safe and not to be opened till 1976, and the other to be preserved by Mrs. Deihm, are very ponderous but elegant volumes, bound in Russia leather, appropriately inscribed upon the covers, and contain 1500 pages. Written in the albums are the names of the president, cabinet officers, members of the senate and house, and government officials at Washington, besides the names of many of the distinguished men of the country. Whoever records his name in it is entitled to the space below his name, so that when these books are opened in Memorial Hall in 1976, whoever bears his name, and is a lineal descendant, can record his name below his honored ancestor of one hundred years before. Included in a safe with the above described book will be albums to contain the photographs, with signatures, of the leading parties connected with the Centennial, also, the leading men of our country; a Presidential album, to contain the photographs, with the signatures, of all the Presidents and Vice Presidents of the United States from 1876 to 1976; also an album to contain the Judges of the Supreme Court, Cabinet officers, President of the Senate, or President pro tem., and Speaker of the House; also, every twelve years, the six oldest Senators and six oldest Members in service; an album to receive the autographs of Foreign Ministers and visitors from all foreign countries, to be deposited in the safe with the other books, and the solid gold and silver inkstands and pens, which are of the most elegant and costly description. One of the pens was presented by the poet Longfellow. The memorial articles will be placed in the safe, probably in the spring, by President Grant and other distinguished officials. Hon. Peter Cooper will then close one door and William Cullen Bryant the other. The enterprise is one of considerable magnitude, curious and interesting, and will unquestionably be successful. The articles mentioned can be seen at the office of the Secretary of State. Patriot.

An Honest Physician, solicitous for the welfare of his patrons, would have them obtain all the knowledge they can respecting their systems and the diseases to which they are incident, fully conscious how much easier is his task of treating patients is when they are well informed in those matters pertaining to health and disease. Good nursing plays such an important part in effecting cures, and is so little understood by the masses, that hundreds of the best physicians have aided in the circulation of "The People's Medical Adviser" to disseminate its admirable teachings on the care of the sick. Nor do sensible people appreciate this popular work less because its author does not advise every man to attempt, under all circumstances, to be his own physician. The sale, so soon after its first publication, of nearly one hundred thousand copies of this work, only serves to create increased demand for it, and never before has it sold so rapidly as of late. It has been enlarged to over nine hundred pages, illustrated by two hundred and eighty-two engravings and colored plates, elegantly bound in cloth and gilt, and will be sent post-paid, on receipt of one dollar and fifty cents. Address the Author and Publisher, R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak Back, Fever Sores, Weeping Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says: "Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in as ago. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It sweetens gripes. It regulates the stomach and bowels the Castoria costs the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Daily Chronicle.

—Even an English bishop sometimes gets the cart before the horse. At a recent meeting in his diocese, the Bishop of Ely said that he attributed drunkenness in poor men, not to a desire for liquor, but to the comfort of the public house and discomfort of their own homes. Many persons in this country, notably women and children, ascribe the discomforts of their homes to drunkenness.

—There is an ink famine in Cincinnati, and the editors have filled their horns with oil of vitriol. The Commercial has offered to take the sheriff's printing for less than he wishes to pay the Enquirer. Whereupon the Enquirer intimates that Mr. Halstead is "a consummate liar," "a conscienceless, unprincipled, low-lived, beefy, cringing, fawning, merchantable self-seeker," "a man without a friend," "a filthy blackguard," "a mangy dog," "a poor, infirm, weak, and despised old man," and "a thief." The Commercial playfully retorts that "it is melancholy to behold a corn-fed child of nature losing the fine curvatures of youth while still in the twenties." The Gazette comes to the rescue of the young proprietor of the Enquirer, by remarking that Mr. Halstead has found "what he has not before encountered, one who will come down to his level in personal journalism, and use his own weapons upon him." The newspaper readers of Cincinnati are getting their money's worth nowadays and are saved the trouble of buying a police or sporting paper on Sunday.—N. Y. Tribune.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred and twenty-six pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Shanne artists, The Christmas and Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotels," or Uncle, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday-school," by Dr. Eggleston; "Santa Claus's Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Hoyt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series on popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wise and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are illustrated with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS,

To meet the demand for a cheaper St. NICHOLAS Gift-Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntenings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world, and adrift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Tout, you will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL,"

Also, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of Great Britain include the history of "Cooke's Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Leaf Factory," in the November number, and "Toad Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Ha'penny a Week for the Child," etc.

A newly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each is a different sport. The subject of will have a prominent place, while the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We aim to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in all its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors want them. Yours truly, I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later. Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and twenty. My health, gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal 'continue taking them for some days to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine since I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will add to you advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship in the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

MENDUM, WHIDDEN & CO.,

FURNITURE — AND — UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, Novelties, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Edmund's Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Mechanics, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty-thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 140 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, afford a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductor will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need but the announcement, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated sketches of Travel, entitled

SKETCHES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated sketches descriptive of the Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS AND ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the cornerstones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed.

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article raised and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES of THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read among the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger circle of corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness the essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.—

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rev. Dean W. K. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies, a year for $8.50. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

As extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send, from present date, numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, lighter-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.—Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be much the same as the edition of the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that are already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will continue to be the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by frauds in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers—a body now not far from one million souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the people by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and printing are barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; FOUR COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club. ☞

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of all Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and Canada.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate improved Stock of every kind through the country, and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-collect review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

The First Steam Whistle on the Missouri.

The story of the first steam-whistle on the Missouri is amusing. Its introduction dates back to 1844. At that time the settlers on the Missouri River were in the habit of making regular yearly visits to St. Louis to do their trading for themselves and friends. They were not provided with daily intercourse with the outside world, and many who lived back from the river seldom, if ever, saw a steamboat more than once a year. It happened that during the fall of 1844 the new steamboat Lexington started up the Missouri River loaded down to the guards with freight. Among the passengers were Judge Joseph C. Ranson, now of this city; Theodore Warner, of Lexington; Ben Holliday, afterward the famous overland stage proprietor; Col. Pomeroy, of Lexington, and a planter of Platte County, named George Yocum.

The steamer Lexington was provided with a steam whistle—the first used on the Missouri River—and as it happened no one knew about it except Warner, who was a wag and a lover of a joke. The night after leaving St. Louis the passengers were collected together playing cards (for fun) in the cabin, when the talk turned upon steam boat explosions, then very common.

"I feel perfectly safe on this boat," said Warner, as he dealt the cards.

"Why?" inquired Yocum, the planter.

"Why," echoed the rest of the company.

"I will tell you why," said the wag, carefully studying his cards. "This boat is provided with a new patent safety-valve, which notifies the passengers on board when it is about to blow up. It is a concern which makes a most unearthly noise, and when you hear it it is time to get back aft or jump overboard."

Notwithstanding the fact that Warner told his story with the most solemn and earnest countenance, some were skeptical. Not so however with the planter. Next morning when the Lexington was steaming up the long, straight stretch of river just below Washington, Mo., the passengers were at breakfast. The meal had been called, and all were busily engaged in doing justice to the kind of meals they were accustomed to serve on steamboats in those days. Suddenly the whistle commenced to blow, the first time on the trip. The passengers looked at each other a moment, and horror and dismay spread itself over their faces. The first man to realize the situation and act was Yocum, the planter, who, with hair erect and blanched face, jumped up, crying as he pulled over one after another of the passengers:

"Run, run for your lives; the d——d thing's going to bust. Follow me and let's save ourselves."

Of course there was a stampede for the rear of the boat, and it was only by the exertions of some of the crew that the more excited were restrained from jumping into the river.—Kansas City Times.

A Good Word for Young Bennett.

Whatever may be the result of this affair I do not care, for right is generally sure to get the advantage in the end; but I notice with pain the inclination or desire (so prevalent in the American breast) to kick a man the moment the shadow of trouble falls over him, and it is so in the case of Bennett. It is said he is a coward. Is it the act of a coward to sail the yacht Henrietta, a mere chip upon the ocean, across the Atlantic in midwinter—a feat the like of which was never attempted before nor accomplished since? They say he is an idler. Can anybody accomplish what he has accomplished—the mastery of seamanship, the knowledge of all the languages of Europe, an understanding of the politics of the world, and especially of his own country—can a man do all this and more that I may mention and be an idler? They say also that Bennett is a selfish, thoughtless fellow, who pays no attention to his paper and cares nothing for his employes. Has he not during the past five years spent more than two hundred thousand dollars and accomplished more than the whole world beside, in the explorations of Africa, the discovery of Livingston and the fixing of geographical boundaries? Has he not pensioned at full pay scarcely less than a half-dozen of his father's old collaborators who have become too old to be of use in the office? Has any servant of the paper become sick that he has not been relieved by his generosity? To my own knowledge he has given leave of absence, with full pay and allowances, to two or three Herald workers, with permission to be absent a year or more, and a present of some hundreds of dollars besides. When he is at home he devotes as much time to his paper as any editor in New York, and when he is out of the country he is in constant communication with his editors by telegraph. That he takes exercise and improves his muscles and digestion by polo and other sports ought not to be urged against him. Would it not be well for young men to follow his example? although I don't think it absolutely essential for young men to get drunk and get themselves thrashed by young May. —Washington Letter to Cincinnati Commercial.

Lessons in Political Economy.

The Toronto Mail, of recent date, gives its readers a lesson in the elements of a political economy, by asking a few pertinent questions: Will some free trader kindly tell us how it comes that the United States are able to monopolize the supply of small arms and small arm machinery to Russia, Germany, Turkey, Egypt and Greece, although the cost of material and labor is cheaper in free trade England? Also, how it comes that thousands of our people leave this free trade country every year to work in the work-shops and factories of a country that has been "suiciding" with a protective tariff ever since 1861? Also, how it is that American furniture manufacturers, who buy their material in this country, are able to undersell our furniture men? "Also, how it comes that under a killing protective system iron furnaces increase and multiply, while under a beneficent free trade policy our iron and coal deposits remain sealed? Also, how it comes that American cutlery is driving Sheffield out of the English market? Also, how it comes that American-made linens are seriously interfering with the sale of the products of Belfast, American-made woollens with the trade of Leeds, and American-made cotton fabrics with the staples of Lancashire? Also, how it comes that 40,000,000 of people, as sharp in business as we are, and just as well able to distinguish between what is beneficial and hurtful, persevere in their protective policy, although they have ever before them the evidence of free traders that they are rapidly going to ruin?

Timely Aid to Mariners.

The aid which the United States revenue steamer Gallatin rendered the schooner R. C. Thomas, Captain Thorndike, of Rockland, Me., off Wellfleet last week, no doubt saved the lives of six seamen. The schooner found anchorage there during the heavy snow storm of Monday week, and became ice-bound with others. When the Gallatin cut through to her assistance four of the sailors were suffering terribly from frost-bite, their hands and feet having burst open. The men had worked as long as they could stand up, and the bloody hawser and ropes told how hard they had striven to escape what seemed impending death. They were surrounded for miles by a composit of ice and snow seven feet thick—impossible for them to cut through or walk over, and they had only half a barrel of flour on board in the way of provisions. When relieved they had been in the ice eight days, and their sufferings were terrible. The Gallatin's officers furnished temporary medical assistance, supplied them with provisions and towed the vessel to Provincetown. The men are now in the hospital and will probably be spared the loss of their limbs. No doubt the assistance rendered by the cutter saved the lives of the men.

The Gallatin arrived at Boston Saturday night, and sailed again Tuesday morning. During her last cruise she saved from loss property valued at about $100,000. The Secretary of the Treasury in his report spoke of the importance of Congress being liberal with the revenue marine, and such acts as the above, which are frequently found on the logs of the northern cruisers, show how invaluable this government service is to the merchant marine.

News and Notes.

A considerable quantity of wreckage has been washed ashore on the coast of Devonshire, England, in the neighborhood of Plymouth, and it is believed, from the discovery of the name of George Green painted on certain portions of it, that the vessel in question was the American ship George Green, built in 1849 at Medford, Mass., and which hails from Boston, her owner being Mr. C. B. Green.

The Atlantic cable of 1866 has broken, the break being located about thirty miles from Heart's Content, Newfoundland.

Manager Orton, of the Western Union Telegraph Company, is still in charge of the Sergeant-at-arms of the House, for contempt.

Mrs. Frances L. Stockman has been awarded $4500 by a jury, in a suit against the city of Boston for damages sustained by a fall occasioned by a hole in a sidewalk.

Cy Curtis, alias Billy McCue, and Scott Lord, State Prison birds, made a daring attempt to escape from the police station in Saco, Me., Sunday night. Officer Adams allowed them to step into the corridor to warm themselves, when Curtis grabbed a pan of ashes and threw it into the officer's face, blinding him. They were about to rifle the officer's pockets for the keys, when another officer entered, covered them both with a revolver, and put them in a cell. Both had been sentenced, and were awaiting the arrival of warden Rice.

The light-house at Hooper's Straits, Eastern shore of Chesapeake Bay, Maryland, has been destroyed by the ice.

Political.

Mr. Nichols has now 10,000 well armed and thoroughly disciplined men in New Orleans "to see a fair count," including regiments from Texas, Alabama and Mississippi. They are revived regiments of the late rebel army. "Gen." Ogden, Nicholls' commander-in-chief, says "If a drop of blood is shed every radical in Louisiana shall be wiped out, and I believe the only mistake is that they were not disposed of before." Gen. Auger has about 1200 men under his command. The chief judge of Nicholl's supreme court is given as authority for the statement that Nicholls on Saturday telegraphed to Washington that the electoral vote of the State would not be interfered with.

The New York Tribune says a "still hunt" with a barrel of money for ammunition does great execution, but it is sure to leave a bad-smelling trail behind it. The nearer that $8,000 check is traced to Gov. Tilden's pocket the less interest do the democratic editors take in the subject. They are so indifferent to it that they forget to print the news even; but they are more than ever convinced that Chandler is an awful rascal, that Morton is a monster of trickery, and that Hayes is the deluded victim of the most horrible conspiracy against the people's will ever concocted in a free republic. It is an impressive spectacle.

The Evening Democrat, of New Orleans, earnestly advocates the murder of Gov. Packard by the democrats.

The democrats of the Massachusetts Legislature on Monday evening nominated Judge Josiah G. Abbott as a candidate for United States Senator.

Looking back at the experience of the past two months, candid Southerners must see that they have made a great mistake. They had a decent administration in South Carolina under Gov. Chamberlain, and for the first time since the war the affairs of the State were managed with common honesty. At the beginning of the campaign the Conservatives seemed disposed to support Gov. Chamberlain for re-election. If they had kept to their first sensible purpose the success of this reform candidate would not only have advanced the immediate prosperity of South Carolina, but encouraged respectability and honesty in every part of the South. Taught, however, that the National exigencies of the party called for a strictly democratic ticket, they suddenly turned upon the man whom they had formerly praised, and to strike him down they clasped hands with some of the worst of the corruptionists whose enmity he had earned. What is the result? South Carolina is on the verge of anarchy; Governor Chamberlain, who was trying to do well, is thrown back into the arms of the carpet-bag adventurers; and Southern republicans receive notice that respectability will not pay.—N. Y. Tribune.

On Tuesday Hon. James G. Blaine was elected United States Senator from Maine for the short term, which ends March 4, 1877, and the long term, which ends March 4, 1883. The vote in the Senate stood—James G. Blaine, republican, 26; William P. Haines, democrat, 2; absent 3. The vote in the House stood—James G. Blaine, 113; William P. Haines, 31; absent 6.

The Massachusetts Senate and House balloted for United States Senator on Tuesday. Boutwell led in the Senate and House, but there was no choice. In the Senate Boutwell had 17 to Hoar's 12, with 11 for Rice and Abbott. In the House Boutwell had 79, Hoar 76, Abbott 63, and 25 scattering.

An important case has been on trial in the Supreme Court at Keene, before Judge Foster, wherein Willard G. Jones of Rindge, who was the owner of a pew in the Congregational Church, was the plaintiff. Certain improvements were made, after which the plaintiff claimed a pew in the original location, but was ejected by force. He had refused to sell his pew at a Committee's appraisal and a lawful tender was made. He brought a suit for his seat and nominal damages for being deprived of his sanctuary privileges. The Judge ordered a verdict for the defendants. It is understood that the case goes to a higher Court on law questions.

—The following item of Yale College news appeared in the New Haven Palladium:—"Professor Marsh will deliver his celebrated lecture on the evolution theory to the Senior Class to-morrow morning, at 11:30. The class regrets very much that quite a number will be unable to attend on account of the Colombia foot-ball game."

—We owe that popular musical composition, "Tommy, make room for your uncle," to our English cousins, who have a facility for striking a lower comique plane than we can reach unassisted. It seems that it is now pushed out of favor by "You get more like your dad every day," a song which is on all London lips. Other English songs which contest the popularity of this are: "The jolly Jeremiahs," "I wouldn't be a Hemperor," "He isn't a marrying man," and "I'll strike you with a feather," which never fails to knock down the house.

How Our Lives are Endangered.

It is the duty of the press to warn the public of possible dangers. The flaming theatre is not the only horror imminent. Having access to certain tables of casualties through the courtesy of a famous statistician, we find the following enumerations:

Since 1840 1,000 people in the United States have met their deaths through bursting blood vessels by immoderate laughter.

Allowing 500 for the number destroyed in 1811 by the burning of the Richmond Theatre, the recent Brooklyn and other minor casualties, we find the danger in sixty-five years from laughing at comedy and farce to be twice as great as that by fire or panic. It seems conducive to the public safety, therefore, that managers put only serious dramas on the stage.

At least this would seem so were it not for the appalling fact that 2,000 people have died in sixty-five years from hypochrondria superinduced by witnessing such plays as "Hamlet," "The Robbers," and "Lear." Therefore, the danger from witnessing the melancholy drama is four times greater than that from fire or panic.

Following these tables further, we find that in sixty-five years 4000 women have been choked by swallowing pins held in the mouth. Either the manufacture of pins should be discouraged or women should be taught not to make pin-cushions of their mouths, for the danger from this source is ten times greater than by going to the theatre.

The following are the risks for sixty-five years:

Careless handling of firearms	35,000
Swallowing oxalic acid by mistake	10,000
Wearing thin shoes	1,000,000
Cut in halves in saw-mills (The danger of attending saw mills is then ten times greater than going to the theatre.)	6,000
Swallowing rotgut	25,000,000
Disappointed affections (better go to the theatre every day in the year than take the chances to life of falling in love.)	11,000,000
By falling from windows	10,000
Struck by lightning	7,500
Killed by overturned coaches	3,000
Found dead in bed	11,500
(Beware of a bed. It is twenty times more dangerous than the theatre.)
Killed by slipping on orange peel	5,000
By drinking ice-water in hot weather (Ice-water is 800 times more dangerous than the theatre.)	40,000
Sewed to death on shirts	100,000
Chewed up by impudent familiarities with menagerie tigers and elephants	500
Fell down shafts	4,500
Blown up shafts	3,000
Colds and pneumonia developed in cold and damp churches (Hence it will be seen that the cold church is 150,000 times more dangerous than the hot theatre.)—N. Y. Graphic.	7,500,000

—An elderly woman sat beside her cake, fruit and shellfish stall at a corner of McGill street, in the city of Montreal. A small boy purloined a lobster. Running with it half concealed, he was stopped and taken to the woman. She was urged to have him arrested and punished. "No," she replied, "I will not. The good Lord above knows he is some one's poor boy; I know not who he is. But if the child will promise not to steal again, I'll give him the lobster and two apples besides. What may not a poor boy do if the hunger be on him?" That humble widow presented the Boy's Home at Montreal annual Christmas gifts of apples, nuts and confections. In 1870 she died. The pen which writes to-day wrote then, as a note-book just consulted bears evidence:—"Mrs. D——y belonged to the Roman Catholic Church, but her religion was the highest, widest and deepest of all Catholicity—the religion of charity and mercy. It was taught her by terrible events, and simplified in practice by a soft, womanly refinement."—Toronto Globe.

Disease Grows Apace,

Like an ill wind, and cannot be mastered too early. What is a trifling attack of sickness to-day may, if unattended to, become a serious case in a week. Small ailments should be nipped in the bud before they blossom into full blown maladies. If this advice were attended to, many a heavy bill for medical attendance might be avoided. When the liver is disordered, the stomach foul, the bowels obstructed, or the nerves disturbed, resort should at once be had to the supreme remedy, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a few doses of which will restore healthy action and put the system in perfect order. It is a wise precaution to keep this incomparable preventive in the house, since it checks, with unrivalled promptitude, disorders which breed others far more dangerous, and in their latest developments are themselves often fatal.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, the largest in the city, gives its guests the choice of rooms, and offers a reduction of rates on all its floors.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater, with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

NO CHANGE OF CARS, no delay and vexation of transfer in New York, but a continuous ride, in the same car, from Boston to Richmond and Danville, are advantages which commend the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad to the hard-worked man of business as well as to the invalid or tourist seeking the summer skies of Florida and the South.

THE FAME OF GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP as a remedy for eruptions, sores, burns, pimples, blotches and rheumatic and gouty pains has spread far and wide. Physicians recommend it, and the demand for it constantly increases.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 250 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

JOTTINGS.

Wanted at this office, a copy of the N. H. GAZETTE of April 6, 1876, to complete files.

Schooner General Taylor, before wrecked on Odiorne's point, was owned by the master, Capt. Jesse A. Thurlow, and others, and was uninsured. She was twenty-two tons burden, and was built in 1848. Capt. Thurlow had $500 insurance on the cargo; and Mr. John E. Plummer of Newburyport, who had on board dried fish to the value of $1000, had $800 insurance. The schooner's cargo consisted entirely of dried fish and frozen herring, she not having had on board any potatoes as reported.

Our contributor, "A," in his communication headed "An eagle assassinated" (in answer to a previous article under the same heading in our columns, speaking disrespectfully of the gunner who shot an eagle on Three-tree island,) showed that the "assassinated" bird could not be one of the two that have for many years had their winter quarters on Peirce's island, questioned if there were any such two eagles, and asserted that so far from being rare birds, as is commonly supposed, bald-headed eagles are very numerous. We have since been informed by others that they have been seen in unusual numbers this winter at Dover Point, on Gerrish's island and around Little Harbor and the adjacent creeks; and a Kittery acquaintance assures us that three of these birds—one venerable, white-headed old fellow, and two younger ones with brown heads on them—have spent a portion of almost every day for a month past in a group of lofty elms near his house.

Judge Batchelder held court on Tuesday, when a lady named Jessie West was brought up on a charge of drunkenness, having been found lying helpless beside the curbstone, and unable to give an intelligible account of how she came there. The Court considered the slippery condition of the sidewalks a rather lame explanation of the affair, and fined the unlucky lady $8, costs $6.90.

Under the heading "Beware of them," the Manchester Union says: "For the past two or three months two fellows, named respectively Augustus J. Rogers and Herbert Weare, with their wives, and representing themselves as sewing machine agents, have been going about the city and sponging people of their board. Wherever they take up their quarters they inform the people that they draw their pay only once a month, and after the expiration of the time stated they will take up their quarters elsewhere, leaving their bills unsettled. This game has been played on three boarding-houses in this city, and those running such establishments had better beware of these fellows." We copy the Union's warning by special request of a friend, who says the parties referred to are now in this city.

On Tuesday morning, about six o'clock, as two young women and a boy were going up State street on their way to the factory, where they work, when near the head of Washington street they were attacked by a man who caught hold of the boy and threw him down, and then seized one of the young women. The woman broke away from him, and she and her female companion ran from the place with all speed, screaming "murder," the outcry soon bringing men to the spot, though too late to catch the rascal. What the fellow's motive was is not clear; he is said to have had a knife in his hand when he assaulted the party, but we do not learn that he attempted to injure any of them with it. It may have been only the freak of a drunken man, but six o'clock in the morning is rather early for a man to be so far advanced on a new drunk as to act that way, and rather late for him to be able to act so on the tail end of an old drunk; he was sober enough to save his hide by running off before help arrived, anyway.

Mr Samuel Hamilton, of Rockland, Me., a deaf mute, is in this city soliciting subscriptions in aid of the New England Industrial Home for Deaf Mutes, being fully accredited to receive the same by the General Agent, Mr. William B. Swett of Marblehead, Mass.

The First District Republican Congressional Convention meets at the City Hall, Dover, at eleven o'clock this (Wednesday) forenoon.

A few days ago the crew of the schooner Mary E. Caswell caught a seal off Jaffrey's Point, weighing over 150 pounds, and brought it into this port.

A few evenings since, while our oldest lawyer was celebrating his golden wedding, our wealthiest physician said to Mr. and Mrs. Hackett: "You are a young-looking couple to be celebrating your golden wedding. How can you explain this?" "In the same way," said Mr. Hackett, "that I can explain how you came to be rich before you became old—you have kept about as clear of the lawyers as we have of the doctors."

Schooner Paragon, Shute, from Charleston, S. C., for this port Dec. 22d, arrived at Vineyard Haven on the 14th inst., having encountered violent gales during the entire passage. On the 1st, in a hurricane, lost part of deck load, and the vessel sprung a leak, at one time having six feet of water in the hold; also lost boat and split sails; was ten days without getting an observation.

The Republican County Convention for Rockingham County was held at Exeter on Tuesday. Mr. Newton Johnston of this city was nominated for County Commissioner.

The police on Tuesday arrested four marines for being deserters from their post, and returned them to the barracks at the navy yard.

The snow seriously interferes with the running of railroad trains pretty much and through the northern half of the Union. In the interior of this State the blockade has been heavy, but the Eastern Railroad seems to get along quite as well as any. The Pullman train from the eastward was somewhat late, Tuesday morning, but no absolute stoppages are reported.

The delegates from this section of Rockingham County to the democratic county convention to be held at Newton to-day (Wednesday), will present the name of Col. Edwin A. Peterson of Greenland, as a candidate for the office of County Treasurer.

—The body-servant of Washington is nearly all dead.

—The Colorado House of Representatives has a woman for engrossing clerk. She engrosses the attention of the members.

—To Indianapolis belongs the honor of having invented a comb which can also be used as a stove-handle and a tack-hammer.

—The New Englanders who settled in Kansas have not only made that commonwealth a sound republican State, but have endowed it with exceptional facilities for common school education in the shape of three thousand public school-houses, built at a cost of $2,250,000, and supported by a State School Fund of $2,300,000.

—A story is told of a stalwart New Yorker who was fond of dressing in the extreme of style, that during the war he wanted to enlist, and presented himself to the examining surgeon. Much to his surprise the surgeon said he could not receive a certificate. In great wrath and disappointment he demanded the reason; "I have no objection to telling you," said the doctor. "If you enlisted I'm sure you would always be found foremost in the fight. Being foremost in the fight, wearing that wonderful shirt collar, you would continually give rise to grave embarrassments and misunderstandings, for the enemy would be sure to take you for a flag of truce."

—A Newport lady was shocked one morning by a ragged urchin's oaths, and raising the window offered him a quarter if he would stop swearing and go away. He departed without saying a word. The next morning there was a detachment of men and boys under her window, and blasphemy was varied with extortionate demands for a subsidy. The Providence Journal preaches a sensible sermon from this little text. "Give work to the able-bodied," it says: "give food and shelter to the sick; give sympathy to the distressed and consolation to the afflicted; but beware how you give alms to the lazy." The public cannot be cautioned too often against setting a premium upon vagrancy through indiscriminate charity. The eyes should be opened before the pocket-book.

—A few days ago, a policeman in Sacramento met a Chinaman who evidently had been roughly used by some one, as his nose was bleeding freely and his clothes were covered with dirt. The officer inquired, "What's the matter, John?" and received answer, "Heap dam Irishman. He hittee me down, so, you sabbee; he lun way. My nose catchee heap sick." As the assailant had evidently got out of sight, the officer kept on talking with the celestial, who proceeded to unbosom himself as follows: "Melican man and Chinaman no likee catchee fight; Hishman heap likee fight; sposem take two tousan Hishman and two tousand Chinaman, too, put 'em on bench, stip 'em, everybody catchee knife, palps hatchet, Hishman lick Chinaman, Chinaman all go backee China; Chinaman lick Hishman, all Hishman go backee where he come flom. Sabbe? I think pletty good."

—A correspondent of a Chicago paper gives the following account of Col. Robert G. Ingersoll's capture by Gen. Forrest: "Ingersoll was reconnoitering with a small detachment and came upon a nest of sharpshooters greatly outnumbering them. The first indication of danger was that Ingersoll noticed a butternut drawing a bead on him. With the readiness that has saved him from defeat in many a lawsuit, he cried out: 'What do you want to shoot me for? I've been wanting to acknowledge your old Confederacy for the last two seconds.' The fellow appreciated the joke. Of course he didn't shoot. The squad was led to headquarters. The joke soon circulated through the camp, and the rebs would flock about the prison tent, curious to catch a glimpse of 'that Yank.' Forrest treated him very kindly, and when he was exchanged returned to Ingersoll his horse, with a note addressed to 'the man who saved his life by a joke in the face of death.'"

BOSTON, October 19, 1870.

R. H. EDDY, Esq.—Dear Sir: You procured for me, in 1840, my first patent. Since then you have acted for and advised me in hundreds of cases, and procured many patents, reissues and extensions. I have occasionally employed the best agencies in New York, Philadelphia and Washington, but I still give you almost the whole of my business, in your line, and advise others to employ you.

Yours truly, GEORGE DRAPER.

Centaur Liniments.

The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.

Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Spinned Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.

It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.

Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:

"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.

C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:

"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."

What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.

The Yellow Centaur Liniment

is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.

T is Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.

We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:

"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.

REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."

DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. I can send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.

FALLS STATION, WYOMING Co., PA.

It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Livery men, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.

It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.

Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It relieves griping. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.

Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Daily Chronicle.

—A woman who weighs only ninety pounds is proprietress of the Church Union, and they do say that when she walks into the office with a flush on her cheek the old doctors of divinity who write on the paper just get under table and benches quicker!

—A curious pamphlet, entitled "The Free Masons—what are they?" has been issued by the library of Toulouse, France. The author declares that the Free Masons are possessed of a secret which is a secret of the devil, and that they perform a devil's mass on an altar lighted by six candles. "Every one, after having spit on the crucifix, tramples it underfoot. The diabolical ceremony terminates by every one ascending the altar and striking the holy sacrament with a poniard."

—A party of converts stood at the chancel rail in a Sandusky church ready to be made members. One was a girl who had been regarded as the belle of the place. She interrupted the ceremony by saying that she desired to make a confession. She knew that she had been looked on as a good girl, but she wasn't. She was guilty of a dreadful sin, of which she had not been even suspected. This little speech excited the curiosity of the congregation to a high degree. She then said that she had been married a year; that the ceremony had been regularly but privately performed, and that she had kept the fact a secret because she was not ready to forego the fun of going into society as an artless, unfettered maiden. The husband stepped forward and corroborated his wife's story. They went to housekeeping on the following day.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (Eng. Eng.) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining Serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving Season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental opera, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, profusely illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Homes or Sunday-school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Pelsnickles' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers by Boys, by William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series of popular science recently given to the public.

An secret and instructive, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal this choice production of Scribner's press. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper St. NICHOLAS Gift-Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that at any give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year. The Depo bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12; subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money to the Agent, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY,

An Illustrated Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of about fifty papers (twenty illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Sauntering About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Days of My Thirlow at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers on "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be papers on various poms, papers on

"HOME LIFE AND THEY WRITE,"

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Sevenoaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

Mr. Barnard's articles on various industries of rural Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scotch Leaf Factory," etc. The November number, and "Toad Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The Relics of Washington's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Hopeney a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Game in Field and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the ablest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, and "Topics of Mr. Welford."

We mean to make the magazine sweeter, purer, higher and nobler, more genial and cheerful, and more attractive and influences, and a welcome in all ways, and welcome in all ways, and welcome in all ways, and

FURNITURE AND UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers, for Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repository of the mechanical world; Articles; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years, it is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room; in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs; Special circulars giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & Co are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full direction for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 142 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

PULMOCINE.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversity and improve, and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narrative, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., by talented and well-known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

THE "MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation. Its reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short papers, descriptive of the Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the fullest and fairest information, to qualify them for the wisest discharge of their responsibility.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, hard money, the sanctity of the National faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the corner-stones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never profaned by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers.

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallible accuracy. In Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—THE PRICES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprise and progressive thought of the country. Persons who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science and the promulgation of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and strongly-organized corps of workers annually in the South, ever before, and constantly receives from old and new readers words of encouragement.

Harper's Magazine.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and needless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it circulation from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to dazzle the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Jas. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Rev. A. P. Peabody, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Aurelaire, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10 50. With The Living Age and one of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend be periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

Harper's Weekly.

ILLUSTRATED.

Notices of the Press.

Harper's Weekly should be in every family throughout the land, as a purer, more interesting, higher-toned, better-illustrated paper is not published in this or any other country.— Commercial Bulletin, Boston.

The Weekly is the only illustrated paper of the day that in its essential characteristics is recognized as a national paper.—Brooklyn Eagle.

The leading articles in Harper's Weekly on political topics are models of high-toned discussion, and its pictorial illustrations are often corroborative argument of no small force.—Examiner and Chronicle, N. Y.

The Weekly has to a still larger degree distanced all competitors as an illustrated newspaper. Its editorials are among the most able of their kind, and its other reading matter is at once learned, brilliant, and amusing. Its illustrations are abundant and of rare excellence.—Christian Advocate, N. Y.

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and SPASMODIC ACTION, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in the matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen to twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY OR DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudice, nor the prejudice of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that it will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character as the sheet already familiar to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by means of the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers,—a body now not far from one million of souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy economic and current news; and will provide for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington especially will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unpunished power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.50 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY SUN will be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself with the club. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expenses of paper and presswork are barely repaid, and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. COMBINED PAPERS—FORTY-SEVENTH YEAR!!

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY one year, $2.50; five copies for $10, an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; Ten Copies, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, rural and oceanic, among the best farmers of all Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and progress of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Departments continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate improved stock in every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Farm yard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

The Senators Who Talk.

Senator Conkling uses more high-toned English than any of his fellow-members. Frequently his style is almost St. Elmoish, his speeches being often profusely sprinkled with words sufficient to drive an ordinary hearer to the dictionary for information.

Morton is never flowery in his talk. He uses good plain English, and in such a manner that his meaning is perfectly clear to the most obtuse listener. He has the faculty of boiling down the substance of an opponent's argument for the purpose of answering it to a greater extent than any other Senator.

Mr. Edmunds is probably as clear and cutting a speaker as there is on the floor of the Senate. He has one very noticeable peculiarity; he never forgets, even in the most earnest debate to have a rejoinder for even the slightest sally that may be made at him by an opponent. Indeed, this trait is carried so far at times as to convey the idea that he is very vindicative, while the fact is, that he has only a very natural desire to display his powers of repartee and sarcasm whenever a good opportunity is afforded.

Mr. Thurman is without doubt the most vigorous talker of all the Senators. He is also the most irritable. The wordy persecutions of Edmunds often make him exceedingly irascible. He clears up very easily, and sometimes in the midst of his most terrible denunciations of republicans he will soften down by making a grotesque joke at the expense of an opponent. He is the only Senator addicted to joking, and his wit, although peculiar in style, is recognized as genuine. He was heard to say yesterday of another Senator that he was "one of the kind that talked so loud that no one could hear him speak."

Senator Logan is the most uneasy speaker in the Senate. He rarely speaks from his seat, but prefers to walk to the center aisle where he can face the chair and talk to its occupant. As he warms up he advances from the aisle, and when very impassioned, he generally manages to make his way to the space in front of the President's desk, where he indulges in his favorite gesture, which consists of shaking his forefinger in a very deliberate manner. On such an occasion he is very interesting, because he is both earnest and vigorous. He is as well listened to as any other member of the Senate.

Mr. Merrimon, of North Carolina, is another Senator who talks a great deal on almost every subject that comes up. Sometimes he interests, but more frequently his long harangues drive the other members to the cloak room. He is unquestionably a fair minded man although an extremely prejudiced one.

Mr. Bogy, of Missouri, is ambitious in the oratorical line, and always chips in when a constitutional question comes up. He is extremely tiresome, and can clear the floor more expeditiously than any other member. Nothing delights him more than to make copious quotations bearing on the subject upon which he happens to be speaking.

Mr. Dawes, of Massachusetts, is very halting in his speech, and conveys the idea to persons unfamiliar with his style that he is not quite sure of what he is going to say. But such an impression would be an erroneous one, as he never speaks until he is ready and has something to say, which is generally to the point.

Senator Davis, of West Virginia, is mainly conspicuous for the constant fire of questions he keeps up, indicating him to be the possessor of a very suspicious temperament. His hearing is not the best, and he imagines that something may be concealed beneath everything that he does not understand at the first blush.—Washington Nation.

Lessons in Politeness.

According to the author of La Politeness Francaise, a work recently published in Paris, a gentleman, when he gives his hand to a friend, must press his friend's hand but not shake it. If he is about to shake hands with a peasant, he must present his hand ungloved, or the peasant will consider himself insulted. If he is about to shake hands with a lady, he must keep his gloves on. When he offers to conduct a lady to the piano, he must, in taking her hand, half close his own. In dancing with a lady, he must "not permit himself" to squeeze her hand; and he must, if he wishes to show himself a true gentleman—or, at least, "unveritable gentleman"—spend 18,000 francs, or $3,500, a year on his gloves. A gentleman who spent this much a year on his gloves, of various kinds and colors, would probably, if only for the sake of consistency, treat himself every day to at least one new hat. All, however, that we are told on the subject is that a gentleman's hat should always be "bright and brilliant." A gentleman never altogether separates himself from his hat, though it is not etiquette to wear it in a room. In the street, on meeting an equal of his own sex, he takes it off for a moment. On meeting a lady, or superior of his own sex, he remains uncovered until he is told to put his hat on. Do not eat in the street, do not smoke a pipe in the street, do not smoke a cigar in the street, if you are walking with a lady—"not even if you happen to be this lady's husband." It seems odd to tell a gentleman who is supposed to spend $3,500 a year on his gloves not to smoke a pipe in the street, but we have reproduced this caution as we find it. When you bow, bow properly, but not so deep that your vertebral column will make a right angle with your legs. If an officer in uniform salutes you, do not make yourself ridiculous by returning his salute in military fashion. A lawyer will not only think you silly, but will be greatly irritated if, visiting him on a matter of business, you ask him how he is, inquire after the health of his wife, express a hope that the children are all well, and so on. This sort of talk should be reserved for friends whose time is not valuable or who have no right to charge for it.

Senatorial—District No. 1—At Court House, Portsmouth, Tuesday, Jan. 30, at 11 A. M.

Too Thin.

Col. Pelton, Tilden's nephew and private secretary, and manager of his "Literary Bureau" for furnishing original political editorials to the democratic press, tells a very queer story about that transmission of money from Tilden headquarters to Oregon, to buy an electoral vote, and endeavors to make out that Tilden not only knew nothing about the matter but was frightfully and virtuously indignant when he learned of it—Pelton and one or more members of the National Democratic Committee being entirely responsible for the whole transaction. People who believe that Samuel J. Tilden, chairman of the Democratic State Committee of New York, was ignorant of the intended ballot-box frauds the famous circular signed with his name enabled the Tammany gang to carry out, will possibly believe he was ignorant of the attempt of Pelton and the National Democratic Committee to buy the Oregon vote; but the general verdict must be, even among the democrats, that the story is "too thin."

Republican Congressional Conventions.

The Republican Congressional Convention for the First District met in Dover on Wednesday. Many delegates and friends of the various candidates arrived in Dover on Tuesday night, crowding the hotels; and skilled makers-up of political probabilities considered the outlook favorable for the nomination of Gen. Gilman Marston on the first or second ballot, with Hon. John J. Morrill of Gilford very near him, and Hon. Alonzo Nute of Farmington not distanced; other candidates previously mentioned were regarded as practically out of the race.

The Convention was called to order by Col. Daniel Hall, of the State Committee, who introduced Hon. Samuel M. Wheeler of Dover as Chairman of the Convention. Mr. Wheeler made a brief, patriotic speech on taking the chair, alluding to the present National exigency, and saying he feared republican defeat at Washington only from lack of republican firmness and steadfastness; and regarding New Hampshire as the chief battle-ground of the republic in the coming balloting, and the First Congressional District as the vital section of the State—urged harmony and effort on every member of the Convention, to overcome the combined powers of rum, money and bunkerism. The first ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	257
Necessary for a choice	129
Samuel M. Wheeler had	1
C. H. Parker	5
J. G. Hall	7
J. H. Ela	9
A. F. Nute	18
John J. Morrill	80
Gilman Marston	137

And Hon. GILMAN MARSTON of Exeter was declared to be nominated, and on being sent for entered the hall and accepted the nomination in a brief but earnest address.

The Second District Republican Congressional Convention at Concord, Wednesday, nominated Hon. James F. Briggs, of Manchester.

Democratic State Convention.

The Democratic State Convention was held in Concord on the 17th, organizing with the following officers: President, J. S. H. Frink, Greenland; Secretaries, James O. Lyford, Canterbury, James H. Henderson, Dover, John B. Mills, Manchester; Vice-Presidents, one from each county.

It was given out among the delegates assembled in Concord the night before the Convention, that the rumor so industriously spread abroad that Hon. Daniel Marcy had written a letter declining to accept a second nomination for Governor was baseless, and many delegates seemed to think Mr. Marcy had been misrepresented in the interests of the "young democracy." It was considered certain that Mr. Marcy would be nominated unless he withdrew; in the latter contingency there were plenty of democratic patriots ready to be sacrificed on the altar of their country, among them being Frank A. McKean of Nashua, Warren F. Daniells of Franklin, and Horatio Colony of Keene.

Harry Bingham proposed the name of Daniel Marcy. John G. Sinclair proposed Frank A. McKean. A ballot was taken, with the following result:

Whole number of votes	524
Necessary for a choice	263
Scattering	12
Frank A. McKean	127
Daniel Marcy	385

And Daniel Marcy was declared the nominee of the Convention.

Albert Jackson, of Manchester, moved the nomination by acclamation of Thos. J. Dinsmore, of Alstead, for Railroad Commissioner.

The Massachusetts Senatorship.

The Massachusetts Legislature balloted in Convention for United States Senator, Wednesday. Two ballots were taken, but no choice was effected. The first ballot stood:

Whole number	275
Necessary for a choice	138
Hoar	95
Boutwell	93
Abbott	61
Rice	17
Seelye	4
Bullock	4
Sanford	1

A second ballot resulted as follows:

Whole number of votes	276
Necessary for a choice	139
Boutwell	93
Hoar	95
Abbott	62
Rice	17
Seelye	4
Bullock	4
Sanford	1

The Convention then adjourned to noon of Thursday.

Portland's Railroad Investments.

The Portland & Rochester Railroad is in a bad financial condition. A few years ago, by a vote of the people of Portland, the City Council loaned the road $450,000, taking a first mortgage on the road. Some time after the road wished to negotiate another loan, but found it impossible to do so on a second mortgage. Consequently some of the officers went before the City Council and persuaded them to make the city responsible for the additional bonds issued, the road promising to pay the interest and put a certain sum into a sinking fund. They have done neither. After Mayor Fessenden came into office, being of a practical turn of mind, he began looking into these matters, and came to the conclusion that the City Council had no right to vote an additional loan, after the citizens had expressly voted that the city loan should be $450,000 and no more. And it is on this ground that a bill in equity was filed praying for the appointment of a receiver for the road, the hearing being set for Wednesday, Jan. 17, at Saco.

The Portland & Ogdensburg Railroad is even more largely indebted to the city of Portland than is the Portland & Rochester, and has likewise failed to pay the interest on its bonds. Some time since a Commission was appointed to make a thorough examination of the affairs of the two roads, and they have been at work on the Ogdensburg road for some time. They have an expert, who is going to the very bottom, and the report will soon be given to the public. What its tenor will be is not known although there are rumors that some startling facts will be presented.

News and Notes.

On Thursday last the lighthouse in Hooper's Straits, which served as a beacon at the entrance of Tangier Sound, and for the navigation of Pocomoke River, was carried out on the Chesapeake about four miles, with the crew on board. The boats belonging were caught by the fallen house, which remained afloat on the ice, and at the last advices it was west-northwest of its proper location, where there is about seven fathoms of water. The ice is still keeping it afloat, and no assistance could be given the lightkeepers from the shore.—Baltimore Sun, 15th.

M. Max Outrey has been appointed Minister of France to the United States.

By the explosion of a boiler attached to a threshing machine on the farm of Albion Bradbury, at Bloomington, Hennepin county, Minn., John D. Layman, Lucius Layman (his son,) and George Bradbury, were instantly killed.

Jack Kehoe, bodymaster and head chief of the Mollie Maguires, who has been on trial at Pottsville, Penn., for the murder of Langdon, was found guilty of murder in the first degree, the jury being out two hours. This is the third prisoner convicted of this crime, Dougherty and Campbell having been convicted of murder in the second degree a few weeks ago. Langdon was a ticket boss at Honeybrook colliery, and incurred the enmity of some of his employes because he had docked them for not preparing their coal well. The murder was committed in 1872, and three weeks before the death of Langdon, John Kehoe, then a miner, told him he would be killed for this docking. On the 14th of June of that year, while Langdon was making arrangements for a Sunday gathering to celebrate the nation's birth, he was followed by Kehoe and his followers, who insulted, threatened and spit upon the flag. That night Langdon was foully struck down and beaten so badly that he died in a few hours.

Dwight G. Parker, of Portland, has brought a suit against the Press publishing company of that city, to recover $25,000 damages for injuries received by falling through an unguarded elevator-way in the Press building some time ago.

Advices from General Miles, under date of December 21, state that he has just returned from a successful campaign against Sitting Bull and other hostile chiefs. His command numbered 439 men; they marched over 600 miles in forty-five days and defeated Sitting Bull in three engagements, driving him back to the Yellowstone River. General Miles was compelled to return for supplies, but will start out at once in pursuit of the fugitive chief. Sitting Bull's force numbered over 2000 lodges and over 1000 well armed warriors, but was completely routed. There is but little doubt of his capture or surrender at an early day. Most of his lodges and a large number of his ponies were captured, and all his robes and provisions destroyed. The cold was intense and the sufferings of the troops were severe. It is rumored that Sitting Bull has departed for the British possessions, where he always obtained rifles and ammunition.

Steamer Perit, from St. John, N. B., for New York, went ashore on Cape Cod on the 17th, and started leaking badly.

Rear Admiral Joseph Smith, U. S. N., died on Wednesday, at the age of eighty-seven years. He was the oldest officer in the navy.

Capt. Humphrey, of the ship George F. Manson, of Bath, Me., reports a collision at sea with the steamship Ambassador of Liverpool. The latter was sunk. Capt. Humphrey returned to Bombay, where he was exonerated from blame by the courts. The extent of damages to the ship is not stated. She was on the passage from Bombay to Akyab.

Political.

Hon. William Windom was re-elected United States Senator from Minnesota on the 16th.

The Illinois Legislature on the 16th unsuccessfully balloted for a United States Senator to succeed Hon. John A. Logan. The vote stood—Logan 97, Palmer 89, Davis 7, Anderson 7, Washburn 1, Blank 1.

The Cincinnati Enquirer, the leading democratic organ of the West, stigmatizes the republican Cincinnati Times as "a newspaper devoted to the destruction of the democratic party and the perpetuation of the Common School System." And in another issue the Enquirer says: "If the Times is strengthened and encouraged by the flow of democratic patronage this year, we may expect a vigorous campaign in behalf of the Public Schools next year." It is not often a democratic paper will acknowledge the fact that the democratic party is squarely opposed to the common school system.

Hon. T. W. Ferry was re-elected to the United States Senate from Michigan on the 16th.

One of the democratic Congressmen sent to Louisiana to assist in casting the electoral vote of that State for Tilden, comes back with a statement that his committee could not find a single instance in which republicans had been intimidated by democrats! That's the kind of a committee-man the reformers appreciate. He will no doubt be ready to swear that the colored republicans in the parishes which two years ago gave republican majorities by the thousand but this year threw not a single republican vote, stayed away from the polls on purpose to give the peaceable democrats a bad name, and for no other reason.

David Dudley Field, boss lawyer for Boss Tweed and the Tammany Ring, having been sent to Congress by Tilden to look after his interests there, and placed on the proper committee for that purpose by the democratic Speaker, Salary-grab Randall, has been endeavoring to get at the true inwardness of the dispatches sent to Florida and the other "disputed States" by Hon. Zach. Chandler, who has been before the democratic committee to give evidence. Having got all the dispatches they could (and more than they wished) they found that all the telegrams sent indicated a firm belief that the republicans had honestly carried those States and that Hewitt, Tilden & Co. would make a determined effort to defraud Gov. Hayes of the vote of one or more of them, and urged the republicans to stand firm for their rights, and neither allow themselves to be bullied or swindled by the "reformers." Mr. Chandler's belief in the republican victories and his suspicions of Tilden and Hewitt are to-day shared by a large majority of the honest men of the country.

When applied with Dr. Pierce's Nasal Douche and accompanied with Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery as constitutional treatment, Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy produces perfect cures of the worst cases of Catarrh. The instrument and two medicines sold by all druggists.

Happy Influence of a Great Specific.

For the preservation or recovery of health and strength, the diet should be wholesome and nutritious. When it happens that the alimentary processes are disturbed by improper or half masticated food, the best remedy for the evil results of abusing the digestive organs is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a most agreeable, prompt and gentle remedy for dyspepsia, and for the bilious and evacuative irregularities which result from it. The liver and bowels, in common with the stomach, experience its beneficent influences. The refuse of the system is carried off through its natural outlet, a healthy flow and secretion of the bile is promoted, and a powerful impetus is given in assimilation in consequence of its use. It healthfully stimulates the bladder every element of impurity that affects the soundness or whiteness of the shell which sheathes the dental bone. Moreover, it prevents gum-boil and canker.

For the "attraction of cohesion," see Spalding's Glue.

Why suffer from that cough when Adamson's Botanic Balsam will speedily and surely cure you? Children like it. Sold by druggists and dealers at 25 cents.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, offers its guests the privilege of choosing the location of their rooms and floors, and have made a reduction of rates on all.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater, with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

FOR WASHINGTON AND THE SOUTH.—The most convenient route for reaching the capital, and all points South and Southwest, is by way of the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad, which now runs cars direct from Boston to Richmond and Danville without change.

THE FAME OF GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP as a remedy for eruptions, sores, burns, pimples, blotches and rheumatic and gouty pains has spread far and wide. Physicians recommend it, and the demand for it constantly increases.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

JOTTINGS.

Haverly's Minstrels are to give an entertainment in Franklin Hall on Wednesday evening, Jan. 24th.

Hon. J. S. H. Frink, of Greenland, was chosen President of the Democratic State Convention at Concord, on Wednesday.

Greenough & Co., of Boston, propose publishing a new directory of this city early in the summer, the renumbering of the buildings rendering this necessary.

Orders having been received at the navy yard to fit the Enterprise for sea immediately, some seventy-five men were "required" on Tuesday, and work was commenced Wednesday morning.

Mr. Henry M. Clark on Tuesday made 645 lbs. of sausages in three hours and ten minutes, at his steam sausage works.

Advertising is what does the business. A gentleman advertised "a ring lost" in the CHRONICLE, and his ad. had only had one insertion when he found the missing ring in the pocket of his "other coat." Advertise—it is the life of trade.

We have received from the publishing house of Roberts Brothers, another volume by Rev. James Martineau, LLD., entitled "Hours of Thought on Sacred Things," being a collection of sermons delivered by this eminent English divine, and like all his former works, furnishing food for thought to every careful reader.

At a church sociable in the vestry of the Methodist church in Seabrook, recently, a young physician and his youthful lady-love presented themselves as candidates for the holy order of matrimony, and the nuptial knot was then and there tied to the great edification of the assembled multitude.

The Milford Enterprise and Wilton Journal, Milford's bright and readable local paper, comes to us this week with its columns lengthened and a seventh column added to each page. We are glad to note this evidence of the prosperity of the Enterprise, for it shows that the people in and around Milford appreciate their lively and enterprising local sheet as it deserves. It is a fearlessly republican paper, yet is far from being bitterly partisan, and is generally moderate in tone in whatever it may be discussing; but it can speak very positively on occasion, as the following comment on the Bennett-May duel will show: "Both parties have become unpleasantly notorious, the 'code of honor,' we suppose has been satisfied, but we feel that it would have been a blessed dispensation had some of the fates directed a ball to the heart of each contestant so that two less fools might be numbered on the face of the earth."

A queer divorce case has recently been decided by the Supreme Judicial Court in session at Saco, Me. A young man residing at Kittery Point, in February, 1876, came to this city with a fourteen-years-old girl of the same place, and the pair were married (the girl's relations knowing nothing of it) and immediately started for home. The girl stopped for the night at the house of a friend on the road, leaving her husband to go home alone; and next day the bride, having repented her haste, informed her guardian of the affair and a suit for divorce was commenced, and has just resulted in the pair being unmarried.

On Wednesday morning, by request, the CHRONICLE copied from the Manchester Union an item regarding two "beats" named Augustus J. Rogers and Herbert Weare, who with their wives have been swindling the boarding house keepers in Manchester by pretending to be sewing machine agents getting their pay but once a month, and then decamping before the month was out. Our item included a statement that the precious quartette were in this city. Our information was correct, for they had been for a week stopping at the Franklin House on Vaughan street, and when the landlord on Wednesday sought to collect the amount due him they incontinently departed, leaving their baggage in his hands. How much the aforesaid baggage will bring at auction we have not heard.

The Improved Order of Red Men have a grand powow "on the sleep of the 18th Sun, Cold Moon, G. S. D. 386, at the 7th Run, 50th Breadth"—which means at half-past seven o'clock this evening. Members are requested to read the advertisement.

The Woman's Temperance League have elected the following officers for the ensuing year; President, Mrs. B. F. Thorndike; Vice Presidents, Mrs. A. W. Haven, Mrs. James Sanborn; Recording Secretary, Miss C. E. Randall; Corresponding Secretary, Miss Sarah Yeaton; Treasurer, Mrs. John A. Goss; Trustees, Mrs. Joseph A. Grace, Mrs. Joseph M. Edmonds, Mrs. Andrew J. Beck.

Mr. Wm. A. Loyne, the volunteer missionary, acknowledges receipt of two barrels of crackers from some charitable friend of the poor, for distribution among the needy. It affords rare sport to send a liberal donation to the destitute and then listen to the guesses as to where the gift came from. Try it.

Number One, Volume One, of the Greenland Gem, a semi-monthly "independent amateur paper" published in Greenland at twenty cents for three months' subscription, and edited by Ernest Holmes, was issued on the 15th inst. It is very well printed and contains fewer errors than the first issues of amateur papers usually do.

The Prisoners of San Marino.

At the last dinner given by Marshal MacMahon, says l'Europe Diplomatique, the Duc de Broc, the Charge d'Affaires of San Marino, after explaining to the Marshal the institutions and manners of the little State, told the following anecdote: A tourist last year having climbed up to San Marino and visited the cathedral, the library, the museum, and the admirable model hospital founded in 1865, felt a desire to see the prison too. Following the indications given him, he soon came to an ancient-looking edifice, with one of those forbidding and trebly-locked gates which can belong only to a prison. He rang lond and long, but no answer came save the echoes repercussed from the hollow, empty cells. He was turning to leave, when a man, who had evidently been engaged in agricultural pursuits, came running across the fields toward him, and asked him politely, if he wished to visit the prison. "I do," replied the tourist; "are you the jailer?" "No, signor," was the answer; "the jailer died six months ago, and no successor has yet been appointed, but I can show you the prison in all its details." So saying, he overturned a large stone and picked up a huge key which had been hid under it. "Well, but," insisted the tourist, "how about the prisoners?" "I am the prisoners," was the reply, and the tourist, struck by the singularity of the plural, followed his guide, who turned out indeed to be the only prisoner of the republic. He excused his truancy by explaining that he found his cell very dull in such fine weather, and relieved his feelings of ennui by cultivating the prison lands and gardens, which would otherwise run to weeds. Then, again, he was necessarily obliged to go into the town for his victuals, and that was why the authorities left him the key of the prison. His conscience evidently reproached him with not being a consistent prisoner, but the tourist's approval of his conduct must have comforted him.

An Indian Story.

Mr. Charles G. Leland relates a story of the good minister of a Massachusetts village and a whiskey loving Indian, who in time of revival became one of his converts. The excellent clergyman rejoiced at having "reached another," while the Indian, in return, one night expressed with solemn joy his assurance, "Me no go Hobamoco (that is, perdition)—Injun soul save—all right." But the day after this affecting scene, the minister, thoughtfully riding along, discovered his convert lying in a rocky corner near the road, deeply, dreadfully tipsy. Sighing much and sadly the minister rode on, but was scarcely a rod from the spot when his ear was struck by a guttural grunt which was solemnly and impressively repeated. Turning his head he saw the Indian maintaining himself with the greatest difficulty in a sitting posture and gazing sternly at his friend, as if from the height of some great idea, while he beckoned to him as one having authority. Slowly the minister rode back and paused. "Ugh!" grunted the Indian; "you know that little business me talk to you 'bout last night?" "Yes, Benjamin, I do know," was the reply; "It was about your salvation." "Yes," grunted the unabashed Indian, "me 'clude to let dat little business go. Injun soul," he added, with a patronizing smile, as if wishing to diminish the clergyman's disappointment, "Injun soul berry poor concern—small 'fair—no great matter anyhow."

Anagrams.

Mrs. Eleanor Davies, an old-time lady, imagined herself to be prophetess, and fancied that the spirit of Daniel was in her, because she could transpose her name into "Reveal, O Daniel." Her anagram was faulty, however, lacking an s and containing an l too much. Her surprise and consternation were great when one day she saw an anagram of the name "Dame Eleanor Davies" which read "never so mad a ladie." Here are a few examples of anagrams. They answer as it were to the original word: Astronomers, moon starers; telegraph, great help; gallantries, all great sins; encyclopædia, a nice cold pye; lawyers, sly ware; misanthrope, spare him not; old England, golden land; Presbyterian, best in prayer; punishment, nine thumps; penitentiary, nay, I repent it; radical reform, rare mad frolic; revolution, to love ruin.

—Mons. Theirs calls Mons. Gambetta "the frantic lunatic," and Mons. Gambetta returns the compliment by calling Mons. Thiers "the spectacled serpent."

Centaur
Liniments.
The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.
Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.
It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.
Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:
"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.
C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:
"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."
What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.
The Yellow Centaur Liniment
is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.
This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ridg-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.
We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:
"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.
REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Mansville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."
DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. I can send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.
It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.
It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.
Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.
Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Daily Chronicle.

Called by a Dog.

The curious and entertaining results obtained by training animals are almost endless in variety. The more pains human beings take to teach these dumb pets, the better and pleasanter companions the pets will be for them. Here is a new case in point:

A lady in Birmingham, England, is in the habit of feeding the sparrows during cold weather. Some years since she taught her little black-and-tan terrier to stand at the dining-room window and bark when she said to him, "Call the birds." The sparrows got to understand the call, and would fly down to the window as soon as the dog began to bark. This year, on the return of cold weather, she said to the dog, "Call the birds," and he ran at once to the window to await orders. At the barking of the dog, a dozen sparrows flew down in eager expectation of a morning meal. It is evident that both the dog and the birds remembered the feeding from one year to the next.

—How does man differ from the brute creature? He stands upright, but he doesn't act so.

—The way some old fellows watched the old year out at Medway, Mass., was by opening and drinking a jug of Medford rum, which was sealed up by them twenty years before. There were thirty-five of them, and, their meeting being so boisterous as to provoke police interference, the jug was corked up, and the meeting adjourned for twenty years. Only nine remained to finish the liquor.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., in the brilliant binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $5.

☞ ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER,"

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard stories," begins in the Christmas Holiday Numbe :

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of Oriental sports, with drawings by Siamese artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very interesting paper,

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively story by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Home or Sunday-school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series on popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and Instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will as usual, be abundant in St. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equ l this choice production of SCRIBNER'S press. All the articles, whether in prose or poetry, are throbbing with vitality. * * * The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper ST. NICHOLAS Gift Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $12), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty dollars' worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $4 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for this year, only $12. Subscribe with the express or post-office, or send money in check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (mostly illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Wanderings Among Country Churches," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window at Moscow," by Eugene Schuyler; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seventeen" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world, to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "His Inheritance," by Miss Trafton, will be seen on the opening pages of "Tom Lazy," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a rather odd dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers on Shooting Science," by Dr. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on ics, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by well-known specialists.

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL."

Mr. Richard's articles on various industries of rest Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Leaf Factory," in the November number, and "Coal Lore, Roofslate" to December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Nation of Shopkeepers," "Hallowing a Week for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be put on "American Ideas by Flood and Field," by various writers, and each on a different theme. The subject of will have a prominent place whilst the latest productions of American homesteds will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is long one.

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

The editorial department will continue to employ the oldest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Welford.

We need to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in its utterances and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Midgie Minnie." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be sent on receipt of $1 to any subscriber who requests it, and whose subscription begins with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with any the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pains so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.50.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected in Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago, I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and thirty, but, as I am gaining in strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

[WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day, and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them and pains of rheumatism from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in giving them praise; so I send you another testimonial. My kidneys have been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be bought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago I advised him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them. He was astonished when he came to the Chemical Complaint for years, No Rheumatism, no pain. Pills helped him! It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story. I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, 75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for near twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same results. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten winters, and have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. M. Mathis, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that if your pills will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed find $5, for which please send five packages to me and one to Mrs. Laura Sherrell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sir:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all my medicine I ever took! I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they are used. I shall recommend the Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Many thanks to the inventor, agent and advertiser of those Pills.

MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative we could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before e was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lung-trying climate of New England

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate each. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all this afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

— USE —!

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent. A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind, and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Prof. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, B. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the Daily Period, there are four original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it addresses itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, 50 cents.

PULMOCINE.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be accepted as sufficient pledge of its future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of the Literary Reading of the Best and Most Sympathetic Sense. The great object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and soundest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well-known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its most attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

by George Macdonald, author of "Malcolm," "Alec Forbes," "Robert Falconer," etc.

To those of our readers who are familiar with "Malcolm," this new story from the pen of this distinguished writer will need no recommendation, and his reputation is a guarantee to others of a deeply interesting and powerful story. It began in the November number, which issue, with the December part, will be furnished gratis to all new subscribers for 1877.

2. A profusely illustrated series of sketches of

SWEDISH SCENERY AND LIFE,

by Prof. Willard Fiske, of Cornell University, who is thoroughly familiar with Sweden and its People from personal observation.

3. A series of popular papers on

ART AND ART MATTERS,

by Edward Strahan (Earl Shinn), author of "The New Hyperion," etc.

4. Illustrated Sketches of Travel, entitled

PICTURES FROM SPAIN,

by Edward King, author of "The Great South," etc.

5. Mrs. Lucy H. Hooper's Interesting and Piquant

PAPERS AND LETTERS FROM PARIS,

will be continued through the year.

6.

THE BEAUTIES OF THE RHINE,

will be described in a richly illustrated series of papers.

7. During the year will appear a number of handsomely illustrated short articles, descriptive of Life, Travel and Adventure in the United States, England, South America, Japan, Mongolia, and other countries.

Notices of the Press.

The Magazine has attained in its one quarter century and more of existence to that point where it may be said of it, in the words of Dr. Johnson, "It is vain to blame and useless to praise." The lustre of its long-ago-attained reputation has increased as the years have passed, and its future seems as bright if not brighter than at any time since the golden hue of prosperity settled around its later and best years. —Brooklyn Eagle.

Harper's Monthly is marked by the same characteristics which gave it popularity from the first with the better class of readers. It combines reading matter with illustrations in a way to make clear and vivid the facts presented. Pictures merely designed to catch the eye of the ignorant are never inserted. —Chicago Journal.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The continued and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and satisfactory means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness the essays and reviews, choice serials and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information which the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages it represents: such eminent authors as Prof. Max Muller, Prof. Tyndall, Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Francis Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Muloch, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Miss Thomson, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, philosophy, poetry, theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: to send, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $9.00. With The Living Age and one or other of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "command of the whole situation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first installments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend he periodical to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the best minds of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to your selves, and Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction, and never heard a mother, on the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLACE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the system, and brings health to the child, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething or from other causes. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTE—if STRICT HEED is paid to the use of this medicine, if timely used. THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions and character that have already been to our friends.

THE SUN will continue to be the strenuous advocate of reform and retrenchment, and of the substitution of statesmanship, wisdom, and integrity for hollow pretence, imbecility, and fraud in the administration of public affairs. It will contend for the government of the people by the people and for the people, as opposed to government by frauds in the ballot-box and in the counting of votes, enforced by military violence. It will endeavor to supply its readers, as body now not far from one million of souls—with the most careful, complete, and trustworthy accounts of current events, and will employ for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of reporters and correspondents. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY SUN enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expense of the paper and postage will be barely repaid; and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are positive that the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best. The Cork Tree in California.

Several experiments have been made with the cork tree in various parts of the State, with considerable success. There is a prospect that it will soon be more extensively introduced, Sontag & Co., of this city, having sent an order to Spain for three pounds of seed, which will be distributed gratuitously to farmers throughout the State. This valuable tree grows abundantly in Spain, Portugal, and Italy, in thin, rocky ground, and is very tenacious of life. It is a species of oak, with a soft and elastic bark. When the tree is fifteen years old the barking is commenced, and may be repeated every eight or ten years afterward, the crops improving both in quality and quantity at each operation. Trees thus barked, it is said, will live 150 years. The cork is removed in July and August. This is done by making incisions around the tree and longitudinally to the root, when the pieces are easily detached. These are then soaked in water, pressed under heavy weights, dried before the fire and stacked or packed in bales for transportation. The cork-cutters divide the sheets of cork into narrow strips, and, after cutting these of a proper length, round them into cylindrical form with a very sharp, thin-bladed knife. Spanish black is made from the parings of cork. Cork manufacturers in the Eastern States and Europe have a large market in California and the demand is increasing correspondingly with our wine product. It is said that a full-grown tree will yield at each cutting the value of the tree for commercial purposes. It makes an excellent shade and good timber. The latitude of San Francisco is the same as the southern portion of Spain and Portugal, the climate similar, and the soil of the foot-hills of the Sierra is not unlike the soil in which the tree has been so successfully grown in the Old World. When the tree is once firmly rooted in the ground no more care and attention to it is required than with the oak. In Spain large tracts of land are devoted to its culture and each year only a section of its bark is stripped, which insures an annual crop.—California Paper.

Brown's Matrimonial Method.

"Brown, I don't know how it is that your girls all marry off as soon as they get old enough, while none of mine can marry."

"Oh, that's simple enough. I marry my girls off on the buckwheat straw principle."

"But what is that principle? I never heard of it before."

"Well, I used to raise a good deal of buckwheat, and it puzzled me to know how to get rid of the straw. Nothing would eat it, and it was a great bother to me. At last I thought of a plan. I stacked my buckwheat straw nicely and built a high rail fence around it. My cattle, of course, concluded that it was something good, and at once tore down the fence and began to eat the straw. I dogged them away and put up the fence a few times, but the more I drove them away the more anxious they became to eat the straw, and eat it they did, every bit of it. As I said, I marry my girls off on the same principle. When a young man that I don't like begins calling on my girls I encourage him in every way I can. I tell him to come often and stay as late as he pleases, and I take pains to hint to the girls that I think they'd better set their caps for him. It works first rate. He don't make many calls, for the girls treat him as coolly as they can. But when a young fellow that I like comes around, a man I think would suit me for a son-in-law, I don't let him make many calls before I give him to understand that he isn't wanted around my house. I tell the girls, too, that they shall not have anything to do with him, and give them orders never to speak to him again. The plan always works first rate. The young folks begin to pity each other, and the next thing I know they are engaged to be married. When I see that they are determined to marry I always give in and pretend to make the best of it. That's the way I manage it."—Dubuque Telegraph.

The Sparrow and the Butcher Bird.

A correspondent of the Providence Journal calls attention to the savage slaughter of the English sparrows by what is popularly known as the butcher bird, and he naturally enlists one's sympathy for the victims of such ornithological atrocity. Butt a correspondent of the Boston Transcript takes the side against the sparrow. He inquires:

"I would like to be told what are the qualities which make the English sparrow a sacred bird? Not his song, for he has none; nor his beauty, for he has but little. It cannot be his disposition, for he is quarrelsome. I have been an observer of the sparrow for some years, and it is my belief that he is nothing but a dirty scavenger. He quarrels with and destroys the eggs o the bluebird, who is his superior in all good birdly qualities. I am told that before the importation of the sparrows, the purple martin, one of the most sociable and friendly birds, was common in this vicinity. Now he is never seen. As a foe to insects, the sparrow is, I think, overestimated. On my premises, a tree which was attacked by caterpillars, and its foliage destroyed, had no help from the sparrows, but the orioles alone cleared out the pests. See, too, the houses in the best part of the city bedaubed by the dirty presence of the sparrows.

Now, as to the butcher bird, Wilson, the ornithologist, says, 'he preys occasionally on other birds, but insects, and particularly grasshoppers, I believe to be his principal food, having at almost all times, even in winter, found them in his stomach. In the month of December, when the country was covered with snow, I shot one whose stomach was filled with large black spiders.'"

REPUBLICAN CONVENTIONS.

Councillor—District No. 1—At Court House, Portsmouth, Friday, Jan. 19, at 11 A. M.

Senatorial—District No. 1—At Court House, Portsmouth, Tuesday, Jan 30, at 11 A. M.

The Democratic Nomination.

The Concord correspondent of the Boston Globe, writing of the nomination of Hon. Daniel Marcy for Governor, says: "The nomination fell flat upon the Convention, especially on the younger members, who regard Mr. Marcy's official record as very damaging to the party. An effort was made looking to his withdrawal. Telegram after telegram was flashed over the wires to Portsmouth, but to no purpose. No answers came back, and the result is that Mr. Marcy is the nominee of the Convention. Just what the effect will be on the party in the approaching struggle remains to be ascertained." And editorially the Globe says: "The democrats of New Hampshire may not realize it, but it is the fact that they have nominated the man the republicans can easily beat. The trouble with Marcy is that he has a record."

Mr. Marcy's nomination not only "fell flat" on the Convention that "flashed telegram after telegram over the wires to Portsmouth" to get him to withdraw, but it also fell flat on the democratic party at large, if we may judge from the manner in which the democrats of this city regard it. The fact is that the possibility of his being again renominated, after his overwhelming defeat last year, was not considered at all by the great mass of the party, who up to the meeting of the Convention cherished the blissful delusion that his chronic candidacy for office was at an end. But according to party custom he was entitled to a renomination, and as he would not take himself out of the way, notwithstanding the urgent entreaties of the party wire-pullers, he received his second nomination for Governor at the hands of the democrats, and will receive his second (and worst) defeat at the polls in March. Mr. Frink, in his address to the Convention, said it could not be justly charged against the democratic party of New Hampshire that they had ever nominated a candidate solely for his "availability;" this statement is certainly true in so far as the action of the late Democratic State Convention is concerned.

Convenient Forgetfulness.

Colonel Pelton, the great "reformer's" nephew and private secretary, when examined by the Senate committee on privileges and elections developed a most marvellous and convenient forgetfulness. He knew Smith Weed of New York, and remembered that he went to South Carolina immediately after the election, but didn't know who sent him or what his mission was; witness received no dispatch in December from the President of the Charlotte, Columbia & Augusta Railroad, and has no knowledge of a despatch in which the question was asked whether they would be willing to pay $3000 for an electoral vote. There was such a suggestion made, but witness "could not remember" whether it came from a person residing in South Carolina, or one who had gone there from New York. A letter was received at one time from one of the Southwestern States, saying an Elector could be had for money; the letter did not come from Oregon; "does not remember" that there was a proposition of that kind from South Carolina. Witness "did not remember" having received a despatch from Mr. Weed saying that a colored Elector's vote in South Carolina could be purchased; thinks he would remember such a letter or despatch if it had been received. Col. Pelton has an excellent memory (or conscience) for a Tilden politician to have; it enables him to testify that he "does not remember" the particulars of circumstances he must have known all about and which it is simply impossible he should have forgotten. Tilden evidently knows how to choose suitable tools to do his work with.

Can It Be True?

The republicans in this vicinity are "getting even" with those democrats who, for years, have been fond of reporting Gen. Grant as a hard drinker and much of the time in a state of intoxication. They assert that Mr. Tilden has been intoxicated most of the time during the last six weeks; that he has quarrelled with many of his friends, including Mr. Hewitt; that he is dejected over the loss of so much money during the Presidential campaign, and so on! Some of these rumors come down to details, and assert that Barnum and Gwin beat him to the amount of over a million of dollars for campaign expenses, and that Mr. Tilden, if he loses the object of his ambition, will soon "drink himself to death!" I suppose, of course, that five-sixths of these stories are false, but as Gov. Tilden is no teetotaler, but likes strong drink full as well as Gen. Grant does, our democratic friends, if he becomes President, will doubtless have an opportunity of knowing how it feels to have their party chief set down as "drunk" every time he takes a glass of wine. Gen. Grant says that it will seem very pleasant to him to taste the sweets of private life, and especially of escaping misrepresentation. Gov. Tilden already knows what it is to have his private acts trumpeted to the world, but it is nothing to what is coming if he takes the Presidential chair. There he will soon become a "sot"—that is, if he, like Gen. Grant, is fond of a glass of wine with his dinner—and he will be regarded by his political enemies as one of the worst men that ever lived. A good and upright republican told me the other day that he believed Tilden to be "far more corrupt than Tweed in his palmiest days?"—Wash. Cor. Springfield Republican.

Good Works.

Mr. Frink, on taking the chair at the Democratic State Convention, told the assembled "reformers" some wholesome truths. Said he:

"They who wish the minority to arbitrate for the majority would incite civil war."

That must have sounded oddly enough to the fellows who passed the famous (and infamous) resolutions at the meeting of the Democratic State Committee not long before. The democrats are the only ones who propose to "incite civil war." Mr. Frink added:

"The attempt to incite the acceptance of a challenge to battle has fallen impotent."

That is true, for nothing in this world ever fell flatter than the democratic war-meetings on the 8th of January. "Tildea or war," the office-seekers' slogan, excites no enthusiasm among the democrats and no terror among the republicans, though it does call forth a good deal of derision from both parties.

Counting the Electoral Vote.

The committees of the House and Senate appointed to confer on the subject of counting the Electoral vote, have reached an agreement and reported the result of their deliberations in a bill to both houses, embodying the following points:

First—The President of the Senate is accorded no power except the purely clerical one of opening the envelope and announcing its contents after it shall be handed to him.

Second—All disputed cases shall be referred to a tribunal which shall consist of five members of the Senate, to be appointed by the President of the Senate; five members of the House to be appointed by the Speaker of the House; and five Justices of the Supreme Court, four of whom shall be the four longest in service, and the fifth shall be selected by them.

Third—The vote of any State may be thrown out by concurrent vote of the two houses, even though the proposed tribunal may have decided in favor of counting it in.

The Massachusetts Senatership.

On Thursday there was more balloting, as follows:

THIRD BALLOT.

Whole number of votes	274
Necessary for a choice	138
Hoar	100
Boutwell	88
Abbott	62
Rice	17
Seelye	3
Bullock	4

FOURTH BALLOT.

Whole number of votes	274
Necessary for a choice	138
Hoar	104
Boutwell	83
Abbott	62
Rice	17
Seelye	4
Bullock	4

The Convention then adjourned.

News and Notes.

Iglesias, late Chief Justice of Mexico, and subsequently the head of one of the armed factions contending for the Presidency, has lost his whole army in a battle with Diaz, and now asks permission to retire to private life.

Schooner Ellen Frances, of Gloucester, before reported lost, has turned up all right.

The Grand Union Hotel of New York, opposite Grand Central Depot, is one of the most popular of the New York city first class hotels. It is so conveniently located to the Grand Central Depot, that all expense of carriage and baggage expressage is saved its guests. Persons contemplating visiting or passing through New York, will do well to give the Grand Union a trial. The Grand Union supplies every advantage afforded by a first-class hotel, while the rates of charges are moderate, being suited to the stringency of the times.

British schooner Rockport, of St. John, N. B., from Picton for New York with potatoes, has been abandoned at sea.

While the Pennsylvania Legislature has voted a million of dollars to place the militia of that State on a war footing, if necessary, the Legislature of Virginia has after much debate voted that the annual salary of Col. James McDonald, Adjutant General of that State, shall be $100, with no extras of any description.

Steamer August Andre, long overdue at New York from England, arrived at Halifax on the 17th in tow of steamer Switzerland, having lost her rudder and had her machinery disabled by bad weather.

The Union Trust Company of New York was swindled of $64,000 on Wednesday by a forged check.

Schooner Lucy May, of Haverhill, Mass., sailed from Haverhill for Jacksonville, Fla. Dec. 10, was spoken off Cape Ann on her outward passage by schooner J. D. McCarthy, which was wrecked next day on Salisbury Beach, and nothing has since been heard of her.

Benjamin F. Hawes, the driver of the horse which ran down and killed Mr. A. G. Hill in Boston on Sunday, has been acquitted of blame by a coroner's jury, as the horse was entirely beyond his control at the time.

We are again called to chronicle another disgraceful homicide in Abbeyville. On New Year's night, Theo. Le Blanc was shot while standing at the bar of Trahan's coffeehouse, by some unknown person, with a double barrelled shotgun loaded with buckshot, and instantly killed. The assassin was outside, and shot through the window, and then disappeared in the darkness. It was about ten o'clock, and several persons were in the coffeehouse at the time, but no one saw the assassin. LeBlanc was shot in the back, and in falling drew his pistol and fired, the ball taking effect in the leg of Mr. Bibi Trahan. Theo. Le Blanc is the person who, about two months since, killed Mr. Richard Le Blanc, Jr., not 100 feet from the place where he was himself killed. No arrests have yet been made. The deceased was a desperate character, and had been involved in so many difficulties that suspicion can not attach to any one more than another of the several parties. The coroner's jury failed to trace the deed to any one in particular. It will probably never be known who did the crime. These homicides are a disgrace to civilization, and arise from a lax administration of the law. Juries fail in all cases to convict for homicide, and thus the injured parties are encouraged to obtain that redress at their own hands which they fail to obtain from the tribunals of their country.—Abbeyville (La.) Banner.

Political.

Alvah W. Sulloway was nominated for Congress by the democrats of the Second District on Thursday.

In the Illinois Legislature, Thursday, the eighth ballot for U. S. Senator was taken, and resulted as follows: Logan, 99; Palmer, 86; Anderson, 7; Davis, 4; Haines, 1.

Bogy's Louisiana Report.

The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says:

Senator Bogy, on the part of the committee sent by Mr. Hewitt to observe the canvass of the vote by the Returning Board of Louisiana, has completed his report. It is a formidable paper, with accompanying documents, making fully 4000 pages. It declares Tilden elected on the face of the returns, and that the Returning Board exercised powers of revision not recognized by the State constitution. It also denies that any intimidation was practiced. Among the documents are several thousand affidavits in support of the last statement. One package contains 950 affidavits, in printed form, not one of which was signed by the parties themselves, but evidently by a clerk, as all are in the same handwriting. Senator Bogy has taken frequent occasion to characterize the testimony presented by the republicans as manufactured. That furnished by this gentleman is about as glaring a case of the manufactured as has yet appeared.

The Sunny South.

In Texas snow has fallen to the depth of from six to eighteen inches, crushing in roofs and freezing numbers of horses and cattle to death. A negro froze to death in Houston, and one in Dallas. In Louisiana trains have been snow bound and a negro froze to death in Shreveport. In Mississippi members of the Legislature were snowbound and for two days no quorum could be had. Persons have crossed the river on ice at Vicksburg for the first time in the history of that section. In Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina and Virginia, the snow and cold are unprecedented. In Georgia and South Carolina sleet has been very destructive to trees and telegraph lines. The Mississippi river has been gorged with ice as far south as Ozark Island, nearly one hundred miles below Helena.

—He who loves wisely loves very well.

—Watterson double-leads his editorials, to give them weight.—N. O. Repub.

—A commercial traveller in a Yankee city handed a merchant, upon whom he had called, a portrait of his betrothed instead of his business card, saying that he represented that establishment. The merchant examined it carefully, remarked that it was a fine establishment, and returned it to the astonished and blushing traveller, with a hope that he would soon be admitted into partnership.

Happy Influence of a Great Specific.

For the preservation or recovery of health and strength, the diet should be wholesome and nutritious. When it happens that the alimentary processes are disturbed by improper or half masticated food, the best remedy for the evil results of abusing the digestive organs is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a most agreeable, prompt and gentle remedy for dyspepsia, and for the bilious and evacuative irregularities which result from it. The liver and bowels, in common with the stomach, experience its beneficent influences. The refuse of the system is carried off through its natural outlet, a healthy flow and secretion of the bile is promoted, and a powerful impetus is given in assimilation in consequence of its use. It healthfully stimulates the bladder and kidneys when they are inactive, and by its tonic and regulating action fortifies the system against malaria.

Pretty Lips

should have pearly teeth behind them. To make the teeth pearly, and to keep them so, there is nothing like Fragrant Sozodont. It neutralizes every element of impurity that affects the soundness or whiteness of the shell which sheathes the dental bone. Moreover, it prevents gum-boil and canker.

The Grand Central Hotel, New York, offers its guests the privilege of choosing the location of their rooms and floors, and have made a reduction of rates on all.

The Colonnade Hotel.

The Colonnade Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa., sustained its well-merited reputation, and, if possible, earned greater, with its patrons, during the "Centennial Exhibition."

FOR WASHINGTON AND THE SOUTH.—The most convenient route for reaching the capital, and all points South and Southwest, is by way of the N. Y. & N. E. Railroad, which now runs cars direct from Boston to Richmond and Danville without change.

THE FAME OF GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP as a remedy for eruptions, sores, burns, pimples, blotches and rheumatic and gouty pains has spread far and wide. Physicians recommend it, and the demand for it constantly increases.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

E. G PIERCE, Jr., P. M.

OH! OH!! OH!!!

Hon. John S. H. Frink, in his address to the Democratic State Convention on taking the chair, said the first duty of the Convention was to select worthy members of the party as candidates for the highest offices in the State, and continued as follows:

"Such a wealth of material from which to make a selection is the only embarrassment to be met. Wealth alone has never been able to purchase a nomination. Education alone has been the passport to party honors."

And then the Convention renominated the candidate left over from last year—Hon. Daniel Marcy of this city!

[P. S. From the full text of Mr. Frink's speech, as published in the Post, we learn that what Mr. Frink said was "Education alone has not been the passport to our party favors"—a superfluous statement, the truth of which no one will dispute.]

JOTTINGS.

Henry F. Wendell, Esq., is the Portsmouth member of the Democratic State Committee.

Who is going to engineer the course of subscription assemblies this season? Don't all speak at once,—but go ahead, somebody.

The Times mildly hints that the reason work has been commenced at the navy yard in fitting the contract steamer "Enterprise" for sea, is that the State election is approaching. The navy yard bugaboo is about played out. "Navy yard influence" was a scarce article in this market last March, but the republicans carried the State in spite of that lack, and in face of the terrible "Belknap battery," too; and our municipal election was won by the same party without "navy yard aid," as was the Presidential contest in this State. We question if an old-time democratic howl against navy yard influence would be popular in this city just now, even were a thousand men to be set to work there instead of a few score; for the democratic merchants and business men have found out within the past two years that ten or twelve thousands of dollars distributed monthly among the laborers and mechanics of the city was an excellent thing for trade, even if the larger part of said workmen were republicans. And no "navy yard aid" need be invoked by the republicans to defeat Hon. Daniel Marcy.

The Boston Globe says: "It is a fact worthy of notice that while every other port on the Atlantic coast north of Hatteras is more or less obstructed by ice, Boston harbor is open and clear, and inward and outward bound vessels arrive and depart without the least trouble. There is a little ice in some of the docks, but it in no way interfers with navigation, and sailing vessels and steamers can load or unload at the East Boston and North End wharves as easily as in summer. This is no unusual occurrence, however, for during no winter since 1844, when a channel was cut through the ice for the Cunard steamer Britannia, has navigation been seriously interrupted. It is seldom that there is any dangerous floating ice; and the arrangements made for keeping strong steamboats moving about in very cold weather, render the freezing up of the channel almost impossible." Portsmouth harbor is on the Atlantic coast and north of Hatteras, but it is not now and never has been obstructed by ice, not even in the year that Boston harbor was so badly choked that a steamer passage had to be sawed through the ice; and no "strong steamboats" are ever required to keep the channel from freezing up.

The renomination of Hon. Daniel Marcy for Governor, after the crushing defeat he received last year when everything was in favor of the democracy, shows that the democratic leaders do not entertain the ghost of a hope of victory this year. Neither of the favorite "war-horses of the young democracy"—Sulloway and Daniells,—were trotted out before the democratic convention to show their paces, though Frank A. McKean, a second-rate nag, did put in an appearance. Sulloway and Daniells are too valuable to be broken down in a hopeless race against Hon. B. F. Prescott, but the democrats evidently think Capt. Marcy won't be injured by another defeat, when he shows up in so fresh a condition after his experience of last March.

We are informed that the upper rooms in the old Custom House building have been rented by parties who intend to at once commence the manufacture of clothing by wholesale, and expect to give employment to one hundred or more girls.

Schooner Alfred Brabrook arrived in New York on Saturday, the 13th inst., making the run from this port in forty-eight hours. A very different passage was made by the ship St. Stephen, which arrived at New York on the 17th from Bath, Me., having been thirty-one days on the way.

Assistant Paymaster Charles W. Littlefield, U. S. N., is detached from the Wabash and ordered to the Palos, attached to the Asiatic squadron.

A motion has been filed before the Supreme Judicial Court of Rockingham county, now in session at Exeter, in behalf of the Eastern Railroad Company, to transfer the suit in equity brought by the Eastern in New Hampshire to the United States Circuit Court for the district of New Hampshire.

Schooner "Satellite" on Thursday afternoon went up the river with a load of brick for Dover. So we are informed, but we don't know how she could get up to Dover, as the Cocheco must be frozen over.

The Republican Councillor Convention for this District meets at the Court House in this city, at eleven o'clock this forenoon.

Mr. Ralph Reinwald, formerly second leader in the Marine Band, is now leader and director of the Dover Cornet Band.

The number of Littell's Living Age for the week ending January 20th contains "The Hellenic Factor in the Eastern Problem," by Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone; an instalment of "The Marquis of Lossie," by George MacDonald; "How Russians Meet Death," a characteristic sketch by Ivan Turguenief, translated by Lady George Hamilton; Melancthon, a chapter in the History of Education; The Feast of the Roofs, a Christmas Fairy Tale, from the French, by Helen Stanley; with a liberal supply of choice poetry, and miscellany. The back number containing the first instalments of MacDonald's new serial are sent to new subscribers for 1877. For fifty-two numbers, of sixty-four large pages each (or more than 3000 pages a year), the subscription price ($8) is low; while for $10.50 the publishers offer to send any one of the American $4 monthlies or weeklies with The Living Age for a year, both postpaid. Littell & Gay, Boston, are the publishers.

Messrs. Editors: Some maliciously inclined person has, without the shadow of a cause, circulated libellous and silly stories around the city, calculated to do great injury to acting missionary Loyne, not only personally but in the excellent work in which he is engaged. I desire through your columns (and am joined in this denial by many who know whereof they affirm) to most emphatically contradict such scandalous and unfounded reports, which on the lips of some people "will gather as they roll," and earnestly commend Mr. Loyne to the continued support of the public.

COM.

YORK.

The dwelling house of Mr. Theodore Johnson, of York, with its entire contents, was destroyed by fire Thursday morning. Mr. Johnson awoke at four o'clock and found the house in flames; the family barely escaped with what clothing they had on, which at that hour was small. The house was well filled with good furniture. Cause of fire supposed to be a defective flue. Loss, one thousand; not a dollar insurance.

How She "Fixed" Him.

An amusing scene occurred in one of the Boston city courts a few days ago, when a lady who was testifying in a case was being closely questioned by her counsel as to her former business connections with the opposing lawyer, to whom it appears she went with her business before he was retained by the other side. She was asked if she hadn't been in his private office on business one day, and she said she had. Hadn't she been there at a certain time and remained closely closeted with him for quite a while? The lady declined to answer this query, assigning as a reason that she would compromise herself by so doing. The effect upon the eminent legal gentleman of the opposition may be imagined. He tried to explain the circumstances, but the Court only increased the embarrassment by observing that it could readily be seen that the lady ought to be excused on the ground she had given. The joke was that her legal opponent was entirely innocent of anything amiss.

—Mrs. Julia Ward Howe said, in response to a St. Louis Globe-Democrat reporter's remark that he admired Englishmen for their freedom from shoddy: "Don't deceive yourself. Let me tell you about Mrs. Paran Stevens, whose husband was a very wealthy hotel proprietor in Boston. She made a great display of her money, and endeavored to gain the entree into the best society in Boston, but without success. Afterward she went to New York, and her personal beauty, large fortune, and elegant parties soon won for her an admitted position into the best society of the city. Finally she went abroad, and in London it was given out that her daughter was the most wealthy heiress in America. The Prince and Princess of Wales took her to their houses: took her daughter out riding with them; the Queen showed them great attention, and the Prince of Wales made every effort to secure Miss Stevens as a wife for one of his young noblemen who had lost all his money in betting on horse races. The young lady had the good sense not to marry the nobleman."

—Watch the earnest student of events as he early emerges from his house and steps upon the slight layer of snow that during the night has been sprinkled from the sky upon the glassy surface of his front sidewalk. See how artistically he flourishes and carves the air with his feet and arms, and then sits down like a die, and, getting up, suddenly turns and views the well-outlined map which he has drawn of the situation.

—Scene on steamer of the—— line: Passenger—"Can you tell me, sir, how many miles we've come from New York, and whether we've crossed the Gulf Stream yet, and—" Captain—"Madam, I advise you to ask the cook." Passenger—"Excuse me, sir; I supposed I was addressing that person."

—The time approaches when a fellow boys for his chum's sister a highly ornamental valentine, the great centre of attraction of which is a picture of the fabled boy who has decidedly more wings than overcoat.

Centaur
Liniments.
The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.
Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.
It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Ear-ache, Tooth-ache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.
Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:
"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.
C. H. Bennett, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:
"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."
What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.
The Yellow Centaur Liniment
is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.
This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Swenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.
We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:
"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.
REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Mannsville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."
DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, C.O.D. for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.
It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Foll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.
It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.
Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents feverishness, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.
Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Daily Chronicle.

Glad to See Him.

Among the multitudes of saddening anecdotes connected with the Brooklyn Theatre fire, it is cheering once in a while to come upon one that has its humorous aspect. On that fatal night two youths, one a resident of Newark and the other of Brooklyn, attended the performance at the Brooklyn Theatre. They left the building previous to the last act, as the Newark boy had persuaded his Brooklyn chum to go home and sleep with him, and it was necessary to have early to catch the train. No hint of the terrible disaster reached Newark until the next afternoon. The day after this the Brooklyn boy returned to his home. He found a hearse at his father's door and all the other appliances of a funeral. Ringing the door bell he was met by a servant girl who nearly fainted at sight of him.

"Whose funeral is this?" said the boy.

"It's your own, darlin," said the girl; "we got you're body yesterday at the morgue, and you're jist after bein' buried."

—A wine-shop keeper in the Rue Saint Mederic, Paris, was recently at work in his cellar when suddenly the ground gave way, and he fell into what was at first thought to be a well, but, on lights being brought, the hole was found to be the entrance to another wine cellar containing some of the best wines of France and Spain. The archæologists of Versailles say that the mysterious subterranean wine cellar formed part of the Pavillion du Rendezvous which Louis XV. annexed to the Pare-aux-Cerfs, about which so many queer things are related by the court chroniclers of the period.

ST. NICHOLAS.

"The King of all publications issued for the young on either side of the Atlantic."—Southampton (England) Observer.

The third volume of this incomparable Magazine is now completed. With its eight hundred royal octavo pages, and its six hundred illustrations, its splendid serials, its shorter stories, poems, and sketches, etc., etc., in its beautiful binding of red and gold, it is the most splendid gift-book for boys and girls ever issued from the press. Price, $4; in full gilt, $6.

"ST. NICHOLAS is full of the choicest things. The publication is, in all respects, the best of its kind. We have never yet seen a number that was not surprisingly good."—The Churchman, Hartford, Conn.

ST. NICHOLAS FOR 1877,

Which opens with November, 1876, begins a short and very entertaining serial from the French, "The Kingdom of the Greedy," a Story adapted to the Thanksgiving season. Another serial, of absorbing interest to boys,

"HIS OWN MASTER."

By J. T. Trowbridge,

Author of the "Jack Hazard Stories," begins in the Holiday Number.

Besides serial stories, Christmas stories, lively sketches, poems and pictures for the holidays, and some astonishing illustrations of athletic sports, with drawings by Slapsess artists, The Christmas Holiday Number of ST. NICHOLAS, superbly illustrated, contains a very tempting aspect.

"THE BOYS OF MY BOYHOOD,"

By William Cullen Bryant;

"The Horse Hotel," a lively article, by Charles A. Barnard, splendidly illustrated; "The Clock in the Sky," by Richard A. Proctor; "A Christmas Play for Homes or Sunday-school," by Dr. Eggleston; "The Peterkins' Christmas Tree," by Lucretia P. Hale; "Poetry and Carols of Winter," by Lucy Larcom, with pictures.

Do Not Fail to Buy St. Nicholas for the Christmas Holidays. Price 25 cents.

During the year there will be interesting papers for boys, by William Cullen Bryant, John G. Whittier, Thomas Hughes, William Howitt, Dr. Holland, George MacDonald, Sanford B. Hunt, Frank R. Stockton, and others.

There will be stories, sketches, and poems, of special interest to girls, by Harriet Prescott Spofford, Susan Coolidge, Sarah Winter Kellogg, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps, Louisa Alcott, Lucretia P. Hale, Celia Thaxter, Mary Mapes Dodge, and many others. There will be also

"TWELVE SKY PICTURES,"

By Prof. Proctor, the Astronomer,

with maps, showing "The Stars of Each Month," which will be likely to surpass in interest any series on popular science recently given to the public.

Amusement and instruction, with Fun and Frolic, and Wit and Wisdom, will be mingled as heretofore, and ST. NICHOLAS will continue to delight the young and give pleasure to the old.

The London Literary World says: "There is no magazine for the young that can be said to equal ST. NICHOLAS in the combination of excellence. All the articles, whether in prose or rhyme, are throbbing with vitality. . . . The literature and artistic illustrations are both superb."

The London Daily News says: "We wish we could point out its equal in our own periodical literature."

GOOD NEWS FOR BOYS AND GIRLS;

To meet the demand for a cheaper St. NICHOLAS Gift-Book, the price of vols. I and II has been reduced to $3 each. The three volumes, in an elegant library case, are sold for $10 (in full gilt, $15), so that all may give their children a complete set. These volumes contain more attractive material than fifty children's worth of the ordinary children's books.

Subscription price, $3 a year. The three bound volumes and a subscription for the first year, only $12. Subscribe with the nearest newsdealer, or send money to check, or P. O. money order, or in registered letter, to

SCRIBNER & CO., 743 Broadway, N. Y.

SCRIBNER'S MONTHLY.

An Unrivaled Illustrated Magazine.

The prospectus for the new volume gives the titles of more than fifty papers (profusely illustrated), by writers of the highest merit. Under the head of

"FOREIGN TRAVEL,"

we have "A Winter on the Nile," by Gen. McClellan; "Summerings About Constantinople," by Charles Dudley Warner; "Out of My Window" at Florence," by Eugene Lawrence; "An American in Turkistan," etc. Three serial stories are announced:

by Dr. Holland, the Editor, whose story of "Seven-oaks" gave the highest satisfaction to the readers of the Monthly.

The scene of this latest novel is laid on the banks of the Hudson. The hero is a young man who has been always "tied to a woman's apron strings," but who, by the death of his mother, is left alone in the world,—to drift on the current of life,—with a fortune, but without a purpose.

Another serial, "The Inheritance," by Miss Traf. ton, will begin on the completion of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," by Mrs. Hodgson Burnett. Mrs. Burnett's story, begun in August, has a pathos and dramatic power which have been a surprise to the public.

There is to be a series of original illustrated papers of "Popular Science," by Mrs. Herrick, each paper complete in itself.

There are to be, from various pens, papers on ies, practical suggestions as to town and country life, village improvements, etc., by architects, sanitarians, etc.

"HOME LIFE AND TRAVEL,"

Mr. Burnett's articles on various industries of rural Britain include the history of "Some Experiments in Co-operation," "A Scottish Leaf Factory," in the November number, and "Twell Lane, Rochdale," in December. Other papers are, "The British Workingman's Home," "A Union of Shopkeepers," "Halyards & Week's for the Child," etc.

A richly illustrated series will be given on "American Sports by Flood and Field, Prairie and Forest," and each on a different theme. The subject of

"HOUSEHOLD AND HOME DECORATION"

will have a prominent place, whilst the latest productions of American humorists will appear from month to month. The list of shorter stories, biographical and other sketches, etc., is a long one.

The editorial department will continue to employ the choicest pens both at home and abroad. There will be a series of letters on literary matters, from London, by Mr. Winsor.

We mean to make the magazine sweeter and purer, higher and nobler, more genial and generous in its attractiveness and influences, and a more welcome visitor than ever before in homes of refinement and culture.

FIFTEEN MONTHS FOR $4.00.

SCRIBNER for December, now ready, contains the opening chapters of "Nicholas Minturn." The three numbers of SCRIBNER for August, September, and October, containing the opening chapters of "That Lass o' Lowrie's," will be given to every new subscriber (who requests it), and send a subscription beginns with the present volume, i.e., with the November number.

Subscription price, $4 a year—35 cents a number. Special terms on bound volumes. Subscribe with the nearest bookseller, or send a check or P. O. money order to

DR. QUAIN'S

MAGIC

CONDITION PILLS!

The Wonderful Remedy for Liver Complaint, Biliousness, Dyspepsia, Constipation, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Headache, Kidney Complaint, Nervousness, Scrofula, Piles, and all diseases arising from a bad state of the Blood!

No medicine ever offered to the public has given such universal satisfaction as Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. Their praises are on every tongue where their merits are known. They strike at once at the seat of disease and show their healing power almost immediately. Thousands of voluntary testimonials of their merits have been received by the agent, from those who have been cured by them, of which the following are samples:

Dyspepsia Four Years, Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels Three Years, Confined to my Room Two Years, Pain so I Could Not Sleep Without Morphine. One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills Made Me Eat Well, Sleep Well and Free from Pain, after being given up by Physicians.

WEST LEBANON, ME., Feb. 22, 1

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I have been sick for four years with Dyspepsia, and for the past three years Constipation and Inflammation of the Bowels. I have suffered all the pain I could endure and live. I have been confined to my room for two years, and could not sleep nights without the use of morphine. I have been given up by physicians as past cure. I have taken one package of Dr. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, and they have done me more good than all the doctors I have had. I sleep well, I eat well and have no pain. They are all they are recommended to be. Please send me three packages, as two of my neighbors wish to try them. I enclose $1.00.

Your truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Another Letter from Maj. John W. Lord, one month later Wonderful Cures by Dr. Quain's Pills Effected on Him in Thirteen Days. First time Free from Pain for Three Years.

WEST LEBANON, ME., March 22, 1875

MR. THOMAS W. LANE:—I commenced taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS February 9th, and wrote you February 23d of their wonderful effect. I have continued to improve ever since. My appetite is good, and I sleep as well as I ever did in my life. I am free from pain for the first time in three years. When I was taken sick four years ago I weighed one hundred and eighty-six pounds; I now weigh one hundred and forty, but, as I gain flesh and strength, I have faith I shall regain my flesh this summer, by the use of the Pills. I shal continue taking them for some time to come.

Yours truly, JOHN W. LORD.

Dr. Quain's Pills the Remedy for Soldiers' Aches and Pains.

[WEST LEBANON, ME., June 1, 1875.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I am now able to walk out every day and am gaining in strength very fast, all of which is due to you as agent for the best Pills in the world. I have taken no other medicine, and my improvement has been steady since first taking DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done everything for me, and I will say to you, advertise them direct to the soldiers, for they will certainly cure them of aches and pains caused from exposure and hardship on the field. Please send me by return mail another package.

JOHN W. LORD.

Rheumatism for Twenty Years Cured by One Package of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills—"The Best Medicine in the World."

EAST ANDOVER, N. H., Dec. 10, 1875.

MR. LANE—Dear Sir:—As I know the value of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS and the good they have done me, I take pleasure in telling about them, so I send you another testimonial. My father has been troubled with Rheumatism for twenty years or more, and has tried everything that could be thought of, but to no good. At times it would be so bad that he could not lift his hand to his head or do any work at all, especially in cold weather. A short time ago Indivisel him to get some of these Pills. He believed nothing in them, but I gave him the last package I had of you, as I did not need them, and he has been as free from the Rheumatism as any man for years. No Rheumatism, no pain. What helped him? It was DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS, the best medicine in the world. There is nothing like them. I know it, for I have tried them, and they are all, yes, more than they are recommended to be. Give them a fair trial and you will say so. I write this because I know the goodness of them and wish others to know the same. Some may think I am telling a big story I am. But remember I am not giving them half the praise they ought to have.

Yours with respect, ED. F. PEVARE.

Wonderful Effect of Four Doses of Dr. Quain's Condition Pills upon Neuralgia of Twelve Years' Duration—Testimony of Rev. J. S. Patton.

DAINGERFIELD, MORRIS CO., TEXAS, Nov. 15, '75.

MR. THOMAS W. LANE—Dear Sir:—I have been afflicted for nearly twelve years with Neuralgia in the face and head. I tried I do not know how many physicians, and could only get partly relieved. I also tried many patent medicines with the same result. I have been confined to my room most all the time for eight or ten weeks. I have been traveling and visiting medical springs, and I still suffered most intensely. The physicians pronounced my case the worst and most stubborn that they had had anything to do with. One told me I could never get well; they all advised me to go South and spend the winter, and thought that was the only chance for me, and I was trying to get ready to go to Florida, when through the kindness of Rev. H. B. Florida, my attention was called to the advertisement of Dr. Quain's Magic Condition Pills. I immediately sent to you for a package. I have taken four doses and I am almost free from pain. The impression here seems to be that everything will cure me, they will cure anybody. I have five applications to send for the pills. Enclosed please find three dollars; send five packages of the pills. My address is Sidwell Sulphur Springs, Hopkins county, Texas.

[Yours truly, J. S. PATTON.

Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache.

LACONIA, N. H., Jan. 29, 1875.

THOS. W. LANE—Sirs:—I have been troubled with Bad Blood, Liver Complaint, Nervousness, Dropsy and Headache. I have taken one package of DR. QUAIN'S CONDITION PILLS. They have done me more good than all the medicine I ever took; I have taken considerable medicine within the last five years. For the nerves I think there is nothing so good as those pills. I can recommend them to all who are similarly afflicted, they have done me so much good. I think they will recommend themselves wherever they go. I shall recommend those Pills to all who need them. Please send me two packages more, one for myself and one for a lady friend of mine. Send them to me by express, agents advertiser of those Pills. MRS. P. L. ELLIOTT.

DR. QUAIN'S MAGIC CONDITION PILLS are put up only by the AMERICAN MEDICINE CO., Manchester, N. H., THOMAS W. LANE, Agent.

PULMOCINE.

BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is no new discovery. Twenty-three years ago it was used by one of New England's most famous physicians as the best Pulmonary Curative so could prescribe, after dozen years spent in experimenting with it before was satisfied that the Materia Medica could add nothing in its favor.

Is the ultima thule of Medical Discovery.

Among its many ingredients are Wild Cherry Bark, Squill Root, Liquorice Root, Blood root, &c. It is a Blood Purifier, gently stimulating. It increases expectoration and is diuretic. It is sudorific and alterative. It is a necessary family medicine. It is a Tonic and a powerful aid to the digestive organs. It is a gentle sedative, and relieves nervousness. It is aromatic and agreeable to the taste.

CLEAR YOUR THROAT!

Relieve Your Lungs.

For the terrible diseases engendered by the lungs trying climate of New England.

PULMOCINE CORDIAL

is a speedy and reliable Preventive and Remedy. Every Family should have a bottle at hand to check the sudden growth of all Pulmonary Diseases. For the Asthma, Coughs, Croups, Laryngitis, or inflammation of the larynx, Diphtheria, and all kindred Throat Diseases at all times prevalent, it is the ounce of Prevention. Children attacked with Whooping Cough or Croup should be immediately cared for. These painful attacks come with scarcely a moment's warning, when a physician may be out of immediate reach. A dose of PULMOCINE CORDIAL gives speedy relief, and the little ones are spared hours of pain and agony. As "a stitch in time saves nine," so does the possession of this Family Medicine prevent the spread of disease. Parents seeing their children gasping with pain, friends and relatives beholding each other in peril from suffocation by the choking pain in the throat, paralyzed with fear and not knowing the best course to pursue, are liable to apply the wrong remedial agents. There is no safety in delay; no time to waste in such cases. CONSUMPTION, that fearful scourge of the human race, lies at the door of all thus afflicted. BUCHMAN'S PULMOCINE CORDIAL arrests it (unless in its advanced stage at which time there is no local cure) relieves the pressing, suffocating feeling at the lungs, and the patient's danger is past.

For Coughs,

Croup,

Diphtheria,

Asthma, etc.,

Buchman's Pulmocine Cordial.

The Pulmocine Cordial is not a quack medicine, is not an experiment, is not composed of any ingredients "discovered" by "walking in pastures" in South America or anywhere else, nor by one who discovered a weed and thereby cured himself. Most of the ingredients are such as our best educated physicians daily use for the complaints specified in some form or other. The recipe is that perfected by one of New England's most learned and famous physicians, who used it entirely in his daily practice until his death. Its offered to the profession and to the public, absolutely pure and unadulterated.

ECLECTIC MAGAZINE

OF

FOREIGN LITERATURE.

THIRTY-THIRD YEAR.

THE ECLECTIC reprints from the foreign Quarterlies, Reviews, Magazines, and Journals, their choicest contents, including Essays, Scientific Papers, Biographical Sketches, Reminiscences of Travel and Adventure, Tales, Stories, and Poems. The field of selection is very large, and it is believed that the ECLECTIC presents a greater variety and higher standard of literature than any periodical can hope to do that depends exclusively upon home talent.

A knowledge of the current literature of other countries is indispensable to all who would keep pace with the progress of the human mind; and the ECLECTIC offers the best, and, indeed, the only opportunity for obtaining this knowledge within a reasonable compass, and at a moderate price.

Among the writers represented in recent numbers of the ECLECTIC are: The Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, James Anthony Froude, Matthew Arnold, Charles Kingsley, Robert Buchanan, Geo. McDonald, John Ruskin, Alfred Tennyson, Thomas Hughes, William Black, Mrs. Oliphant, Thos. Hardy, William Morris, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Alexander, Profs. Huxley and Tyndall, Richard Proctor, R. A., Prof. Owen, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Max Muller, J. Norman Lockyer, Herbert Spencer, and others equally eminent. Besides the regular articles in the body of the magazine, there are our original Editorial Departments: Literary Notices, Foreign Literary Notes, Science and Art, and Varieties.

With regard to the character of the selections, the aim of the ECLECTIC is to be instructive without being dull, and entertaining without being trivial. While each number contains something to interest every member of the family circle, it endeavors itself particularly to that great body of intelligent readers who seek profit as well as amusement in solid and healthful literature.

Besides the 128 pages of reading matter, each number of the magazine contains a Fine Steel-Engraving, usually a portrait—executed in the most artistic manner.

TERMS.—Single copies, 45 cents; one copy one year $5; two copies, $9; five copies, $20. Trial subscriptions for three months, $1.

The ECLECTIC and any $4 Magazine to one address, $8.

Postage free to all subscribers. Address,

FURNITURE AND UPHOLSTERY!

WHAT PAYS?

IT PAYS every Manufacturer, Merchant, Mechanic, Inventor, Farmer, or Professional Man, to keep informed on all the improvements and discoveries of the age.

It pays the head of every family to introduce into his household a newspaper that is instructive, one that fosters a taste for investigation, and promotes thought and encourages discussion among the members.

The Scientific American

which has been published weekly for the last thirty-one years, does this, to an extent beyond that of any other publication; in fact it is the only weekly paper published in the United States, devoted to Manufactures, Mechanics, Inventions and New Discoveries in the Arts and Sciences.

Every number is profusely illustrated and its contents embrace the latest and most interesting information pertaining to the Industrial, Mechanical, and Scientific Progress of the world; Descriptions, with Beautiful Engravings of New Inventions, New Implements, New Processes, and Improved Industries of all kinds; Useful Notes, Recipes, Suggestions and Advice by Practical Writers to Workmen and Employers, in all the various arts, forming a complete repertory of New Inventions and Discoveries; containing a weekly record, not only of the progress of the Industrial Arts in our own country, but also of all New Discoveries and Inventions in every branch of Engineering, Mechanics and Science abroad.

THE SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN has been the foremost of all industrial publications for the past thirty-one years. It is the oldest, largest, cheapest, and the best weekly illustrated paper devoted to Engineering, Mechanics, Chemistry, New Inventions, Science and Industrial Progress, published in the world.

The practical Recipes are well worth ten times the subscription price, and for the shop and house will save many times the cost of subscription.

Merchants, Farmers, Mechanics, Engineers, Inventors, Manufacturers, Chemists, Lovers of Science, and People of all Professions, will find the SCIENTIFIC AMERICAN useful to them. It should have a place in every Family, Library, Study, Office and Counting Room: in every Reading Room, College and School. A new volume commences January 1st, 1877.

A year's numbers contain 832 pages and SEVERAL HUNDRED ENGRAVINGS. Thousands of volumes are preserved for binding and reference. Terms, $3.20 a year by mail, including postage. Discount to Clubs. Special circulars, giving Club rates sent free. Single copies mailed on receipt of 10 cents. May be had of all News Dealers.

PATENTS. In connection with the Scientific American, Messrs. MUNN & CO. are Solicitors of American and Foreign Patents, and have the largest establishment in the world. More than fifty thousand applications have been made for patents through their agency.

Patents are obtained on the best terms. Models of New Inventions and Sketches examined, and advice free. A special notice is made in the Scientific American of all Inventions Patented through this Agency, with the name and residence of the Patentee. Patents are often sold in part or in whole, to persons attracted to the Invention by such notice. A Pamphlet, containing full directions for obtaining Patents sent free. The Scientific American Reference Book, a volume bound in cloth and gilt, containing the Patent Laws, Census of the U. S., and 145 Engravings of mechanical movements. Price 25 Cents.

Address for the Paper, or concerning Patents, MUNN & CO., 37 Park Row, New York.

PULMOCINE.

Lippincott's Magazine.

AN ILLUSTRATED MONTHLY OF POPULAR LITERATURE, SCIENCE, and ART.

Announcement for 1877.

The number for January begins the nineteenth volume of this Magazine, and while its past record will, it is hoped, be deemed a sufficient guarantee of future excellence, no efforts will be spared to diversify its attractions and to provide an increased supply of Popular Reading in the Best and Most Emphatic Sense. The main object and constant aim of the conductors will be to furnish the public with Literary Entertainment of a Refined and Varied Character, as well as to present in a graphic and striking manner the most recent information and sounndest views on subjects of General Interest; in a word, to render LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE strikingly distinctive in those features that are most attractive in Magazine Literature. The contributions now on hand, or specially engaged, embrace a highly attractive list of Tales, Short Stories, Descriptive Sketches, Narratives, Papers on Science and Art, Poems, Popular Essays, Literary Criticisms, etc., etc., by talented and well-known writers. A large proportion of the articles, especially those descriptive of travel, will be profusely and beautifully illustrated. The pictorial embellishments of the Magazine constitute one of its many attractive features.

In addition to the general attractions of LIPPINCOTT'S MAGAZINE, the Publishers would invite attention to the following

SPECIAL FEATURES FOR 1877.

1. A new serial story,

"THE MARQUIS OF LOSSIE,"

The Leading American Newspaper.

Largest Circulation

AMONG THE BEST PEOPLE.

I.—IT PUBLISHES ALL THE NEWS. The servant of no man, the slave of no party, it can afford to and does tell the truth about all.

II.—IT IS IMPARTIAL AND INDEPENDENT. Believing in intelligent suffrage, it aims to furnish voters the intelligent and fairest information upon which to exercise their sacred franchise.

III.—IT IS, AS IT ALWAYS WAS, ESSENTIALLY REPUBLICAN. It may quarrel in the future, as it has done in the past, with errors of republican leaders or corruptions in the republican party; but it can never cease to be true to republican principles, and especially to those golden doctrines of civil service reform, the sacrifice of which was the national faith, and equal justice to all classes at the South, which formed the cornerstones of Gov. Hayes' admirable letter of acceptance.

IV.—ITS MORAL TONE IS PURE AND ELEVATED. The family circle is never polluted by anything which appears in the columns of THE TRIBUNE.

V.—THE CHOICEST STANDARD AND CURRENT LITERATURE of the day is presented in its columns, including Correspondence, Poems, Stories, and Reviews from the most talented and popular writers

VI.—IT IS THE BEST AND CHEAPEST FARMER'S PAPER PUBLISHED. "THE WEEKLY TRIBUNE has done more to make good farmers than any other influence which ever existed."

VII.—THE MARKET REPORTS of THE TRIBUNE are indispensable to every buyer and seller in the country. Quotations are given daily and weekly of almost every article bought and sold in the markets of the world, and with unvarying and almost infallibly accuracy. Live Cattle, Butter and Cheese, and other Markets are the recognized standard.

VIII.—MORE COPIES OF THE TRIBUNE are paid for and read by the American people than of any other newspaper of equal price in the country—a fact which is the best demonstration of the value of the paper.

IX.—THE READERS of THE TRIBUNE represent largely the best enterprising and progressive minds of the country. Farmers who are interested in pure politics, the advance of science, and the progress of opinion, will find their demands met by THE TRIBUNE.

X.—PUBLIC APPROVAL AND PROSPERITY have rewarded the independent and self-respectful course of THE TRIBUNE. It has a larger and stronger corps of earnest workers among its friends than ever before, constantly received from old and new readers words of encouragement.

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE FOR 1877. The consistent and increasing success of this periodical (now over thirty-three years old) is doubtless owing to the fact that it affords a comprehensive and cheap means of keeping well informed in the best literature of the day. With its weekly issue, and its three and a quarter thousand large pages of reading matter for a year, it is enabled to present with freshness and satisfactory completeness able essays and reviews, choice serial and short stories, interesting sketches of travel and discovery, poetry, and valuable biographical, historical, scientific and political information from the entire body of foreign periodical literature.

In its pages are represented: such eminent authors as Prof. Max Müller, Prof. Tyndall, Mr. Froude, Mr. E. Gladstone, Dr. W. B. Carpenter, Prof. Huxley, Richard A. Proctor, Frances Power Cobbe, The Duke of Argyll, Jas. A. Froude, Mrs. Mulock, Mrs. Oliphant, Mrs. Alexander, Miss Thackeray, Jean Ingelow, Geo. McDonald, Wm. Black, Matthew Arnold, Henry Kingsley, W. W. Story, Auerbach, Ruskin, Carlyle, Tennyson, Browning, and many other leaders in science, fiction, history, biography, criticism, philosophy and theology, politics, criticism and art.

The subscription price ($8 a year,) is cheap for the amount of reading furnished; while for those desiring the cream of both home and foreign literature, the publishers make a still cheaper offer, viz.: for $10 00, postpaid, The Living Age and either one of the American $4 monthlies, or weeklies, a year for $10.50. With The Living Age and one of either of our leading American monthlies, a subscriber will at small cost, be put in "communion of the whole nation."

An extra offer, also, is made to all new subscribers for 1877, viz.: to send them gratis the six numbers of 1876, containing, besides other valuable reading, the first instalments of a new and unusually powerful serial story by George MacDonald, now appearing in The Living Age from advance sheets.

The volume begins Jan. 1st, and we recommend the period to the attention of our readers. We know of no other way in which so much of the best work of the time can be obtained so cheaply and conveniently as through this standard weekly magazine. Published by Littell & Gay, Boston.

CHILDREN TEETHING

MRS. WINSLOW'S

SOOTHING SYRUP!

For Children Teething,

greatly facilitates the process of teething, by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

Sure to Regulate the Bowels.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

Relief and Health to Your Infants.

We have put up and sold this article for years, and CAN SAY IN CONFIDENCE AND TRUTH of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction from any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter "WHAT WE DO KNOW," after years of experience, AND PLEDGE OUR REPUTATION FOR THE FULFILMENT OF WHAT WE HERE DECLARE. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be in from fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

The valuable preparation has been used with NEVER FAILING SUCCESS in

Thousands of Cases.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the entire system. This statement is made by those who have used it, and who know it to be true, it gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

Griping in the Bowels and Wind Colic.

We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY and DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We have told to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—do not let your prejudices, nor the prejudice of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE—if you follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle.

THE SUN.

1877 NEW YORK. 1877

The different editions of THE SUN during the next year will be the same as during the year that has just passed. The daily edition will on week days be a sheet of four pages, and on Sundays a sheet of eight pages, or 56 broad columns; while the weekly edition will be a sheet of eight pages of the same dimensions as the Sunday edition, and will be sent for this purpose a numerous and carefully selected staff of correspondents throughout the Union. Its reports from Washington, especially, will be full, accurate and fearless; and it will doubtless continue to deserve and enjoy the hatred of those who thrive by plundering the Treasury or by usurping what the law does not give them, while it will endeavor to merit the confidence of the public by defending the rights of the people against the encroachments of unjustified power.

The price of the daily SUN will be 55 cents a month or $6.50 a year, post paid, or with the Sunday edition $7.70 a year.

The SUNDAY edition alone, eight pages, $1.20 a year, post paid.

The WEEKLY SUN, eight pages of 56 broad columns, will be furnished during 1877 at the rate of $1 a year, post paid.

The benefit of this large reduction from the previous rate for the WEEKLY can be enjoyed by individual subscribers without the necessity of making up clubs. At the same time, if any of our friends choose to aid in extending our circulation, we shall be grateful to them, and every such person who sends us ten or more subscribers from one place will be entitled to one copy of the paper for himself without charge. At one dollar a year, postage paid, the expense for paper and printing are barely met, and, considering the size of the sheet and the quality of its contents, we are confident the people will consider THE WEEKLY SUN the cheapest newspaper published in the world, and we trust also one of the very best.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN is published weekly on the following terms, when paid strictly in advance: ONE COPY, one year, $2.50; TEN COPIES, $10, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club; TEN COPIES, $20, and an additional copy for the year free to the sender of the Club.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN possesses an unequaled Corps of Correspondents, regular and occasional, among the Best Farmers of All Parts of the Country, and constantly reflects the practical condition and prospects of the husbandry of every section of the United States and civilized world.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN gives in its Horticultural Department a continuous variety of information and suggestions, equal or superior in the aggregate to what is obtained in the monthly numbers of most magazines devoted to Horticulture.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN has probably done as much as all other Journals combined, to introduce and disseminate Improved Stock of every kind through the country; and commands to a greater degree than any contemporary, the confidence and support of breeders and purchasers.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN contains unusually full and trustworthy Market Reports, and devotes special attention to them and to the Prospects of the Crops, as throwing light upon one of the most important of all questions — When to Buy and When to Sell.

THE COUNTRY GENTLEMAN embraces numerous minor departments of a practical character, such as the Dairy, the Poultry Yard, the Apiary, the Vineyard, and so on, and weekly presents a column or two for the Housewife, and an interesting variety of Fireside Reading. It contains a well-edited review of Current Events, and its advertising pages furnish a directory of all the principal agricultural and horticultural establishments of the country.

The Welsh Language.

No Welsh is heard in the streets of Cardiff. It is preached in some pulpits and spoken in some homes, and the most cultivated burgesses take pride in their knowledge, be the same more or less, of the Welsh language and literature; but for the common uses of life the English language is as much the language of Cardiff as it is of New York. If the people of Cardiff differ in any marked respect from those of London and Liverpool, it may be, perhaps, in a certain bright alacrity of manner not altogether characteristic of the typical Englishman. As for the Welsh language, even the slight knowledge of a beginner in the study of this noble tongue is sufficient to show that the descendants of the Cymry are amply warranted in their affectionate pride concerning it. It is a terrible tongue to look at, but it is musical to hear, having seven vowels, and being full of soft liquid sounds. It is a most copious language too, containing no fewer than eighty thousand words; and from this fact, with others which the student early recognizes, it is easy to believe that it has greater scope for the utterance of poetical sentiments than the English language has. The pronunciation is easy and flowing, so that, with its many and incessantly recurring vowels, it is an easy language to sing, much more than the English, and only second in this respect to the Italian. A stranger encountering the name of Ebbw Vale (one of the fair valleys near the flowing Usk) might easily suppose it to be a jaw-breaker of a word to pronounce, but the pronunciation is ebboo. So with cwrw (beer), pronounced kooroo. Wherever w occurs in Welsh, it has the sound of double o as in pool.—Wirt Sikes, in Harper's for February.

The Real Sea-Serpent at Last.

In the Straits of Malacca the sea-monster so repeatedly seen, and so repeatedly declared to be mythical, appears at last to have been carefully observed by competent witnesses. The creature was seen by the passengers and crew of the ship Nestor, on her voyage to Shanghai, and on her arrival at Shanghai the master of the ship, (Mr. John Keiller Webster, and the surgeon, Mr. James Anderson, made a statutory declaration of what they had seen before a magistrate, as a mode, we suppose, of formally attesting that they spoke in good faith. The creature, which resembled a huge salamander, only that instead of being about six or eight inches long, these dimensions must be multiplied by at least seventy-five or 100, the body being from forty-five feet to fifty feet in length, the head twelve feet, and the tail, it is said, no less than 150 feet) was first seen at 10:30 on the 12th of September, fifteen miles northwest of the North Sand Lighthouse, in the Straits of Malacca. The weather was fine, the sea smooth and the air perfectly clear. The Chinese on deck were terribly alarmed and set up a howl. The whole watch and three saloon passengers saw the creature clearly, and observed its movements. It travelled for a long time about as fast as the steamer, appearing to paddle itself by the help of "an undulatory motion of its tail in a vertical plane." The body and tail were marked as those of the salamander are marked—with alternate bands, black and pale yellow in color. "The head was immediately connected with the body, without any indication of a neck." Both witnesses state positively that the only resemblance was to some creature of the frog or newt kind, while one of them (the surgeon) says that, the longer he observed it the more he was struck with its resemblance to a gigantic salamander. Its back was oval in form. No eyes or fins were seen, and it did not blow or spout in the manner of a whale. The greater part of its head was never seen, being beneath the surface. Probably the creature is of a race which survives from that very different world in which creatures of gigantic size seem to have been so much commoner than now. There appears to be no manner of reason for doubting the very express evidence so succinctly and soberly given.—London Spectator.

Moody and Sankey.

The Boston Commonwealth, of the 13th inst., had this announcement: "The Moody and Sankey tabernacle is ready for occupancy. The selected singers for the tabernacle choirs now number 2,000 voices, and five complete choirs of 362 voices each are now fully organized and ready for work. The first choir will sing only on Monday and Thursday evenings, the second on Tuesday and Friday evenings, the third on Wednesday evenings, the fourth on Sunday mornings at eight o'clock, and the fifth on Sunday evenings. Six other choirs are to be organized to sing at the day-time sessions throughout the week, excepting Sundays. The services will not begin for three weeks yet, as Mr. Moody writes that he must have a fortnight's rest after his labor in Chicago."

A Gigantic Time Piece.

The monster clock by Messrs. E. Dent & Co., London, for the Crystal Palace, which has been in course of erection during the past six months at the south end of the building, is now completed and in working order. This clock is almost a counterpart of the great Westminster clock (which was built by the same firm), with the exception of the striking and chiming apparatus, and the dial is the largest ever yet constructed, being forty feet in diameter, or nearly 1,300 square feet in area. The diameter of the Westminster clock is but twenty-three feet. The hands, with their counterpoises, weigh nearly a quarter of a ton; the minute hand measures nineteen feet in length, and moves one-half inch at every beat of the pendulum. The distance travelled by the point of the minute hand is nearly four miles a week. During seventeen days of observation the variation was eight seconds only.

REPUBLICAN CONVENTION.

Senatorial—District No. 1—At Court House, Portsmouth, Tuesday, Jan 30, at 11 A. M.

Demagogism.

The speech of Mr. Frink, as chairman of the Democratic State Convention, goes far to prove true what has always been charged of him by those who know him best—that notwithstanding his professed impartiality and the fairness claimed for him in political matters, he is at heart and in practice an unscrupulous and bitter partisan. Certainly his remarks showed the demagogue rather than the statesman,—the partisan and not the patriot.

Besides the cheap statement, after all the frauds, intimidations and assassinations proved upon his party—that the republicans are "attempting to cheat Tilden out of his election"—Mr. Frink has the effrontery to say that "hundreds of republicans concede the election of Mr. Tilden, or distrust the election of Mr. Hayes." This may be all true, but we have never yet met one such republican! Alluding to State matters also, he says, in the democratic party "wealth alone had never been able to purchase a nomination." Heaven save the mark! Daniel Marcy and Frank Jones not nominated for their money,—but for their "education!" Education in what, pray? their party tactics? And this is also an endorsement of the Senate steal of Gov. Weston, by Judge Frink, is it not?

Republican County Convention.

The Convention for Rockingham County, at Exeter, was presided over by Hon. S. Pillsbury of Londonderry as chairman—Moses. A. Perkins of Exeter being secretary, and Henry A. Yeaton of Portsmouth chairman of committee on credentials. As a matter of local interest and for record, we give the ballotings, of which there were six, although but five have been given before:

Hoar	146

And Hon. George F. Hoar was declared elected.

The Bennett-May Farce.

The New York Tribune has an account of the Bennett-May affair from a party present at the duel. It says: The first shot fell to May. If he could kill or disable his antagonist while the words "One, two, three," were delivered in rapid succession by the other's second he was safe; if he should fail it would be his turn to be a target for the bullet of his opponent. If, however, he fired before or after the words he was by the code a coward; in case he killed his opponent, a murderer. The arrangements having been completed the two principals took their positions at a distance of about 12 yards apart. The pistols were loaded and baded to them and the seconds retired to one side. Then came the question "Are you ready?" Immediately, and before the "one" could be given, May raised his pistol, took a hasty aim and pulled the trigger. The weapon missed fire. On receiving the intimation that it was his turn Mr. Bennett raised his pistol, cried scornfully "I could kill you now if I wished," and pointing it into the air fired quickly. The duelists then saluted one another, when suddenly, overcome by shame and mortification, to the utmost amazement of all present, Frederick May turned and hurried away, unable longer to face his disgrace. It was no impulse of generosity on the part of Mr. Bennett, as all felt, which caused him to fire in the air, but a sudden desire to repay with interest the mortification which he had felt in the public lashing before the Club House. No words passed between the two principals at any time during the meeting, except Mr. Bennett's remark when he fired his pistol in the air, and the "propositions" so often mentioned were mere myths. As soon as the tall form of the retreating duelist was out of sight the rest of the party returned to the railroad station.

News and Notes.

Two light-keepers in the lighthouse at Hooper's Straits, Chesapeake Bay, which was recently carried away by the ice, lost their lives. The lighthouse was seen on the ice four miles away from its original site, for several days, but no help could be rendered the unfortunate men.

Mr. Woods, agent of the Truckman's Express Co., at Biddeford, Me., has left for parts unknown with about $1000 of the company's money.

William Orton has been discharged from custody by the House of Representatives.

John Newton Carpenter was killed in Pawtucket, R. I., Thursday, by the fall of a rock from a bank he was excavating. He was found with his head under a stone that had to be lifted by a derrick.

A despatch from Montreal says the Delisle Village municipal election Wednesday terminated in a brutal free fight, in which some forty men were engaged. The town hall was completely sacked and the polling booth wrecked. The French Canadian roughs would not allow the English to vote, and consequently all the French candidates were elected.

The Barque Everett Grey, of Yarmouth, Me., Captain Jacob G. Loring, cleared at Boston the 26th of last October, bound for Gloucester, Eng., and not having been heard from since, she is given up as lost. The cargo consisted of corn, valued at $20,-733, which was fully insured. The barque was 592 tons register, and was owned by Richard Harding, Captain Loring, and others. She was valued at $23,000. Her crew numbered thirteen men, all told.

Henry Ludwig of Sing Sing, New York, was blown to atoms Thursday, by an explosion of nitro-glycerine. He was digging up some, when he struck a can in which it was contained. He had kept it buried near his residence a year, unknown to his neighbors. A number of small buildings were destroyed.

Fred May, one of the survivors of the battle of Slaughter's station, arrived in Washington on Tuesday, the 16th, unkilled and unhurt.

Since the reduction of prices at that popular and standard first class house, the American of Boston, it is a well known fact that the traveler can get the best accommodations at a more reasonable rate than at any other house in that city.

Four more Gloucester fishing vessels are given up for lost, with all hands, viz.: schooner Modena B. Jerauld, with a crew of eleven men, which sailed for La Have Banks on the 26th of November; schooner Howard Steele, with a crew of eleven men, and schooner Robert Emmett, with a crew of nine men, also sailed Nov. 25th; schooner Wyoming, with a crew of ten men, sailed Nov. 15th. None of these vessels have been heard of since the great gale of December 10th and 11th, and little hope remains that they will ever be heard of.

Horace E. Brown, a Wall street "curbstone broker," has been arrested on suspicion of forging the $64,000 check recently paid by the Union Trust Company of New York.

The Turkish grand council on Thursday rejected all the propositions of the European powers. The Ambassadors will leave Constantinople at once, and war will probably commence immediately.

Thomas Blake of the 1st New Hampshire Regiment, on the fly-leaf of his Bible, some time at the end of the last century, wrote: "It was the only Bible in my regiment. I lent it to soldiers who were serious minded and wished to read it Sunday. When at West Point, 1780, a soldier under sentence of death sent for it and kept it four days before execution, and returned it with his thanks. At Saratoga, 1781, the army under command of Col. H. Dearborn, poorly clothed and badly paid; there were many desertions, and all non-commissioned officers and privates on oath not to desert or leave service for the time he engaged—the penalty being, May I never prosper in this world nor be happy in the next if I break this my solemn oath—each man repeated these words with his hand on this Bible and kissed it, after which desertions were few." This Bible is now in the Old South collection in Boston.

The total losses of the Gloucester fishing fleet for the year 1876 are set at 212 men, a large proportion of them married men, with young families; 27 vessels, aggregating 1693 tons, and worth $150,000.

Democrats who think that hard times in the United States are due to republican mismanagement are invited to a careful study of the recently published statistics of the iron trade of Germany. The capital invested by thirty-two of the largest iron and steel manufacturing companies in that country amounts to $78,035,000, and the net loss, exclusive of interest and depreciation in the value of property, was $1,795,000. Only six of the companies paid any dividend whatever, and the most fortunate of these six was one of the smallest companies which divided six and two-thirds per cent. The Prussian Mining and Iron Company of Dusseldorf, with a capital of $2,700,000, actually lost $605,000 on last year's operations, and $215,000 on those of the year before. The net loss of the thirty-two companies in two years has been $2,770,000.

Political.

Ex-Gov. Saunders, republican, has been elected United States Senator from Nebraska.

The main disclosure made by Mr. Chandler's dispatches is that he got wind of that $8,000 check even before it was started for Oregon. Such a man is a terrible obstacle to "reform."—Tribune.

A new development in the Mississippi plan. As it seems from the testimony given by Congressman Lynch, when colored citizens desire to hold a political meeting, permission is asked of the democratic powers that be, and the democratic club votes on the proposition!

In the first district Gen. Gilman Marston has received the exceptional compliment of a renomination to Congress after having served three terms in that body. He is a native of Orford, this State, but owing to the fact that he is still a single and modest man his age is an unknown quantity. He is one of the ablest men at the New Hampshire bar, and as leader of the gallant Second New Hampshire Volunteers and one of "Fighting Joe Hooker's" brigadiers, he has a reputation of a national character. He is somewhat eccentric in character, but is able, incorruptible and democratic. He ought to beat his opponent easily, and if the voters of the First District put brains before money and fitness before unfitness, Gen. Marston will beat the wealthy brewer of Portsmouth easily. The latter may spend twice $30,000 to secure his re-election, or double the amount that he spent to secure his first election, and we shall believe that he will spend in vain.—Nashua Telegraph.

How the copperhead orators and the Boston Transcript and other assistant democratic papers, do hate Wm. E. Chandler. Well, the more they abuse him, the stronger will be republican attachment for him.

Col. Henry O. Kent, of Lancaster, who left the republican party in a huff six or seven years ago because the party had tired of keeping him in office, and who has been on the democratic ticket ever since, has been nominated once more for Congress by the democrats of the Third District.

—The Hawkeye tells of a Burlington elder, a very explicit and conscientious man, always given to explaining himself very clearly, who began his prayer on a recent occasion as follows: "Paradoxical as it may appear to Thee, O Lord!"

Cloud Banners of the Alps.

Among the most exquisite scenes which delight the eye of the European traveller are those wonderful rose-colored cloud-banners, floating from the Alpine cliffs. But it is only in the sunlight that Nature hangs out these beautiful tokens. So it is only in the glow of health—the sunlight of our inner being—that nature reveals those physical cloud-banners, the "rosy cheek" and "cherry lip," to praise which every poet of the earth has invoked the Muse to aid him. But they are as rare as the cynical Hood conceived Christian charity to be. Woman, eager to retain this charm, resorts to French art and rouge. The effect is similar to that which would be produced by substituting auctioneers' flag for the delicate glowing cloud-banners of the Alps. If woman would aid Nature instead of adopting art, would seek health instead of vainly trying to mask disease, she would not only win the greatest charm of womanhood—health—but she would avert much misery both from herself and others. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has received the highest praise from thousands of pale, delicate, suffering women. One bottle often affords more relief than months of treatment by caustics and other medicines. It is harmless in any condition of the system, and its use often renders the modest invalid exempt from that most trying of ordeals—a personal consultation with a physician. It is the duty of every woman to become familiar with the causes and symptoms of the many diseases to which her peculiar organization renders her liable, and also to learn the proper means of preventing these maladies. The People's Medical Adviser contains an extensive treatise upon "Woman and her Diseases." The Author also advises courses of domestic treatment, which will often render the services of a physician unnecessary. Every woman should read it. A copy of the Adviser can be obtained by addressing the Author, Dr. R. V. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y. Price $1.50 (postage postpaid). Favorite Prescription is sold by druggists.

Happy Influence of a Great Specific.

For the preservation or recovery of health and strength, the diet should be wholesome and nutritious. When it happens that the alimentary processes are disturbed by improper or half mastricated food, the best remedy for the evil results of abusing the digestive organs is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a most agreeable, prompt and gentle remedy for dyspepsia, and for the bilious and evacuative irregularities which result from it. The liver and bowels, in common with the stomach, experience its beneficent influences. The refuse of the system is carried off through its natural outlet, a healthy flow and secretion of the bile is promoted, and a powerful impetus is given in assimilation in consequence of its use. It healthfully stimulates the bladder and kidneys when they are inactive, and by its tonic and regulating action fortifies the system against malaria.

The Colonnade Hotel.

Unequalled in its location, and unsurpassed in its arrangements, for the convenience and comfort of the traveling public, the Colonnade Hotel on Chestnut Street, Philadelphia, holds the highest rank.

Why suffer from that cough when Adamson's Botanic Balsam will speedily and surely cure you? Children like it. Sold by druggists and dealers at 35 cents.

THE FAME OF GLENN'S SULPHUR SOAP as a remedy for eruptions, sores, burns, pimples, blotches and rheumatic and gouty pains has spread far and wide. Physicians recommend it, and the demand for it constantly increases.

Important to persons visiting New York or the Centennial. The Grand Union Hotel, New York, opposite the Grand Central Depot, has over 350 elegantly furnished rooms. Elevator, steam and all improvements. European plan. Carriage hire is saved, as baggage is taken to and from the depot free. Guests can live better for less money at the Grand Union than at any other first-class hotel. Stages and cars pass the Hotel constantly to all parts of the city, and to the Philadelphia depot.

JOTTINGS.

The democrats of Rockingham county, in convention at Newton on Thursday, made nomiations as follows: for County Treasurer, Samuel P. Treadwell, of this city; for County Commissioner, Josiah S. James, of Raymond; for Register of Deeds, Andrew J. Hoyt, of Exeter.

Schooner Mayor Jones, of this port, Spaulding master, arrived at New York on the 17th, eleven days from St. Marc.

The Kearsarge Flûte and Drum Band, Abraham Kay leader, assisted by the "Empire Jubilee Singers," will gike an entertainment in the Town Hall at North Hampton on the evening of Saturday, Jan. 27th. We do not know much about the vocalists, but we can assure the North Hampton people that they will get the full worth of their money in music from the Kearsarge Band.

Subject at Bow Mission, Sabbath afternoon: What shall it profit a man if he gain the world, and lose his soul?

Col. Hackett will sell by auction to-day at twelve o'clock, at his office, certain desirable stocks. See advertisement.

The Portsmouth Trust and Guarantee Co. have an advertisement in another column which it will harm no one to read, and the reading of which may be of decided benefit.

Mr. Charles W. Randall, residing at No. 16 Water street, on Thursday morning had two nice pigs, weighing in the neighborhood of a hundred pounds each, in a pen in his yard. He fed them in the morning, when they were all right and ate heartily; but at noon they were found to be ill, and both of them died at about one o'clock in convulsions, probably from having been poisoned with strychnine. Mr. Randall thinks the poison was in the pigs' trough when he poured their food into it in the morning, but that they did not swallow it until later in the forenoon, when they had nearly emptied the trough. He has no suspicion as to who put the poison there, we believe, and the cowardly sneak, whoever he is, will probably take good care not to be detected; he left his tracks in the snow, where he climbed over the yard fence, and that is all the track there is of him so far. It is a pity the miserable scoundrel could not be put where he belongs, behind the prison bars, as would be done should he be convicted.

The annual report of the Odd Fellows Mutual Relief Association of Rockingham County for the year just ended shows the number of members to be 995. Cash on hand January, 1876, $1952.44; admission fees from twenty-five members, $122; eight assessments, $8992; special assessments received for second relief, $986; interest received, $114.25; making a total of $12,-166.69. Paid during the year, nine reliefs, amounting to $9023; expenses paid, $300.-35; cash on hand January, 1877, $2843.34.

Ten dollars reward is offered for the return to No. 28 Middle street of a locket and chain recently lost. See advertisement.

A golden eagle weighing eleven pounds and measuring eight feet from tip to tip of the wings, was shot in Eliot on Thursday, and attracted a great deal of attention in Mr. Briant's drug store on Friday. Mr. Briant intends having the bird stuffed and mounted.

The Canadian Government has warned the Direct Cable Company that it will hold that corporation to the strict fulfillment of its contract, and cut off its connection with the shores of the Dominion if it makes a sale to a rival. This is right. No more telegraph monopolies. The United States Government should give the Direct Cable Company a similar warning, the ocean telegraph companies having played fast and loose with their promises and the public interests about long enough.

THE EAGLE.

He is the sovereign of the air; the king over the feathered tribes; among the ancients sacred to Jove; renowned among all nations.

He soars majestically aloft, wheeling in successive gyrations till lost to sight.

He gazes on the sun. He has given a name to a constellation in the heavens. Horace, the Latin poet, styles him

"The royal bird to whom the king of heaven
The empire of the feathered race has given."

Milton denominates the eagle "the bird of Jove." And Shakspeare, speaking of the king of the forest trees, says of it:

"Whose arms gave shelter to the princely eagle."

And again, Euripides, the Grecian dramatist:

"The Pleiades show themselves in the East,
The Eagle soars in the zenith of heaven."

What though he exercise his kingly right and levy tribute on inferiors? He is appropriately our national emblem, for we have dispossessed the Indian and appropriated his inheritance, as being ourselves the highest type of enlightenment and culture. Rome, mistress of the earth, had the eagle for her symbol. Cæsar was about to lead an army into Parthia, to recover the Eagles lost by Crassus, when he was assassinated. Our English ancestors have the royal lion in their armorial ensigns; ours, the "princely eagle."

Is it not grand to behold him soaring majestically over our noble Piscataqua? He is friendly to man unless pressed by excessive hunger.

There is a Western regiment possessed of a living eagle that accompanied them throughout the late war; they deem it priceless.

Let us venerate and protect the eagle. Even the Most High has deigned to use this simile:

"Like as an eagle stireth up her nest, fluttereth over her young * * so the Lord alone did lead him." (Jacob.)

Mr. Joseph Marston, of North Hampton, owns a horse which is unusually intelligent. As an instance of his sagacity the following is given; the children at Mr. Marston's are in the habit of driving with the team to school, a distance of some two miles, and on arriving there they all get out, leaving the horse to go home alone. Giving him the word he obeys by striking a three minute gait, avoiding all obstacles till he trots provdly into his master's yard.

At the Democratic Senatorial Convention in Epping, Thursday, Dana Sargent of Hudson was nominated for Senator in the Second District.

The Congregational Church in Great Falls, which has been remodelled, enlarged and newly furnished, was dedicated Wednesday night, a very large audience being present. Sermon by Rev. C. D. Barrows of Lowell; prayer by Rev. George B. Spaulding of Dover.

A Nashua physician recently vaccinated a family of twelve persons and charged twelve dollars. A few days thereafter he took a dozen cabbage plants in part pay, as he supposed, but upon final settlement learned to his surprise that Mr. Farmer charged doctors' prices—"one dollar a head."

Franklin Moore, half-brother of John P. Moore of Manchester, died at Detroit, Mich., Wednesday, Jan. 17th, aged 74 years. Mr. Moore was a native of Manchester, and left there for Detroit in company with Zachariah Chandler in 1832. Mr. Moore and Chandler carried on business together at Detroit for many years, but finally dissolved partnership. Mr. Moore's wife was a sister of Mr. Chandler.

—The Freemasons of England support three charities, one of which pays annuities to aged masons and widows, while the other two are schools for the children of masons, one for boys and one for girls. The sum contributed last year for their support was over $195,000.

Centaur
Liniments.
The lame can be healed and the wounded made whole. We now know just what the Centaur Liniment will do. They will not mend broken bones or cure Cancer, but they will extract soreness, allay pain, cure Rheumatism and a larger range of flesh, bone and muscle ailments than any article ever before discovered.
Scientific skill cannot go beyond the effects of these remarkable preparations. Chronic Rheumatism of many years' standing, Neuralgia, Weak-Back, Fever Sores, Weeping-Sinews, Sciatica, Caked Breasts, Distorted Joints and Sprained Limbs of the worst kind are cured by the White Centaur Liniment.
It will destroy the pain and heal without a scar, all ordinary Burns and Scalds. It will extract the poison of Bites and Stings, and the frost from Frozen Limbs. It is very efficacious for Earache, Toothache, Itch and Cutaneous Eruptions.
Mr. Josiah Westake, of Marysville, O., writes:
"For years my Rheumatism has been so bad that I have been unable to stir from the house. The first three bottles of Centaur Liniment enabled me to walk without my crutches. I am mending rapidly. I think your Liniment simply a marvel.
C. H. Beaudt, Druggist, Rock Prairie, Mo., says:
"Centaur Liniment sells better and gives the best satisfaction of anything in the market."
What the Centaur Liniment has done for others it will do for you. It is handy, it is reliable, and it is cheap.
The Yellow Centaur Liniment
is worth its weight in gold to owners of horses and mules.
This Liniment has cured more Sprained, Sweenied, Ring-boned and Galled Horses in three years than have all the Farriers in the country in an age. Its effects are simply wonderful.
We have thousands upon thousands of certificates as strong as the following:
"My horse was lame for a year with a fetlock wrench. All remedies utterly failed to cure and I considered him worthless until I commenced to use Centaur Liniment, which rapidly cured him. I heartily recommend it.
REV. GEO. W. FERRIS,
Manorville, Schoharie Co., N. Y."
DEAR SIRS,—I have used your Centaur Liniment in my family, and find it to be of great value. Please send me two dollar's worth, one for the mules and horses. RILEY SICKLES.
FALLS STATION, WYOMING CO., PA.
It makes very little difference what the case is, whether it be Wrench, Sprain, Poll-Evil, Ringbone, Scratches or Lame ness of any kind, the effects are the same. Liverymen, Stage proprietors, Farmers, &c., should never be without the Yellow Centaur Liniment. It is sold everywhere, and warranted in its effects.

Castoria.
It is a mistake to suppose that Castoria is not adapted to grown persons as well as Children. They only need to increase the quantity. But children have so many complaints for which Castoria is adapted—like Wind Colic, Sour Stomach, Worms, Tetter, Teething and Croup, that it is especially recommended for them.
Its effects are more certain than Castor Oil. It contains no alcohol and is as pleasant to take as honey. It never gripes. By regulating the stomach and bowels the Castoria cools the blood, expels worms and prevents fevers, quiets the nerves and produces health—then of course children can sleep in quiet and mothers can rest.
Castoria is recommended by all physicians and nurses who have tried it, and it is having a rapidly increasing sale. It is prepared with great care after the recipe of Dr. Samuel Pitcher, of Mass., at the Laboratory of J. B. Rose & Co., 46 Dey St., N. Y.

Daily Chronicle.

—A lecturer on optics, in explaining the mechanism of the organ of vision, remarked, "Let any man gaze closely into his wife's eye, and he will see himself looking exceedingly small."

—A Detroit husband and wife recently agreed to learn a verse of Scripture every evening and repeat it to each other, for mutual improvement. The first night, however, the quotation happened to be, "Am I not your ruler?" and his was to the effect that he'd be hanged if she was. And the only result of the plan so far has been that he has taken to drink and exhibits a willingness to sleep in the woodshed nights.

—Judge Walton edified the lookers-on at Skowhegan, Maine, recently, though the bar looked a little solemn. He was about to sentence a criminal, when he discovered the chap cosily seated in the bar with his attorneys. The judge manifested great surprise, and requested that hereafter the criminals might be placed outside the bar so that he could distinguish them from their counsel.

—The opera of "Esther" was announced one evening last week in a Connecticut town, and the audience assembled promptly. Before long, however, it became evident that there was trouble behind the scenes, and the manager appeared and announced that "owing to the sudden indisposition," etc., the performance would be postponed. It subsequently leaked out that the gentleman who was cast for the role of Hegai had found his name printed "Hog-ai" on the play-bills and indignantly refused to appear.
